Japanese Burger King Launches Black Burger

Burger King in Japan has recently launched a so called "Kuro Burger", which most of you would know, kuro means black in Japanese. The burger's bread and cheese are dyed black through bamboo coal smoking, and instead of the ketchup, there is a black, garlic based sauce dyed with squid ink. The patty itself will not be black, but fits into the theme thanks to black pepper. The burger will be available in 2 different versions, pearl and diamond: Pearl will simply be a blackened cheeseburger, and the diamond will contain a salad. Pearl will cost about $4.50 and then diamond $6.50. Anyone who is going to visit Japan soon should certainly pick one of these up, I'm sure they taste great. I don't think you will actually believe it without a picture, so here is a picture of it.

Virtual Reality "Hentai".. With a bit of touching

A Japanese wannabe-entrepreneur has created a game for the Oculus Rift to be experienced as reality. But it does not end there, he has also created a touch sensitive upper-body for the in-game character so that when he touches & pinches her chest, she actually feels it and responds with the usual Japanese pure virgin moaning as if she's being assaulted. The game will be demoed at Japan's Oculus Rift Festival. Since it is being shown in Japan, I am sure many will be impressed, though most of them will wear face masks and a cap to cover their face, just like they do to visit the hentai stores in Akihabara.

Tokyo Ghoul Manga Has Ended

The emptiness everyone felt when the Tokyo Ghoul manga ended is inexpressible. It was a bit like how Lelouch from Code Geass ended up. There have been rumors of a sequel to come, maybe next year or more. The Manga had a total of 143 chapters and it is on masterpiece tier. If you are planning to pick up a manga that does not get dragged out the slightest bit, then you should definitely take a look at Tokyo Ghoul. P.S. Kenichi: The Mightiest Disciple has also ended after a 12 year run.

"Fwee fwee! Fwee fwee! Marching in time to a whistle is kinda fun."

This weeks Cosplay Corner features Asakura Kotomi. Her primary occupation consists of many different roles in Adult videos, however, Cosplaying doesn't seem to be knew to her either. Kotomi really outdid herself with this Cosplay of Minami.

Don't let her fool you, she may look cute and innocent, but just keep in mind of her current profession. On the other hand, Kotomi's appearance does fit Minami pretty well, with a few exceptions. Regarding her teeth (because I know someone's definitely going to make a comment about it), Japan considers crooked teeth as attractive. It's a little strange but I can see why they consider it cute, it makes the person in question look younger, as if they are about to loose their first set of teeth. In my opinion, it definitely does look attractive in Kotomi's case.

In terms of material, the Cosplay she is sporting looks well made and easy to move around in. Easy to take off as well, if you look at the rest of the gallery. All in all, Kotomi isn't really a Cosplayer, but this Cosplay does look fantastic. I would say it's only good because she resembles Minami quite a bit.

Synopsis

Naota is a normal Japanese 6th grade boy (although a little cynical), but when his older brother leaves for America to play baseball, his brother leaves his homeless 17 year old girlfriend Mamimi behind. Mamimi is sending mixed signals and advances to Naota, and he doesn't know what to do about her. But to make matters worse, Naota's world is totally turned upside down when he is run over by a woman on a Vespa. During their first encounter, she hits him over the head with her bass guitar, which then causes a horn to grow out of his forehead. She calls herself "Haruko" and her presence changes Naota's life to even further insanity.

Characters

Haruko "Vespa woman, Raharu, Haru" Haruhara

Haruko Haruhara, 19 (or so she claims), is an energetic, spontaneous pink-haired girl from outer-space and investigator for the Galactic Space Patrol Brotherhood/Stellar Fraternity. Mamimi observes that she looks at least twenty years old but, considering that she is of an unknown alien species, neither Mamimi nor the viewer has a relevant frame of reference. She rides a yellow Piaggio Vespa (and is also known as The Wasp Woman, a pun on the word Vespa, which means wasp) and wields a blue, upside down strung, right-handed (but she is left-handed) Rickenbacker bass guitar model 4001 (similar to the 4001 used by Paul McCartney, whom she mentions in Episode 5), with a pull-cord motor on the back, as a bizarre weapon of sorts. Her guitar is able to shoot bullets, act as a rocket launcher, fly, and is used several times to open an N.O. channel in Naota's forehead.

Naota "Takkun" Nandaba

Twelve-year-old Naota Nandaba is the main character. His name is derived from the Japanese word for "honesty" and his father named him Naota because of that (Fooly Cooly). Unbeknownst to him, he has the "right kind of head" to be used as an N.O. channel. He is obsessed with appearing mature and attempts to act nonchalant. This is most expressed in his monologues which open and close each episode where he continues to claim that "nothing amazing ever happens here" despite the show's surreal and often absurd happenings. Naota idolizes his older brother Tasuku, carrying around Tasuku's baseball bat, and even hanging out with Tasuku's old girlfriend Mamimi. In Naota's mind, Tasuku is the epitome of what it means to be an adult, as opposed to the other adults in his life (e.g. his father, his grandfather, and his teacher) who he perceives as being immature. Much like Amara, Naota is picky about his drinks (disliking drinks which are sour, bitter, or contain pulp) and hates spicy foods (note thought, he is told to "cut back on the sour drinks" by Amara). His guitar is the Gibson Flying V which Haruko pulls out of his head in the fourth episode.

Mamimi Samejima

Mamimi Samejima, 17, was Tasuku's girlfriend, though she hits on Naota since his brother left Japan. She is a truant high school student with pyromaniacal tendencies; she also smokes a lot and spends most of her time under a bridge. She is often seen with a camera, and was once seen smoking worn cigarette with "Never Knows Best" written onto the paper.

She has the peculiar tendency to name people and things "Ta-kun (Or sometimes simply spelled as Takkun)," after her personal nickname for Naota's brother (and Naota himself). The "-kun" suffix is an informal and intimate honorific primarily used when addressing males of equal or junior status. Mamimi is likely using Naota as a substitute for Tasuku and therefore refers to him as "Ta-kun" which can be short for both Naota and Tasuku. (Naota is well-aware of the similarity between his nickname and his brother's name.) Mamimi also calls Tasuku "Tasuku-sempai" since he is an older classmate.

Tails' Opinion Well, FLCL is somewhat of a cult classic around AA. If you've seen it I would say this is like the Pulp Fiction of anime. The literal story makes no sense really. The story is really as good as the symbolism you can pull out of it. The story itself is good but not great. There really isn't a lot to say because the show doesn't really make a lot of sense, which kinda turns me off of it. It's not bad, it just doesn't make a whole lot of sense. But, like I said, it's about how you perceive everything. There is 10 different ways you can view the story but I have to rate what's literally on the screen, so I will say that it's alright, but the potential is endless.

I give the story a 7/10

So the characters, the real foundation to any show in my opinion, are great. Haruko is outrageously dynamic. Naota is incredibly realistic, personality wise. Mamimi is hilarious and realistic. But as great as the characters are alone, they have to have a dynamic. Luckily, FLCL doesn't fail here. The dynamic the characters have is just that, dynamic. You can never guess how the characters are going to react to each other and you will always be entertained. Now usually, when the main characters are so good, you see a lack of development and thought put into the supporting cast. For the most part that isn't the case. The supporting cast only really do one thing though. When the main characters are getting on a serious note, one of the supporting cast members provide comic relief. When there seems to be a slight lull in the show, another member of the supporting cast members adds a slight feeling of mystery. Other than that though, the supporting cast is a little simple. They do what they are supposed to do, they do their job. That isn't a bad thing though. Just keeps it from perfection.

I give the characters a 9/10.

There isn't really a massive amount to be said about the art because it's all praise. I'll keep it short and simple. The art was simple and innovative all at the same time. The characters artwork and action seems were solid. The background was beautiful. Overall, great. I can't fault a show for its release date, so although I'm not a fan of older art it's not a fault. The art is pretty much perfect for a show that is 14 years old.

I give the art an 10/10.

Overall, FLCL is really enjoyable. If you are watching the show, taking it a face value and don't want to critically think and take it for what it is, its a great show and youll enjoy it. If you want to really analyze the show, try to find every bit of symbolism and pick it apart. Youll enjoy it. Sadly, because the characters werent perfect and the story wasnt perfect I cant give this show a 10/10. I dont think its a 10 honestly. I feel its a little over hyped because, like I said, its a cult classic that I feel some people only like and recommend it because other rave about it. But enjoyment wise, great show. A little confusing at times if you look away or maybe even just miss something which keeps it from a perfect score enjoyment wise. Just know that honestly, this is a 9 that is as close to a 10 as it gets. But I have to be subjective.

In terms of enjoyment I give it a 9/10

Programmargorp's Opinion Hello and welcome to another entry in the Series Highlight of AA Weekly. Joining me today (or perhaps me joining) we have Tails and his (probably) usual appraisal while I sit here and surprisingly praise a series for once!

From the director of the Evangelion rebuild films and one of my favourite studios of all time, we have a blast to the past this week with Gainax's FLCL. Now, FLCL comes along as one of the weirder series that I should be bashing hard, but doesn't come off as such.

So let's start with the story of FLCL. Wait, there's a story?

Basically, some dude gets whacked in the head by a guitar and starts sprouting crap from his head.

Yes, that is the legit synopsis of the story.

There isn't really much to say in terms of the story for this series since there pretty much isn't one.

Story wise, I generously rate this a 3/10

Onto the characters, they were actually done pretty well. In fact, this series actually had some of the better characters I've seen in pretty much any series. There honestly isn't much to say besides the fact that the characters were above average.

Character wise I rate this a 6/10

Now, since this series was released back in the 2000s, I can't exactly judge the art by today's standards, nor can I judge it by year 2000's standards considering I haven't seen enough old stuff yet. However I'll say that the art style is pretty nice.

Since I have nothing to compare against,

I'll skip scoring that section today.

Now, onto enjoyment, that's where FLCL really shines. If you look at this series from an objective point of view, it's a massive piece of crap; the whole thing is pretty much a cluster of crap that doesn't make sense. Switch that view to a subjective one and you end up with one of the most enjoyable shows I've watched in a while. Words don't really do the enjoyment justice.

Seriously, I just enjoyed this series so much that I had to.

Enjoyment wise, I rate this a 10/10.

As usual, I'll wrap up this review with some finishing words. Namely, should you watch this series?

My answer, yes. Seriously, if you have any enjoyment with Gurren Lagann or Kill la Kill, it's about time you watched FLCL. Also, if you enjoy anything that features over the top action plus a story that makes no sense, but is awesome regardless, FLCL is for you.

Tails' Rating 9/10 Programmargorp's Rating 9/10

Title - Owari no Seraph

Genre(s)- Drama, Shounen, Vampire, Supernatural

Chapters currently released - 24

Author – Takaya Kagami
Artist(s) – Yamato Yamamoto
Released - Sep 3, 2012 to ?
Status - Ongoing

Synopsis

One day, a mysterious virus appeared on Earth which killed every infected human over the age of 13. At the same time, vampires emerged from the world's dark recesses and enslaved mankind. Enter Hyakuya Yuuichirou, a young boy, who along with the rest of the children from his orphanage, are treated as livestock by the vampires. Even in captivity, Yuuichirou dreams big. He dreams of killing vampires. He dreams of killing them all.

Characters

Doesn't he look like a pokemon trainer here?

Yuuichirou "Yuu" Hyakuya

Yuuichirou Hyakuya is a member of Japanese Imperial Demon Army's Demon Moon Squad and the main protagonist of the Owari no Seraph series.

He was abandoned by his parents since he was a child and he ended up at Hyakuya Orphanage. Since then, the kids of this orphanage were his only family. A bit after while he was still a child, the vampires took him and the rest of the orphanage to their city to become "livestock." After Michaela gets possession of a map of the underground, both of them decide to escape the place with the rest of the children of the orphanage. However it is revealed that it was all a plan of Felid Bathory, one the Seven Founder, and the attempt to escape is frustrated leading to death of all the family except for him. After getting to the outside world he is found by Glen Ichinose, a captain of the Japanese Imperial Demon Army. In order to take revenge for his family, he decides to join the Japanese Imperial Demon Army to gain the power he needs.

Shinoa Hiiragi

Shinoa Hiragi is a member of Japanese Imperial Demon Army's Demon Moon Squad who was appointed to supervise Yuuichirou Hyakuya during his punishment.

Btw this is a boy, hard to tell in some of his tiles...

Michaela "Mika" Hyakuya

Mikaela Hyakuya is a deuteragonist (this is actually a word believe it or not... I googled it) of the Owari no Seraph series. Once a human, Michaela was turned against his will into a vampire.

Vandie's Opinion

The story is well written even if it is one of your more slightly generic revenge plots. The first chapter sets the scene brilliantly and allows you to fully understand Yuu's motives. Then you get out of that first chapter and you get a decent build up chapter or two before getting you to something you may or may not see coming.

I'll be giving the story a rather impressive 7/10

The character's themselves are very built up even in the early chapters to a rather impressive point. Takaya Kagami Cirtently did a good job making a main character who has a rather generic back story into a fairly interesting MC who I will enjoy reading about as I get further into the manga. The major side characters are also quite interesting. Ranging from Shinoa who on multiple occasions tells Yuu that the army recommends he lose his virginity and help to repopulate the earth, even making fun of him because he's not lost 'it' yet, to Yoichi who acts like a whiny little bitch half the time and a young but collected student the other.

The characters although interesting do fit in to the stereotypical personalities so I have decided to give them a 6/10

I starting to think that I will never be forced to review anything with bad art as this is yet another manga with better than average art. The nicest art I saw in this manga would probably be the more cinematic tiles that show the vampire city or the school where Yuu goes. Even if the characters do have a relatively standard but nice looking style the cinematic tiles certainly raise the rating of the art in Owari no Seraph.

The art was defiantly deserving of this 7/10

Overall it is certainly a good manga that I can definitively say I will continue reading with little to no uncertainty. I have loved reading this even if it isn't one of the highest rated manga I have reviewed thanks to the interesting characters and brilliant story.

Overall Owari no Seraph receives a rather good 7/10.

If you want a manga reviewed please send me a pm here.

[img]<http://fuwanovel.org/assets/images/vn/81/mainArt.jpg>[/img] Ore no Imouto ga Konna ni Kawaii Wake ga Nai

Synopsis:

Ore no Imouto ga Konna ni Kawaii Wake ga Nai was produced in 2011 by Namco Bandai Games. The events of Oreimo PSP take place basically after the TRUE route of the anime, where Kirino went to America, but is dragged back by Kyousuke. The game is original material, meaning that it doesn't follow the plot from the light novels.

Story Review:

Absolutly amazing, you don't have to deal with it like in the anime, you can choose Saori, Ayase, Kuroneko, and even Kanako!

The story was actually very well laid out, although some of the routes are obviously a lot more romancy (Ayase to be specific.)

Now I'm not usually one to list my own personal ranking list but I had to for the legendary Oreimo.

1. Ayase
2. Kirino
3. Saori
4. Kanako
5. Kuroneko

Shoudln't even be here. Minami

Sound:

I'm thinking they kept the same sound producers as in the anime because just like the anime it has perfect music put in the right spots, although there's a really upbeat track that played in a dark scene so that was weird.

Art:

Come on, it's Oreimo, what else can I say about the art?

Some screenies.

Interview - ?Tet?

\(Click to View\)

Angel: Hey Tet, how are you doing today?

?Tet?: Hey Angel, I'm doing good how're you?

Angel: I'm doing well, especially since class is over for the weekend. Before we jump into things I would like to get to know you a little better. Why don't you tell me a little about yourself?

?Tet?: Let's see, I'm an anime fan of course. I enjoy all genre's so I don't really have a preference though a few anime really stand out for me like Toradora! I like playing games uhh... I'm in post-secondary like yourself and work part time. I guess that's gist of it.

Angel: Hmm interesting. Would you say that Toradora! is your favorite anime?

?Tet?: Probably, there is a high chance that it is.

Angel: What makes it so appealing to you? I really enjoyed Toradora! but Taiga kind of got on my nerves. I was rooting for Ami the whole time.

?Tet?: I can't really explain how it's so appealing to me because I enjoy all genre's I've seen so far but if I were to guess it would be because I'm a sucker for the romance genre haha if I were to take a guess at my top 5 I believe 3 of them would be because of their romance stories

But for sure I honestly liked Taiga's character even though some people did find her annoying I can see why but I mean she is depicted as this small fragile girl who's often just excluded and somewhat bullied just trying to make it through high school.

Angel: I see you are sucker for the romance genre as am I. Speaking of girls from anime, AA's own best girl competition just ended. Who do you think the favorites to win so far are? What character do you feel possesses the qualities for what we all refer to as "best girl"?

?Tet?: Well everyone's opinion on best girl is different for everyone, and seeing as how Jay nor iMew never really described what "best girl" means it's kind of hard to say. But if I were to describe it myself I'd say "best girl" as in character you just really enjoyed in the series they're from I don't think they need specific qualities just for someone to state that they really like this character for who they are.

Angel: Well in your opinion, who is best girl and why?

?Tet?: I love Taiga but I personally would want to see Mashiro win because she's just so cute, she doesn't fully understand her own feelings or emotions which makes it difficult for her to express herself which just makes me feel for her.

Angel: Ahh Shiina, good choice. Recently, there was a thread posted in AA about who your favorite anime character is. Now, putting aside best girl, who is your favorite character?

?Tet?: I actually voted for two, a male and a female character. I chose Shiro Fujimoto from Blue Exorcist and Taiga from Toradora!

Angel: Shiro was awesome in Ao no Exorcist. Moving on, next week a good portion of this season's anime will air their final episode. Which season finales are you most looking forward to?

?Tet?: Tokyo Ghoul for sure the last episode (11) I found to be amazing I really want to see how they end this off. Juuzou Suzuya <3

Angel: I know I can't wait either. I had planned to pick up the manga after the series finishes airing, even though apparently it's ending soon. Switching things up a little bit, let's talk about the AA section. What brings you back to the AA section, what makes it appealing to you other than the fact that we all watch anime?

?Tet?: Well I really like the community in the AA section; it has some really awesome, fun people. But having the common like for anime is really nice and it gives me people to discuss it with, find new anime perhaps, and what not.

Angel: Well thank you. Do you currently read the AA Weekly? If you do, what sections do you enjoy the most? Is there anything we could be doing better?

?Tet?: Yeah I read them when they come out I enjoy the Headlines, Music Videos, Anime Highlight the most. I don't personally have anything I believe you need to do better the issues I've read so far were all really well done.

Angel: I'm sure you haven't noticed, but we have several new writers. They've all assimilated well and are doing a wonderful job. Well Tet, that pretty much wraps up this interview for now. Thanks for letting me put you to sleep for the past hour. Lastly, is there anything you would like to say to our readers, maybe a shout out or something similar?

?Tet?: Hi Eightworks I'm on TV :)

Angel: Lol good one Tet :P Once again, thanks for letting me interview you. You're the man Tet!

?Tet?: No problem it was fun!

Good edition (especially because I'm in it huehue jk) going to check that anime FLCL maybe tonight since it got such good reviews. Also I kind of want to play that Oreimo VN but since I haven't watched the series yet I may wait till I see it first.

Vip?r - September 15, 2014, 7:42 pm

Another great weekly ?

I want to try the black burger. Also good job, Japan be steppin up their shit with realistic hentai. For all you who can't get Oculus check out "google virtual reality", it's pretty sick.

Toonami - September 15, 2014, 11:37 pm

I'm partly disgusted by that burger and partly intrigued. I'll take the pearl version please!

I've been patiently awaiting for a demo of oculus rift with hentai. Brb, buying plane and festival tickets. ?

Submissions 1 and 3 add to my love for Japanese rock/alternative. Number 3 was really cute...until the last part. Jesus Christ are you trying to bring back those feels from 5 cm/s?!! Number 2 is a prime candidate for just kickin' back and drinking a couple 40's with your homies.

The gallery for Asakura Kotomi's cosplay is down. Please fix. It is imperative that I analyze her cosplay (or lack thereof).

I'm surprised a review hadn't been done for FLCL. It really is one of the most enjoyable shows you can watch. Happy to see it got the spotlight despite disagreeing with some of the points.

As always, big thanks to the AA Weekly team for their effort and commitment.

Ami is literally the only decent girl in Toradora.

About the Oreimo VN, is there any guide or something on how to be able to play it on PC? It's a PSP game after all and I don't think it was released outside of Japan.

Enjoyed the issue btw, everyone involved did a nice job.

You have to install a browser plug-in (or do some weird cookies stuff) to be able to access exhentai, which is where the gallery is hosted.

Well done everyone. Didn't get a chance to view when it was first posted but it is always nice to view the issue as a whole rather than only one section...

Thanks for the weekly. :3 That black burger looks.. odd. It makes me want to try one.

Okay that black burger thing is really bothering me like they should bring that into the states into some big city like NYC it would be pretty big to be honest.

Chitoge - September 17, 2014, 9:46 pm

Saw the black burger thing the other day and thought it looked really disgusting.
Besides that, thanks for the new issue. Another anime to add to my watch list.
Good job AA news team and keep up the good work!

I don't understand why you guys get disgusted by a "Black Burger"? Looks pretty cool to me.
