Thread: Scammed \$600 by ?666? / BUBZ :\) / Chris / Good kisser UID = 2007775

Magnolia. - September 25, 2014, 12:55 am

I feel like it's too late now since he's already been repfucked, but oh well.

Scroll down to the bold text to get the lowdown.

I didn't post this report earlier because my computer was being repaired and it would've been very difficult to post this thread on my phone.

I have a suspicion he may have sold his HF account judging by some of the unusual messages he sent me.

I'd dealt with Chris 2 - 3 times before, both of which I accepted PP from him in fairly large amounts. Even one instance where he had an account he bought from me turboed off him by someone, he was very reasonable and didn't want me to refund any of the money since it wasn't my fault, which I thought was selfless of him.

Chris would message me on an almost daily basis asking me to sell him Wizard or my other accounts, to which I said no, as at the time I wasn't selling.

Initially I didn't want to sell this account, as it was my alias and I liked it a lot. However I needed money for a variety of reasons and I had another decent Instagram username which I could use as my main.

He tried getting me to go first, and in-turn he would give me $1,000 BTC for Wizard. This was obviously a very good deal, but I declined this, as it was a huge risk for me since he wouldn't use a MM like Phyber either.

The deal was the Instagram @Wizard for $600; I was selling to this member. $250 in PayPal first, and $350 in BTC. I owed my friend some money, so I got him to send the PayPal money directly to his PP. We agreed that once he'd sent the PP money, I would send him the credentials to the Instagram account. He didn't pay me the BTC he owed me, after he even said there would be NO delays in sending from his fathers Coinbase account. My friend was offline at the time, but woke up a few hours later to inform me that he had chargebacked the payment as an unauthorized transaction.

Onsite proof + confirming deal via Kik:

He keeps sending me stupid messages like this below, playing stupid.

Chargeback + him sending payment:

"picked up a HF acct with 600 rep"

More of our Kik conversation and him offering me worthless (to me) gift codes.

-- yet still, he didn't send.

I have tons more other logs to add to this if anyone needs them. I suggest you do NOT deal with this member at all.

EvilMinD - September 25, 2014, 12:59 am

I don't think you have to add any more proof, I talked to him before he doesn't sound like him at all now although its easy to fake stuffs.

Now that he is repfucked say goodbye to your money.

Sad to see legit members getting scammed.

Infinite' - September 25, 2014, 12:59 am

Hmm strange, hope you get your money back. I would be calling PayPal right up if I was you.

Looks like my friend lost the chargeback. Fucking bullshit. I hate using PP for this very reason.

He was shady af man why would you deal with him?

You should have only got BTC from him.

I dealt with him because I'd dealt with over $2,000 with him in the past. I know, I wanted to but he persuaded me to take PP from him. Ugh.

Novelette - September 25, 2014, 1:07 am

Sorry to hear about this Michael. Bubz seemed like an annoying mental kid to me; I never really liked him and his stupid antics.

I dealt with him in past too but when he offered crazy high prices for my stuffs so I figured something was up and asked him to do btc but he said only pp so I stayed away from him.

630 - September 25, 2014, 1:15 am

Sorry to hear that you got scammed Mike, I was very weary of him recently.

Who Soup - September 25, 2014, 1:33 am

I'm very suprised that both bubs and 666 arn't baned by now, i have been seeing a lot of bad threads on them recently.

So sorry to hear that you have been scammed. Best of luck resolving this, i really do hope you can resolve this.

Kebabs - September 25, 2014, 1:42 am

it was shady from the moment people accused him of it, he was going around throwing offers of like $600 on everything.

unlucky OP, hope you win the dispute

Eddie - September 25, 2014, 2:01 am

So I'm guessing Bubz is a Multi acc right?

420 Blaze It - September 25, 2014, 3:34 am

Yep, too late. Guess he scammed you too, trucking hell, how much scam reports does he have, people are so dumb.

Marky Marky - September 25, 2014, 5:46 am

He's the biggest fucking scum/scammer on this site. Did you not check his 6 scam reports he has open?

Jim Jones - September 25, 2014, 8:16 am

I am sorry for your loss hercule :(, if u want the ig back hmu dude.

BreakTheMeta - September 25, 2014, 8:17 am

Damn that's a ton of money good luck getting that back!

I'd dealt with him a few times before as I said so I didn't think there'd be any issues. Sigh.

Ah that makes sense, that's sad to hear that he's doing this to people because he's a pretty talented graphics designer. 6 scam reports is too excessive, he should be baned at this point.

Vouch, this user took back @b after someone paid him $2,000 and the guy still pays him not to take it back

Eminem????? ????? - September 25, 2014, 3:34 pm

Hah, this is hilarious. I actually reported this same exact user maybe 2 days ago for ing over 20 4+ year old threads that no one has touched. His answer was: He can do whatever he wants.

That doesn't mean shit, just because hes done a deal with you before?

You do a $100 deal with me and go first everything is fine.

You do a $1000 deal with me and go first because we've done trusted exchanges before and I have 6 scam reports open and unresolved.

Use common sense, I have 0 sympathy for people in these situations.

I understand what you're saying, and I sort of agree with you. It was my own negligence in a way. He did go first with the PayPal money first, which I felt was some kind of middle-ground as I hadn't had any issues with him chargebacking.

Still, someone shouldn't deceive someone and take $600 from them. It's wrong.

Chaos. - September 26, 2014, 12:31 pm

I mean it was pretty obvious he was going to scam you lol. Wizard isn't even worth $200.

CoBrAx. - September 26, 2014, 12:34 pm

Bubz is nothing but another Lesson.
