~ This is a casual-style application ~

I'm not here to throw everything I've ever done at your faces, I'm here to tell you who I am and what I can do.

My name's Jonah Lee. I'm 21 years old and studying CS in university in the East Coast USA. Personality-wise, I'm a laid back person, huge procrastinator, but I get things done in the time I say I will. When working with teams, I'm more skilled as a coordinator and manager. I currently work for CA Security under a subsidiary that configures Microsoft ADFS (a platform for SSO - single sign on - for companies). As a GUI developer, I have access to years and years of UI/UX research, something "normal" people can't get. I'm not saying I'm the best UI/UX developer in the world, and I'm far from that, but I'll definitely bring to the table such experience that I can guarantee no one else on this forum has. (Design is something that's subjective. There are a ton of designers who are better than me. My job is to take those designs and optimize them for companies.)

Specifically, I work with website design and development. I push out products on a daily basis, working from big data corporate companies to the typical HF skid PPD site. The kind of experience I have is with the professional gold-collar industry, not some made up conjectural HF economy system. I know how companies work and operate, the kind of six-sigma and JIT methodology they follow for product creation. I know I'm spitting out a lot of engineering terms here, but they're not as complex as they might sound.

Applying business models to something on HF can be highly beneficial. When I was leading the design and development sector for Complexity and Infamous, we got shit done (pardon my French). When I mean we got shit done, I mean project updates were passed in nearly every 6 hours, a competent enough time-frame for a real-life company. I can guarantee I can offer the same professionalism and work ethic to Enterprise as I can with my current job.

Now, Thornzzz, one of your reviews, knows me a bit more personally so I'll put out some of my lesser-known, less-professional characteristics.

I'm not some stuck up gold-collar industry worker who has a stick up his ass 24/7. I crack jokes, message people with atrocious grammar, deliberately troll my coworkers, etc. HF is more of a side-hobby for me. Even at 21 years of age, I'm still a kid at heart and I still miss some of my high school years even though it wasn't too long ago. Not everyone will admit that being in an exclusive group on an internet forum gives you sort of the warm, pleasurable feeling that you're accepted in a group of people with different skills. I, for one, will gladly say that maturity is not defined by what you deem important, be it a nice car, a hot girlfriend, a sexy userbar on HF, and a financially stable job (all of which I have lol).

Despite my materialistic success so far, it's nice to be associated with friends online who have different goals and ultimatums. For that reason, I'd like to join Enterprise as a Programmer and UI/UX developer (partly a designer).

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:I am willing to help some users in downfall and problems,eaiter related to life problems or pc problems as am very reputable for helping some users with issues.Considering me can cause extreme fun and helpness towards the group and the community of HF,I love helping and it has been part of me since 2014.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:I am very decent and kind young man who takes pride in my work,through out the school years I studied I.T and wanted to share my talent with HF users and the group.

Why do you want to join EnterPrise in particular?:I know this group will be become successful and is ran by an intelligent owner d I assume this group will turn out to be something good so I wanna be apart of it to help others and help the group.

Marketing Experience:I have alot of marketing experience due to the help of HF users,guiding me and helping me through out the months as I want to say thanks to them and I think this is the type of group I can associate with as I love marketing and helping others.[/align]

Section I'm applying for: Programming

Skills:

I'm a programmer, currently studying a computer related course and I when I'm older I aspire to study for a computer science degree at university and then progress to become a software developer.

These are the programming languages I know and in order of which one I'm most comfortable with.

VB.NET

PHP

C#

SQL - event though it's not really a proper programming language.

HTML

Apart from programming, I also have good marketing skills. Marketing is not something I've been thought but something I've taught myself by being a good observer. I know what sells and the best way to get people to buy your item. I know how maintain customers, keep them coming back and such. I know how to sell something. And all this is from my previous experience working on HF. I've dealt with many customers/clients and I know what works well.

Contributions:

Since I started programming about 1 year ago, I spent most of my time in the vb.net section, coding sections helping members with programming related questions. I have coded many tools for members before on HF for free entirely out of my passion for programming. Some of my threads where I offer free coding service can be found here

Here's a small list of some of my contributions for HF. e.g. Free Netflix checker etc.

My product achievement since I joined HF:

You know what? Its my account generator manager.

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4414881>

And the reason is because of how far I've come. When I joined HF I was such a skid that just wanted to hack, rat, keylog and them stupid things. But now I've picked up a skill/hobby and I've used that to do positive things and make money from it. For me thats a big plus and I'm proud I can achieve something like that. 2 years ago I wouldn't be able to dream of something like this.

Not just my account generator manager, but just being able to code and help people with my skills is just a blessing. Feels good.

Why do I wanna join?

I've always wanted to represent a group that represents who I am. A group that is HQ. Simple. That's me. Always here to help anyone, and representing a group whilst I'm helping others will only give the group a better image. I would also like to learn from some members too and maybe teach some members while I'm at it too :D.

Finally, addition I love your userbar, it's amazing, I love the graphics. And from what I've seen, members of Enterprise seem very HQ.

Additional Information

Spoiler (Click to View)

Hello there,

I'm not a Photoshop master, so this really took me a long time to complete, I didn't want it to be cluttered with stuff so it seems empty.. Also look at my registration date and activity ratio.

Fun Facts:I run multiple dark-net sites (successful too, not illegal).

I'm the owner, developer, and network administrator of the Red Lion's official website.

I've obtained over 85BTC and I'm only 17.

I collect and sell OG accounts (when I'm Ub3r I'll be able to post in the Online Accounts section), easily $3,000 worth of assets.

I'm taking Computer Science college classes every summer and during breaks.

I'm a Cryptography (and steganography freak, I love it so much, look it up!!)

SMS Spoofing technology, yes, I can send a spoofed text message from any name or number without API's etc.

High Quality, it's what you get with me.. Check out my posts, you won't find any low quality posts.. In fact, I've reported almost 600 bad posts!

I'm not selfish, I'll be happy to do a $0.75 giveaway to all members of the community in the name of the Enterprise.

I'm into open source.

Do you like help desks and tutorials? I know many languages COLLEGE LEVEL, I can answer any question quickly and efficiently.

Obviously I know languages like HTML4&5, Javascript, CSS3, MySQL, and languages that don't really count.

Please don't hesitate to send me a personal message, I'm always available and ready to talk business, also I feel like I haven't talked enough about how much I love Cryptography, Steganography, and Security... I'm a big blackhat inside too.

Also my Bitcoin history (per day, pm for proof):

[img]http://s30.postimg.org/olb3heb5t/Screen_Shot_2014_09_27_at_6_27_20_PM.png[/img]

I'm very eager to see your response towards my thread, even if I'm blacklisted, denied, or not eligible to become part of this group, I would still like to have feedback so I can better myself in the future.

Socrates???? - September 26, 2014, 7:49 pm

I'll apply for this group. I'll start of by giving you some info about myself. I am a 17 year old boy who joined hf, not because I wanted to hack, but because I wanted to make some online friends. I then quickly realized how much potential there is to make money online. It was crazy.

I jumped into ewhoring because I wanted to work on my SE skills. I started on chat-avenue, which was awful. But even using that website I was averaging 15$ a day. Not much is it, but it was something. The first payment I got was, 5$ for a 10 min show. I was so excited, and that is also the time I realized, I love making money. I hated ewhoring but money is money. After ewhoring for about 10 days earning 50$ a day I quit. I got tired of the dicks especially after seeing one random guy cum on his own face.... I signed up for a CPL website. I used my knowledge of getting traffic from ewhoring to start earning with CPL. I would get so many adds on my skype by using websites such as, chat avenue, craigslist, ect ect. I would tell these men and occasionally women to do my CPL offer and once they do I would give them a 20 min cam show. This involved so much work. One day I thought to myself, there has to be an easier way. An exploit. I filled out one myself. Oh look I got paid. I turned on IPFUCK. And I was getting paid every single time. I earned a total of like 600$ which I did get paid out. And one day, I notice it's not working anymore, and my account was suspended. The website had caught what I was doing and now completely changed everything. To simply sign up it takes way more info than before. Since then I have been selling twitter followers, and even since I stopped I have been getting about 2 adds on skype each day because of my thread. I have a File Ice account but haven't delicately tried any PPD yet. The reason being is I'm making a booter and I have put my focus to getting the attack servers set up and finishing the website, btc auto buy and PayPal auto buy. It's all very simple and I'm basically done making it. I'm constantly trying to expand every business I start. Booter being my first but I am planning to start a couple more business very soon. I'm not going to mention what programming languages I know. The reason being is I believe once you learn how you learn programming languages, then you are able to learn any language. May sound stupid but it's just how I feel.

Personally if I was accepted to a group like this, I would try my best to share any knowledge I know that involves making money, marketing, SEO, and I'll even be willing to teach programming or make tutorials around programming. I'm always striving to earn whatever I can, but I'm not greedy. I feel I could provide this group high quality products and services which I wouldn't care if they resell. As an example, I'm making a crypter but don't really need it. I could release the source code to the group and one of the members could sell it here or elsewhere. To recap. I'm very dedicated and knowledgeable to programming and some marketing. Thank you for taking the time to read my applications. It's kind of a huge block of text, but I had no other way explaining all of my experience! I really appreciate this guys.

Water Aura - September 26, 2014, 8:38 pm

Water Aura's ApplicationDescription about myselfRight now, I'm in highschool studying AICE Computing (Cambridge University Program) though it's pretty much a joke class and I'm just taking it to get a college credit as well as just have a class where I can chill and talk to friends of mine. I've been interested in coding since I was very young, starting from the shittiest of languages. That language was indeed Visual Basic, but I learned how to operate logic from it. (Mostly c+p!) Follow up a few years I start using my small abilities to do small tasks such as create small modules that solved simple math problems (distance formula [I know though this is a long time ago.]). Right now I think I'm at a stage of coding that I think as myself as an intermediate not advanced to the point that a project would take me longer than a week (Super big projects involving complex algorithms [Though I've read about some complex algorithms such as "Alpha beta pruning"])

Languages I know:Java:This language I have an intermediate stance of understanding it and all I really have to do is just read more on about the libraries that come with Java (50% there!)

Lua:This is one of the languages I took very seriously as it was used for a lot of game engines such as Garry's Mod, WoW, etc. And this was probably after I learned VB.NET so this really took me a few monthes to transition to this script language and then back to Java.

HTML, JS, CSS, PHP:HTML, 'nuff said. JS, 'nuff said. CSS, EHHHH I CAN DO BETTER! I love web development though more of the backend PHP stuff. Though to be honest for PHP I don't really know ALL of the backend haxy library stuff so I'm kind of a SUPER beginner in PHP but I can pull off projects in PHP with no problem as long the Java JDK is there ;)(joke).

Future Languages I'd like to learn:C++Though I should of started with this language before Java (as it has nearly the subtle syntax changes as C++) though I thought that Java was just easier to read and understand as well as many future developers mainly use this language to develop. Another reason I'm saving this for later is that there is some complicated stuff in C++ such as memory injection and I'd like to learn that once I have a better grip of it.

Projects that I've done:This maybe the only reason I'm going to be denied....I don't have time (shitload of AP's, only have probably one day to code. Don't even know how I fit this application into my time) for large scale projects thus all of my projects are general and I'm kind of shy to share a few of them as people may laugh at me if I reveal what things I've worked on.

A few notes: Spoiler (Click to View)If you really really really want to see my projects to prove my legitimacy, PM me ;).

What makes me special? : Good that you ask. I make money while having fun. I make money by using my modified PS3 console and creating/using tools to help people gain said skills/items and anything they want in a game with minimal effort.

What other marketing/monetizing do I do? :Currency Exchange

CPA/PPD

My main source of income online is PS3 Modding

What makes me different from other applicants? : As i said, I am a PS3 modder. Anyone in the gaming sections knows I run a successful service both onsite and offsite. I have an investor who helps with maintenance of console, new tools and time put into making tools. I have staff who advertise my service for me and bring in customers. I average an 10+ customer per day sometimes less sometimes alot more but that's just an average. In saying that, I also monetize with other things such as mentioned CPA which was when i first got into the monetizing side of things and gained alot of knowledge, now know enough to share with others to help them along the way!.

What I plan to achieve being in the group/being accepted? : Yes I have a fair bit of knowledge on marketing but being accepted into the group would give me a chance to converse with other members and gain more knowledge from not only them but maybe even share some of my knowledge with other members. A marketer can never hold too much information it is always handy to have more and use it to your advantage . I would also like to gain more friends throughout the group that have and hold the same interests as me and just get more known than I already am.

Thank you for considering. Good luck to all.

Astrophysical - September 27, 2014, 1:20 am

Hopefully you guys like my application. I hope I get accepted. Thanks for taking the time to read it. Appreciate it.

And good luck to everyone else.

WHY SHOULD YOU ACCEPT ME?

I would like to join Enterprise because I know how to make money but I am always open to learn new monetizing techniques from other members in Enterprise and to share my own unique monetizing techniques with the others.

I am willing to help the group as much as possible by sharing different techniques and by giving tips and tricks!

And of course to make some new friends within Enterprise.

I started to join forums to look for tips / tricks on how to earn more money online, I found this 'way' to make money called eWhoring, back then I didn't even know what it was.

I now have managed to get my own personal methods on earning quite a lot of money with eWhoring.

The second 'way' I make money online with is by cracking accounts from all different kind of websites,

I started to learn cracking valuable accounts and started selling only the best accounts on different sites over the internet, which I made (and still do) a profit with.

I also used to make some money with doing YouTube, I have been a very successful YouTuber in the Call of Duty Sniping community (but YouTube banned my account because of some 'issues' have been in quite a lot of big /known teams and started to grow my channel where I had a partnership on.

My biggest monetizing technique at this moment is betting, especially on PrimeDice.

I have already made around $300 only from betting in the last couple of weeks.

I am also earning some money with different (small) money making methods which I am still learning and trying to increase my profits with, with this I am talking about online methods but also in real life ways to monetize and make profit.

So my main monetizing techniques are/were :

eWhoring

Cracking accounts

Youtube

I am willing to share some of my monetizing techniques with the other members in Enterprise and provide a lot of tips / tricks and help for different techniques.

I also like doing giveaways, I am willing to host quite a few giveaways in the name of Enterprise.

Sam Winchester - September 27, 2014, 2:43 pm

General Information.

Hi there! I am Sam Winchester, I'm 16 years old and I'm from Finland. I'm referred to as Sammy most of the time.

What do I specialize in?

I specialize in Game Server Marketing. What that means is I own and manage servers that allow people to play with their friends instead of playing Single Player alone. In the server players can purchase things such as special privileges, gear and currency for real life money. Running a game server is a difficult task as it requires a lot of different skills, more about that below. The first thing you must succeed in is "getting the ball rolling". Starting is the part where most of my rivals have failed. I'm actually thinking of starting a new project soon.

To be successful in game server marketing I've done and learned the following but not limited to:
Finding the correct people to work as staff.

Advertising to the correct people.

What to sell at what price.

Managing and running a game community.

Surviving & dominating against competitors.

Managing a Linux Debian 6 dedicated server(s) with Putty & Filezilla access.

Hosting & editing a Xenforo forum.

Am I successful in what I do?

Spoiler (Click to View)

My most successful project is a Minecraft server called "EarthCraft". I've made around 7,550 EUR with it which is nearly 10,000 USD.

Final words.

I'm not sure what Enterprise's future will look like but it surely seems to be headed down a better path. I hope I can walk that path with you. ?

I'll make my application short & simple.

Because marketing has to be simply to keep our potential customers attention, right?

Anyways, I have a good background when it comes to marketing and monetizing.

Not to mention the fact that I've followed marketing studies.

Another cool factor would be the fact that I can provide you guys with loads of marketing techniques that are crucial to your business's stability and development. Also note that I have great, quick and efficient techniques of monetizing. Yes, these techniques are unsaturated/unexploited.

So if you're interested in my person/the benefits I can bring, feel free to contact me via PM.

What have you done for this community: Well I have done a few giveaways, however I junked a few of them. I didn't realise they could have been used for future purposes such as applications etc. Thats a fault on my part there.

I help people the best I can on hackforums. Whether its in the small rewards and favours section. or the Innuendo section.

A lot of people go through problems and I try my best from personal exp to help them with it. This makes me a very mature member.

Why should we select you: I am a very mature user, I don't bother with people who have time for "trolling" or people who say "I'll +rep you if you +rep me" I just strive to help other members who need it the most. Those who suffer from depression, Break ups, need advice about confidence and such. If picked, I would be willing to learn what is taught to me. I am a very active person and I am usually around most times.

I also hang around in the currency exchange section a lot, Mainly for BTC and PP Deals. I am a very legit person, and people can trust me just by looking at my profile.

Thank you for reading.

Hello.

I would like to enter this group.

Name: 1Byte

Age: 16

Market Experience: I have a mini shop here on HF. I will not link since it's not allowed. I will send the links trough PM if needed.

Do you help the community? Yes I try to help everyone. I never made a giveway but I help every threads I can. If know, I help!

In what will you be valuable to us? I think I can be a great member because I'm allways willing to learn and to share my knowledge too.

I know this a WOW apply but I think it's not that bad too. hehe

Thank you for reading.

PS: I love cheese pizza! AHAHHA

Best Regards,

Description :

I have been into Steam business past 5 years or so.And i have gained vast amount of knowledge in the field and have made over 40,000$+ ever since.I am a student by profession and currently my living is totally relied of my steam business.And i am doing pretty damn well.Not to brag, but i am very much known for what i do.Not only on HF but also on multiple other forums and chat clients like Teamspeak,steam,etc.Even the leader of Enterprise(~HF~) has used my service a few times.I have been inactive a bit lately due to college exams and more, though i visit HF daily and contribute what i can.

Why should i be accepted? :

Enterprise is the perfect group for me since i have made my own Steam Enterprise past 5 years. And from what i see, there is no one in the Enterprise related to the Steam field. Though i have exams, which i stated earlier, i will still be contributing to HF and the Enterprise. My exams last till 15th Oct, after which i will be active a lot and contributing much more.

My Business related threads :

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2092526> - Super Unique

And much more...

My Contribution to Hackforums and the members :

I always giveaway lots of my products on HF since HF provided me a huge marketplace and boosted my marketing.

Some of my big giveaways :

As I always seem to have free time, I feel that I am able to contribute more to the community, rather than just browsing around and helping where I am able to. Therefore I would be more than pleased to be a part of the Enterprise. But let me begin with an introduction about myself.

My real name is Sirajuddin, but call me Sira. I'm a seventeen year old boy from Norway. I am studying application developer, pretty much just creating, coding and designing websites. I am currently studying HTML, PHP, CSS and in my next school year I will be studying Java - and much more. I've spent most of my spare time browsing HackForums and programming websites. Of course, I do have a job besides it. Luckily my job is not taking much time and I can continue my daily routine. I think this is one of the main reasons of why I am useful and a good additional in the Enterprise.

My positive skillset and qualities

My good skills and properties are that I am polite to everybody. Luckily I am never angry, not to anyone. Most of the time, I just laugh at the situation and step aside from it. I am also willing to help where I can help, such as guiding new community members, give them some information, tips and so on.

Another good quality of mine is my ability to remain impartial when decision making, when I take up a role, I take pride in making choices I believe to be right and that are by the book, I have an attention to detail and want what's best for the group. I have a passion for programming and creating projects and feel I'm an approachable person when it comes to asking for help. I would say I'm consistent in my ability to perform in a group position and more involved in leading by a good example in terms of rules, good forum etiquette and being somebody who is friendly and approachable.

Negative sides of me

I do have one down-point, which is that I am disinterested fast. I want to do something. I can not just sit on a chair doing nothing, which I actually am doing in real life. If you assign me a job to do, I will do it. To go in further on that, I am always doing my job as best I can. If I do something wrong, tell me, and I will correct it. As I wrote above, I am a quick learner and I do in fact learn from my mistakes. Not everybody does that.

Another negative side of me is that I can be confrontational if I don't have a resource to vent on. If I wasn't trying to keep myself calm and cool, I more than likely would've went hey-wire on that person, but I had someone to vent out my frustration on and that person made me feel better. After all these years in lead positions, it is something I'm getting very used to very fast and it's not exactly the most evident anymore.

My experience

I have some business and marketing experience, this ranges from the supporting aspect of business, for example being a member of support for a business, as well as actually selling products to people. I do have some experience, but not as much as the serious marketing community members that have multiple products on the line with a large monthly income, but I do have some experience, and I would like to improve that, which is one of the main reasons I have applied to join the Enterprise. I am however a young marketer. I love to work for my money. I am very enthusiastic when it comes to making my money and I love being on top of it.

I am currently selling an eBook on Hackforums. I have partnered up multiple times to sell different kinds of products, be on the support team for a VPN, and overall managing sales. I am selling different kinds of products and other forums to boost my income and sales. I have been selling items since August of 2013, so you could say I have intermediate skill. I am now investing in crypto-currency and other items for a better success in the future.

My point is that my experience in marketing and business varies between offline, and online. My offline experiences include buying bulk E-Hookahs off eBay for a very cheap price, and reselling for almost 10x that price. Offline I also have ran numerous fundraising events for my school, and other organisations. My latest fundraiser for my school raised close to $4,000. My online experiences includes my quite successful social shop, it nets me 4 digits monthly, numerous slightly black hat operations, which I will disclose in private, if necessary.

I believe that I am dedicated yet not ignorant. For example, if someone feels a certain way about a situation, I'll allow them to explain whatever they're thinking and value their opinion. Though I am stable with my own beliefs, I'm extremely open-minded--a branch off of tolerance which is always a good thing for a member of the Enterprise to have. As far as the dedication goes, it even expands out to tasks. If someone tells me to do something or even asks politely, I can do it without a problem and stick to that task until it's complete to one's satisfaction. This may sound nerdy, but I love to help out and do everything or anything I can. I believe that I'm extremely professional. I try to keep a calm and cool persona active at all times and I avoid most if not all arguments on the Internet. From the times I've been involved in an argument, I've managed to either push it aside or just let the other person dwell with whatever gratification they get from "winning" said argument. If I know I'm right about something, I trust myself, and I don't let that interfere with my professionalism.

I also don't let my gender get in the way of my judgement. Not only my gender, but my relationships. I feel as though I shouldn't even have to say this but I'm sure people are thinking it. I'll go more in-depth in the "bad sides" section of this application. I'm easy to communicate with and I can easily make people comfortable around me. This even goes as far as to have some people maybe...disclose a little too much about themselves to me regarding their personal life after a short time of knowing me which, as a very trustworthy person, I don't have a problem with, but it goes to show you. Because people are often comfortable around me, they tell me more or trust me more or befriend me and that kind of positive connection in the community (even if it's because of my gender) is always better than a circle of negativity!

I have tons of experience in leading/co-leading positions. I've played games such as Star Wars: The Old Republic, World of Warcraft, Runescape, Habbo, and a few more. Most of them, I've had leading positions in or have been the owner of a guild/moderator or administrator of a roleplay. I have never been removed from a staff position due to unprofessional behavior or something of that case. I've either requested to be taken off or the roleplay/guild/faction closed due to events that were entirely out of my control. Out of my six/seven years roleplaying, I'd say that a good two of those years were spent in a position of authority.

I am, in my own eyes, a responsible person. I accept the punishment for my reprehensible actions and I will acquiesce it if I made a wrong move. This is something not everybody does. Further into that again, I will accomplish whatever I have to achieve, especially if I have started doing it. I do not mind to spend some extra time on getting it accomplished, as long as I get it finished. My most defined personality trait is probably my hyperactivity as far as verbal interactions go. On Skype calls or in Teamspeak, I tend to loosen up around people I'm comfortable with; I laugh, I tell jokes, I talk loud and fast and I ultimately sacrifice a bit of professionalism in order to have a good time. It's something I'm toning down but it's still present. You can say that I am a fairly hard worker.

Everything in a nutshell:

- I have tons of experience within businesses and marketing
- I am active and willing to contribute.
- I am coding HTML, PHP and CSS.
- I will put one hundred percent of effort in everything I am doing and everything I am going to do.

PaddalsAFaggot - September 28, 2014, 11:54 am

Skillset -Web Development - I can develop the most simple to most advanced sites. I can also create simple but unique design that will grab the attention of visitors. I currently developed ticket system, Botnet IRC API, Hosting auto-buy, API Scripts/with key & stop function & lot more will can be discussed via private message or skype.

Server Management - I have lot experience in server management, as i was running small hosting company (<http://www.dahost.pw>), I would say I'm advanced in Linux server management as i currently work with servers on a daily bases for customers and for my personal own projects. I can create simple scripts to start simple modules, so i can create fully function backend with PHP to create easy interface for running small company.

Booter/Stresser Management - I have lot experience running booters and stressers, i am currently supporting 4 booters with there backend support. I'm also good support ticket manager as i dedicated my time in to my response back to customers and i will always stay polite even at the newbies questions.

Botnet & RAT - I can setup IRC & HTTP Botnet, I can also develop custom IRC Attack Methods that have been proven to hit fairly hard with small amount bots.

I have knowledge also setting up RAT's for users who need help with port-forwarding or no port-forwarding, i can also crypt server.exe with winrar and make it complete FUD.

Marketing - Marketing is something you cannot rate or give a level. It's proven by the service or the product with support, the higher support and service uptime the more feedback you will get and more people will gain interest in the company

Computing/Hardware - I currently know few bits and bobs about hardware, I do little works in my home town for other people, and improve computers or they ask me what the best desktop/laptop or tablets for them, i recommend them the best tablets i normally make £20-30 everytime i help someone out.

Pentesting - I have basic knowledge, in pen testing finding vulnerable servers and files to exploit via Linux, I normally does service for cheap cost.

Achievements and Future Goals: -Vital Stresser

Inspire VPN

Inspire Booter

Inspire Hosting

DaHost

Minecraft Server

Inspire Botnet Setup

Inspire Hash Cracking API

About Myself: -

I'm open and trustworthy, I am friendly as long as people don't annoy me off, the only that really does annoy me is when i said no to something and they carry on asking for it. If i don't like something i be totally honest on my opinion so you can either improve on the what is it or to ignore me and carry on with it. I will help anyone that needs help as the everyone needs help once in a while, as we are not all perfect this would also make me valuable asset to the group. Thank you for taking the time to read my application.

Lagosta - September 30, 2014, 4:19 am

I'll try and keep this application relatively short and to the point, as I don't believe one needs to use a huge application to convince others of his skills.

I'm a Portuguese Business student, currently at University. I study in a very reputable university, currently ranked in the top #50 of the Financial Times Business Ranking. I'm on my third year right now, and what this means is that I have a good knowledge on all Business areas, be it Marketing, Economics, Statistics, Business skills or Mathematics subjects. I believe that my knowledge can be a valuable asset to the group, as all of these concepts apply to Internet-based businesses.

You often see people selling their products here on HF who seem to not grasp these concepts, and I feel like they are wasting a lot of potential to grow their product and develop their costumer base. My biggest flaw in this community is that I'm not very familiarized with web-based businesses. I don't know how to manage a server, or code a RAT, or design a nice webpage or sales thread. I do know, however, how to sell a product, how to brand it, how to create a costumer base, and basically, how to make sure the product is successful. I believe I have the knowledge on how to get things rolling, but I don't have the means to create a worthy product or even a company. This is where I believe I'd take value in joining the group.

I have quite a lot of experience with RL businesses, as I've worked as an intern in an actual trading business, as well as having put on some music shows in my hometown with foreign bands and helping some friends release their clothing brand. I'd like to delve into the world of internet businesses and try to make it happen, so I feel like joining the group would be the most appropriate path to pursue on my quest for more knowledge, obviously sharing my own with other users and trying to get inside a system where members are helping each other get their business going. I know I don't have many posts or rep here, but I believe that's secondary to the purpose and goals of the group, as well as my own.

I hope you consider this application and deem me worthy of joining, as I feel that both parties could benefit from this.

Thanks once again for reading, would be awesome if I got a spot in this fantastic group.

Kenjataimu - September 30, 2014, 3:18 pm

Alright, so my application may not be all flashy and shit, but I will give it a shot.

Name: Nick

Age: 18

Location: Canada

Education: I am a high school graduate. In november I will be taking college courses in project management.

About me:

I am pretty easy to get along with. My interests are in philosophy, business, technology, etc.

My ambitions are high. It has been a dream of mine to make a difference in the world and influence society to move in a more efficient direction.

Along with being creative (I have the ideas to back this up) I hope to one day be apart of or start my own business that gives myself and the people that I work with the chance to pursue their own dreams.

I know that entrepreneurship is in my blood. It is what I want to do. It is the only thing that I will allow myself to do.

The reason I want to join this group is because it seems to reflect on my ideals.

Really hoping that I can have a shot in this group.

Thanks for your time.

If you would like me to review your application, PM me it before you post.

Hydraulic - September 30, 2014, 9:05 pm

I will keep this short and sweet for you guys. I've been an internet marketer for a long time, and I have my own methods that I use to make money, which I haven't shared with anyone and I never will share it because it makes me enough to live on, I don't need a job but I'm still a teenager living with my parents, so some extra cash is always nice. In September, I made around $2.1k by doing what I'm best at, selling. I could've made more if I worked harder for it, but I just wanted to relax a little bit. If you wish to see proof of these $2.1k, I will gladly show you, on Skype for live proof. In October, I'll probably make it $3k, maybe even more. I'll ensure you that if you accept me, I will give you all my knowledge, help with projects that needs investments and whatnot. My methods, I can't share them, any internet marketer will never share their secrets, but I will provide my full knowledge and assist members around the community with their money making. I know this application isn't a "WOW", but that isn't really needed in this case. All you really need is members that actually know what they are doing. They may be making an application that is really amazing, but do they require exactly what you need? Keep that in mind. I hope you consider my application, and that I will be a great benefit to the group.

-->Anthony's Application for Enterprise <---

Even though I'm decent at graphic design, I don't see why I would make a thread design for application. It doesn't affect my marketing knowledge. So, hello, I'm Anthony, I live in a small country near Italia. I've been in IM field for over 5 years now. I lived in Germany 2 years to study more about marketing in general and I came back with great knowledge. Today, I'm a coach to 5 students and so far, they've made enough to pay for their college. Even as a little kid, I used to sell things. I was making Christmas cards just to sell them afterwards. I remember the joy when I got my first money. From that moment I knew that all I want to do in my life is marketing. At the age of 16 I got my first job. I was working in my dad's company as a designer. Graphic design was my passion and still is. In the particular moment of my life I had to choose between love and money. Yes, I've been there and this is a true story. You may call me stupid, but I chose money. I was 18 years old when this happened and the decision I made is one of the best in my life. I could have stopped earning about marketing and choose love, who knows what would've happened if I did that? I would probably be doing something I don't even like just to provide for my family. Income I would make from that job per month would be something I make in 5 days with the job I'm currently doing. So yeah, I chose money and I decided to become a monetizing expert. So far, I made $xxx.xxx with the methods I made myself. Great, isn't it? Of course, I had ups and downs in my life. Especially at the time when I turned 22. My dad passed away and since he was the one providing for our family, we were broke. My mom had to work full-time even though she had heart problems. That's when I decided I should put my knowledge to work. First month was pretty rough and I haven't earned a dime, but I haven't stopped because I knew money will come eventually. I kept doing it until I made my first money online. I worked harder and eventually I became IM couch. I offered my tutoring service all around the internet and I had many satisfied customers. I even hosted an event in my country called "Hope for young marketers" [Roughly Translated] where someone could come up with an idea for business. Person with the best idea had a chance to make it come true. We paid for everything, but individual with idea had to keep the business running. Some of them are now a successful businessmen. I'm very proud with my life and I can say that I succeed in Internet Marketing. I'm hoping to join this group to teach and learn. I will contribute A LOT and I will post every marketing stuff in Enterprise's name :)

Prior marketing/business experience:

I have been doing business on HF for about a year. I am mostly experienced with VPN Hosting and Server Hosting.

I am currently running Cloudose, a hosting company which has grown over the months. The income has been increasing rapidly every month. This has been my biggest success so far.

Before Cloudose, I have ran VPN Hosting and a bit of VPS hosting but it wasn't good enough unfortunately. I have also worked with other vpn services.

Successful projects:

A little about yourself:

I just turned 18, I have been a active and HQ member of the HF Community and plan to stay for a long time. I love helping others whether its answering some question is the Beginner Hacking Section or in the VPN Section.

Sometimes I just like to chat in the Lounge. I plan on going into the IT field in near future. Running Cloudose with my partner, Sladex, has taught me the complications of running a business and mantaining one. While learning how to work with OpenVz and various Linux operating systems.

I also have some basic knowledge on hacking whether its Wifi Hacking to Rattting to Bruteforcing RDP.

Why you think you should be accepted:

I love to be in this amazing group. I know a fair knowledge of subjects that include Hacking, Hosting, Computing.

Information about me

My name is Thom (Male). I'm 18years old and I live in the Netherlands.

My interest are Programming/coding. I love to code. Also i'm someone who wants to help other people out.. And to learn people what i know!

And I'm someone who don't be pushed by someone else's problems. Be led by my dreams. Live the life I want to live. Be the person I want to remember years from now. Make decisions and act on them. Make mistakes, fall and try again. Even if I fall a thousand times, at least I won't have to wonder what could have been. At least I will know in my heart that I gave my dreams the best shot.

Regardless of the opinions of others, at the end of the day the only reflection staring back at you in the mirror is yourself. Accepting everything about myself – EVERYTHING! Me are me and that is the beginning and the end – no apologies, no regrets.

Is it true that we all live to serve? That by helping others we fulfill our own destiny? The answer is a simple 'yes.' When I make a positive impact in someone else's life, I also make a positive impact in my own life. Do something that's greater than myself – something that helps someone else to be happy or to suffer less.

You cannot do everything, but I can do something. Smile and enjoy the fact that made me a difference – one I'm likely remember forever.

My Skills

-C++

I Have used it a lot to code things.. My best project with C++ was my Crypter. It took a while before it was done.. But after that I was so happy that it was succeeded me! Ofcourse you need to hold the Crypter FUD.. But I'm was not selling my Crypter.. No, I was providing a Crypt Service for FREE for Everyone! (You can see the Thread below) Because now school is started again I had no time to make it undetected an crypt files for everyone.. But it will come back!

-VB.net

I have worked many times with VB. It's nice and easy to use. It's also nice to make things with!

-Delphi

Have used it also for making crypters. It's not easy to use but it was definitely worth it! It's a nice language to learn!

-Phyton

I have not used this many times.. But i have write some codes with it.. And in the time i was using it, it seems like a nice language!

-HTML

I love HTML.. It's something which I could work every day with! At the moment I study application/web developer. It's about HTML, CSS, JAVA and PHP. I'm good at it and I know a lot about those!

-CSS

Like i said above.. Cascading Style Sheets (CSS) is a style sheet language used for describing the look and formatting of a document written in a markup language. It's not difficult to work with.. When you know how it works.. You will never forget!

-PHP

PHP is a server-side scripting language designed for web development but also used as a general-purpose programming language. PHP is a lot harder and more extensive than, say for example.. Html. The Hypertext Markup Language, a standardized system for tagging text files to achieve font, colour, graphic, and hyperlink effects on World Wide Web pages.. Is also easy to use.. But you need PHP to make applications. Because almost every websites has PHP in it.

-OOP

Object-oriented programming (OOP) is a programming language model organized around objects rather than "actions" and data rather than logic. Historically, a program has been viewed as a logical procedure that takes input data, processes it, and produces output data. I use this sometimes to make some things for websites. It looks like PHP.. but it is more difficult than php.

Enterprise Application

Name: My name is Jaden but I go by Jay (.Jay)

Age: I am sixteen years of age.

Gender: Male

Timezone: I live in the United States, and my timezone is GMT +5 (12:00PM here right now)

About me:

I've been working with computers for about 3 years of my life now, I grew up learning how to fuck with people on Xbox, say DDoSing, and dropping games. But I started to learn more about hacking, like networking, and how marketing is a HUGE effect with this forum. My mom has taken a few photoshop classes, because she got a degree in Business Marketing. So obviously she taught me Photoshop about two years ago, I'm not amazing, but I can surely make a nice thread design, or anything GFX wise to make a nice market scheme.

I've also had personal experience with marketing, with that I mean I was a recruiter for the major YouTube network TGN (The Gaming Network)

I was paid weekly, and my job was to find channels that met specific requirements, and I was to then reach out to them and practically talk them into joining as a partner with the network. I picked up on some easy ways to sell someone anything I want.

I'm no dick, or asshole, but at school I'm known to be able to talk people into things, like generally.

I feel I'd be a great addition to the Enterprise, as I am good with marketing, and would gladly help sell more products via HF.

Another note, is that I'm constantly helping in the Beginner Hacking section, I know this may not be great for you guys, but I would easily help show off the user-badge in that section to new members, that would give a great impression on them, and hopefully making them want to grow in the forum and apply for Enterprise.

This wasn't an outstanding application, and I know that. I don't want to be some bloating member, but I don't want to seem stupid, so I just gave you a perspective of what I know, and how I work. Please consider me

What makes me stand out from the rest? : For me, like most I enjoy making money. I'm always trying to think of something to invest whether it be stocks, betting, etc. I'm always trying to come up with ideas or projects.

What marketing/monetizing techniques do I do? :PPD

Currency Exchange

Mentoring

What I plan to achieve being in the group: I myself know a decent amount about marketing and everything in that nature. I feel being in this group will really increase my knowledge on such monetizing techniques. Speaking to others with the same interests as you really strengthens ideas. I also would love to meet new people and become friends with everyone in this group.

What makes me different from other applicants? : As I said before I'm into PPD and as most of you know, PPD takes ALOT of patience. It took me months of reading countless e-books and looking for mentors till I actually started making serious earnings. Personally, when I want to achieve something I don't stop until I get it. I strive for greatness and I work hard at what I do.

Thanks for considering me as a member. Good luck to all applying.

About me:

I'm 17 years old, my real name is Beuford. at daily base i study computer science somewhere in Denmark. I have alot of experience with monetizing. I can program viruses and infect other computers, and use it for economic purposes. At the same time, I can also hack websites and suction databases for various information. I personally believe that the internet is the wild west, and that you do not really stand accountable for what you do. Enough of information about me.

Why do you want to join Enterprise?:

I would like to become a member of the Enterprise because it is a group of high-quality users. I'd love to share money methods along with others from the group. If i get accepted into the Enterprise, i will definitely take personal dynamic principle of initiation and make many different kinds of giveaways. I take great pride in helping people and being a user of high quality.

Why do you deserve to be in Enterprise?:

I deserve to be in Enterprise because of the low amount of people of my quality. I take great pride in helping people and being a user of high quality. I deserve to be in the Enterprise because of the high quality I've shown here on HF, there are not as many as do all the things I do for free. I will of course continue to do all these things, but it could be so much cooler if I could do it in the name of Enterprise.

I want to thank you Grievous to take the time and read my application, I hope you enjoyed reading it, even though it wasn't so long - but just did not really quite sure what to write in my application. I hope you consider me as a valuable member and, that you consider adding me to the group.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question):

I've been doing a lot of paypal giveaways lately, I will be giving away a money making E-Book for every L33t/Ub3r Member in the HackForums Community. I've helped plenty of people that were in need of it when it comes to designing, programming, anything I could do to help, I will try my best.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

I am willing to help out anybody in this group if they need anything advice, any fixing or want somebody to talk to about the problems they are having on anything. I love helping people and hoping to find more people to help.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

I'm a very nice person, good to get along with, and very helpful. Joining this group would be a very nice improvement on my behalf.

Why do you want to join EnterPrise in particular?:

I have confidence that I would be able to be accepted in EnterPrise due to me helping out a lot of members on HackForums, giving advice, doing a bunch of giveaways, and anything similar to anything I've done.

Marketing Experience:

Everyone other customer would ask for help and I would gladly help them out. I love helping out others to bring happiness towards them.

Extra information: Hello to whom may be reading this. I'm Ty, an average teenage high school kid. I am very interesting in marketing and monetizing which was one of the main reasons why I joined Hackforums in the first place. Recently I have been focusing also on giving back to the community by hosting a lot of giveaways. One thing you need to know about Ty is that I am only a teenager and I do admit that I do act like a normal teenager sometimes when it comes to being around others like joking around just making fools of each other. But I also know how to be professional when I need to be. Lastly, I am very friendly and kind and love to help out other HF members when they are in need and do not judge anyone but what rank they are. And that's really it, I don't think I need to fluff up this information anymore than it needs to be.

I've contributed very much in my little time here on HF. It's been a wonderful journey and I plan to achieve my goal (Join Enterprise)

I hope I get accepted and good luck to other members.

Skills:

I'm a very good marketer and seller. I also play video games for living and love to help people. I can sell products or anything related to marketing. I've had many businesses such as selling my posting services, instagram shoutouts, and even selling Non-Free accounts

Why should we accept you?: You should accept me because I'm very active in the subforums, hq, and done many things to give back to the community.

This journey has been wonderful and I plan to expand on. Now my mission is to Join Enterprise and be apart of the fun and adventure. This group seems wonderful and i'm digging the userbar.

I won't go inactive unless I have to and I will notify the leaders. HF Is a wonderful place to interact and if I join Enterprise this means that I'll meet new members and have fun while I'm at it. Being in Enterprise will mean a lot to me and I will do anything to giveback if I join.

I'm a really chill guy. Also, I will do anything to contribute to the members in and out of this group. This will be a pleasure.

I have some things in mind when I join to celebrate the memories. Joining Enterprise will be a memory that I will never forget. I wish good luck to the other members applying for Enterprise. I hope you have a wonderful day.

Also, I would love to thank you for reading my application. It may not be the best but I put some effort into this.

Before you deny or accept me I would like to state that I would help any user that needs it. I would gladly do anything to help a user towards their goal. I tutor kids in real life and I'd gladly help anyone online. I'm a very HQ person and chill. I would bring the private sub forum to life. I'm a very funny person and I'm exciting. Again thanks for reading my application.

DarkButBright - October 12, 2014, 6:03 pm

Hi I am a mature 14 year old on hackforums. I live in Canada and my time zone is (UTC-04:00) Atlantic Time (Canada). Before you consider me a skid. I want to put myself out there as a serious young entrepreneur and be a part of the Enterprise group. My hobbies are making money and computer related discussions. My life has evolved around computers and hackforums has enhanced and enlightened my involvement and knowledge on computers.

I started out on HF with nothing I took more then I received but at one point I realized that I need to give back to the forums so I went with L33T. Planning on getting UB3R. The forum changed from there on and I was more accessible to take but I decided I stop and help those who are new and are looking for some help. At this point I took all the knowledge I had gained and tried to give it back in any way possible. I see this forum as a current and potential success. Years from now I see Hackforums as the database of all info related to computers.

As I learned more and took part in the community I learned that I found myself. I am not aware of what your surroundings and access to guidance but where I live no one literally no one loved computers or anything I liked. Sure I love sports and fashion but that's not where I wanted to see myself. Joining the community has impacted my life in such a way that just saying it wouldn't be enough. Nonetheless I found myself on this forum alot more often. I was able to connect to many wonderful users. I want to thank V for Vendetta. Man I love what you started and will always be here to help you. I found that connection and discussions had made me find myself. This is the area of business.

I loved talking to members about money and computers. I gained many friends online and still talk to some till date. At first I was making less then a couple hundreds. Although this is a little to you guys this meant millions to me since I can't work and get to do what I love and get paid. Then I started making niches at 14. These were a big set off. I went from hundreds to thousands. I invested like crazy and didn't care since all this money came with no investment. I lost so much but made more then loss. As time went by I began to learn the fundamentals. I spent so much time that I started moving away from the forum. I am now back!

Now that I'm back I want to be able to help members the way many members helped me. HF is getting bigger and better and I wish I get involved. I want to be able to help people as someone from enterprise since it really is where I found myself in the business sector. I really think that I can help members of the community. I really want to be able to be an addition to the enterprise community as that's where many other people like me will be found. I want too help members with my niches and give it to them so I can share the love that I once got.

I wish by entering the enterprise to find more members like me. Those who share the same interest. Although I need to be taught how to share my knowledge I believe it wouldn't be hard being surrounded by a bunch of people who love to make money like me. I hope that my application has given you a form of consideration. My rep isn't the most amusing thing but I believe you should give me a chance. I wish I can help to make the most of the community.

What do I specialize in?

Monetizing and investments.

Having lost and winning alot of money I have acquired a vast knowledge on monetizing and how to make the best bang for the buck. I use primedice extensively and have many earnings. I got alot from this and I am currently trying to enhance myself in CPA/PPD. I am very soon going to launch my game app and invested alot and am gathering alot of money to start the project.I also DO alot of buy and sell wholesale.

Niches

I don't know what to say I got the mind of Jesus.Oh my!! I don't know why but I just come up with random projects and incredible and original niche.Sometimes I even wonder how I get these but it just is.I just don't target my niche till I got enough funds.

Ebooks

A lot of my niches can't be funded since I got tons so I just release them.I sell most but keep alot.The ones that I sell get vouched intensely and gain so much awareness that I lose control of the ebook.My best Ebook is A method to get any amount worth of Best Buy cards.

Social Engineering and Blackhat

I don't know what to say for those saying they started making money the legit way.That's nice.I won't agree and say everything I started with was legit.I had to make my way around companies and do some weird stuff like eWhoring to make money.I know ways to get started with $1000's of dollars through blackhat if I wanted to share it but as hackforums says no blackhat and I will follow the rules of the forum.I just wanted to say I make money through blackhat on the side with no connection to HF.

Whitehat

My eyes are those of a hawk.I am quickly observant and I easily find ways to breach the T.o.S of a company legally.The law is put in place to secure people but sometimes there isn't always the best security.Us entrepreneur have to be able to accept this and take advantage.By joining the group I can say I don't mind sharing some whitehat opportunities!

D.I.Y

I love to make little things out of left over stuff.May not be something that will help with the group.

Why I should be a part of the group?

Nice question.Well I've been through all the methods and junk that say helps but real help comes from some one who has experienced it.I started from the bottom with nothing to something.I figure most of the forum is teens and young entrepreneurs who just like me just needed a simple push to find them self and correct guidance.I want to tell and show people how I made it.This may seem like nothing but I'm sure there are people out there who like me at first have a general interest but needed a route.I want to be that person in the name of the enterprise to help guide and help those who needed the guidance I needed.I think I have collected the knowledge with online marketing and would love to show people how to start.

Why I can help

What have you done for the community?: I have done multiple give aways, different services for items in-game (that would normally cost money but i did it for free), i help in the beginner hacking section (i am very active there), and tried to tell people to go on the "HQ" posting side rather than post "LQ" stuff.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: I am willing to stay up later to help more users, create even more help-desks, and overall try to be more "HQ", and get more members to be "HQ".

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I feel like i would be able to expand my skills if i possibly could join this group, not only that but i have tons of knowledge which would be a good key selection for me to be apart of this group.

Why do you want to join EnterPrise in particular?: Because i would like to get to know more people, and hopefully enhance my skills.

Marketing Experience: I don't have much but i am getting some good people i trust to help me with that!

Hi Enterprise,

Im Grim. My real name is Kody. Im 19 and graduated from highschool. I watch alot of tv and I love to frequent carshows as I have many vehicles. I like to go swimming and running, but enought about me lets talk about what ive accomplished on hackforums. I mainly hang around the marketplace forum & the group subforums, occasionally the lounge. Ive done many giveaways and plan on doing more. I have vast knowledge in the market as ive been dealing for almost 2 years with no scam reports. If I get accepted into enterprise I will do tutorials and giveaways branding the enterprise name. Im also a semi - professional graphics artist & an ametuer e-whore. I have knowledge on how to reset/hack & secure almost any social media that exists(what I mean by this is I can hack random accounts) Also I will be very active in the subforum. Grevious is a cutie.

Thx all for reading my app. I hope I get accepted?

Who Soup - October 17, 2014, 3:00 am

Background:

From a very early age I was always obsessed with being an entrepreneur. The thought of having nice cars, yachts that can sail to other continents and being able to jump in your private plane and fly out at 2:00 in the morning just because you can, has always sparked my interest.

When I was 5 years old my grandmother offered to either give me $3 cash for my birthday or invest it into the stock market where she promised it would grow over 10x it's worth in a few years. For some reason I decided to invest it into the market and started investing in a small mutual fund called PAX. I am still very active on the stock market as I have gotten into day trading and larger investments and have gotten a broker with Morgan Stanley as well as Ameriprise.

Introduction:

I go by the name of Who Soup, I am 21 years old and have always had a legal business which I claimed taxes since high school. I currently working for my AA which I will obtain next semester, as well as 2 business certificates which I should obtain this semester. I am looking to double major in business law as well as marketing. I don't go to a prestigious school, and my grades aren't the best but it's something I'm really passionate about (minus the accounting ?).

My Business experiences:

My first business started when I was a freshman in high school where I sold cultural based products to a large retail store. I had a business partner who I went to school with who managed all of the paperwork; the business folded because he tried to sign the paperwork behind my back and get the full business in his name as well as patent the process in which we were making the products. Luckily I caught it before it was too late and we ended up having to end the business.

My second business was an environmental engineering firm. This happened during my junior to senior year of high school. I developed a lot of very nice products such as a motor that runs off of compressed oxygen, and a way to harvest electricity from certain plants. I hit the jack pot with this business and it was very successful which I purchased a very nice sports car, and put the down payment on a house. Due to patent infringement I had to file bankruptcy on the business losing roughly $3,000 USD. Luckily I was paying myself extremely high and only keeping $3,000 in the business account at all times so I was able to walk out of that ahead.

My third and current business is an IT business. I have done things from Photoshop work, software development and building websites, but I am currently very big on testing website, wifi, and bluetooth security. Work hasn't been steady but I enjoy the work and I especially enjoy not working for someone else.

My Skills:

Visual Basics (specializing in reverse engineering websites)

Mining crypto currencies

Knowledgeable in the stock market

Knowledgeable in all business related topics

Very good broad knowledge

Kind and helpful

Extremely passionate about business and highly self motivated

Why you should allow me to join your group:

I am a very kind, helpful, and motivated member. My main focus on this forum is to make money and to learn as much as I can along the way. I believe I could help bring in money and knowledge to the group. I also have no scam reports on me and I'm considered trusted within the community for releasing decent quality applications as well as hundreds of exchanges. Also, I'd love to be able to communicate and be around other members who share the same passion for business as I do. If you choose to accept me into your group I would be extremely honored and do as much as I can to make this group proud to call me a member.

Thank you so much for reading over my application as I know you have a lot of them to read over ?

Manners 1-10: 9

What I have done for HF: I have provided overall support for the forums. I post in almost all forums and sub forums answering peoples questions. I really enjoy answering questions in Beginner Hacking to give some new users some basic idea of what this site can offer. I post in ewhoring a bit to congratulate others on the earnings and share tips as well. As for money I make about $20 a month semi autopilot on my own. I am not a leecher. Also about all my posts are HQ. Don't know if this helps but I got accepted for Ub3r first try within three hours. I also do a bit of help in the white hat section I do not post unless I know what I am talking about. I am held in AP Gifted classes so I have full proof I am a smart student and person in general. I am not much of a person to goof off, I do like to have my fun but when business is needed I am there. My reading and writing is at a 12th grade level which is pretty impressive to me. My math is nice and I feel good about it so I can figure out most problems I am faced. As for manners they are important to me because we need more helpful people in this world. Also if you are rude to others they will never return the favor. I like to participate in HF events and am always giving out reps or tips for anyone who I feel needs it. Some days I just post giving people laughs and some days I provide information to advance them further. Also for my name "Eternally" I like this because I want my memory to be eternal. I am pretty sharp and make friends easily. I can remember things and get them done on time. I really don't have a specific area I specialize in I am a good help all around. As for services I do for people I usually will do them for free being, well because I can. Just like with Grievous's cash flow I wanted to help him. This group seems like a good way to expand my knowledge and make a even better commitment to hack forums and the members of this "society". Just to add in my social engineering skills are amazing so I help users unlimit their paypals a lot unless I am really busy. So far got a 1 permanent limit unlimited, and a bunch of other non permanent ones un-limited. I am generally a trusted user. I post HQ because I feel even if they aren't upgraded they don't deserve a half answered lazy reply. I have seen people with longer reports not get into Enterprise due to the high expectations but I hope I am meeting them. If there are any suggestions or questions for me PMing me is the easiest way for me to reply. Thank you for taking the time to read this.

My skills are more based on the theory or the knowledge side of business/marketing. With that being said, my purpose for the group would be to help members:

- Helping the with the creation and innovation of products.
- The successful marketing of said product.
- The selling of the product in order to create a sufficient amount of revenue.

- The writing of policy documents and terms and conditions documents.

Essentially, my purpose for the group would be to Mentor the members of the group, and help it progress and to expand the knowledge-base of the current members.

Why should you choose me? I would offer a unique service to the group which will benefit the group in a positive way.

Other info: I am fairly dedicated to anything I put my mind to, I don't easily give up and strive to help anyone I can, wherever I can. I am a quick learner and do not shy away from hard work.

About

Ever since I was a young child I have had many interests. From gaming, to sports, to hacking. As a young child I spent much of my time on the computer or PS1, just learning and enjoying myself. I also spent much of my time outside.

As I got older and older I spent more and more time on the computer. I got interested in things, and thus started doing some extremely basic programming in Java.

I often got angry at people online, thus my interest in hacking grew and grew until I got curious enough to stumble upon HF. I was immediately interested, and started downloading many interesting programs. I remember when I first downloaded Jay's Booter and DoS'd a minecraft server of someone I wasn't in particularly good relations with, and I was hooked.

I eventually ended up downloading a nasty trojan whilst attempting to download LOIC, and it completely ruined my computer -- and that was when my interest for repairing computers sprouted.

Now I have also always been interested in making money. I remember I used to call my friends and offer them "mystery bags" full of random toys and cards for $50 when I was around 7. I guess my marketing skills weren't that great back then, as I never got a single sale. Over time as my interest for computers grew, I found a blissful convenience in the possibility of making money online. I got very interested, and thus my interest for online marketing grew.

Now there are two reasons I'm on HF today.

1. I love learning.
2. Marketing.

I spend loads of my time learning. I am extremely interested in hacking, and over time my skillset has evolved from DoSing minecraft servers to utilizing vulnerabilities and exploits in websites. That is due to the hours and hours of learning I've pushed on myself. I am also currently working on learning PHP so that I can understand what I'm doing when I'm hacking better for a multitude of reasons.

Now I have also had my share of tough times, and they have had very negative effects on my own health in the past. That is why I enjoy helping users with depression and similar issues.

About me:

I'm not going in too deep about me, things I'll have you know is that I'm 23 years old - from EU.

Skills:

1.- I consider myself an awesome Social Engineer, one of those you can't not trust. I easily get to know my target and I proceed to easily manipulate it. I can come out with money even if I am the one that has to pay. This is just on job, I would never do that to anyone.

2.- Another thing I consider a skill is my mind: I have the most open mind ever, I can adapt and think in many different ways. Whenever I reach an obstacle I will surely get over it.

3.- Last skill I'll list is loyalty. I'm one of those person you wish to know in your life, you could blind-jump off a cliff and know I'll catch you. I'm giving everything to my brothers but expect no second chances. Once I'm betrayed I will do everything to take down my target.

Interests:

1.- With the experience and the money I managed to earn I now want to improve my forex/stock trading knowledge.

2.- I'm always looking for new ways of monetizing so I'm open to everything.

Advantages of getting me into Enterprise:

- 1.- Active and dedicated member.
- 2.- All the help I can provide and beyond.
- 3.- A loyal and trusted member to count on.

Hi my name is Kevin, known as Evilcayenne or Feyenoord Rotterdam

I am enthusiastic 18 year old guy from Holland. At this moment I am studying graphic design and working as an intern for a company that is building web application for the international removal market.

I have owned a graphic design studio for the past 2 years, but during these years and school I found out that graphic design isn't really the thing I want to do in the future. I want to be a entrepreneur, thinking big and taking risks is in my blood.

Because of my high school diploma, I have to finish this study before I can start the study I really want to do, which is International business and management studies, which matches your group. I believe that entering your group, and learning from it as wel wil give a head start in the next part of my life.

My grandfather started a wholesale business almost 30 years ago and it's now owned by my father who expanded it to be one of the biggest wholesalers in the dutch market.

Besides my studio, I am currently working on a mobile application for party plannen, we are currently in fase 1 which is creating content and a steady user base. the site is called www.yourfestivalapp.com. In 2 weeks I have a meeting with a major ticket vendor from Holland who has serious interest in the app and it's concept. We are planning to develop the app during the winter so it will be available for download when the festival season starts.

Why I would like to join:

The reason I would like to join the Enterprise, is solely for the reason of learning more about business, marketing, and not to forget to mention I would love to make some more closer friends throughout this amazing forum. I also feel as if I could contribute to the Enterprise, to be honest I love helping other people in general by giving out methods, helping from my knowledge, contests, and donating to people who may need small amounts of change or anything.

More about myself and why I should be accepted:

Frankly, the reason why you should accept me is because partially stated above, I love helping out in great communities who deserve it. Back in 2012 I had first joined here to learn about jailbreaking my phone which has brought me across great knowledge in lots of sections. After a while school started to catch up to me and had to take a break 2013-2014, but now that I'm back it's never felt better with new people and new knowledge to be learned everyday. I feel as if by joining this group it will bring me to much higher standards and much broader knowledge in various topics I don't know much about which is just what I need.

Skills:

I make a decent amount of money. I started business maybe 2 years ago with social engineering and with grey hat and went through all that and finally came into white hat. Now I am buying a selling Doge Coin and I make anywhere from 30-50 dollars a day. When I first started I made a k in 2 weeks.

I am also playing around with 1k in stocks as well.

I have learned quite a bit around those fields and I am quite good with business in general. I also game a decent amount if that means anything.

Which section am I most active in and why?

If you look at post activity it would show that all of the marketplace sections would be my most active. Once again the reasoning of this is because of my business interest.

Why do I want to join Enterprise in particular?:

I believe that this group is by far the most notorious and infamous. It seems like the kind of group that you don't want to mess with yet be close with them. I see it as Al Capone running the Alcohol Game as The Enterprise runs the Marketplace with your most HQ products.

Why do I personally feel I deserve to and should be accepted into Enterprise:

First off I think I should be accepted to maybe become a student. As I told you I have done business for years. And 100 dollars a week is very nice, yet there is still more to learn. As well I can teach other members method and get them up on their feet as I was back when I started.

Description of myself

I don't really know where to start. A few years ago I sat at the xbox thinking well, I receive allowance but what my parents supply for all my purchases simply what does that accomplish. I tell my parents, "Stop. I will be self sufficient from now on." From there outward I began to learn. I received A's in school as my parents wished for but I focused none of my attention to school. It was on business, money, and the importance of all of it.

Throughout the starting year I did multiple things. I first decided to start a little bit of social engineering and went on to that got a 3ds and a Kindle. Sold both to make maybe $300 and that was my starting ground. Then I tried to make ebooks and sell them. I finally came up with an EBay method that was greyhat but worked pretty well for me. That month with the method I went on to make $200 and I was relatively proud of it. In the following months I was just selling products on EBay completely White Hat. Then I was playing with that game for quite a while. A couple months go by if not a year, and I finally find myself a partner. However this kid wasn't all that rich. He didn't have a dad, and he didn't have any money him self. We together went on to make quite a bit of money. I in the following 6 months made around 1k whilst he made like 200. I went on to teach this kid all he knows today and he finally was able to get himself a gaming computer, xbox, and multiple other small items.

We fast forward to 3 months from present day and I decide to start doing something completely legitimate. A dogecoin business. I went on to sell dogecoin for those next 2 weeks and make a k. Now we fast forward to present day where the income is less but in the past 2 weeks I have made 150 dollars. I have been busy with school and sports which was the majority of the problem.

Where are my priorities in life ? What is most important to me?

Well I would like to say Family, Business, School, and Friends. Almost in that order. My family is quite important and the welfare of them matters. However the welfare of them doesn't necessarily match up to the welfare of me. I focus so much on Business that on the list of orders it is more important than school. I still continue to get A's however I find economics and business much more interesting. I also care about my friends.

What caused me to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

Let me start off by telling my name, I am ScreemS, or you can call me Ramon, I am currently 15 years old.

I don't have master GFX skills, and or coding skills, but what I do know is that I am me.

I recently contributed in your enterprise give-away and I thought, why not apply.

I am from the Netherlands, but I am also half British. I currently own 2 stores, and 1 generator and I am looking to expand this very soon.

I am going to be very honest, I need to learn a lot but I also know a lot, and I think that being in enterprise is just a step for me to keep learning new things.

And I hope that I can also learn you guys some tricks.

About me

Hello :) My name is Amaya (aka TRVP). I am 15 years old, born and raised in New York City. A bit of background on me; My parents are from, and lived in India (i'm a super cool brown kid i swear). After having a child who passed away, they decided to come to America to have me. Surprisingly enough they liked it enough to stay :P. They were giving this amazing opportunity to relocate only because of the help that my mother's immediate family had given them. My mother's uncle brought my uncle to New York when he was 17, sent him to college, and opened up a firm with him and his sons. This was an executive search company at the time. (A headhunting firm). They had given my father a chance to work with them. They succeeded very much in fact, and are now one of the top firms in the world.

I grew up in an atmosphere where every single thing i did mattered. I spent a lot of my childhood summers helping out at the offices, filing paperwork and learning routines, listening to phone conversations etc. I was exposed to a lot growing up. I was 10, and accompanying my uncle (the CEO of the firm) around the world. Which is an amazing experience, to be able to see how firms in entirely different parts of the world grow and function. My mother and father adapted to this culture very quickly, I only ever grew up around strategic consultants, and other integrated services. Although i am very much interested in computer science, business will always be something that i am able to easily talk about in any setting at all.

My Skillset

Some of my strongest suits, are basically because of my involvement with the firm. I exceed in math, and global history. Networking is something that has always come easily to me considering my eccentric and naturally sweet attitude. When I was 13, i was given an 'internship' so to say at the firm. I now have a broad expertise in all facets of the global financial markets business, including sales and trading, structured finance, principal investment, research and technology. I have good marketing skills. Social engineering is something that fascinates me, and i love learning more and more each and every day. I have dealt with all types of people. Even though my family hasn't had to deal with much of a financial backlash so to say, they have always taught me how to be independent. I have had a few jobs, some of which didn't suit me as well as others. But hey- it was an experience that was well worth it. I'm the type of woman that doesn't want to have to rely on a man for much. Considering my culture, and my background; i'm considered a horrible child LOL. But honestly, i want to be able to grow up and say i DID do something for myself. I want to be able to get there myself.

Why Enterprise?

The reason that i want to join this group, is to learn. Judging from the forums i feel as if the group has a lot of educated members in it. I want to be able to grow and expand my areas of knowledge. I know that i am young, but I feel as if there isn't enough time in the world for me to sit and take expensive courses at colleges to learn things that i can easily learn from my peers. Thank you for taking the time to read my application, i really appreciate it

Dean Winchester? - November 3, 2014, 2:03 pm

Intro I guess...?

I'll just be making a pretty simple application, no graphics or anything like that. Considering this is a business group and not FBN I don't think it'll matter.

I don't suppose my application is going to "wow" you as you have described it, but I'll have a try either way as I feel I'll be fitting for this group considering I've been "studying marketing" for a month or two, which is why I am applying to this group.

General information:

I'm Dean, a 17 year old guy from Norway, an active, friendly, extroverted member of this forum. I consider myself easy to speak to, yet not too intrusive.

I'm currently in my second year of high school, right now I'm studying physics, math, chemistry and biology, with a bit of "marketing" as a privatist (is that what it is called) through paid classes, on the side.

My main interests vary between gaming, reading, watching movies / Tv-shows, working out, skiing, skating, working out, playing the piano or reading about unimportant stuff I find online. I have often been addressed as an "everything person", and I guess you can see why.

My experience with marketing:

I suppose you'll only be interested in the marketing part of my application;

I've only just started studying marketing, I'm not necessarily going to need it, but I might open my own business or start some stuff online.

Hence the experience within marketing might come in handy.

I haven't made much money in my lifetime, probably around $10k online from mostly CPA, PPD, Youtube Ads and selling all different sort of services, and around $20-30k from real life work.

This application got a lot shorter than I had imagined.

I don't suppose you'll add me over all the high quality applications before me.

I'll post this either way.

Thanks,
Dean

What have you done for the community?:

I have been on hack forums for about 2 years I started out in legion teaching people how to hack and helping them with certain tasks etc... I then started a group called AIA where we investigated suicides and investigated many things witch came out to benefit alot of members on this site and alot of people who flooded our website with requests for an investigation.We also were responsible for 20 or more tutorials on hackfourms and our website. Since that was disbanded I have done many many giveaways and a few very nice tutorials. I am always on peoples helpdesks and get random pms all the time to help out. I have been in more then 10 groups on hackfourms and due to many groups selling and my 2 month vacation from hackfourms I am now down to two but I am working back up to all of them. I ran the complexity marketing sector for a good while and that was responsible for a few nice product launches and many tutorials over 15 I believe.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

I am willing to lead a sector within your group or just be an active member always coming up with great ideas and presenting them to you very organized. Some that will promote activity of the group within and out of the sub forum as well as some that can make the group a decent amount of money. I also will continue my path of owning my own website development and marketing firm and will teach hackfourms in the name of Enterprise some of the skills I specialize in.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

You should select me because I am loyal to the group you'll never see me fighting with fellow group members I always turn the other cheek when its someone within one of the groups I am in. You will always see me standing up for and defending fellow members and leaders. As well as following our members and leaders posts and threads and promoting activity there. That's what I loved about The Empire early on as well as Infamous we would all follow each-others posts and threads and you would see a spark of intelligent activity on every thread with that same userbar in many of the posts.

Thankyou for taking the time to read my application I am always available via skype to talk or if you want to know more about me don't hesitate to ask.

Greetings,

Here's my application to join the Enterprise Group.

I am ?Cen?za ?, 25 years old from the Philippines. I started earning online when I was 18 through different ways. I've been supporting myself since then. If you didn't know, the Philippines is one of the poorest country in Asia, maybe even in the World so you'll find people here as early as 4 or 7 years old in the streets selling something to survive.

Anyways, I started earning online by working as a developer for a Private Ragnarok Online server for about 2 years. The owner of the server pays me on a weekly basis and I get 20% of total donations per month. Saved that up and made my own server after the server I worked for closed. I basically earn a living from the donations I get from the players of the server. However, after another 2 years in the game, we got DDOSed everyday because of popularity I guess. Long story short, after 4 years in the private server business, I stopped.

The next thing I did to earn is by designing websites for several Ragnarok Servers. I also did some freelance works related to graphics. I did this until I got enough money to put up a small local business which is still operational at this date of writing. I'm also into MLM (Multi-Level Marketing) or Network Marketing.

What I'm expecting to have after joining the group if I'll be accepted, I've always wanted to monetize online and have it residual. I want to learn new things. In return I'll be sharing stuffs I learned from the past, specially graphics.

Not a fancy application but I wrote down the facts about myself, how I started from a parents dependent guy to a self supporting one. I do hope I'll be accepted as I really wanted to learn new things that could help me and my business grow exponentially.

Thank you for your time reading :)

Areas of interest: Marketing and business management.

What differs you from everyone else: As you can see from my signature, I am truly dedicated for life. I do my work until it gets done, unless it's the absolute last resort to back out, which in some cases sadly might be the route you have to take. Simply go back to phase one of brainstorming and go at it again if it doesn't work the first time. I work in a friendly, respectable and mature manner. I'm not selfish, I give back to the community that helps me grow my small businesses into hopefully much larger projects. I've given away many things in the VIP area and plan on doing many more for all members. I'm not going to write a long essay for you to read, this is an overview of myself and my beliefs when it comes to marketing and business management.

Why Should You Be Allowed to Join? I'm no special than anyone else, but on the contrary there is no one that is as special as me because we all have potential to do one thing or another in our lives whether that'd be monetizing on HackForums, excelling as a scholar in a ivy-league school, or playing for a professional sports team. Everyone has their own purpose in this world, many realize it early on and thrive off of that realization that they had potential to do something, but many also fail to see that and end up not realizing this. What I'm basically saying is that I'm just a simple person in this world trying to expand their knowledge and why not have it be knowledge about something profitable such as monetizing and revenue.

What differs you from everyone else:

I think the main thing that differs me from everyone else is that I'm not going to stand here and tell you I'm some professional marketer who has a degree and 10 years of experience, because I don't - and we both know that. However I do think I have a lot to bring to the table in terms of contributing to Enterprise. I could hold a free service where I revise and re-write fellow members sales thread (such as their sales thread introductions, etc) and thus making it more appealing to the consumer (kind of like I did for your middleman thread, but in much more depth). So I think this can set me aside from others, I'm not going to be joining for the sole purpose that I think I'm a business man, I actually have a set plan in mind for things I can contribute. Revising and editing isn't a limitation though, there is a lot more I can offer members in terms of writing. Even though it is a business group, I still think every group has a social aspect to it - I could help members with their homework, and other academic duties.

Anyways, I know I left the group before - but I hope you consider re-adding me, as I am a different person now who has found his true passion.

Writing threads I'm particularly proud of:

I'll help you fix up your application.

Remove 'booting' off your knowledge list and areas of interest. It's not professional and just makes you look frankly dumb to be honest.

Fix up your grammar

paypal -> PayPal
booter's -> booters
recklessley -> recklessly
i -> I
(space),(space) -> ,(space)

Also, show us how much you've made this year total on your PayPal account, for all we know those could be $1 to $5 transactions; which aren't really anything.

Currently in a bit of an unstable situation, I don't know what I'm doing. I know a lot about airplanes however. Along with airplanes I like to eWhore. its both fun and highly profitable. When I'm older I would like to be in the Airplane Industry. Working on planes or with them.

Areas of interest:

Currently, I am interested in Mathematics, again Planes/Airports, and eWhoring. Maths is a very important part of being a pilot, if that is a root I take, since in emergency situations, you may need to calculate the amount of runway space needed to land without hitting something. They used this on a flight once leaving from singapore, which had engine failure, so they turned it around and had to calculate if the runway had enough space to land the plane safely. Luckily enough it did.

What differs you from everyone else:

For a start, My name is Optimized. No one else on hack forums is called Optimized. Next up, my UID on Hack forums, is different from everyone elses. Also I have my own student number at school, which no one at school has ever had before.

I mean, I'm different because of who I am, I am not one of the fancy 14 year olds saying 'Sir' I'm not the seller who sells non profitable ebooks. I'm not the scammer who has scam reports. I'm Optimized, everything I do and has been done is Optimized.

Is Enterprise going to accept me:

Simon - It's a yes from me

Peter Griffin - No.

Homer Simpson - Donuts....

Optimized - Clearly.

Anything else u wanna add m8:

Yes - I've been denied by almost every group on HF. this includes polymath, phoenix, nightfall, zero, studio, the brotherhood, the revolution and probably enterprise.

I might be self centered, all about me kinda person, but I also am a caring person.

Amen.

What do you have the most knowledge in:

Currently in graphic design and in minecraft server/network administration/production

Areas of interest:

I am currently interested in learning better/more advertising and marketing methods to help me make some extra cash

What differs you from everyone else:

I was the head administrator for the worlds 4th biggest minecraft network, taught there dev almost every minigame he programmed, made there icon and continue to do work for them occasionally. I have been working in this particular game's field for around 5 years now. When it comes to servers in minecraft, i know just about everything there is.

I am friends with the owners of the biggest networks in the world and can have a lot of very famous server owners vouch when I say that I know what i'm doing.

When I say I work on servers I don't just mean I have [Admin] Prefix infront of my name. I manage FTP, plugin errors, map builds, and getting owners in contact with people who get them what they need, devs/builders/gfx ect ect.

As I said i have been doing this for 5 years so I am able to without being cockey say that I am very good at what I do and not many people can say they are as good/better then me at what I do.

If you have any further questions feel free to PM me asking them.

About me: I'm currently living in the USA. I love to learn new ways about earning money over the internet, and get excited when a new method I came up with, or just trying out works for me. I'm learning something new everyday about Internet marketing and I'm eager to learn more about it.

What I've contributed to the community:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4495303>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4508237>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4485950>

Why do I want to join?: I want to join Enterprise because I want to learn more about Business, Marketing and Monetizing. The main things the group revolves around. I would also like to meet new people with the same interests as me, and make friends with them. I feel by joining Enterprise I could be introduced to all of these things, meet new people, and learn a lot more about internet marketing/marketing in real life.

Why you?: I am a hardworking person when it comes to learning new things. If someone is willing to take time to teach me certain things I will work my best at learning those things. I'm also a very dedicated, and loyal person. If I'm working on achieving my goals I'll do whatever it takes to get them done I won't stop until I have reached my goal.

I can also make help desks in the Ewhoring section for the people who need it because that is where I'm most skilled and spend most of my time on hf at.

Conclusion: Thanks for taking the time to read my application for Enterprise. If you have any questions please feel free to PM me via hf.

What do you have the most knowledge in: Well, the most knowledge I have as of right now is Online Money Making. I'm sure you've seen me in the eWhoring section in the past. I've recently moved onto more long term money making, such as CPA/PPD, Affiliate Marketing, and much more. I am also fluent in Java and HTML. Although it's not brain science to know those languages I thought I mine as well add them.

What do you have the most knowledge in: Well my main areas of interest are, of course, making money online, coding (just learning) and talking to people, such as public speech. I have a strong feel for politics as well as Earth Science.

What differs you from everyone else: My interests may be the same as most people. Although I feel like I can be a nice genuine person to those who deserve it. I don't lie about anything and I'm completely outgoing. I love talking to new people and learning new things. I have advice on almost every subject there is and love learning new things from others. I have very strong knowledge on online marketing. Although, it may differ from person to person, I believe any human being can have success at whatever they want. Success isn't what schools teach you, it's what you teach yourself. What you succeed is something a school can't teach you. I don't ride people dicks. I try to be as original as possible. I have my own success and my own goals that differ from the usual. My main goal in life, is to always be happy with myself, no matter what anyone else thinks of me.

What do you have the most knowledge in:

I believe that my main area of knowledge would have to be the Hosting Market/Currency Exchange, i also love politics and anything to do with the Government + Police.

Areas of interest:

I have a few areas of interest, i'm always into learning new things. For example learning a new language (I'm learning PHP right now), learning something new about the world you know. My main areas of interest right now for me is learning PHP and politics, all the stuff going on with ISIS and Russia sending war ships to Australia etc.

What differs you from everyone else:

What differs me from everybody else? Well i can't entirely answer that myself now can I. That is up to you guys to judge if I am different. In my opinion i am completely different to a lot of people. I have different interests in different things and I can turn from a nice guy into a very bad guy if you get on the wrong side of me. Now i am sure a lot of other people are like that also? Life has ups and downs and you learn from those downs to get those ups in life, i think about these sort of things every day and maybe if i get denied now then too bad, but next time i apply i'll know exactly what to write to impress whoever is reading my application to actually get into the Group. I could sit here all day and write how i am good guy and everybody loves me etc but that would just be a waste of time. I believe i have wrote enough on what my attitude is and if i am a legitimate person.

Tirus - November 25, 2014, 8:45 am

People should really put time into your application and make it original.

If your app is the same plain jane, you'll be denied. Leaders are looking for people whom really want to be into the group and will prove it to them by staying active, posting in the sub-sector, and staying high-quality.

If you want me to look over your application, PM me the link of it and I'll give you some feedback on it. Best of luck to all of the applicants. Again, take your time, the Enterprise is definitely worth spending ~30 minutes on an application.

What do you have the most knowledge in: I have the most knowledge in marketing and currency exchanging. I have been interested in marketing and coding ever since I was 12 years old. I am also very interested in learning HTML, CSS, and PHP to become an up and coming web developer in the up and coming years.

Areas of interest: My areas of interest are marketing, web development, and currency exchanging. I am very open to new learning ideas and other hacking methods and ways to extend my knowledge via HackForums and then pass on my knowledge that I've obtained to other members whom are enthusiastic about learning.

What differs you from everyone: I'm a 14 year old marketer, currency exchanger, and beginner web developer which doesn't limit just to web development, it includes web security, web exploitation, and web development. I have experience in System Administration(Setting up Minecraft servers.) I also plan on extending my System Administration knowledge by creating booters, VPNs, and dedicated server/VPS company. I am fairly young which is rare for my interest in the hacking community to be so broad.

How Am I Different From Everyone Else?

That is something for you to see. I work well with anyone who doesn't have malicious intents. I myself, fully intend to work with ANYONE, I mean ANYONE who will do what they're supposed to do and not be a douche about it. No backstabbing or any of that. I'm looking to make friends not enemies.

I'm not really sure how to wow you guys, but I'm definitely interested in learning how to spread my products and learn to market from the best. I'm planning to launch my service in 2015 season, "Haunted Boosting" for League of Legends. I'll also be releasing various other products, perhaps something unique of my own, not an eBook. I'm also renting out cloud mining now, with my friend "Zettabit"

We've recently partnered up, and I'm trying to start a line of products. Hopefully starting up a stresser again that will last, but I doubt it will with PayPal. Also, I'm thinking of opening a line of accounts, NFA accounts, even though they're quite saturated. I'm looking forward to the result of this application. Thanks a lot for reading this.

What do you have the most knowledge in: Let me be frank and clear here. I am not anywhere near a great marketer, but I want to be apart of Enterprise for ONE specific reason, and that is learning. Recently, I've been reading a little to the left and right in the CPA section. I would love to start making money, good and clean money. I want a clean way to make money, and I think that may just have to be PPD/CPA. I'm currently in contact with a very nice member, who I have asked to help me get started in the CPA section. I would love to make money, but not only that, I would love to get knowledge.

By joining Enterprise, I deem, that I could receive some assistance, and as soon as I am far into the scenarios, I will tutor others, I will share the knowledge I gained in the name of Enterprise. Though I know, this is a business group, I would most likely require assistance on front, though, it's not the most. Yes, I've had a Filelce going once, I made $60 in just under a month, but I slowly drained into the boat again, and gave up. $60 wasn't much for two-three hours of work daily, but I'm ready to get back into work, I want and need money.

You may not feel like I'm worthy, I'm a new member, I'm just a nobody, that, I do agree with, but I'm ready to put effort into Enterprise and especially learning. I know there's a lot of very, very knowledgeable, intelligent and nice members in Enterprise, which is obviously a boost for my interest in being apart of it. I would happily do anything to deem my worthiness.

I'm a very good and competitive Counter-Strike player. I've been playing CS for over ten years now. I think, if I wanted to and had the right reputation, I could be doing a CS:GO boosting service, I fancy this, could actually be very successful with the right advertising, people and interest. I might, if I get some assistance, start up a business with CS:GO boosting.

Areas of interest: I'm really interested in learning and making stable cash. I've tried my fair and square of methods, but never really found success in my niche(s). As I previously stated, I ran a few blogs and YouTube videos to try and gain profit, though, as I stated, only made $60 profit in around a month. Nothing great, but heck, it gives me experience .. right?

I'm ready to spend hours and hours into learning and getting expertise, now, the question is, do you want to teach me? I am ready.

What differs you from everyone else: Well, what else is there to say, then I'm a special kind of salty flavour. I'm not the salty one, who runs around to just bother people, to troll. I'm apart of Hack Forums to learn, to have fun, to make people smile and to get expertise in certain areas. I've been apart of forums very alike Hack Forums back in time, but I quit these, after I discovered HF. They seemed exactly like a copy-cat of HF.

Even though I am only sixteen - soon to be seven - I am a very mature person. You don't see the side often, but if it's required to, I have it. Recently, I did something, something very original (so people say), where I literally announce whatever the OP is saying, in a Vocaroo message, yes, very special - I know.

Though, I'm not some special treasure, nor will I ever be, but I'm ready to put effort into learning and I'm ready to make cash.

I hope I'll be lucky enough to get under consideration.

Regards,
Salty

What do you have the most knowledge in: Mostly phones. Jailbreaking, Rooting, 'Phreaking'. Things like that. I can do just about anything with a phone. I also have quite a bit of experience with malware. It is probably the most interesting subject when it comes to computers to me. Defending against and getting rid of it; studying it and trying to prevent more.

I am also pretty knowledgeable in the field of marketing and business. I have excellent grammar and am very professional when it comes to business matters and talking with clients. I know what people want out of a product and I do everything I can to exceed their expectations. If I don't think I would buy what I'm trying to sell, I just won't release it, or I will spend all of my time trying to think of and implement ways to improve my product or service. I think the aesthetics of a website, product or selling platform is one of the most important parts of a successful venture, besides actually delivering a quality product or service. Providing quality service and caring for the customer would come in a close second, my reasoning being that you can have the best customer service in the world, but if your product, website or platform look like absolute shit, it just won't matter because you won't get sales.

Areas of interest: Like I said above, phones are my main area of interest. I absolutely love figuring out how to jailbreak, root, hack, modify and just have fun with phones.

My second area of interest would be just brainstorming ideas for new ways to make money. I have quite a few ideas for my next couple of projects, but they all involve a decent level of programming knowledge and I really believe that they will be very popular.

What differs you from everyone else: I am 18 years old and am a Sophomore (Second year) at my University. I'm going for my degree in Web Technologies and am focusing most of my electives on marketing classes. I don't like to brag, but this is a recruitment thread and I do need to impress.

I graduated a year early from high school (I could have graduated my first year) and received enough scholarship money to go to just about any College/University I wanted. I like to think I'm very smart. At first I was going to Dual major in Biotechnology and Neuroscience at the University of Nebraska at Omaha, but decided to transfer to a different University (Won't say which), to pursue a degree in Web Technologies. Basically, I know what I'm doing, where I want to go and how to get there. I'm not some immature 14 year old trying to fulfill his need for social acceptance or enlarging his ego.

I also would like to say that I'd love to be in this group; I love what you guys do and have seen a few help desks and very informative threads made by members of Enterprise. I hope you guys will have me.

What do you have the most knowledge in: Social engineering, Manipulation, Advanced Pen-Testing Skills, Broad knowledge of human behavior and Philosophy, Practice of law

Areas of interest: Business and Marketing, Programming, Game Production

What differs you from everyone else: Differs? Well that is just a word, My advancement is how I would put it. People can go from high quality to low quality and the opposite over night. I tend to say in the High Quality range, or atleast I think my posting shows that. Not going to tell you how I am the best and above everyone because I'm not. However I take pride in things and I always put my full effort towards things. In other words I don't quit easy. I consider myself above-intelligence and am a very easy going guy. Like I said above, being different is hard to say because people can be different in many areas. Over everyone else I would probably say my ability to learn and strive. I won't back down, and I rarely exhibit faults in my work ranging from gaming to pitching sales to people. I want to be apart of this group because the members are high quality. Why are they high quality? Selling and buying things take skills and not even in that area itself, low member count, everyone in the group is a favorable or highly respected user on the forums and from what I can tell, the members exhibit commonly high quality posts which assist me and other members of the forums. I'm not going to kiss up and say "oh how wonderful they are, they are the best!, "Best group around". Nobody can be the "Best" however, showing high quality tutorials and contributing to the forums with expertise is something to be proud of. If you accept me however, I will put my foot forward and apply myself in every way. I am on these forums for more than 5-6 hours a day, and would love to be apart of Enterprise, but in the end, it's all about the user isn't it? I don't have any success stories on a major scale, however I do use my clever words and sinister ways of becoming a business man. Not going to lie, I consider myself very loyal to friends and my peer's which I find rare these days when it comes to half the people just want to get in for the userbar and then leave.

If this means anything also, I'm taking a business academy for 4.0 GPA+ Students at my school, which we learn about business and application related things, I plan on staying in it for the next 4 years because they provide many skills, I plan on going towards the business strain instead of the marketing strain since there are 2 you can choose from.

I have recently won a upgrade contest which is why I am L33t. I am on here a lot and active in various different sections here.

What do you have the most knowledge in: The things I have the most knowledge in would have to be Various Gaming topics, GraphicsSpoiler (Click to View) Somewhat I'm just starting out, still learning., Social Media.

Areas of interest: Basically the same as my areas I have the most knowledge in. Gaming, Graphics, Social Media, I have recently been interested in finding a few ways to make money online that not many people do. I'd also like to learn how to write, develop code.

What differs you from everyone else: What I think differs me from everyone else would be that I have never argued or had a problem with any members here on HF, active in multiple different sections on various different topics. I am always down to talk or help with anything. I am willing to help contribute towards giveaways as much as I can, when ever I can with giveaways that are hosted hosted by Enterprise once I am able to have my PayPal unlimited I'll gladly help contribute.

Name: My name is Agent I have recently changed to this name since I like to be classy in my opinion this name looks very high quality and some people agree and disagree on that. But some people call me by my real first name which I go by is John I do not have any nicknames and basically I do not have much to say about this question since it is a basic question so lets move on.

UID: 2434329 This was a very simple question and I and going to keep it that way so I will move on to the the next question.

What do you have the most knowledge in: The most I have knowledge in is basically making money and by saying that I mean making my own and private methods or basically taking public methods and putting my own twist in my opinion I am very well at thinking out of the box I learned that from my mother she always tells me that when I do a school project to always think out of the box and I have taken that quote and will take that quote through the rest of my life because that quote is what is making me allot of money online and I am proud of that and one of the methods I use that you are maybe wondering is basically CPA/PPD I use these methods to make money Autopilot and I will bring allot of cool stuff into the group about these methods for example niches and scripts and advertising techniques I would be happy to share that stuff in the group. The reason why I think I have the most knowledge in this business is because I have been thinking about the great new thing to do with this method like think of a new way to advertise my CPA link or PPD link surveys and all that stuff and basically a tip that I tell my self is to always make new niches to the table not always using the same saturated ones like the Xbox codes or stuff like that always bringing new things to the table will get you allot. Because if you use the same thing over and over again it will become saturated and not work again and also I have learned this stuff from Hackforums threads and guides on CPA and PPD marketing and ECT. Also if you were wondering where did I all start? Well I am going to answer that question right now. I started making money online selling in game stuff for a game called minecraft and I was doing this when I was 12 years old I was selling swords that were really OP in the game and that is how I started making my first bucks and then someone in the game told me about this site HackForums and by the way sorry If I am getting off topic on this question but I just wanted to let you know how I got started but anyway he told me about this site and I signed up and the first thing that I went to was the e-Whoring section I was wondering what it was and then a guy named ben helped me out making money using e-Whoring and then from there I get to more and more methods and then finally I step into monetizing and that is where I get the big money so that is basically what I have to say about what I have knowledge in. Another thing that I have most knowledge in is I have several eBay methods some of them include drop shipping and some of them do not include this. Here are some earnings of my eBay sales.

Areas of interest: OK so I have a lot of areas of interest and basically my only interest is to become a very wealthy business man I always dreamed of being one of those guys who would wear the suits and ties and always go to famous cities and go work at a office or something and invest in the stock market and such like example wall street. My personal interest is to be a monetizing expert and that is what I am currently trying to achieve I always love to invest and double my money and that is the thing I love MONEY! I know people would say well everyone loves money but I really love to double my money and look at my earnings progress. OK as you can see in the beginning of this question I have a lot of interests I was also thinking of working at IT being someone who supports in Malware and Virus removal you know kinda like the MRT trainees that is something I have always kept in mind because I kinda know how to. Also I have a huge interest in programming I have seen this job and its wages and it is really nice I am currently learning C++ because that is the main language of code but I already know html because that is the most simplest coding language. Another interest I have is doing graphics I have seen professional graphics designers and how they work and it seems very interesting to me because I love how you can make a white screen something very nice and it is art but in a screen I know a little bit about photoshop and I have made some graphics for HackForums I would not say this would be my best interest but it is something I have planned out in mind.

What differs you from everyone else: This question in my opinion is the hardest question in this application but I need to stop complaining and answer this question to the best of my abilities. So basically what differs me from everyone else is that I am unique and a lot of ways like I said in the Application I think out of the box in a really nice way and I have many interests that people think are really bad and not worth working for. And something else that differs me from everyone else is that I am open minded and I love to try new things in life and online I love to try anything that involves making your own ideas and planning out your own project. I do not have much to say about this question because it did not just tick in my head like the other ones.

I also just wanted to say before I leave this application is that I am not the best at grammar so do not expect my grammar skills to be perfect and I wanted to say thank you for the opportunity and applying for this amazing group with very nice and High quality people and good luck to all the members who applied.

What do you have the most knowledge in: Monetizing, Promoting & Selling Products.

Areas of interest: Monetizing Sector, And teaching people to make money online by using all of their skills.

What differs you from everyone else: Well i don't really care if i make a little less money by sharing and making free monetizing methods.

Who i am?

Well My name is Reddington my name is based on Raymond Reddington from the series called the blacklist. I choose this name as i really like the way he acts in the series. Well my name is Dennis i am 19 years old from the Netherlands. I completed school and did Management my dream is to become a manager of a big company or of course owning my own business.

Why do i apply?

Well this is probably something you guys want to know why did i tried to apply for this group? Well the answer is really simple its a awesome group hosted by some awesome members and i would like to be a part of your group. And you won't regret it me wearing your usergroup title as i am going to help you as best as i can with what i normally do being active in the MT section and being busy with projects.

What did i do for the Community?

Well i released a like 1 week ago my free monetizing method as you can see right here.

=> <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4556926>

Its a really detailed guide and should help a lot of people i also made a nice motivation thread as you can see right here.

=> <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4558566>

Its a great motivational thread and i am sure this will help a lot of people to to make their first $$ online.

What i am into?

Well as i already told before i am into monetizing and marketing online. In the past years i gained some awesome experience and this knowledge i like to share with the other people around here. I am not going to paste any paypal screen of my money as this has nothing to do with this application everybody has the same chance of winning if you are fat, Skinny, Poor or rich it does not care for the application as the information the application is the thing that you guys look at and not about if someone is rich or not.

Well i thank you guys for reading and i wish everybody on here good luck with your application

What do you have the most knowledge in: I would say mine would be in marketing. Reason for this I like to invest money in something that actually going to make us more than what we spent back. My main goal is to be making about every week about 2-3k. I know this is possible because I have done it before. I also know a decent amount of PHP, HTML, and some Java.

Areas of interest: Marketing

What differs you from everyone else: I like honesty were I can trust the person then the more deals we can be making. I have no issue with anyone till I get scammed or I just get plain lie to. Once we have a goal set then you should have to make sure your done by the time period we agreed on.

Shigbeard - December 3, 2014, 6:06 pm

Hi there, my name is Nathan, but my online name is Mr DeeJay. My UID is 1185801, and would like to express my interest in joining Enterprise.

I am well versed in video games, and have various titles at my disposal, including Garry's Mod and Team Fortress 2. I consider myself an old school gamer, not a new time gamer. I don't really like Call of Duty, in that aspect. I also know a bit about GLua coding, as well as PHP development.

As you can see above, my interests are clearly focused around computers in general. I've been in front of computers since I was bottle-fed, watching my father play solitaire. They have been my life, my earliest memories have been about a computer that refused to shut-down. But I'm interested in the gaming side of things.

What makes me different from a lot of HF users, is that I'm a friendly guy. I don't wave my E-Penis in the air, demanding the world to suck it. I always ask for the same respect I give others, and I try my best to give the respect I'm given. I try to contribute to the community when I can, as shown in

This Thread

Tokyo ? - December 5, 2014, 11:05 am

Name: Meso

Age: 18

Experience:

I have the best free doxing service on HF as of current, which can be found here: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4264151> Now I know that you are saying "Free" won't make me any use to the group, however if that thread was to change to paid, I would still have an active customer base and marketing myself would be extremely simple and sales would be booming.

I am also taking high level courses at my school focusing on Business Management and Marketing Strategies. Business is something I see myself doing in the future.

I also have experience as an apprentice for business/sales/marketing managers at large companies such as Novartis, which contribute highly to my overall mindset.

Product Design & Development:

I am constantly creating projects, services and products for others and myself. My creative mindset allows myself to obtain niches and make them into a reality. I have experience in Photoshop, dealing with logo development and overall branding. I have also got experience in video editing, which can be useful for creating legitimate product/service advertisements here on HF.

Areas I would like to specialize in:

I personally love the "service" aspect of HF, in comparison to products. I love assisting others, while at the same time gaining a reward for my efforts. I would love to specialize in project development as well as service development for Enterprise. I believe I can create fantastic ideas that can both give back to the community, but at the same time increase the groups overall profits.

Why I would like to join:

Essentially I am looking for a place to start my money making monopoly here on HF, and I am wanting to learn from others to allow myself as a business minded individual to grow quicker. So yes, I want to join Enterprise to learn more about HF/Online marketing, but at the same time I would be contributing significantly by developing group projects and niches, even launching my own service, which I can promise will be running smoothly after gaining a group establishment that users trust.

About Me

Well hello to anyone reading this. I am Alvein, a former Engineering tech student in College but dropped out to find ideas for me to work at home. I decided to drop out of it because I knew personally that Engineering tech wasn't what I was brought on this earth to do. I believe I was made to be the next Steve Jobs. I joined hackforums with one motive on my mind, "To make money". That is still on my mind and will always be on my mind. Through hackforums alone I've made around $1-1.5K and I don't think it'll stop there. I've made a ton of money with personal methods that have been given out for free to members I felt had enough HQ post to be given.

What Makes Castiel Different

Good question. Unlike many members on Hackforums, I enjoy being helpful, and love contributing to the forum (annual giveaways). I try to keep in mind that without Hack Forums I wouldn't be making the money I have made today and try my best to help members with an extra boost. I've basically have tried almost every method on this forum and I have to say most of them that I have tried never earned over $100+ until I was able to put my own spin on them. That's also what makes me differently, I like making things my own. I try not to take things right off the dinner plate, but when I do I make sure I somehow transform it into the Castiel way.

Country of Residence: Canada

Introduction of Wolf: Hello I'm Wolf, and I currently run my own business called Xclusive Tech which is a LLC registered business and we currently offer dedicated servers, virtual private servers and also we will be adding a virtual private network with high-class protection monitored by our data-centers around the world. I am also very good when it comes to SEO (Search engine optimization) and also I can do anything when it comes to PC Repairs such as Virus Removal, Spyware Removal, System Tune-up and also anything related with Installation on the PC and I could also provide OS repair from a dysfunctional or non-bootable state. I've also received a Bachelor in Technology, Informatics and Security which is a college based in Toronto, ON Canada and I have future plans on creating a leading virtual private network side-business on Hack Forums and also other forums which I will not state at this current time.

Proof of knowledge in Computer networking: I cannot provide proof of work but I could however provide proof of the certificate I have received and I could also answer any following questions that you may put in front of me. I would also be more than glad to go through a trial-process and be put through tasks during the recruitment and or after the recruitment. I have been working with Computer networking for the past five years and I have also been in the IT field for the past three years and have managed/helped over a hundred clients with problems such as Network configuration, Network setup and or repair and also Virus and Spyware removal over a client called VNC which stands for Virtual network computing and it's a basic client used to remote access an individuals computer to help them with any problem that they might have. I also have been managing a complex hosting infrastructure for the past six years of my life.

Business Experience and Future Arrangements: My company which I currently run with four other individuals which consist of a President, Vice President, Chief Operations Officer, Business Development Manager (myself), Server Deployment manager have future plans to branch out our business and create a Virtual private network and many other interesting products that will gain a lot of attention on this forum. My partners and I have over six years of experience which allows us to have a higher-rate of service than others on HF which have only been in business for under two years. The company also has many Integrated partners such as Arista, Cisco Routers, Fraud Labs, CAT and many more side-companies.

Experience in Advertising and Gaining Attention: I have much experience when it comes to bringing hundreds and hundreds of users to any sort of website within only the first week. I have a lot of proof of this and I am sure Grievous can vouch for this part of the recruitment as I've had Boss Forums which is Discussion based forum on various topics up & running for almost a full week and gained over 5,000 posts and 300+ members and viewing the statistics 92% of all of the members are active.

Why do you want to join Enterprise in particular?: I am interested in joining this group for a lot of reasons and one of those reasons being that all of the members Specialize in Business, Marketing and Monetizing and I would like to meet some other people who are fascinated with some of the things that I would have to offer to this group. I am also very interested in this group because I have heard that the leaders of this fine-group are very high-quality and they know how to manage the group well and have also heard that the Skype chat is very active with most of the members all included into the chat. I wish all other applicants the best of luck and we can now move on to the conclusion of this long recruitment response.

Conclusion of wanting to join Enterprise Group:I have worked very hard for the past six almost seven years in the field of Business and have owned many well-known businesses on many other forums. I have also been using many marketing techniques such as Email Marketing, Social Media Marketing and many other techniques and strategies that I would be more than glad to show/teach some of the members who lack within knowing a wide variety of skills and techniques when it comes to Marketing. As I've said above I wish all other applicants the best of luck and I hope to be accepted by Astonish or Grievous whom I have admired since I came to this forum which was around early September of this wonderful year.

What do you have the most knowledge in: Computers and coding. Though I'm still learning about computers I know the basics that you would probably learn in college. I also have a amateur knowledge in coding. (Not going to list everything I know because that would take forever and I'm not that High Quality.) The simple principles of CPU Architecture (Von Neumann Model) Spoiler \(Click to View\) In simple terms not to confuse anyone: This is what made the computers we use today possible through the idea that we can use the same memory to allow programs be modified without the need to modify hardware.

Hardware Names: RAM

SRAM

etc. (I'm not High Quality enough to list all of it.)

The Essentials: CONVERTING DECIMAL TO BINARY

CONVERTING DECIMAL TO HEX

CONVERTING A NEGATIVE DECIMAL TO BINARY USING TWO'S COMPLEMENT

Programming Languages: Java

C++ (Still learning, quite hard in concepts than Java)

Python

Scripting LanguagesLua

Areas of interest: Computers and codingI find this quite a useless question to ask as I assume 90% of the applications would have the same answers for both what they have most knowledge in and areas of interest.

What differs you from everyone else: I'm fairly modest though I like to argue to the point where I would stick to my point of view until proven ultimately wrong. Other than that I don't see much difference, we're all humans aren't we?

UID: Profile

What do you have the most knowledge in: If you're talking about business, I have basic knowledge in how to advertise or make a product look appealing. When I used to play Minecraft, I'd be able to make any rank packages feel most appealing and most satisfactory to the player. If you are talking about knowledge in anything, I also like to write on forums. I've been writing on forums for quite a bit now, maybe almost 3 years, and even though I haven't really written "paragraphs" or "essays" per-say, I feel like this would be a great opportunity.

Areas of interest: I am really into anything. I will do what's asked of me, (Most things) and I will always try to work my hardest. If I were to pick my top interest, I would probably say, internet popularity. As a kid and now, I've always wanted to be this popular figure on the internet. I'd began making small little video game videos on YouTube when I was around 8 years old. I'd love when I saw I had views. It made me feel special when I saw someone was enjoying something that I made. That would be a great example of me contributing to Enterprise. I would certainly think of a way to make Enterprise more appealing than it already is.

What differs you from everyone else: Well, I think what mainly differs me from anyone else, is that I am willing to make the group more appealing (as I said before). I've seen nasty threads and replies on the forums saying that "Enterprise is the worst group on Hack Forums", and stuff like that. I am willing to try to change the view of the group on the forums, and try to make everyone think positively about it. I think Enterprise has real potential in growing, and that is why I feel I should be accepted. Thank you.

What I felt like adding: Hi there, now that you can see how I actually type, and how I actually act as a person in this question, I want you to realize that just because of my join date and rep, doesn't mean you should instantly turn me down. I'd been a part of other forums for quite a bit, and that's why I feel I have a lot of knowledge on Hack Forums. I do remember looking at Hack Forums years ago, but I don't think I remember the username, password, or email. I looked through the forums back then, and never realized how great it could be. That is why I am happy to be able to be apart of it now. Thanks again.

Areas of interest:

Same as above, i'm continuously learning by the day and earnings are sky high during the holidays.

What differs you from everyone else:

Unlike a lot of people, I actually help people with whatever it is they're having issues with in the fields i'm experienced with.

I'd say i'm unique, and tend to joke around a lot.

I'm serious when I need to be.

A little more information:

I've been studying Affiliate Marketing for 2 1/2 years now and it's now my main source of income. I started when I was 14 years old and the sales are getting better and better by the day.

I know for a fact I can be there to help anyone in need when it comes to the fields i'm experienced in.

CPA was always my favorite and it's one of the easiest things to master in my opinion.

Now let's get to eWhoring, I first learned about it a year ago when joining Hackforums.

Over $80,000 made with little to no effort. I have lots of posts in the eWhoring section and plan on being a lot more active in that area.

This is the first legitimate recruitment post i've made, I hope it works out well.

I'm not an art guru so I apologize if it's ugly.

Dude not that I want to flame you or anything. I really do not have anything against you at all(Even though you got it that way on my last thread). What do you have the most knowledge in: Sales, support, business management, great knowledge in Windows systems, malware removal/setup and troubleshooting other issues like that.

Areas of interest: Sales, supporting innovation in my team/with my partner, and making money. I used to enjoy using the various malwares but I rather just help others with these things now.

What differs you from everyone else: I'm a sales driven maniac. I have represented a few successful products over time here on HF, most notably the project we sold named "Epic Java", achieving a thread maxed out with 2000 posts and numerous thousands in profits.

Notable Sales Threads:

(Epic Java Online Edition) located here:

What do you have the most knowledge in: Women

Areas of interest: Women

What differs you from everyone else: I know how to get women and all about them, so if you want a representative in the Innuendo section, here I am.

How's this for a unique app?

What do you have the most knowledge in: Bitcoin/Crypto Currency and anything to do with it. My posts in the crypto currency section should outline this. Creating, marketing and operating bitcoin projects are one of my daily routines outside of HF. I wish to share this passion with other members and at the same time establish new business relationships which will hopefully enhance all of our future endeavours inside and outside HF.

Areas of interest: Crypto Currency, Marketing, Selling, Creating new products/services.

What differs you from everyone else: I'm a person of wide skillset when it comes to business. I've thought up a lot of ideas in my time, and I'm proud to say that I've produced a very large genre variety when it comes to these projects. I'm offering to share my knowledge with the group, combine our knowledge for the better of all of our financial gain.

I'm extremely looking forward to Enterprises response!

Oh, are you talking about how I was before I was a leader too?

Goes to show that when you were in the group you didn't do jack shit. ?

What? You ranted about your site getting hacked?
Yeah, too bad you still can't figure out who did it.
