And more to come.

My skill set:
Relationship advice, Sexual advice, Personal issues.

How can I contribute to Specialists:

Well I was in a relationship for a couple of years and I've done been through everything. I come on Hack Forums to help other members that are in need of advice. As you can see from my post, I'm always in the Innuendo Section. It's a great feeling to know that I've helped someone that I once was in the same shoes as.

I'd be more than happy to pursue my advice in the Innuendo Section as a proud member of Specialists.

I could contribute to contests, giveaways, and anything else.

Why should you accept me:

Being accepted into this group could mean a lot of things. I personally don't see anyone in Specialists that posts as much as I do in the Innuendo Section.

With me being an add-on to the group, It would expand the focus of Specialists to different sections. We'd be all around the forums.

What will I do if I joined?: I would celebrate but still striving to be the most HQ member. I would help out and do a quick giveaway for joining!

Why should you accept me?: Thanks for reading my application. I think you should accept me because I'm really HQ and like to help other people. It would mean a lot to join Specialist and this would be my first group. I'll be representing this group and have a good name for it.

Sam Winchester - September 27, 2014, 12:22 pm
General Information.

Hi there! I am Sam Winchester, I'm 16 years old and I'm from Finland. I'm referred to as Sammy most of the time.

What do I specialize in?

I specialize in Game Server Marketing. What that means is I own and manage servers that allow people to play with their friends instead of playing Single Player alone. In the server players can purchase things such as special privileges, gear and currency for real life money. Running a game server is a difficult task as it requires a lot of different skills, more about that below. The first thing you must succeed in is "getting the ball rolling". Starting is the part where most of my rivals have failed. I'm actually thinking of starting a new project soon.

To be successful in game server marketing I've done and learned the following but not limited to:
Finding the correct people to work as staff.

Advertising to the correct people.

What to sell at what price.

Managing and running a game community.

Surviving & dominating against competitors.

Managing a Linux Debian 6 dedicated server(s) with Putty & Filezilla access.

Hosting & editing a Xenforo forum.

Am I successful in what I do?

Spoiler (Click to View)

My most successful project is a Minecraft server called "EarthCraft". I've made around 7,550 EUR with it which is nearly 10,000 USD.

Final words.

I am hoping to spread and share my knowledge in the Specialists. Specialists seems like the group where I can learn & share things about marketing.

Live long and prosper.

Who are you and what do you stand for?: I am best known as Bosto and I enjoy helping the community by giving out a few freebies here and there but also giving out quality tutorials. I stand for dedication, hard work, and kindness. I believe if people work together, efficiently, and be creative the group would be perfect. Also I do not like to argue with people but to get along with one another because arguing doesn't create a nice atmosphere for new members, other people, etc. I hope to see new members and meet new knowledgeable people in the Specialists if I am lucky enough to get accepted.

How could you benefit the Specialists?: I believe I could provide help to members in the sub-forum but also in the community of Hack Forums as well. I am a creative person that will be able to create original ideas instead of using all the saturated ideas. Also, I'm into programming. I have high experience in web development, web security, Java, C++, and C#. My first interest in web development was 2 years ago whenever I saw someone create a large income just by web development so it encouraged me to learn website development. I believe I am creative, hard-working, and dedicated but I'm not going to create a large paragraph of repetitive information. You get the point. I enjoy giving out to the community that once gave out to me long ago which helped development who I am today. I have other skills but I do not want to create a very long lengthy read for my application. Thanks for reading.

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3918615> - Samaritan Services; my only unsuccessful business venture. Aim was to give proceeds to charity, barely made enough to cover the thread design expense, the marketing expense and the upkeep of the followers. It was a promising idea, just hard to implement and regulate. Would have been easier if I had more people to work it through with.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

I consider myself to be a very business related individual. I'm not too involved in the Hackforums marketplace because I find it somewhat limiting. However, I'm introducing a new eBook soon that Hackforums hasn't seen before, so hopefully that goes well. Nevertheless, offsite I'm stock based investor and also provide start up finance to promising businesses. With that all in mind, I'd like to say I'm considered to be a nice person; I hope you will recognise that from my posts, the groups I've been a part of and my threads that I'll post below. I always help where I can, I definitely like to give other people the time of day and I do what I can to make things better. I was a member of 143 and always took part in group related activities and thus was never a quiet voice. If I do get accepted into this group, I'm not going to lurk around and not do much. I'll get involved and do my best to help the group grow.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

Well hopefully you can tell from my posts, threads and involvement in other groups that I'm a very helpful person and always do my bit. I'm also an active member of a group; I never sit on the sidelines, I wholeheartedly get involved in anything that I can.

Why do you want to join Specialists in particular?:

I like the appeal of the group, plus, it's been a long time since I've been part of a group as well. I like the social side of it, I want to make some new friends, try to teach what I've learnt, and learn new things from existing members.

Skills:Music lover, active forum poster, forum moderator

In ~100 words, why should we choose you?: You should choose me because I just love to listen to music all day, everyday, literally. You can always catch me (if you knew me IRL) with headphones, jamming. I just wish to discuss music with others and have a great chat about other general things to familiarize myself with others. I've been into music for a really long time, especially with rap and pop. I've also moderated and owned a lot of forums (mostly MyBB) so if anyone in the group needs assistance with forums, I'll offer my best help. I would also love to join another group, as I treat each group I'm apart of as a family/clan. It would be awesome to join another one and converse with others and make new friends. I know what's expected of me to be a group member, since I'm currently in 2 other ones (Studio and The Brotherhood). I'm a daily active poster in both of those subforums and the forums as a whole.

What I've done for HF: Done some giveaways, posted a lot obviously, brought entertainment, and helped a lot of members with any questions they may have with my knowledge.

What I'm eager to learn: Making money and whitehat hacking.

What can you contribute to the group? :

I can offer my debate tutoring and mentoring services to members for free, as I have done with members in L'appel du Vide. This service extends from normal Public Speaking to a plethora of Debates such as: Model UN, Mock Trial, Model Congress, Public Forum Debates, Policy Debates, and many more. I consider myself specialized in this art due to my years of experience of doing so, and this experience reflects on my ability to beat almost anyone in a debate. I can also offer my depression counseling for free, even though I have never actually created a professional service for it, (rather I offer it as an "on the spot" type of thing, whenever I notice someone who I think would benefit from this). Besides these services, I can offer up all of my knowledge and intuition on multiple school subjects by mentoring and tutoring anyone who needs the extra help. In addition to these, I can also provide my limited range of insights on Jailbreaking, Penetration Testing, and the Modification of Consoles to all types of members. In conjunction, I may also be able to provide basic C++ and Java tutoring as I have taken multiple Computer Science courses in school, and I have a decent amount of experience with both languages. Overall, I consider myself pretty well-rounded, and I feel confident enough with these skills to showcase, and offer them off to the public.

Why do you believe that you should be accepted? :

I believe that I should be accepted due to the following attributes:
I'm an active member of Hackforums.

I can provide many of my services to the group, as well as the community as a whole.

I am specialized in mainly debating, however I am a well-rounded person when it comes to the rest of my skills, and I can use this knowledge to benefit members of The Specialists.

I have already contributed a bit to the community, and I'm looking forward to contributing even more.

Why do you want to join The Specialists out of all HF's other groups? :

It is out of the simple thought that I could potentially contribute a lot to both the group, as well as the forum as a whole, that I have decided to apply for this group. I believe that my skill-set and knowledge makes me qualified enough to do so, and I hope that you all feel the same way about them as well.

Anything Else? :

I understand that my areas of expertise (Debate and Public Speaking) aren't exactly those of most common applicants: (Graphics Design, Programming, and Marketing mainly), however in my opinion, my acceptance would allow for a more diverse user base within The Specialists, allowing for a broader community within, which would be great for contributing to discussions, or bringing up things that people maybe previously didn't know about.

In Conclusion :

I thank you for taking the time out of your day to read my Application to The Specialists, I sincerely hope that you feel that I'm qualified enough to join such an interesting and appealing group. If you would like any clarifications of any sort, such as an even deeper understanding of my skill-set, or any inquiries in regards to this application, please do not hesitate to contact me over PM, I'll be able to reply to you within a reasonable amount of time. Thanks once again, and good luck to everyone else applying!

Successful PS3 Modder

What makes me different from other applicants? :

The fact that Im a PS3 Modder makes me different, I make money, doing what I love.. GAMING. You may ask, why is this special? This is special because people come to me not wanting to put the time and effort into a game to get specific items, i help them out by customizing game accounts and giving them what they want, via either connecting my PC to my console or just directly from my console. I also make tools for people to use for their benefit, supply console IDs (all private, which are used when someone gets banned on their console), making modified EBOOTS, which are game files that can benefit the user in said game. This is somewhat a speciality.

Aside from the PS3 side of things, I am experienced in CPA/PPD. CPA was the first thing i performed online to make abit of pocket change and now I know enough to share my experience with other people on not only HF but else where.

Im a friendly guy, love to meet new people and I am from New Zealand. I am interested in sport, music and also always put my family first. I took a break from HF for 6 months as that was the longest I could take, thinking i wouldnt come back, but It came to the 4th month and i wanted back in as i missed the place. Im very active on HF and somewhat known, would love to be an addition to the specialists.

Thanks for your time.

Xorex - September 27, 2014, 5:19 pm

[img]http://#/O3BFIB.png[/img]

About Me: My name is Xorex, and I've been apart of Hackforums for about 2 Years now, a little bit longer. Almost a year long of being an UB3R too. I have joined Hackforums for the intent of learning new skills, and I believe i have succeeded in that way. I've a lot more, and a lot of the factors actually influenced the career of my life. I am very happy I have joined Hackforums. I live in the United States, and I'm very active on the forums.

Specialties: I have a lot of Specialties, and some of them are current projects I'm working on. I will be happy to share them with whomever asks, and it's no secret. I have been studying HTML for the past year, and PHP for the past month. I currently am trying to get certified in both HTML and PHP, I feel like it would help my resume a lot. I also love helping people, as you can see based off my posts. Apart from the Lounge, my second most posted section is Beginner Hacking. Everyone needs to start somewhere, that's why I got really active in Beginner Hacking. If you help someone start, they may contribute a lot later on. I've been involved in marketing for time to time, though I really don't market as much as I intend to. Right now I am currently working on a project, that I might later market.

Warnings/Scam Reports: I have never been involved in a Scam Report, and have only been banned once. My ban reason was that I posted a Marketplace Thread outside of Marketplace because I was a little bit confused. I have been Vacation Banned a couple of times due to school, though I feel like I can now balance out Internet and School. I have done many deals on Hackforums, and haven't been involved once in any Scam Reports.

Why I want to join Specialists: I feel like Specialists has a lot of potential, and it's a very good group to be in. I feel like it fits me because I have a lot of specialties about myself, and can hopefully learn from other people and transfer my own. Good luck to everyone who's applying, and thanks for reading my application!

Why should i be a specialist?

Have you ever seen a red head chinese?

Well i'm not one but i have red head, which means i don't have soul.

Specialists without soul = Perfect.

GG well played, nough said.

You'll get to know more when we get "special" about each others. Cheers

Good luck to everyone.

Skills

I have a rather large variety of skills, two of which I have shown on the forum over and over again. One is going to be counselling/generally helping others out with their emotions. I have done much of this on and off of forums, and have helped stop many users from making rather rash decisions. I love doing this and helping out members in this way, so I have made quite a few threads offering free services to the general public.

Here is my most recent counselling related thread:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4322280>

Now my main skill, and the reason I came to this forum in the first place; Hacking. Though I must admit that my original intentions were to hack minecraft servers and enemies computers, learning how to hack has always been a goal of mine. Over time my interests molded into what they are hacking wise; website hacking. I have personally invested hours and hours into learning website hacking and I am still doing so. I have an incredibly skilled mentor who is constantly helping me learn. I wouldn't consider myself a beginner by many peoples standards, but compared to certain members I am a beginner. I do believe I am more skilled in my field than the vast majority of the forum, but there are certainly members who are far better than me.

I often spend much of my time in the beginner and website hacking sections answering questions or doing challenges, as that is what I like to do and I learn loads through it.

This skill is the main reason I would like to join the Specialists. I feel like I can learn through this group, and learning is why I'm on this forum. I will not turn down an opportunity to learn from intelligent people. Anyway, I digress. This truly has nothing to do with my skills.

Here are a few of the tutorials I have worked on over time to benefit HF as a whole. (These of course exclude tutorials I have made in group subforums)

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3626262>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3915967>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4457525>

Why I want to join Specialists

As you read I briefly touched on this through my digression over my last few paragraphs, but I believe that this deserves its own section on my application. My reasoning is rather simple and explicit; I would like to learn as much as I can, and I would like to teach as much as I can.

Specialists gives me the opportunity to learn and teach more. I originally came to HF for that, and those are the same reasons I visit HF as frequently as I do. That is the reason I spend hours and hours teaching myself and learning with my mentor. To learn. I also love teaching and helping others, hence my counselling help desks, my activity in the unofficial group Eros, my tutorials, and activity in the hacking sections. Why turn down an opportunity to more of both of these?

What I can contribute to Specialists

I believe I can contribute a fair amount to Specialists. For one, every group needs active and skilled members. I am very active, and I believe I am rather skilled for the amount of time I've invested in learning, but I still have a very long way to go before I will be satisfied with my skill level, if I can ever reach that point. I also believe I can thoroughly help members of the group by both learning, teaching, and helping in any way I can, no matter how large or small the task may be.

Thank you very much for reviewing my application. I hope to see you and all of the other members in the sub forum very soon. ?

I'm crazyycast13, I specialize in cryptography and anonymity.

Maybe you've seen me in the cryptography section, maybe not. I'll randomly post in the other advanced hacking sections and jump into the beginning hacking section occasionally, but crypto is my home.

I'll honestly help people out as detailed as possible in the crypto section, which I've done for a decent amount of time and will continue to do. Since crypto and anonymity goes hand in hand, I've just started to get active in the anonymity section. No, I don't dox. Doxing threads tend to be cancer, similar to crypters.

Advanced Anonymity \(packet stenography\) [\[Good for botnets and key transfer\]](#) There are now code explanations, and the thread is updated constantly from reader feedback.

I have a lot of other 'general help' posts, but those three are some of the best.

TBH I'm just trying to join a group that has people who like crypto and security. If you have that, I'd like to join. It looks like there was a fun competition about 11 days ago that I missed out on, which is a bummer, but whatever.

- (Experienced) Programming in PHP, JavaScript and C#
- (Beginner) Business marketing
- (Beginner) Doxing
- (Intermediate) Basic SLQ injection
- (Experienced) Computer hardware/upgrade

As I always seem to have free time, I feel that I am able to contribute more to the community, rather than just browsing around and helping where I am able to. Therefore I would be more than pleased to be a part of Specialists. But let me begin with an introduction about myself.

My real name is Sirajuddin, but call me Sira. I'm a seventeen year old boy from Norway. I am studying application developer, pretty much just creating, coding and designing websites. I am currently studying HTML, PHP, CSS and in my next school year I will be studying Java - and much more. I've spent most of my spare time browsing HackForums and programming websites. Of course, I do have a job besides it. Luckily my job is not taking much time and I can continue my daily routine. I think this is one of the main reasons of why I am useful and a good additional in Specialists.

My positive skillset and qualities

My good skills and properties are that I am polite to everybody. Luckily I am never angry, not to anyone. Most of the time, I just laugh at the situation and step aside from it. I am also willing to help where I can help, such as guiding new community members, give them some information, tips and so on.

Another good quality of mine is my ability to remain impartial when decision making, when I take up a role, I take pride in making choices I believe to be right and that are by the book, I have an attention to detail and want what's best for the group. I have a passion for programming and creating projects and feel I'm an approachable person when it comes to asking for help. I would say I'm consistent in my ability to perform in a group position and more involved in leading by a good example in terms of rules, good forum etiquette and being somebody who is friendly and approachable.

Negative sides of me

I do have one down-point, which is that I am disinterested fast. I want to do something. I can not just sit on a chair doing nothing, which I actually am doing in-real life. If you assign me a job to do, I will do it. To go in further on that, I am always doing my job as best I can. If I do something wrong, tell me, and I will correct it. As I wrote above, I am a quick learner and I do in fact learn from my mistakes. Not everybody does that.

Another negative side of me is that I can be confrontational if I don't have a resource to vent on. If I wasn't trying to keep myself calm and cool, I more than likely would've went hey-wire on that person, but I had someone to vent out my frustration on and that person made me feel better. After all these years in lead positions, it is something I'm getting very used to very fast and it's not exactly the most evident anymore.

My experience

I believe that I am dedicated yet not ignorant. For example, if someone feels a certain way about a situation, I'll allow them to explain whatever they're thinking and value their opinion. Though I am stable with my own beliefs, I'm extremely open-minded--a branch off of tolerance which is always a good thing for a member of Specialists to have. As far as the dedication goes, it even expands out to tasks. If someone tells me to do something or even asks politely, I can do it without a problem and stick to that task until it's complete to one's satisfaction. This may sound nerdy, but I love to help out and do everything or anything I can. I believe that I'm extremely professional. I try to keep a calm and cool persona active at all times and I avoid most if not all arguments on the Internet. From the times I've been involved in an argument, I've managed to either push it aside or just let the other person dwell with whatever gratification they get from "winning" said argument. If I know I'm right about something, I trust myself, and I don't let that interfere with my professionalism.

I also don't let my gender get in the way of my judgement. Not only my gender, but my relationships. I feel as though I shouldn't even have to say this but I'm sure people are thinking it. I'll go more in-depth in the "bad sides" section of this application. I'm easy to communicate with and I can easily make people comfortable around me. This even goes as far as to have some people maybe...disclose a little too much about themselves to me regarding their personal life after a short time of knowing me which, as a very trustworthy person, I don't have a problem with, but it goes to show you. Because people are often comfortable around me, they tell me more or trust me more or befriend me and that kind of positive connection in the community (even if it's because of my gender) is always better than a circle of negativity!

I have tons of experience in leading/co-leading positions. I've played games such as Star Wars: The Old Republic, World of Warcraft, Runescape, Habbo, and a few more. Most of them, I've had leading positions in or have been the owner of a guild/moderator or administrator of a roleplay. I have never been removed from a staff position due to unprofessional behavior or something of that case. I've either requested to be taken off or the roleplay/guild/faction closed due to events that were entirely out of my control. Out of my six/seven years roleplaying, I'd say that a good two of those years were spent in a position of authority.

I am, in my own eyes, a responsible person. I accept the punishment for my reprehensible actions and I will acquiesce it if I made a wrong move. This is something not everybody does. Further into that again, I will accomplish whatever I have to achieve, especially if I have started doing it. I do not mind to spend some extra time on getting it accomplished, as long as I get it finished. My most defined personality trait is probably my hyperactivity as far as verbal interactions go. On Skype calls or in Teamspeak, I tend to loosen up around people I'm comfortable with; I laugh, I tell jokes, I talk loud and fast and I ultimately sacrifice a bit of professionalism in order to have a good time. It's something I'm toning down but it's still present. You can say that I am a fairly hard worker.

Everything in a nutshell:

- I am active and willing to contribute.
- I am coding HTML, PHP and CSS.
- I am a quick learner.
- I have a fair amount of spare time.
- I will do whatever I am told to do.
- I will put one hundred percent of effort in everything I am doing and everything I am going to do.

Name: Michael

Timezone: GMT+1

Skills:

Currently, the most knowledge I own is in the marketing field.

I started earning money online, back in 2012 and I'm always trying to educate myself more in the marketing field.

That's why I chose to follow the marketing course in my local college.

I can also speak 3 languages fluently, these are:

- English
- Dutch
- French

And my last skill is that I'm open to learn new things and that I'm a quick learner.

I believe that this comes in handy, if you're open-minded and when you want to learn new things.

Why choose me?

I believe I should be in this group for various reasons.

First of all, I want to learn and give back to the HackForums community.

I think the best way to do so, is with my knowledge.

Second of all, I'm a long and respected HackForums member who never had one scamreport on him and I'm very trustworthy.

Zaki2297 - September 28, 2014, 6:59 am

I really like this group, lots of experienced business men. Good luck to all applicants.

My Strengths: Modest, Caring, Considerate, I tend to sit with people through things so I suppose Patience would be another strength. I also try to implement my own personal experiences (rough times) to try and get on the same level as the person I'm assisting, I try to put myself in their shoes. I am also a gaming addict and love competition, which can make me a good motivator for groups that I am apart of. I constantly want to get events rolling and to keep surprising the community. My skills with information tracking, and removal are highly thought of. I believe this is one of my main skills; Web Forensics.

My Weaknesses: Sometimes I can get annoyed at the slightest thing, but this usually only happens when I myself have had a rough day.. as we all do at times. I would say that I am competitive, I can see how this would become a weakness. I sometimes fail to look at the big picture as well... Maybe I don't take all the info in to channel it into one great answer, some of my replies can be stupid or naive.

Skill Elaboration:

(//): Web Forensics & Footprint Removal is quite possibly my best skill. I have been working on it for over 9 months now and have gained quite a reputation on HackForums because of my FREE service. Although I say free, I have been asked to teach others my skill and have gained over $500 because of my teaching abilities.

(//): Computer Customization & Malware/Virus Removal is my second strongest skill. In this skill, I work on customizing PC's and other computer equipment to gain the best possible result out of them. By doing this, I also thought I needed to learn how to remove any threats that may come onto this machine, which is where I was picked up by Aura as a student and he taught me quite a lot about White Hat Hacking and the safety of computers.

(//): Assistance & Management of Others, my most personal skill. I say personal because this is the skill that really means the most to me, I love caring and helping others whenever I possibly can. I do this through various sections on the forums, but I also offer mentoring and assistance for other skills if someone is interested in learning my skill. I have many threads above, that show example of this... My VFX student program for the brotherhood was a big hit, as well as my various helpdesks for personal life as well as a VFX help desk for those who are interested in learning about video editing.

Skillset -Web Development - I can develop the most simple to most advanced sites. I can also create simple but unique design that will grab the attention of visitors. I currently developed ticket system, Botnet IRC API, Hosting auto-buy, API Scripts/with key & stop function & lot more will can be discussed via private message or skype.

Server Management - I have lot experience in server management, as i was running small hosting company (<http://www.dahost.pw>), I would say I'm advanced in Linux server management as i currently work with servers on a daily bases for customers and for my personal own projects. I can create simple scripts to start simple modules, so i can create fully function backend with PHP to create easy interface for running small company.

Booter/Stresser Management - I have lot experience running booters and stressers, i am currently supporting 4 booters with there backend support. I'm also good support ticket manager as i dedicated my time in to my response back to customers and i will always stay polite even at the newbies questions.

Botnet & RAT - I can setup IRC & HTTP Botnet, I can also develop custom IRC Attack Methods that have been proven to hit fairly hard with small amount bots.

I have knowledge also setting up RAT's for users who need help with port-forwarding or no port-forwarding, i can also crypt server.exe with winrar and make it complete FUD.

Marketing - Marketing is something you cannot rate or give a level. It's proven by the service or the product with support, the higher support and service uptime the more feedback you will get and more people will gain interest in the company

Computing/Hardware - I currently know few bits and bobs about hardware, I do little works in my home town for other people, and improve computers or they ask me what the best desktop/laptop or tablets for them, i recommend them the best tablets i normally make £20-30 everytime i help someone out.

Pentesting - I have basic knowledge, in pen testing finding vulnerable servers and files to exploit via Linux, I normally does service for cheap cost.

What have you done for the community?:

I have been on hack forums for about 2 years I started out in legion teaching people how to hack and helping them with certain tasks etc... I then started a group called AIA where we investigated suicides and investigated many things witch came out to benefit alot of members on this site and alot of people who flooded our website with requests for an investigation.We also were responsible for 20 or more tutorials on hackfourms and our website. Since that was disbanded I have done many many giveaways and a few very nice tutorials.I am always on peoples helpdesks and get random pms all the time to help out.I have been in more then 10 groups on hackfourms and due to many groups selling and my 2 month vacation from hackfourms I am now down to two but I am working back up to all of them. I ran the complexity marketing sector for a good while and that was responsible for a few nice product launches and many tutorials over 15 I believe.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

I am willing to lead a sector within your group or just be an active member always coming up with great ideas and presenting them to you very organized. Some that will promote activity of the group within and out of the sub forum as well as some that can make the group a decent amount of money.I also will continue my path of owing my own website development and marketing firm and will teach hackfourms in the name of Specialists some of the skills I specialize in.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

You should select me because I am loyal to the group you'll never see me fighting with fellow group members I always turn the other cheek when its someone within one of the groups I am in.You will always see me standing up for and defending fellow members and leaders.As well as following our members and leaders posts and threads and promoting activity there.Thats what I loved about The Empire early on as well as Infamous we would all follow each-others posts and threads and you would see a spark of intelligent activity on every thread with that same userbar in many of the posts.

Thankyou for taking the time to read my application I am always available via skype to talk or if you want to know more about me don't hesitate to ask.

Mahdy - September 28, 2014, 6:23 pm

[IMG]http://#/O3BFIB.png[/IMG]

Name:

Mahdy

Specialization:

Running servers (Runescape ones, to be exact), inneudo section (giving personal advice on anything and everything pertaining to life), and soon to be a certified web developer, after I am finished with my class this semester.

Why should I be accepted:

Do not let my rep fool you. I had above 800 and I got banned and RF'd for ing my threads. This does not mean I am the least bit LQ. Anyone who knows me, knows I am a person who shows of greatest interest to those I do not even know. With all I have been through with my life and continuing going through, I can give people amazing personal advice, regardless what it is about - I've most likely been there. This is my biggest strength. Becoming friends with everyone. Believing every person, regardless who they are, deserves a second chance. And, always being there for a person who is a complete stranger to me. That is who I am and why I believe I should truly be accepted.

How will you benefit us?:

As I have mentioned, I have many strong suits - All the way from being emotionally there for someone, to coding, to marketing. I know a lot of things and can help with a lot of things. I am pursuing my dream of becoming a graphic and web designer and I am on the path so anyone who needs help in the developing aspect (XHTML, PHP, CSS), I can assist them with my very knowledge. Also, my knowledge of knowing how to be there for someone, even a person online, can make all the difference in the world. Everyone needs someone they can lean to, cry to, whatever it may be. And, even though this is an online community, I know what it is like to be at rock bottom with no one to help you up, and I don't think anyone should ever feel that way.

Other:

Thanks for reading this. Also, I ask of you please do not see my rep and think "A LQ member" because people knew me as an amazing person then, and they still know me as that person now. The ONLY reason I was RF'd was for ing my threads. Not scamming, flaming, none of that sort.

Thanks for the chance!

Username:

Mutes

Age:

24

Skillset:

I'll just touch on a few, since this group is about our certain areas of expertise. Doxing - Yes, Doxing isn't hacking, but it can be used for it. This is one of my strongest areas, so I post a lot in the private methods sub forum of beginner hacking to help people with their Doxing needs. I have a job where I sit in front of a computer all day, so when I get bored, I usually try and get info on my favorite celebrities. I don't usually do much with it, but I just like to see how easy even famous can be doxed.

General email/social network hacking - I know how to mainly get into email addresses therefore giving me access to social networks. I've found ways to SE the email help staff to be able to reset passwords for me. Again, beginner hacking forum.

Innuendo - I've been around a while, so whether it's relationship advice, life advice, or whatever it is you need, I can help. Over my years, I've learned what to do, and not to do to make things work out.

I'm not a fan of relationships, but I know how to make them work. Again, knowing what to do and not to do is a huge part of this. I'm really active in the innuendo section.

So these would be my top 3 that I can elaborate on. Just some other basics; networking, general hardware, and PC repair. I went to college for computer networking, so I've learned a lot in this regard.

What have you offered?:

Recently, I haven't done much to "give away" anything because I don't have anything to give. What I have done is offered help using my expertise and knowledge in certain areas of the forum, as you can see by my posts.

If I ever have anything I can offer in these areas, I'll gladly help out.

Why would you be a good fit?:

I feel that I would be a good fit for the Specialists because I have sufficient knowledge to help people out with different things. Sure, I don't post in a ton of sections, but I know my stuff. I'm not going to say I know everything, but I know enough to get by. This being said, I'm sure the members of this group will have a lot to offer, so I'd learn from them to help out others, but also teach them what I know. We can be one happy family.

I believe I can benefit your group with my knowledge. I'd like to share my knowledge with others. I have insight on the game League of Legends, DDoS/DoS attacks. I believe I can contribute to your group.

About Myself

I'm 15 years old, I have good grades in school, my GPA is 3.6 (Not that you should care), I enjoy learning new things and I play games like League of Legends, DotA. I also like sharing ideas with others, and discovering new things, how they work and how it's mechanics work. I like looking at things by hands on, that means being able to replicate it myself.

Age : I'm 16 years old but I think I'm way more mature for my age.

Why should I join Specialists :

I would like to join Specialists, because of the simple fact of it being a high demanding, qualitative group that demands members that are inside it to be the highest of quality, helpful and have common sense.

Things that I demand from normal people every day that's why I think I would fit perfectly into this nice, qualitative group.

Also the leaders, are very dedicated, nice members towards me and other community members what makes me like them and like the group that is ruled by that kind of people.

Specialists is NOT one of those ordinary groups that let people shit post inside it and I would be greatly thankful if I would be able to provide my intelligence, and dedication towards the of the group.

Something else that I can offer you is my full dedication, I work to ensure that this group is like no other.

I have a really nice temperament that is always nice to see, I would like to spread this around in the name of the group and help as many as humanly possible.

I will guarantee to give this group my all and then some more, if I weren't willing to work for my place in this group, then I wouldn't apply.

A lot of users PM me regarding my posts in some threads, like, "oh I saw you could do this, could you help me with it?" And I always like to help people like this because it makes me feel pretty good that people are asking me for help and not others.

'Low quality members' that PM me will still get an answer to their question, but they will also be put into the direction of becoming a higher quality user on HF by me.

I help other members consistently and whenever I get the chance to.

Even when I am a very HQ (if I can say so for myself) user and I am always happy to help people whom are willing to ask.

I am dedicated to anything I put my mind to, which is why I stop only when the user is satisfied with the help they received.

I've spent multiple days posting/answering PM just to make sure somebody would understand something.

Though if you hope to get one message out of this entire answer, it should be that I will not let you down if I am accepted.

I wasn't active on HF for private reasons but now that I'm back I will try to make more tutorials,giveaways,helpdesk.. (If I get accepted I can make that in the name of Specialists)

Also the group Titans has some members who I have not spoken to as much as I wish but I'm looking forward to change that in near future.

My skill set :

-Malware/Virus Removal

Spoiler (Click to View)I'm not professional in it but I know some tricks and I like to keep my computers safe and clean them if needed.

-Remote Administrator Tools/Keyloggers

Spoiler (Click to View)I know how to properly setup and maintain RAT/Keylogger,also know some stuff about crypters.

-Social engineering

Spoiler (Click to View)Not allowed to discuss about this on HF.

- SQL Injection

Spoiler (Click to View)I'm getting more and more interested in web exploits so this is first thing I learned on my way to become a 'hacker'.

-Computer Hardware/Upgrade

Spoiler (Click to View)Custom built my PC,also I learned a lot of stuff about computers in school as well as from personal mistakes.

-Doxing

Spoiler (Click to View)Sucessfully helped couple of members about their dox request,I'm not professional in no way but I'm also not beginner at it.

-Minecraft Servers/Plugins

Spoiler (Click to View) Maintained three successful minecrafts servers so I know a lot about them, also about plugins (well you can say I also know Java because most plugins are made in Java)

-VB.net knowledge

Spoiler (Click to View) In process of learning it but I know how to make some simple programs (not expert in any way, but I'm on a good way to become one)

-HTML & CSS

Spoiler (Click to View) Made a website before but nothing special, I took some HTML classes so that is how I know it.

-VPN Setup

Spoiler (Click to View) Not even near expert level but I'm trying to learn it and maybe later on make my own VPN and sell it on this beautiful forum.

Vent - September 30, 2014, 12:01 pm

[img]http://#/O3BFIB.png[/img]

Click this image for a link to my User Profile

My name is Vent.

You can also call me Hunter, as that's my real name. Either one works.

I'm 16 and I'm agnostic. Agnosticism is the belief that, whether or not there is a God, it is unknown and will always be unknowable, so the pursuit of a religion is really just a waste of time, and we should spend our lives trying to be good people instead. If there is a God, he shouldn't damn us for that.

I've had many experiences in life despite my age, from wonderful to tragic. I'll keep the tragedies out of this thread, as they're irrelevant, but as for some of the wonders I've experienced, I'm sure you'd find them somewhat relevant.

I've lived in Australia for 3 months, England for 8 months, and Mexico for a month. I have also been to at least two countries on every continent (bar Antarctica, of course). I'm fluent in English, Spanish, French, and Latin. Latin may seem a little random, but the school in England that I went to made us take Latin. It's weird, I know.

When it comes down to it, that's all about my life, really. I've been shaped heavily by my travels across the world, and I hope to travel to many more places as I grow older. Currently, I'm living in America.

That's all great information, but why should I be in Specialists?

While I'm not a jack of all trades like some of the others in this thread, I have a couple of talents that I am exceptionally good at.

I'll leave this as a precursor, I've only ever made one big tutorial thread, and it has nothing to do with any of my skills here. I hope this doesn't turn you off of my application, as my contributions to the forum are usually in the forms of helping and posting in threads.

I am a great writer. I've been writing nearly every day since I was 7, when my therapist recommended for me to begin writing in journals. Eventually journals got boring, so I started creative writing on top of my journals. Then I started writing poetry, and then I practiced writing letters to people. Recently I've begun to take up writing programming in my notes. I write as much of a program as I can in my notebook, and then I write it all again in an IDE like Eclipse (assuming I'm writing Java), and mark down where I messed up in my journal. I'm trying to get to a point where I make virtually no mistakes, and this exercise is helping my grasp on languages such as Java greatly.

My other skills are counseling people and helping them, which I'd hope is a skill, and debating. I've debated on the debate team at my school for 3 years now, and I'm always exceptional at the job. Whether I'm debating for or against something I believe in, I always put my all into it and try to find flaws in other people's arguments. It's fun and friendly, and honestly helps me let out a lot of energy.

Why do I want to be in Specialists?

Specialists can definitely give me a home in which I can collaborate with other people on projects relevant to my skills, particularly writing. Collaboration is a large key to growth in any skill, and while I consider myself an extremely good writer, I can always pick up and learn new techniques.

How can Specialists benefit from me?

I can contribute in the form of making threads for people, helping with writing assignments of any kind, checking spelling and grammar, and if necessary I can be a great debate partner / opposition. Above all else, I'd represent Specialists with pride on and off site, with every piece of writing I submit.

Thanks for reading. I wish the best of luck to all applicants, I know you guys will only choose the best.

VYKTOR - October 1, 2014, 11:57 am

Hello all, here's my application for the group Specialists.

I meet all the requirements especially the first one by a small margin.

Who am I?

I'm the simple & ordinary HF user that browses a lot & posts only when required.

I'm not great unlike others but I'm happy for that too.

I know when to bow to someone to learn & I also know when to stand up & guide the way.

I have nothing to brag about just nothing but all I have got is devotion & loyalty which is hard to find these days.

You may question what need does these two fulfill but look around yourselves & see how many people actually would be willing to do this for you.

I see there are several group recruitments going on & there would be numerous members who would apply in all of them to have the slightest chance of getting selected in at least one of them but I won't because when I want to join a group I would give my full attention to it & nothing else comes in the way. That is my devotion & willingness to be a part of this & only this group the Specialists.

Where others may see this group recruitment as a way to gain recognition & get a flashy user bar, what I see is an opportunity.

An opportunity to mingle in with the bright minds present within the group.

A chance to share, learn & grow my knowledge.

The best of it all to be friends & be a real group of individuals with a proper agenda & firm mindset.

Something about my skills:

Here's where I might fall behind other members because I'm just too noobish I guess.

More nerdy & less noobish I'll say.

My skills lay in Mathematics & Science which may be the last thing you need from a person in a great group like yours.

I know about many things which some members have already posted.

I have knowledge of coding in Java, C & Basic.

You would only be able to know how much I know by giving me certain tasks & I can assure you something. If that is something which I have no idea about. I'd gladly put my time & energy in learning that & mastering & giving you the thing you want in the quickest time possible.

I have been involved in crypto currency trading for a while.

I usually make my transactions on localbitcoins & justcoin but the only two times I have ever made an exchange at HF has been with Aceman & Morbid.

Other than that I go through each post by sonex & other Specialist members in the monetizing section helpdesk.

Apart from this I answer a lot of questions on Che-g-g, earn points & redeem them for gifcards. That's pretty much my only most trusted way to earn money. I don't get much but $25 for 5 questions seems fair.

I haven't been able to do it quite often now but I get back to it time again as Mathematical questions make me so happy that I can't describe it.

Final Words:

I may not appear to be a very promising guy but appearances can be deceptive.

I already told you what I'll bring along with me if I get selected- devotion, loyalty & my skills.

I'm pretty sure that as a group you have a big ammunition to earn lots of money.

I'd like to contribute too if given the chance.

OVH Sas - October 1, 2014, 11:58 am

I'll make sure to apply for this group once I meet the requirements, seems very HQ. Good luck in the future.

INFORMATION:

My name is Stazzy, aged 16 and am currently residing in the United States of America. I am an amateur marketer looking to expand my knowledge. You can view my skill sets and current/future projects below.

SKILL SET:

Marketing & Monetizing - I have quite a bit of experience in the business world. I have earned more in a few weeks than what normal users gain in months. I also have intermediate knowledge in virtual game items trading.

Critical Thinking - I know what to do in order to identify the strengths and weaknesses of problems.

Malware Removal - I know all of the basics and am studying more about it.

Sales Management - My contributions to a certain project/product will meet your objective.

PROJECTS:

Goldmine+ - One of my first projects that was/is successful and got me into marketing. The income generated has well exceeded over $5,000 over the past months and is still rising.

Incognito Survey Locker - My second project on this forums that I just launched. I'll give you a little rundown on it. This is the best locker on the market defeating all other competitors. It features state of the art features and security.

ExtraVPN - This project was one that I was support staff on. I answered tickets and tested the VPN everyday to assure quality.

ZeroDrop - I was a reseller for this product and it was decently successful. It was one of the first of its kind and was unique.

IncognitoRAT (Coming Soon) - I'm looking to launch this project when I get the time. I'm still deciding which project to release as my deadline has not ended yet. What I can tell you now is that it will be the best.

+ launching more projects soon, stay tuned

WHY SHOULD WE ACCEPT YOU:

You would be inviting a vastly skilled individual into your group. I'm looking to expand/share my knowledge of my skill sets and beyond. I'm looking to support this group 100% of the way if I get invited. I'm also looking forward to creating new things for this group and more. Thanks for reading my application!

Justin Timberlake - October 1, 2014, 9:54 pm

[img]http://#/O3BFIB.png[/img]

My name is Justin Timberlake and I'm a 16 year old high school student. After seeing the group description, "Specialists is a group consisting of substantiated individuals who have achieved outstanding success and shown passion towards their own field of expertise," I feel as though I'd be fit to join.

My skills

I have a different field of expertise than most, but I'd also say I'm more experienced in it than most. I'm not extremely experienced in coding or graphic design, but I'm currently learning some programming languages. You already have plenty of coders and gfx artists, so I doubt you'd need many more. Rather, my skills lie with education. For 10+ years, I've been in advanced classes at the top schools in the city. I've been a tutor for numerous subjects, including math, English, and foreign languages. I've won awards and public recognition for chemistry, Spanish, and math. I know what it's like to teach people about a specific subject and I'm fairly good at it. I currently help teach elementary school kids for an hour a day, twice a week, in the mornings before my own school starts. Along with being knowledgeable in these topics, I'm a debater. I get together weekly with some other students to discuss current events and global issues. To sum it all up, I'm pretty smart (not trying to boost my ego), I'm experienced with teaching others, and I've also received awards for it.

How can I help Specialists

With the skills listed above, I believe I can collaborate with other members and create some great projects. I have a specific idea in mind: a tutoring center/education helpdesk. I'd be able to help people out with anything ranging from grammar/writing to physics to Spanish to math. I've already helped several members with exactly that, and I hope to increase the number. I have experience onsite as well, and I've been a Writer for several months now. I believe that my skills will provide Specialists with a knowledgeable member, who is still willing to learn more, and I'll be able to contribute to group projects.

If you'd like to find out more info, just PM me.

Fire up all the applications you can. We have a good group going on already! You don't want to miss out a shot at this group ;)

Meow - October 2, 2014, 3:28 pm

Very nice & HQ group to be in, I was kicked from it but from what I saw group is great and it has potential with leaders like Bull & Grim.

Good luck with applications anyway! ?

Who Am I?

I'm Will, I joined HF a little over a year ago. I'm currently unemployed and a Junior in high school.

I'm from the US, Illinois to be exact.

Skills

- Motivational Help:

You can see this from my popular Help Desk in the Innuendo section.

- Leadership

I've lead 3 groups off site. I don't really know if you care about this, but they've all gone very successful until the point of them being sold or the forum being shut down.

- Member Support

I'm able to support and help our members with whatever they need. I'm a very educated member that has knowledge in most fields of Coding, Programming and Managing Products.

- Organization

I'm a very organized member that likes to keep things tidy and updated. This could benefit the group in ways such as creating a memberlist, organizing rules, helping plan giveaways/recruitment and helping plan out future endeavors the group might take.

My Opinion On The Group

Honestly, I think Specialists is a very hive minded group. And i'm not saying this because I wish to join I'm saying this because of what I've seen with your Help Desk, Give- Aways and Unique Website Recruitment. I think I could learn and benefit the group while contributing and holding my part in the group as a fellow member of a family and a team.

Ending

I hope you guys seriously read and take consideration into my Application. Thank you for the opportunity.

Age: 20

Educational status: Student in college

Studying: Computer Science, with a minor in finance.

My strongest skill set is the ability to grab the intended audience's attention, through unique forms of advertising, eye-opening forms of marketing, and the simplicity and power in the product created, distributed, or sold.

I find strong interest in front-end and back-end application development. With my 3 years of experience in front-end development, I can range from a simple graphic work to constructing and organizing a whole website o application, with this in mind it has given me the vision to learn back-end development. I have found that tying my knowledge with front-end coding with my experience of back-end coding I can spark my imagination to create products that are unique and ideas that nobody has ever thought of.

Hello,

Honestly, I am not going to try to impress with an amazing layout, design or any of that. I am just going to post about my time on Hackforums, I join in 2011 and I was enthralled with every single post someone made (Which is the reason I stayed). I slowly became more and more HQ, till finally I was headed off into the military and decided to scam a few people here thinking it was going to be easy and who cares? I was put on medical leave about 1 year ago and I felt guilty about scamming all of those people so I re paid them back one by one. I got most of them closed except for two, I have paid them both back but they refuse/cannot close their deal disputes or are not responding to my PMs.

I have recently started doing graphics and helping members out who are in need of it, pretty much everything I do is free and you can check my profile to see for yourself.

Well that is my application I hope something good happens out of this :)

What have you done for the community?

I've been around in the eWhoring section for a really long time, I've helped a lot of newcomers there. I've never actually charged money for my services. I was also part in the largest eWhoring support desk (created by ? \[\$\(1000\)\$?). I also share my knowledge and opinion with the community in several sub-fora.

What are your skills? Helping people without getting pissed off really fast

Learning and understanding things really fast

Learning php, html, javascript, java, etc. (going to college for this)

Gaming (not that important)

What are you going to do in the future on HackForums?

I'll continue to help people and I'll also share all the knowledge of any subject I learn at school.

Thank you for reading!

Specialists Recruitment Application

Name: .Jay (Jaden)

Age: 16

Timezone: GMT +5 (US)

Why do you want to join? I would like to join the specialists group, as I am very keen with most things hacking related, I'm great with networking, watching how packets go in out, how they are filtered. I know alot about a wide variety of things, if you check my latests posts, I'm constantly helping in the beginner hacking section, I feel I'd be a great addition as I could really show off the Specialists badge, and help the newer members grow on the forums, to see Specialists as a strong group.

Skill Set / Area of expertise: I know many things in the computer world. I'm very good at general hacking, as in most questions asked in the BH section I'm easily able to answer, and give full details. I'm good with networking, progrmaming (Java, HTML, CSS, JS, and PAWN) I'm good with server management, penn testing, and much more blackhat information/techniques.

I hope you consider me for joining Specialists, it would be an honor, I've been working on HF for a while now, buidling a positive reputation, literal (rep wise) and theoretical, as in being known by members for helping. I would gladly work to show off the group.

Hi, you can call me Angel.

Age: 20.

Location: North Carolina.

Skills: Other than being able to keep a discussion going and writing reviews, I have nothing to brag about. I feel I am a skilled reviewer of movies, television series, music, and some video games. I like to write and I'm very knowledgeable when it comes to the English language. I can code efficiently in Java, C++, and C# and I am proficient enough to obtain an internship with a well known power corporation working with nuclear applications. I'm also an avid gamer (all platforms), even played for an MLG team way back when Tom Clancy's Rainbow Six Vegas 2 was still on the circuit.

Contributions: There aren't any threads of my own that I'm particularly proud of, but I am a dedicated volunteer writer for AA Weekly, a weekly newsletter released to the AA section. I'm extremely proud to work with this small, dedicated team and will continue to work with them for as long as I'm able to.

Why me: I enjoy pretty much all sections of the site and visit the site pretty much daily whether being on for hours or minutes. I would like to be a member of Specialists because I want to meet new people to learn about topics that I don't have much knowledge on and want to help people with some of the topics that I'm familiar with. I am always up for helping people with whatever they need and although I probably couldn't bring anything new or unique to the group, I feel I could still be a valuable part of Specialists as a whole. I'm a down to earth guy than can bring a positive and team mentality into this group. Whether getting accepted or not, I think Specialists as a whole have what it takes to do some cool and different things and I'd love to see where this group goes.

Prime

My name is Prime and I'm a knowledgeable member who has a lot of experience in this community. Currently I am almost 21 years old and I live in Belgium.

I've been here on Hackforums for 3 years. My skills are mostly marketing, server management, VB.NET and basic website construction (making CPA/PPD landing pages, webshop, etc..)

I always try my to contribute as much as I can towards the forum. I always have this sentence in my mind "Sharing is caring".

By sharing my knowledge and productes/services I have I know I can be helpful to others. I've done this mostly in the past, because the last few months I had some personal life issues (raided, girlfriend, parents) and because of this

I became really inactive on Hackforums. Now I'm trying to make a come back.

Recently I try to be active again like before and I'm back on my computer.

I had succesful businesses here on Hackforums such as Big Bang Booter and Codelux Crypter. I'm trying my best to bring Big Bang Booter on my own back to it's old prime. Because we suddenly went down,
I dissappointed many members and I promised one thing when I launched Big Bang Booter and Codelux Crypter,
I would always try to satisfy my customers. So now I'm trying to make a come back.

I'm sure that when I join a HQ group such as the Specialists, it'll motivate me even more to contribute more towards the forum and being active again, like before. Because than I'll meet some new friends and that is something what I really look forward to.

Below you can find some of my giveaways:

Are you willing to contribute to Specialists?

Absolutely, no doubt I'll contribute. I will always be there if anyone needs help with something, i will try my best to help out other members. I'm an active member here on HF and have been helping out others many times before and I'll never stop doing it because helping others makes me feel happy, i love doing it. And if the owner of this group needs help I'll be here 24/7 and all other Specialists as well. Hopefully that's enough hehe :)

Why should you accept me

Well first of all, being accepted into a group like this means so much to me. I was accepted into the group "Studio" and i literally screamed of happiness when i saw i was accepted because i love making music etc.

Hopefully I'll get accepted into this awesome group as well, would mean so much and i'm always there willing to help others if they're in need of help.

This group seems to be so HQ and awesome and i'd love to be a part of it. Thank you and take care :):)

Skills

Programming

I have 2+ years programming experience. This is definitely a skill that will increase for me over time, as I am still learning a lot of information about the subject. I am constantly working and always improving my knowledge and skill with programming. I am fluent in HTML, CSS, and VB.NET. While reinforcing those languages, I am also learning Python at the moment. I'm currently in a programming class as well, and I work on projects throughout the week, whether it be applications or webpages. I hope to get a degree in Computer Science once I graduate high school and to always be involved with computers in general for the rest of my life.

Hacking

When I first joined Hackforums, hacking was the skill i was hoping to achieve. I have followed many tutorials and have about the same amount of experience as programming with hacking because I wanted to and still want to combine the two as they both compliment each other. I usually test for vulnerabilities with Structured Query Language Injection, Cross Site Scripting, Cross Site Port Attacks, Cross Site Request Forgery, and Remote Code Execution within web applications. Although I predominately focus on web applications, I do have knowledge on networking, penetration testing, and Linux, but I am not finished learning about them and they are not ready to be called a skill I have acquired yet. I will continue to learn hacking whether is be with web applications or the subjects I have listed above and will always try to compliment it with programming.

Providing knowledge

With every skill in this list, I have helped several people with, on and off the internet. Sharing knowledge is not only helping the person I am sharing with, but it also helps me reinforce the skills I have learned, and along the way I may even learn new things I have never learned about. Getting and sharing knowledge is something I am very passionate about, and I would love to contribute my passion onto the Specialists.

Why I want to join the Specialists

I have been looking for a group to devote and give my energy to. I have been searching for quite a while, and the Specialists seems like a HQ group with some great people, and the group also holds a high standard to get in, basing off the applicants who were accepted. Naturally, I want a group where there can be information that I can learn, but also where I can also give back my information that I have learned from elsewhere.

Why you should accept me and what I can contribute

You will have someone who will be highly skilled in programming, hacking, and networking and if not now, in the very near future where I will be going after a Computer Science degree with a passion for it. Having a passion for something is important to me, someone without passion for the subject will not have the drive to keep learning new information, which I strive to do every single day. You will not only get those skills, but also a person who is willing and will be actively searching to help people whether that be with answering questions, creating tutorials, or with individual direct help.

*I have a variety of other areas of interest, but I do not count them as skills. If you would like to know them, feel free to ask, and I will share. I often post in sections where I am skilled to help people, and have privately helped several people. I thoroughly enjoy helping people with problems that a search engine couldn't solve, so I personally don't like to post tutorials on a subject that already have several others. Thank you for reading and I hope I can contribute my passion to the Specialists. ?

General Information:

Name: Darius

Age: 18

Specialisation: Money Making

Dear Bull & Grim. I'd like to keep this short and sweet for both of you. I'm Kreatures, it's a pleasure to meet both of you. Of course I could've made a more graphical and interesting application so it would be more joyful for both of you but will that change the person you are destined to be? No it won't. There may be an applicant that makes an excellent application, but will he/she have anything that can assist the group into being more successful? There may also be an applicant that doesn't post an excellent application but has the skills that the group needs in order to become more successful around Hack Forums. I'm that person. I do not see the need of a graphical and "pretty" application as in the end, it won't contribute to the group in any way. The reason why I'm applying for this group is because I specialise in one thing, and that is money making. I strive to make money online, and I successfully do so. I would be a great addition to the Specialists, I will provide you with my full knowledge, but I will not give you any of my methods as I keep those to myself, you probably understand what it's like to have a method that makes you a good income, which you don't want to share with anyone. I will provide a picture of what I made in a week, last month, further down. Together we can be Specialists, make the money we need and to get what we want. We can help the community around Hack Forums and show everyone that we're one high quality group. If you'd like more information, just message me. If you need a live proof of the money I made last month, you can freely ask me, I'm also making bank in October, I should hopefully cash in around $1k today or tomorrow. I believe I stand out of the crowd because I know what I'm doing, and I know how to make solid bank without much work at all. You won't find many like me, I guarantee you that.

Have a pleasant day,

Kreatures

SPECIALISTS APPLICATION

[img]http://#/O3BFIB.png[/img]

Name:
Kraith

Age:
17

About Me:

I'm Kraith, I'm 17 and I'm heading off to College soon to become a Computer Scientist and Computer Engineer. I've been fiddling around with computers since I was 7. I built my first computer at 11, and have built 7 more since then. I love HackForums, because it's a really great community. And overall I hope to get more involved with the community. I personally am planning on going to a good College and getting a good education. I want to go into a good career and field as well.

Why do I want to join:

Well I would like to join mainly to be social and get more involved with close groups of the HackForums community. I've been a part of HackForums and it's been a part of me for a good while now. And I just really haven't gotten the opportunity to interact, and that's something I want dearly. I really love HackForums and the group Specialists especially spiked my interest. Not only by the name, or the userbar, but more because of what they were all about. I've been a contributing member for a long time to this forum as well. And plan on keeping that going for as long as possible.

Why should I be accepted?

I should be accepted because I have a good standing with the HackForums community. I've got good reputation, and I'm also very high quality on HackForums. I take posting with intelligence, and proper English very seriously. I should also be accepted because of my devotion towards a new experience. I would really like to be a part of this great group and hope to join the crew. I'm also a very nice guy, and I'm constantly willing to support other members and help in anyway I can.

Skills:

My skills are in computer building, programming, and software development. I also do a little bit of generalized I.T. work.

[img]http://#/O3BFIB.png[/img]

Hello Specialist,

I am writing this to apply for your usergroup. My name is Luca and I have been an Hackforums member for almost three years now.

When I joined back in 2011 I played Minecraft a lot and found mods amazing. After I did some research I came to the conclusion that I wanted to make my own mods. I did have to learn Java first before I could so.

I did not have any experience with computers and programming languages at all. First I just looked up some videos on youtube on how to make mods. After time passed I got bored of modding Minecraft and wanted to make my own programs.

I now have over 4 years of experience with Java(Please note that I started learning Java before I joined HackForums). I have a considerable amount of knowledge about almost every subject in the Java programming language.

I do not have a lot of Java contributions to this forum but I do have a few:

1. JExternalPlugin

Link: <https://github.com/lucamasira/JExternalPlugin>

This library was part of a programming competition Cosa Nostra hosted. The features of this library include:

- External Jar Loading(A plugin system where you can load plugins)
- SQL Support(With the default driver being Xerial-SQLite)
- An entire event library which can be used with the plugins.
- Encryption implementation; a wrapper around the Java crypto library which makes utilizing crypto in your application as simple as calling a few methods.

2. Bytecode tutorials(wip)

I am still working on my bytecode tutorials as I did not have the time to complete them yet. Bytecode is compiled Java sourcecode. This can be transformed so you will not have to go through the process of decompiling bytecode and then re-compiling your decompiled sourcecode.

I will finish this tutorial later.

You can find the tutorial here.

My other skills

The subjects mentioned above aren't my only skills.

Here is a list of Java subjects I know almost everything about:

1. TCP Sockets
2. Streams
3. Loggers
4. Classloading
5. All the basic things such as arrays, datatypes, etc...
6. Threading
7. Crypto
8. Bytecode

9. JDBC(JavaDataBaseConnector, implementing SQLite and such)
10. Code conventions

Furthermore I also have knowledge about other Java subjects but I do not know everything about those subjects(yet).

Why me?

I am sure that you will be asking this. I think that I should get accepted into the group as I am a passionate Java developer which loves helping people with Java.

Anything else

I hope that I gave you enough information. If you have anything to ask be sure to PM me. I am Dutch so my English will not be the best but hey, atleast I am trying.

Best regards,
Luca

Name: Daniel

Age: 19

About me and why I'd like to be in this group

So I'm Daniel. I'm 19 like I wrote previously, I'm russian and I speak English, Russian and Hebrew (More languages on the way). I like playing video games in my free time, Minecraft, Assassin's Creed (I'm a fanatic of AC), CSGO and Team Fortress 2. While I'm not playing games I play hockey. I love hockey and it's my favorite sport in the whole world. Other than that I hangout with my friends, watch movies, spend time with my girlfriend, etc. These stuff were me about a year ago before I joined the army. I serve in the navy and only visit home for two-three days every other week. Which means I'm usually 2-3 weeks on a ship, then I go home for 2-3 days (the weekend). I still do all of the above, its just that it doesn't happen on a daily basis nowadays. I know it is probably not acceptable to accept me into this group, given that I have very little time at home, which means little time on HF, but I still have my phone which I have time for almost everyday. Which means I still browse this forum and enjoy being here on a daily basis. I wouldn't apply if I didn't think I can contribute. Or if I knew that I wouldn't be active. I will be, and I will put time and effort into this group because I want to experience and learn new things. And the Specialists look like a great group to be in. I'm mature, do not get involved in scams, do not get warnings for not following the rules and overall a decent person. If you have any questions whatsoever, feel free to contact me.

Skills

- I code in C# and Java.
- Learned computer science in school for 3 years.
- Finished CCNA1 and CCNA 2 by Cisco.
- Great with CPA.
- I also like to crack accounts, I have a bunch in stock.
- I love computers and worked as a computer repair man for two years at a local store. I know hardware and software and can also disinfect infected systems.

Hope I'll get the honor to be accepted into the Specialists.

Good luck to everyone else applying ?

anyways, goodluck to all apps. We don't consider eWhoring 'specialists' to be the type of member we are looking for. Also, keeping calm when helping people should be a basic skill as opposed to something that is an asset in a member. Unfortunately we are looking for people who are already specialists in one area as opposed to the programming that you are currently learning.

I apologize but you are free to apply again at a later date if you feel as though your skill set has improved.

I think you guys know me by now, so I won't bore you by writing too much or completely irrelevant things. I'm a qualified system administrator and have 6+ years of experience in my role. This is mainly what I specialise in, I'm a system administrator by trade, and it's what I can do very well, not to brag but I'd consider myself up there as one of the most experienced members in that role on this board. Work with hosting services, servers, websites. Alongside that, I'm good at C, Java and PHP programming. I've ran many successful hosts and worked for some as well. I own a forum (gamingforums.net), so throw Webmaster down on that list as I've learned quite a lot with all the websites I've ran. Currently learning malware removal, reverse engineering and recapping PHP. Other than online activities, I have a good time down at the gym a few times a week and like to go out with friends for the odd drink.

Just because you lurk doesn't mean that you can contribute to the forum. We're a group who's not about userbars, we're about contributions. We strive to have all of our members contributing in some way, shape, or form. If your post count is below 500 it's likely that you've not participated in any areas which you may deem yourself a specialist in. If you can't even be active enough in a section you're interested in then how can we count on you to contribute? 3 posts a day is nothing.

I am not a friend of Realizm. And I suppose you are correct, Ub3r doesn't mean I'm active. However I personally believe my activity led to me being accepted. As I have only been active for a couple months.

I'm not trying to argue or anything here. I'm just intrigued as I am 'new' to the forums, and I just didn't understand the idea behind the 500 post requirement. :)

Not even that I lurk, I myself would consider an active poster, not so much a spam poster, perhaps in my own bizarre high quality way. (Not in the generic Hackforums high quality way.)

However, you have explained it clearer now with stating how in general, to contribute you'd need to be active in a section, which I do indeed agree with. Thank you for explaining that. Again - Not trying to be prying! Just intrigued.

We're trying to build a core unit of members as that's the basis of every group. From there on you build upwards.

You need not feel like you're prying, we're happy to answer any and all questions.

Trvp - October 19, 2014, 1:32 pm

About me

Hello :) My name is Amaya (aka TRVP). I am 15 years old, born and raised in New York City. A bit of background on me; My parents are from, and lived in India (i'm a super cool brown kid i swear). After having a child who passed away, they decided to come to America to have me. Surprisingly enough they liked it enough to stay :P. They were giving this amazing opportunity to relocate only because of the help that my mother's immediate family had given them. My mother's uncle brought my uncle to New York when he was 17, sent him to college, and opened up a firm with him and his sons. This was an executive search company at the time. (A headhunting firm). They had given my father a chance to work with them. They succeeded very much in fact, and are now one of the top firms in the world.

My experiences

I grew up in an atmosphere where every single thing i did mattered. I spent a lot of my childhood summers helping out at the offices, filing paperwork and learning routines, listening to phone conversations etc. I was exposed to a lot growing up. I was 10, and accompanying my uncle (the CEO of the firm) around the world. Which is an amazing experience, to be able to see how firms in entirely different parts of the world grow and function. My mother and father adapted to this culture very quickly, I only ever grew up around strategic consultants, and other integrated services. Although i am very much interested in computer science, business will always be something that i am able to easily talk about in any setting at all.

What i'm good at

Some of my strongest suits, are basically because of my involvement with the firm. I exceed in math, and global history. Networking is something that has always come easily to me considering my eccentric and naturally sweet attitude. When I was 13, i was given an 'internship' so to say at the firm. I now have a broad expertise in all facets of the global financial markets business, including sales and trading, structured finance, principal investment, research and technology. I have good marketing skills. Social engineering is something that fascinates me, and i love learning more and more each and every day. I have dealt with all types of people. Even though my family hasn't had to deal with much of a financial backlash so to say, they have always taught me how to be independent. I have had a few jobs, some of which didn't suit me as well as others. But hey- it was an experience that was well worth it. I'm the type of woman that doesn't want to have to rely on a man for much. Considering my culture, and my background; i'm considered a horrible child LOL. But honestly, i want to be able to grow up and say i DID do something for myself. I want to be able to get there myself.

Why Specialists?

The reason that i want to join this group, is to learn. Judging from the forums i feel as if the group has a lot of educated members in it. I want to be able to grow and expand my areas of knowledge. I know that i am young, but I feel as if there isn't enough time in the world for me to sit and take expensive courses at colleges to learn things that i can easily learn from my peers. Thank you for taking the time to read my application, i really appreciate it

Socializing

Why I want to join

I would like to join the Specialists because I am a fairly HQ member on HF, I don't break rules and think the community has that unique touch, rather then aimed at a singular subject. Also I think that the people who have applied for Specialists and been accepted are very HQ members.

Why I am a good recruit for the Specialists

I believe I am a good recruit for your group, the specialists, because I do HQ posts that engage other members of Hack Forums and try to get everyone involved. I also believe that the Specialists is a some-what unnoticed group on Hack Forums and I believe that if I was accepted into the group I could have potential to change this.

Skills

I am mainly interested in hacking and programming. I spend most of my time on HF in the SQL injection subforum and the coding forums. Although I frequent most other hacking sections as well.

I have extensive knowledge in SQL injection and have posted several challenges and tutorials. I have been coding for several years now, have worked as a java developer during my university years and currently pursue a masters degree in computer science.

Forum Contributions

Service_

[\[InjectALot\] Endless vulnerable websites! \[FREE\]](#) - A website that provides a large amount of SQL injectable websites. Perfect for people starting out with SQLi to practice without loosing time dorking for targets or for anybody who needs a quick vulnerable website. For example all the targets in my challenges come from here.

Tutorials

[\[Tutorial\] Understanding Error-Based injections](#) - An explanation of error based SQL injection techniques and why they occur.

[\[Tutorial\] MySQL version fingerprinting](#) - self-explanatory title

Challenges

[\[Challenge\] intermediate](#)

[\[Challenge\] easy - read /etc/passwd](#)

[\[Challenge\] basic](#)

Tip

[\[Tip\] Catch email leakers / Variable email addresses](#)

Motivation to join

I am looking for a group of nice people where I can learn new things - not only hacking related - and where I might help some people out. I noticed your members around the forums and they seem to be knowledgeable and not have an unpleasant kind of attitude like a lot of other groups do. Finally, I have never been in a group on HF and I won't lie, I do would like to be part of one.

I hope I could interest you a bit in myself and I would be honored to be part of specialists ?

PS: Thank you for the I33t upgrade from your giveaway ?

About me

Hello, my name is Matthew. I prefer Matt, but doesn't really matter.

I am 15 years old.

I currently live in Florida, in the United States.

I attend public high school.

I have aspirations in the field of journalism in my occupational future.

I currently am in the top 10% of my class.

I also am the class vice president, and the vice president of my schools debate program.

My two positions have helped me acquire diplomacy.

I enjoy long boarding, video production, as well as graphic design.

What I specialize in

As I briefly mentioned before, I specialize in a two main areas:

Adobe After Effects & Photoshop I think I'm decent at photoshop.

I create all my own graphics, and even created my friend Ty's Avatar.

I am up for most jobs, and enjoy doing it.

Personal Advice I often aid in personal matters.

I attempt to make my self as accessible as possible to not only friends, but to strangers.

I believe everyone deserves someone to talk to.

From suicide talk, to help with why you still have a boner 7 hours later, I help with it all.

How I'd Benefit Specialists

First of all, since I'm well-rounded, I could aid in almost any issue.

Instead of a vast amount of knowledge in one area, I have an average amount of knowledge in a plethora of areas.

Whenever a group member, or HF member is in need of assistance I could provide it. I would try to help in any situation. I pride myself in helping others and would strive to keep that up. Overall, I see myself as being a strong asset, if accepted.

Thank you for reading, and please consider my application, I would love to join your elite group.

Introduction of Tri?ngle:I am Tri?ngle and I am your average businessperson that currently owns a very successful company. I have not been active on this forum for a long time but I assure you that having me in this group would be a great thing. I have worked with a lot of people on this forum and have given most of those people the greatest support they have ever had. I have a lot of specialties and I think I am quite a special-person and I think this because I am very good when it comes to SEO (Search engine optimization) and also I can do anything when it comes to Virtual private servers, Reseller and Shared hosting, and also anything to do with PC Repairs such as Virus Removal, Spyware Removal, System Tune-up and also anything related with Installation on the PC and I could also provide OS repair from a dysfunctional or non-bootable state. We can now move on to some of my recent threads and more about me.

What has Tri?ngle done for Hack Forums?I have done a lot of noticeable things for this forum such as doing one monthly giveaway that each member that enters every month will have their account upgraded and also one year of free hosting at my online-business. I also have another thread where I have already gave close to twenty people (ten cents) on PP which I know does not seem like a lot but you never know when you could need a dime in your account and I will be doing that contest every fifty people that enter in the name of my business. Since I have mentioned my business more than enough times I will now explain what I have provided for buyers of the services/products which you can find on the stickied thread we currently have in the Hosting Services section, we currently are an LLC registered business and we have multiple integrated partnerships and affiliates that work for us such as Cisco systems, Arista software, and many other.

Why should Tri?ngle be accepted to Specialists?Well I am not going to try to compete with any others on this thread but I will point out some things. This group is based on Specialists and also as stated people who have achieved outstanding success which I believe I have and if you think otherwise then I will one-day in your eyes meet success. I also show a lot of passion towards what I do and I love my business, and also love doing what I do every day as it honestly means the world to me. In this group I believe I can meet other people that could help me grow much bigger and also I could help them grow much bigger such as Advertising, Shout-outs or even just helping the best as I can as I would like to see everyone grow.

Other reasons to be accepted to Specialists?I would like to be accepted to this group for a various of reasons and some have already been listed. There is a lot of people who are special in all sorts of activities which I would have to say I am quite special in some of the subjects that I am very fascinated with which is basically anything to do SEO and other types of techniques to grow a website such as Internet Marketing, Email Marketing, and even Website Construction using HTML, CSS, Java and also setting up directories, high protection, and also I am very experienced when it comes to PPD and PPC which is a marketing/monetizing technique used to gain money on any type of website such as forums, file-sharing sites etc.

Passion towards Business and success doing Business? Well I show a lot of passion towards what I do in my current business and also in my newest side-business which is in the field of SEO and I get up every-day of the year ready to start and complete an order for a customer. I have also become very successful over the years after working at four virtual private network companies and also managing my own business which takes a lot of effort as you need to have a game-plan and also you need to spend a lot of time on finding people that will work for you and I believe I currently have one of the best and responsive teams which allows us to succeed in the industry for our main product which is hosting and also the other services we offer.

Introduction

Hello, Specialists. My name is InfSec. I seen your Recruitment thread posted in the latest HF News (209). I see you guys are recruiting and are a group dedicated to Hacking and Penetration Testing. I am very interested in joining which is why I am submitting an application.

I believe I meet all the requirements and love helping out members. Currently I spend my time on HackForums in the Wireless Hacking Section learning as much as I can and helping other members. I have created an "Ultimate Sniffing Tutorial" here:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4404880>

I am currently working on getting into a Technology College in my area to specialize in Network Systems in the Information Technology section. As you can tell I have a special thing for networks in my heart.

I mainly do Wifi Hacking and Penetration Testing here on HackForums but I do love technology and have many other projects. I've spent over 2 years here on HackForums, logging in almost daily. I had an account with an older join date but I was banned when I put in fake information when buying L33T. (Oops!) Here is my old account:

<https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=1677885> With my knowledge I believe I could be a positive member in your group and would love to be a part of a community here on HF. I can help new members with pretty much anything. I would also love to gain mentors and friends so I can learn from them too.

*I mostly just enjoy learning and expanding my skills and will rarely participate in blackhat activities. I am mostly whitehat with a touch of greyhat here and there.

Thank you for your time, I look forward from hearing back from you.

We aren't looking for group whores. To add onto this, we actually prefer users who are in few to no groups. We'd even be happy to accept users who have never been in any other group. The reason for this decision is that we want users who are going to be able to contribute to the group and to the forum. If you're in a lot of groups you're less likely to put more time and effort into Specialists. Being in a lot of groups won't rule you out as a potential member if you deserve to be in the group, it just helps to be in less groups.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question):

Web Designing and Programming is something I enjoy. In my short tenure of being a HF Member, I've helped multiple users with MyBB, as well with advice. Coming to MyBB, I have a very decent knowledge of coding in MyBB. Some of my works can be found below. In addition that, I've experience in Coding with phpBB, SMF & IPB. I'm good at fixing and patching vulns. I have experience with server management as well other coding languages like SQL and css.

1. <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3893914>
2. <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3902322>

My hacking skills are related to Website Hacking. I started learning how to exploit SMF 1.0 Boards via old, unpatched bugs and the first SMF Website I had defaced was a Gaming Forum. Shortly after that, I learned to use vuln scanner to add with SQL Injection which I used with vBulletin 0day exploits. It was fun to run scripts to make Admin accounts. And, I had some experience in defacing MyBB sites via Template Vulns which allowed to execute php scripts. I did it for non-harmful uses.

Coming to Graphics, I've to say that I'm not an expert but I like learning. The only thing I'm good is with making signatures. I started with making of Gaming sigs. I usually use Photoshop CS. I've learnt a few things like Abstract Art, Vectors, Air Brush Art, Doping and Transparent background making. Some GTA Sigs I made below:

Spoiler (Click to View)

Computing and Hardware are another of my favorite subject. I like knowing more about Hardware, Setups, Programs, Builds and Interior. I used to dismantle my CPU and take a look at things and fix them back. I've even modded Windows XP, tweaking shells and patches with self extracting I386 Components

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

Tutorials, Giveaways & Helpdesks

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

I think I would be a valuable asset to the group simply because I'd like to learn and share. The Specialists is a great group and accepts potential candidates. I think I'm potential as I try at my best to help and learn at the same time. I've vast experience and I think I could help with my above skillset and get to know people by representing The Specialists.

Why do you want to join The Specialists in particular?:

I would like to join for numerous reasons, one being, Specialists is one of the largest, most high quality groups on Hackforums, if not one of them, and then it's the most high quality. Specialists is very appealing to me. The group is very well organized and I see you guys only let in very few members and those few members are very high quality. The output of this group is amazing, I see such good quality posts and contributions coming from the group, I have seen discussions around the forum from Specialists members and it's mostly meaningful, high quality, or serious posts, none of the garbage that other users post.

About me:

I'm an average 17 Year old guy, just like most students of my age. I'm passionate about Computing, Movies, Soccer, Cars, Military Planes, Thermodynamics and Advanced Wave Communication Technology. I spend time browsing Hack Forums & listening to Last.fm.

What do I specialize in:

What I specialize in that I find noteworthy comes across a few things.

First off I would like to mention I had a very good education when I was younger letting me come across with very good grammar, also leaving a good impression hopefully.

I also specialize in reviewing products that come into the marketplace everyday. Bringing up the subject of the marketplace recently I've become very interested and involved including the online accounts section and the gamertag section even though I may not have the best taste. ? (reference to aceman) I also specialize in ios and idevices, about a year ago or so when I joined hack forums I had came here to learn how to jailbreak my iPhone. But during that idiotic journey I had learned so much in that field how to basically do anything with any idevice, which is something I'm very proud of.

Age: 16

Where I live: United States of America

Anything else?:

I would like to mention that I highly appreciate this opportunity and honestly I've applied myself to this application and personally I'm quite proud of it.

As in I don't make very quality applications often, the reason for me actual applying myself to this group is because I can actually imagine myself being apart of this group and making it better place with giveaways and being active in the sub forum. Not only that but I'm hoping I can learn a lot from the group. Thanks, ?

Name : ScreemS/Ramon

Age : 15

This might be young, but I personally think that age is a number, a 15 year old person could be more mature than a 18 year old person.

Nationality : Dutch, British (Netherlands, United Kingdom)

I was born in the Netherlands, at the age of 14 I requested a British passport and that got approved, all my family lives in the UK. that is why I officialy have 2 nationality's.

What do I do for the HackForums community?

I am trying to stay as HQ as possible, I want to let people know that everyone is the same, and I want to let people know that everyone has a right.

I have had a time where I could not afford alot of stuff, So I have been in the position of people that are not able to buy a certain product, that is why I try to sell my products as cheap as possible.

I want to let every person enjoy a product, does not matter if they are rich or poor.

Everyone is the same in my eyes, I don't care if you are a 1k+ reputation or 20 reputation, behind every account is a person.

I try to keep HackForums as clean as possible, I try to contribute as much as I can and that is why I try to keep the VIP section and the Give-Away section on HF as clean as possible, so members know what the rules on HackForums are.

I like to do Give-Aways but I think that it is not a perfect way of thanking everyone of the community. (my opinion)

My products :

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4427944>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4473988>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4472057>

My generator is updated daily and I want to make keep it as HQ as possible, the price is 1,50$ because of the reason that I stated above.

I gained about 35+ customers in the first 2 week, and I still gain customers every single day.

What can I do for Specialists?

I love to do small Give-Aways within this community, I think that I can reach a large part of the group, and that I can thank every single person by giving away something they like.

I can contribute tutorials in the name of Specialists, I have alot that I can teach people and I would not mind to put it in the name of Specialists.

Why do I want to join specialists?

I think that this group has a really mature attitude, I heard alot of great things about it and I hope that I can learn alot, I am not perfect, I maybe know alot, but not everything, I can learn something every single day, and I hope that I can learn alot more, I also want to share my current knowlegde with the members that are in the group.

I will do my best to stay as HQ as possible in and outside of the group and I will do my best to do proud to the name Specialists.

A little bit about me :

I was born and raised in the Netherlands, and as a kid I was forced to learn english.

I don't mind now because it comes in very handy in many places.

I really like to hang around with friends, and my live at this moment is great.

I love to lay in my bed and watch a good movie, watch youtube videos and even make videos.

Spoiler (Click to View)

About my 40% warning.

The first 20% is indeed my fault, I tried to sell Netflix in bulk, and I forgot that this is not allowed, mybad.

The second 20% was because I got gang repped, I -3 repped one of them with a text that apparently is not allowed, and I got an extra 20% warning.

Prior marketing/business experience: - My prior knowledge within the marketing world is online and stock. I have succesfully made around $10,000 online and $32,000 with stock (and still going) I plan on making a few services and products to produce income and have fun while doing so. Most people underestimate me because of my age but others see what I can offer.

Successful projects: - My successful projects are here, I also buy and sell online accounts.

A little about yourself: - My name is Bronson, I live with my mom on he weekdays and dad every other weekend, I am quite the fanatic of marketing and crypto-currency. I have a 3.9 GPA and am a very good listener. My friends see me as a right hand man to help them with ways of making money, one of my friends actually invested into stocks and he made $150 and sold his shares. I am a Slovenian/American boy and can speak decent Slovenian. I am a Satanist who is basically atheist with stronger morals. I have 3 chronic diseases that limit my time online, but not often, those diseases include: Chron's Disease, Colitis and Asthma. If you have any questions about religion, philosophy, marketing and business shoot me a PM.

Why you think you should be accepted: - I believe I should be accepted because I am loyal. I stick to my word and get the job done. I am an aspiring leader of a high school business/marketing club. The high school which I hope to attend is the home of are fellow developer Charles Geschke, 1956 - Co-founder of Adobe Systems went to school here and is making billions. I am also a singer and song writer, and a want to be philosopher. My friends know me as the "business man" especially my soon-to-be girlfriend, she always bugs me and tells me to stop worrying about my stock and the price of Bitcoin. I am a very humble guy and can be if tormented to be crazy. Hackforums user's who have not talked to me don't really know what I can and can't be. following languages (C#, Visual Basic (including web based services), Java, PHP and MySql).

My knowledge in programming has lead me to create a popular Remote Administration Tool by the name of Imminent Monitor, which I have been passionate about for 3.5 years (I programmed the back-end 2 years before releasing the product).

After a year and a half of release I still update this product weekly with new innovations and fixes.

I can create almost anything in my field which is truly why I considering programming to be my highest specialty.

What I can provide for the group:

Considering I have extensive knowledge in programming I can provide members of the group tutorials, not generic tutorials, tutorials on how to actually write clean, beautiful code.

I can create any personal application that the group may need or want (repos, high advanced and encrypted chat applications with ranks, profiles and much more)

If any member needs help in my field I can help as soon as I can, I should be able to answer any question.

Thanks for reading my application.

About me:

My name is Mike and i work in IT for my full time job. Now that my life has settled down i am very active. In my line of work I take care of clients who have issues regarding anything from viruses to rebuilding servers (which can be a pain if they have Active Directory) Now, that wont necessarily help anyone in the group, but the point I'm making is, I'm very good at trouble shooting and problem solving. I am constantly having to make Guides/tutorials for our clients regarding different things like configuring a router or setting up a VPN. Mind you these documents have to be very Dumb'd down for some of our clients so they require me to be very thorough. Grant these documents are made "Professional" looking by either our project manager or HR as i just layout all the tech information. I have a few ideas for the group to be more efficient and would like to share them as i think it could help make the group more successful.

Why i deffer from others:

I feel i differ from others because of what i do for a living and what it can bring to the group. Being in the IT field i have licensing for almost any type of software you could need and if we don't then i can get it. Also accepting me would be equivalent to hiring 20 people as if something is too complex or if everyone is unsure or an issue then i have others who have also been in the field longer to help. Mind you this isn't just related to Viruses or Server Re-building, this includes Network Engineering, Software Development (C#) and management. I also differ because i work with helping people and "Giving Back" sort of speak all day 5+ times a week so this is second nature to me now. Also as a bonus I have servers that are sitting here waiting to be used as i havent found a good use for them except to play around with and learn about different things.

?Special - October 28, 2014, 4:26 pm

Hi.

I won't do this the way everyone does it, linking hundreds of threads where I donated 0.10c to everyone (no offence) . I will do this my way since it's a free application.

I'd like to start with introducing myself. My real name is Eric but over the internet you will see me as Special . Why Special ? I like the name. (Yes, I have to like it, not you !) . I am 21 years old and live in Romania. For those who don't know where Romania is (trust me, there are people who don't know that, and if you are one of them you should be ashamed), it is located kind of in the middle of Europe.

Enough geographical talk. My skillset isn't a list, there are a few little things that I love.

First of all, I'm into gaming. I've been gaming for as long as I remember, starting out with a PC with Windows95 on it. I've been through a lot of games, but the only ones worth mentioning are Counter Strike 1.6 (i was a high rank admin on the well known platform PlayZeek for about 1 year and I attended numerous competitive scenes, like Dreamhack and PGL Cup.) and League of Legends, a game that I play out of fun (Gold IV if it matters).

Second of all, I loooove graphics (yes, a lot of Os) . Why ? Because I find it amazing creating something that belongs to you, which you can share diggitaly.

Why did I join HF ?

Honestly, I joined HF for a shadow tutorial in Photoshop that i've seen and for the diversity of things you can learn.

Last but not least, I want to join the Specialists because it's a group where you can join with any skillset. I can teach and be taught. I can respect but only if I get respect.

I really hope you will consider this application and find out that i'm a good asset to this group.

INTRODUCTION

Saying something about me isn't that easy but I'll try to be concise. I grew up under certain circumstances that led me to be that silent and quite guy. I wasn't shy, no, I just couldn't talk without being insulted and/or diminished. I came to a point where all I wanted to do is to get my own money and not to ask anything at all, so I left school at 17 and immediately went to work. I worked hard, over 14 hours a day for several months. All of this has helped me to grow and my mind became something I started to love. At this point I have my own company which I work on everyday as every job out there. The love of my life, though, has always been internet and the computer and I assure you I will start a new business out of it.

SKILL SET

I used to program when I had more time to invest, PhP and Obj-C were my languages. Now I lost most of them since my time to code is almost null. My skill set? I'd say:

Social Engineering - as an entrepreneur I'm always in touch my my customers and I developed quite a good communication skill. I can easily persuade and lead people to do what I have in mind. I do also have interests in psychology and I can read real people intentions without them telling me.

Loyalty - I'm one of those you'd love to have at your side. I give everything to my brothers. I love to help and I'm always fair and impartial. You could blind jump off a cliff without being scared because I'd be there to catch you. If I'm betrayed tho, be sure you jump off a cliff because I will hunt you down in every way known to me and beyond.

Marketing - As my primary job consists in selling my company products, I'm quite good at this. I've been trying out different things lately and I'm gonna test more.

My mind - I consider my mind a skill. It's wide open and hungry of knowledge. Maybe thanks to the way I grew up, I developed a mind which isn't really normal.. If there's something on my way be sure I'll find another. I never stuck on something, I do always find that little secret way to pass it.

Motivation and focus - I HATE giving up, it's something I don't conceive. When I set a goal I will do everything do reach it. Nothing can change my mind.

BENEFITS I'D PROVIDE

I have knowledge in a wide range of things and most of the times I can assist/help people independently from the field.

I can help you in marketing and to optimize your business to catch the costumer's eyes and give a trusted feeling.

I can help you with your computer and especially your mac, if you have an issue we will resolve it. I can help you.

NOTES

I've been a Legion member;

I'm the co-owner of a development team that has developed an app (i've already been asked info about this and I won't involve it on this forum as it's something legit and something I care of - believe it or not, it's your choice);

I'm a musician as well, I sing and play both piano and guitar;

In the little free time I have left, I enjoy playing too.

I'm an owl. I quietly observe you hidden in the dark and shadows. Once you realize I'm there, it's too late. I've already gathered all I needed.

What are your skills?: I am very fluent with Mybb, and Mybb plugins. Along side that with programming and photo design(photoshop)

Do you have any evidence of this?: <http://mlgforums.pw> and other forums.

Why should we accept you?: Obviously because I am the best ever (jk). I believe that I would be a very unique member, which is what I see that specialists is aiming for.

Anything else?: Nope, I believe this is it. But feel free to ask me any more questions if you would like.

Wirt - November 1, 2014, 12:50 pm

Name: Nick (Or Vash the Stampede, but my name changes once every three months or so to keep on top of things. :))

Age: 16

Background On Me:

I am a 16 year old dude that goes to school and chats with friends etc etc. I am extremely social, emphasis on extremely. I was born and raised in the United States of America. I don't currently have a job because I have sports and schoolwork to do most days, but if I don't I hang out with friends or jump on HF and chat with friendly people on here. A-lot of people from Instinct that occasionally browse the lounge once in a while see me post stuff here and there and engage in conversations.

My skill set:

Social Skills - I have very good social skills might I say. I love talking to people and I am never really socially awkward. Talking to people is my hobby. I love smiling and saying "hi" to people and asking how their day went, to show them I care, and to put a smile on their face too.

Computer/Technological skills - Since a very young age, at about 5 I would say, is when I started to get into computers. My parents had an old Windows 98 PC that I sat on a lot of times playing games and actually surfing the web (at age 5). I didn't really search for much, but it always entertained me. At age 9 I got my own Xbox 360 to play with, which I, not too long after I got it, "JTagged" it. I felt pretty good about myself at that time. At age 13, built my own computer on my own, which I ordered all of the parts of NewEgg and TigerDirect. Since then, among my peers and relatives, I am known as a "computer wizard" that can fix almost anything. I have a passion for technology, when new technology comes out I want it, not necessarily to play it, but to analyze it and discover it's mechanics. It interests me.

My Perseverance - This kind of goes hand-in-hand with my technological skills. Since I was a young kid, like I mentioned, I played on the PC a-lot. Many times in my tenure with technology, I have ran into software and hardware problems. I never had enough money to take it to a computer repair shop, because they charge way too much. So, I fixed the stuff on my own. I searched on the internet for solutions, as well as trial and error on my part. I NEVER gave up on anything. I always keep going until my goal is accomplished.

What I Could Bring To The Community:

I could bring an upbeat positive attitude to the Subforum as well as the whole community as a whole. There has never came a time where I have been negative minded, and I bet there never shall. I like to participate in group activities, socialize, and be flat out friendly! :)

Extra Notes:

Thank you for reading this application! Even if I am not accepted, it means a-lot to know you didn't just skip right over my application. :)

And that is proving you can do what you say you can, and proving you are who you are.

If you can code, show some of your projects.

If you make money online, show your methods and proof.

If you can juggle on a beam, show a video.

That's all I got, good luck ?Normally I wouldn't have imagined accepting somebody for a talent that doesn't contribute to HF in any way. I would however consider making an exception for somebody who juggles on a beam if the objects are on fire. They must say my name to prove it's them. ?

Skillset: I've been on this forum for a couple years. I started out skidding around with website hacking, I became competent in nearly every public website hacking technique SQLi, XSS, RFI, LFI, Directory Traversal, and more. Around that time I started learning languages, I got good with PHP (I can't stand PHP now though), I later learned C, C++, Objective C, Xcode IDE. I'm familiar with quite a few languages which I've had to learn for certain projects such as Perl, Python, and scripting languages like HTML, CSS, etc. I discovered Electrical engineering with the intent of being able to exploit embedded systems. I learned analog which introduced me to fundamental concepts then got very good at digital logic and computer architecture, and in turn assembly. I've got a good understanding with MIPS, x86 architecture and assembly. I'm also very good around OS X with a decent foundation around XNU and memory management. Now I'm getting into exploit writing and exploit development, which is recent and I'm picking it up pretty fast.

I've also got a decent background in monetizing, and in turn had to learn SEO, site hosting and development. I exploited a flaw in a referral program over the course of several months using a chain profiting around $700 in total, but got caught and banned.

Contributions: I'm on this forum every day, most of my current contributions are in the electronics subforum, you can look at any of my recent posts for proof. I don't create a lot of threads but I have sufficient knowledge to write a lot of tutorials which I wouldn't mind putting them in the name of Specialists. I also used to spend time in website hacking and beginner hacking helping other people out. I'm a very friendly guy towards a lot of the users, I will say I need to work on being nicer towards everyone, but that isn't a problem to keep up the respected persona of specialists.

Why should I be accepted? I really like the idea of this group, because I'm very specialized myself. Very few people on this forum are versed in my skillset, and I think that's what you guys are looking for. I'd love to help contribute to your subforum and make tutorials in subjects that are somewhat unknown to hackforums that can really help. ?

ZuGgY - November 4, 2014, 7:12 am

Name: ZuGgY

Gender: M

Explain, with examples, the skills you possess:

- Decent with computers.
- Learning to code soon hopefully over time.
- Able to type over 90 WPM.
- Great listener and friend. I'm here to help, not only benefit myself.
- Decent spelling and grammar.
- Well educated.
- Always up to date with news and tech.

I honestly don't believe I have much skills, sorry.

Which section are you most active in and why?

The Lounge, because I find that's where all the action takes place on this forum. It's the most vivid and active forum of all, and where all the general talk goes on, sorta reminds me of those coffee houses or lounges in the Wild West of USA during the 1800s.

Why do you want to join Specialists?:

To get to know more people and friends. To become apart of another clan, besides my other 2 current groups. I want to also learn more skills than my current boring ones like coding, sharing music, etc.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are.:

Hi, I go by ZuGgY on most forums. I consider myself a high music enthusiast, you can always catch me listening to music and headphones either on Spotify, YouTube, Pandora on my PC, or on my iPod. IRL I'm pretty shy and quiet, but on the internet, it's different as you can be whoever you want to me. I like to keep to myself and stay out of trouble in all situations, unless it involves friends or family, in which I'm loyal to. I feel obligated to help as best as I can when someone is in need of help, such as talking with people that have issues going on (such as feeling suicidal) and helping them out to cheer them up.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

Family and being able to support them first. That will always be first. First comes hard work, then the fun play time.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

Honestly, it's the members, activity, sections, and posts. HF is a great way to get to know people that you never have to meet IRL and keeps the time going by fast. Yes, there's a lot of bad shit here as well such as the hateful members, but I believe there's much more pros than cons, such as this being the largest MyBB forum on the internet.

Anything else you would like to say:

No, thank you for your time to read my application and have a great day.

Aeonian. - November 4, 2014, 10:18 am

My name is Aeonian. Well, that's obviously not my real name. I noticed the the MyBB help desk by the Specialists which was just set up. This made me interested in The Specialists, and after some more digging, this group seemed to fit me very well.

Some quick, general information about me :Been on Hackforums since 2011

Getting more active again after a long break a couple of months ago.

Currently in the last year of High School

Multilingual education program (English is not my native language)

For starters, I want to list some skills of mine, and elaborate on why I think this is something I specialize in.

Graphics Design: I have been experimenting with Photoshop for about three or four years now. It always intrigued me how people could create beautiful websites or thread designs. Recently, I felt that I needed to broaden my skill set so I bought downloaded Adobe Illustrator and started to do some experimenting. I would not consider myself a specialist with Adobe Illustrator just yet, but I am learning. My Portfolio can be viewed here

Forums: Even before I started working with Photoshop I was really interested in Forums and anything Mybb. I jumped on board of a Music forum project and that is where I really got most of my experience with Mybb. I worked days on that forum. After some time, we decided to switch to IPBoard to enhance our features. After that i've been hopping on projects which had to do with Forums. Sadly, all of them died out, so I have no examples to show.

Anything website-related: Due to the various amounts of forums I had worked on, I got more comfortable with cPanel, DirectAdmin, HTML, CSS and PHP. I know my way around cPanel easily. I wouldn't call myself a website designer, but that is something I am now learning. I can, however, assist members with solving bugs, editing HTML or any other website related problems.

Aside from these specialties I am knowledgeable on a broad aspect of subjects: Translation (EN - NL | NL - EN | DU - EN)

Rewriting

Computing

Social Engineering

Web Hosting

Cracking

I can assist users with simple problems about these subjects.

Being a member of this group would greatly enhance my skill set. However, not only mine, I feel that I am a good addition to the group because I will be able to broaden the knowledge of members. I have always loved writing tutorials because I think that tutorials are something members can benefit greatly from. With my near-native English background, I am able to create step-by-step tutorials which are easy to follow and clear of grammatical errors.

I can also assist other members at for instance the MyBB help desk. I love helping people and I feel that this group would be a good place to share my knowledge.

What have you done for the community?:

I have been on hack forums for about 2 years I started out in legion teaching people how to hack and helping them with certain tasks etc... I then started a group called AIA where we investigated suicides and investigated many things witch came out to benefit alot of members on this site and alot of people who flooded our website with requests for an investigation.We also were responsible for 20 or more tutorials on hackfourms and our website. Since that was disbanded I have done many many giveaways and a few very nice tutorials.I am always on peoples helpdesks and get random pms all the time to help out.I have been in more then 10 groups on hackfourms and due to many groups selling and my 2 month vacation from hackfourms I am now down to two but I am working back up to all of them. I ran the complexity marketing sector for a good while and that was responsible for a few nice product launches and many tutorials over 15 I believe.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

I am willing to lead a sector within your group or just be an active member always coming up with great ideas and presenting them to you very organized. Some that will promote activity of the group within and out of the sub forum as well as some that can make the group a decent amount of money.I also will continue my path of owing my own website development and marketing firm and will teach hackfourms in the name of Specialists some of the skills I specialize in.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

You should select me because I am loyal to the group you'll never see me fighting with fellow group members I always turn the other cheek when its someone within one of the groups I am in.You will always see me standing up for and defending fellow members and leaders.As well as following our members and leaders posts and threads and promoting activity there.Thats what I loved about The Empire early on as well as Infamous we would all follow each-others posts and threads and you would see a spark of intelligent activity on every thread with that same userbar in many of the posts.

Thankyou for taking the time to read my application I am always available via skype to talk or if you want to know more about me don't hesitate to ask.

Hey , I did indeed but let's look into it allitle bit more. I typed this one up first awhile before the enterprise one. I also saw the enterprise did not specify a set questions and I liked the questions you guys asked to be answered so why not put them into that application ?
