Annoyed Of Someone On Your LAN Using All Speed ?

Today i am going to show a great tool to cut off someone's Internet Connection on your LAN for any purpose eg : Increase your Download speed or even to piss them off . First Download a tools know as NETCUT :

<http://www.arcai.com/arcai-netcut-faq/free-download-netcut.html> (Official Site)

First Open Netcut , It Will Automatically Scan Your Network.Then Select The Connection You Want To Cut And Click The Button Which State "Cut Off (Ready)".

[img]http://gxf.net/images/2014/09/28/Screenshot_131edc.png[/img]

Then You Will See That the Connection Is "OFF" , To Resume Click "Resume" Button.

Then For Sure The Connection Will Be Down And You Will Enjoy Full Speed Downloading . ?

Note : You Can Protect Yourself By Checking The Box On The Left-Top-Corner Which State "Protect My Computer"

That's a nice way, or you can filter their MAC address in the Router Configuration page. Lol.

This works, but this is more of a prank program, who would do that?

Netcut is highly detectable if you don't change your hostname and MAC address. Fortunately Netcut has a MAC address changer which you should have included in your tutorial or else you might get some skids flaming at you.

Pretty decent tutorial, would be a great one if you included changing your MAC address aswell.
