Thread: Menu Navigator - A library where you can make your own menu

Hey guys , I just wanted to know your opinion about my code because I never trust myself if I am not an expert anyway . So this library gives you the ability to make a menu with movable pointer . It's bugfree as I saw but I don't know if this Algo is a good one . So what's your opinion guys ?

Note : It comes with a CommandLine Design Library I made .

Don't scan the RAR file, scan either a ZIP or the exe file it self

Upload source on git, much easier for us to read.

Ahm yeah , actually it's source code not a DLL so VirusTotal was useless here anyway , I scanned it because of "Safety" , it looks better and more safer even if it's not . :P

To be honest I've never used github , well here we are :
