Thread: Group Userbars to Link to Respective Group SFs

Effexion - October 5, 2014, 7:27 am

I know the group's SFs are only two clicks away from anywhere. To a lot of people this is nothing, but for those that like me have crappy connections or are forced to use a crappy tablet with crappy navigation, this can take an eternity.

I just feel it would be so easy to implement, yet possibly help many.

Simply™ - October 5, 2014, 7:28 am

This sounds like a good idea. It makes sense too.

Truzzie - October 5, 2014, 7:29 am

Bookmarking is easy enough, don't think this is a must.

Bro? - October 5, 2014, 9:41 am

But what about people that accidentally click on it and takes them an eternity to load and then get back out

Just book mark the page.

Storm- - October 5, 2014, 9:51 am

We could always just make a userscript to do that same thing?

But he's talking about that feature because it'd help with tablets, ever used the Tampermonkey App on Android? It sucks - hard.

Hmm this might actually be a good idea.

I would love to see this added.

I usually go into My Posts and press the instinct thingy on there lol

Assets - October 5, 2014, 9:58 am

I'd really like to see links plugged on userbars!

(Oct 5, 2014 09:59 AM)- Sam - Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I honestly don't like the idea, it doesn't take you long to navigate to the group subforum.

It takes me ages, dude. I am sure many are in same boat too. This is unbelievably slow. Even after a restore.

Thanks for your support, guys.

prada ? - October 5, 2014, 10:35 am

I don't see why not, makes things more convenient.

He's talking about slow-loading tablets, not everyone has fully-functional high-speed computers at their disposal.

I'm talking load times, man. 3 clicks is an eternity to some.

Niely - October 5, 2014, 10:39 am

I don't support this.

Because it's very ugly for people who aren't in that group to see "You're not allowed to see this page" if they miss-click or something.

I think bookmarking is fair enough.

khaleesi - October 5, 2014, 10:39 am lol stop being a bitch and make a bookmark.

Tibit - October 5, 2014, 10:40 am

I don't think this would happen as all groups have a few hundred people in total, which is a small % of the members here.

Bookmarking would be easiest, think if you accidentally clicked userbars of groups you're not in, that would annoy you very quickly. I know the tablet you use, you should try installing some userscripts on it, would make things easier for you and it's something you can implement without having to wait for a possible change on the site.

I hear you, man. But how often is someone really going to accidentally click a UB? I tried installing HFES yesterday. Sadly, I had no joy.

(Oct 5, 2014 10:46 AM)- Sam - Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Get better internet, then your loading times will be efficient as fuck.

We don't need this type of feature, nobody has ever had problems before.

Getting better internet is always easier said than done when tied up in a contract. Also, can you please tell me exactly how you know that no one has had this problem before?

I wouldn't even call this a solution to a problem as such. More of a way of making life easier for users.

webdev77 - October 5, 2014, 5:25 pm

Bookmark the subforum if it's an issue. I don't think increasing page loading time is worth it by adding tons of links to each page.

Un-Named - October 5, 2014, 6:17 pm

I don't get it, does your tablet not support the bookmarking feature?

Tonight - October 5, 2014, 7:00 pm

More add-ons on the page would just slow everyone down even more.

420 Blaze It - October 5, 2014, 7:44 pm

The sight will slow down a lot because of it.

This. Only a small % of users are involved with groups and having a special feature just for them seems useless.

It is not needed and is illustrated in your own quote.

Quote:I know the group's SFs are only two clicks away from anywhere.

Bookmark the page it will take you the same amount of time.

Omniscient - October 6, 2014, 12:27 am

More links per page means more slow page loading. Sort of defeats the purpose you want it for.
