Thread: Snapchat Banning/Perm Deleted.

b?xxy - October 6, 2014, 10:22 pm

DO NOT DELETE SNAPCHAT ACCOUNTS TO PUT THE USERNAME ON FRESH ACCOUNTS.

Did a deal with someone, and did the same routine I always did when dealing with putting Snapchats on a fresh account by deleting them, and making an account with the username really fast.

However, it said the username was taken already.

So I had thought that the person selling me the account was sitting there waiting for me to take it, or some random person turboed it or something.

When I went to my Snapchat to send it a Snapchat, it said: "Couldn't find ***"

I think that it deleted/permanently banned the account.

EDIT:

I gave this user a Snapchat account to make up for the bad deal, and he deleted it to put on a new account, and it's gone now.

Nice. All I'm saying is that I lost @internal on Snapchat.

This isn't the account I dealt with, I have this to him for compensation of the bad deal.

Are you sure it doesn't just take a little bit to register in the Snapchat server that the username is infact not used anymore?

MaZe. - October 7, 2014, 1:47 pm

Ya I was told by 630 that his happened to someone who bought his SC as well.

It's been around 18 hours, and it's in the same condition it's been.

SWS. - October 7, 2014, 2:23 pm

This is interesting.

I used this method on a Snapchat that I purchased from someone a few weeks ago and it worked but I guess something has changed since then.

If you are talking about deleting the account, and signing up with the username right after you delete it, do NOT do that anymore.

I just tested this with some dummy accounts a while ago, it's confirmed.
Unfortunately..

Aura Jr. - October 7, 2014, 6:32 pm

Try to wait 24 hours, it may work then. But I haven't used snapchat in ages.

Manny - October 7, 2014, 6:32 pm

Well thanks to this thread now I won't be thinking of buying OG snapchats.

Silv - October 7, 2014, 10:20 pm

Couldn't you contact support and say a family member had deleted it or something?

Not really sure about that, I will be trying this soon.

To be determined what happens.

Eh.

I lost the username 'Yoshi' to this.

That's why I made this thread.
