Thread: [\[RAT\] University connection problem : Can't execute the RAT](#)

rmxrami - October 7, 2014, 7:16 pm

Hi everyone,

I recently installed a njRAT v0.7 on my girlfriend's PC, it runs from her home but not to her dormitory because of the connection that I imagine must block 80/443/22/25 port. Bebe-pleure Does anyone have an idea for my problem so I can know if I can get engaged (lol).

Thank you for your help!

Anonmoosekaab - October 7, 2014, 7:29 pm

You need to make sure njRAT isn't using any of those ports. Also use an encrypted connection so the university firewall won't be able to block it. But a word of warning - don't get in trouble with the school for something like this.

First of all thank you for responding to my problem immediately

How can i make sure of this?

Is there a way to check which ports of the university are open ?

indeed i'm using my own connection.

Do you advise me to use a VPN? which one?

Thanks a lot for your precious help.

Just out of interest why do you wanna rat your girlfriends PC. Are you suspicious of something ?

rmxrami - October 8, 2014, 1:09 pm

Hi Tomb Raider,

Yes exactly, i'm suspicious and because I'm totally sincere in the relationship I hope I won't find some things that i would not be able to forgive.

rmxrami - October 9, 2014, 5:35 pm

I'm a little be lost, Please can someone help me ?! :(

I hope he gets caught and she tells everybody.

I want OPs life to get fucked up by this.

rmxrami - October 9, 2014, 6:16 pm

what do you mean ? Lazy ? i didn't get it, can you just reformulate it with classic words please? thank you.

We are on a hacking forum where we talk about spyware, I do not use this software in order to defraud anyone but in order to make sure the person I'm about to share me gives as much respect as I give her.

And believe me if you knew the nature of my approach you will understand me. kind regards

Am I going against one of the rules of the forum? if so thank you from me emphasize that.

DumpCake - October 9, 2014, 7:30 pm

I do have to admit RATING your girlfriend is fucked up dude. Even if you figure out she is doing something how to you present this to her? Good luck, scumbag.

"gives as much respect as I give her."

You give her no respect, not even respect for her privacy. You are illegally spying on her every move and you call that "Respect"?

You're a fucking idiot.

we are not supposed to hide anything to each other. I have shared a lot with her in my life and I've never made him stumble.

I have sacrificed many things for her and she has not always been indebted to me. I have no reason to justify myself but you do not know me and you know nothing of the reasons that drives me to spy on so stop judging me.

So forgive me for wanting to make sure that the woman who will may be the mother of my children is what it claims to be.

You distrust her and are spying on her.

I highly doubt she would want to be the mother of your children.

Sorry but you're not one to judge my relationship, and it deviates too much from the subject. I have the opportunity to make sure 100% that it does not mistaken, she has nothing to hide me because as I told you we exceed a level of intimacy. I think therefore legitimate to want to make sure that the person has changed as it claims that I do not commit myself to a relationship without interest. With all the respect I owe you ought to look at other subject, you are obviously not a big help for me and on the contrary you pollute my topic

So you have sex with her who cares? You two are probably horny 15 year olds experimenting with each other.

@Ontopic:

Downloading the key logs when she comes home would probably be the only way.

iKick - October 11, 2014, 2:00 am

Spying isn't the way to "solve" your relationship. If you can't trust her, the problem is something deeper.
