(Message to 0x68) I hate to post this; I was hoping we could sort this out. But as you're not even responding to me now)

Hi, 0x68 has Scammed me of $1,142 Sent by Western Union.
I was buying his Network Stressing "Company"; for lack of a better word.

The deal was I pay the full amount $1,200 then he would send everything I need but for the past 3 days he has been putting off accepting the last $58. So I said that I will only send him the last $58 when hes ready to send everything to me. (That was at the beginning of them 3 days)

But it's now dawned on me in the grand scheme of things what's $58 if it means you get away with scamming $1,142 by pushing the last bit of the deal back.

I get little to no response when trying to message him on Skype.

Payment Proof;

<https://gyazo.com/76d215e99509a0ddb65473c57a8e4bd1>

<https://gyazo.com/0e649a19e0b247d1a7859ddf75742829>

I sent him just under £800 GBP around $1,100 USD

Here is the Skype chat's we have had a long chat on Skype so it's all a bit of a read.

1.) <http://pastebin.com/8573JRxV>

2.) <http://pastebin.com/dkxivZTa>

I don't recommend at this time doing any business with this user. Not sure what I can really do about this. I will get into contact with Western Union.

EDIT::

0x68 has contacted me on Skype. He has sent over aces to the website hosting. BUT he can't give me access on the site as you guys are DDosing it. namecheap has sent him an email which he has shown me saying that they have temporary disabled the site due to DDOS attacks so please stop the attacks.

This has been resolved. I have received what I have paid for.

420 Blaze It - October 11, 2014, 3:47 pm

Kenjataimu - October 11, 2014, 3:49 pm

This is exactly why nobody wanted to buy his "company"

?Gohan - October 11, 2014, 3:54 pm

Unfortunately I checked his history out to late, he had a few "offers" for his company and I thought nothing of it. Hopfully my loss will put an end to him doing business on HF

You're a complete idiot for dealing with him despite the abundant amount of valid scam reports; you deserve to lose this money.

PS: That's his real name on the WU transaction, take him to court.

@OP, if you need help with the legal matters and or contacting his parents, I can help.

Socrates???? - October 11, 2014, 5:29 pm

You cant really place charges on him. You were trying to buy an illegal stress testing company. Now there is a lot more you can do than placing charges, ofc that would probably result in you not getting your money back.

You're an idiot, OP doesn't need to press charges; OP can take this moron to small claims and win his money back if he really wants to, and there's nothing illegal about network stress testing

Just spoke to Western Union they are doing a "investigation" but the guy on the phone sounded like he had no clue, they want me to contact my local Police and get them to Contact Western Union. But Basically because he has picked up the money they basically said theirs crap all they can do..

I phoned my bank and the last £400 transaction is pending. To release the funds to me they need Western Union to send them a fax which WU basically point bank refused to do.

They said their as another department that maybe able to help once the funds have left my bank account but they aren't open at the moment. Makes me laugh how they can't just press a cancel button... and stop the funds from leaving but hey I'm no wanker... I mean Banker.

I'm just probably going to end up putting this down to experience, but I really don't recommend anyone doing bussniess with OX68..

I really hope people can track him down. He hinted he'd pay me at the end of the month but really now he could have been talking to anyone, I was messaging him and he ignored the messages but changed his status to "End of the month" But he seems to owe a lot of people money so that could have been to anyone about anything.

Just don't do anything you guys will regret or can't take back

+Wolf - October 13, 2014, 5:30 pm

Finally this retard got caught by someone. I hope you can take this scam report to legal authorities.

SideButton - October 13, 2014, 5:32 pm

The name on the western union is correct. This user has also run scams in real life relating to admin secretarial work.

hyhyhhrf3 - October 13, 2014, 5:37 pm

I'd be happy to see his head on a pike

I feel you. But this guy has gotten so many chances. I posted on a thread that he owes me $250 and he started sending PM's "He's at his limit, has personal problems(went into more detail) and he has to pay hospital bills" So I tried to be understanding but 3 months later still nothing ? Spoiler \(Click to View\)

The only regret I will have is letting him get away with doing this to so many people.

Well on the bright side he's sitting on $1,142 so he has the money to pay you back.... (Sorry I have to find some bright side of this situation other wise i would go insane)

SideButton - October 13, 2014, 6:14 pm

Yup probably wasn't his brightest move coming onto one of my threads calling me a "fucking retard".

eightz - October 13, 2014, 6:26 pm

I was going to buy it. Sounded too good to be true though.

Timo - October 13, 2014, 6:41 pm

You should've checked out his scam reports.

He has many of them.

?Nuski - October 13, 2014, 8:05 pm

Probably why he was banned I always thought he would do something like this he always been sketchy in my eyes

Jeremy White - October 14, 2014, 4:00 am

If this is the thread I'm thinking of ~ you were an idiot for doing it in the first place. Didn't he claim the stresser was making $600-1k per day and he wanted to sell it for $1.3k or something silly? Use your common sense next time.

hyhyhhrf3 - October 14, 2014, 10:23 am

Seems like all of my posts were removed :(sad day

?Gohan - October 14, 2014, 10:42 am

Look on the bright side. At least you didn't get any warnings :P but they did make me laugh, sad to see them gone

hyhyhhrf3 - October 14, 2014, 1:52 pm

Little update: Called 0x68, he answered, but screamed and cursed for a good 5 minutes before hanging up. Then we called his mother, no answer

Guys can you call of the ddos on <http://network-stressing.net/>

Ox68 is currently talking to me on skype and he has given me the access I need. we are finishing up the deal. but for now until it's finished I'm keeping this thread open. But I need to be able to get access to the site and namecheap has disabled the site temporary due to DDos attacks. so please stop DDosing the site.

Billie Joe - October 14, 2014, 4:08 pm

He is ignoring me on Skype, might make a report of my own.

?Gohan - October 14, 2014, 4:17 pm

I am closing this scam report as I have now received what I have paid for.

I caution everyone to deal with caution with any member. and don't make my mistake use a middle man on big transactions.

It is not going to make the money it is making as it's been closed + DDOS'd for a while, but good luck lad.
