Thread: Indian Crypter

So I got scammed by satanrulze, and you can view the scam report here:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4491580>

I bought the Builder source code just to re-design the GUI and add some basic code to it. I don't know .NET and I don't know if the code is useful or not. I also don't know if the stub source is included. Maybe there is something useful on it, maybe not. I really wouldn't know.

Just do with it whatever you like, I really don't care.

100% legit scammer!

I also opened a community alert thread as well.

For any skids out there that want to take this source and make a small change and claim it as your own. Just note that you need Visual Studio 2013.

Well. Thats a nice builder. Where is the stub source :P?

The crypter itself is a piece of shit, with tons of shitty junk code and copy-pasted functions. «I bought the Builder source code» you just have been analed literally dawg

I believe you're confusing the deal disputes and coding section.

If you're going to use this thread to ask attention for a scammer, take it elsewhere.
