Nasyr - October 24, 2014, 3:31 pm

Introduction

Welcome, Hack Forums and MyBB enthusiasts to my MyBB service thread. My name is Nasyr and I have more than 7 years experience working on the MyBB Project.

This experience has allowed me to learn a lot and build up quite a knowledge in the front. I've owned many forums in the past and developed much more for clients.

Today I introduce this service back on Hack Forums where I'll be offering a verity of services as well as add-ons such as priority support.

The Service

I will be offering a verity of services across the MyBB Project. Going from development to the updates as well as further advanced support.

I'll meet any requirements you need within limitations. You'll be able to get the following services from me;

Installation, Merging Forums, Editing Core Files, Security Protection, Updates and Upgrades, Plugin & Theme Configuration & more!

The Process

If you are interested in these services then, by all means, do send me a Private Message with all the requirements.

Upon receiving that information I will give you a price either hourly or in total.

After payment has been made I will begin work on the forums you desire.

*All services include 30 days full support to all clients.

Terms and Conditions

All clients have to make a deposit of 50% of the total expected amount for the service.

In some instances I may require the assistance of a 3rd-party developer, you agree to this.

I have the right to refuse any potential client for any given reason or no reason at all.

There will be no refunds given whatsoever after the initial deposit has been made.

If you cancel this service at any time, any deposits made will not be refundable.

You are paying for the time spent on the development of your forums.

You will receive 30 days support after completion, no further updates after this time period has ended.

I reserve the right to terminate these services if you break any of these Terms and Conditions - this results in no refunds.

If payment is made via PayPal, if you chargeback a Scam Report will be opened against you.

I have the right to alter these Terms and Conditions at any time with no notice.

For the sake of saving time of learning setup, I can see how this can be valuable to people new to the forum scene. Good luck with sales.

So you're going to charge extra for someone to use someone else's work?

Seems legit.

The custom plugins I use on these forums were either custom made for me to use as I like or I paid the creator a good amount to have access and use on other forums I don't own, aslong as I pay an annual fee I can use them where I like :)

I wouldn't use someone else's work like Omniscients MyBB plugins without coming to an agreement with him first.

This is a great service, I know a lot of people who're developing forums using MyBB. Are proficient on setting up alternatives to MyBB?

This is a service for people who aren't good with MyBB not to mention I have access to custom plugins I've made and others have made that I bought the rights to use on any forum I want to.

Additionally I can offer more than the standard MyBB experienced person, I've been told my the Support Team of MyBB I am a Guru, so that shows I've got more than the standard person.

NoSuchAgency - January 2, 2015, 11:11 pm

What plugins do you have? I'm not interested in any installation or work. Just might want to buy a few private plugins if they are decent.

I don't resell plugins, they are only included in any services I'm offering.
