Thread: [\[ENTERPRISE\] \[Tutorial - MyLikes\] - Lets make some money together!](#)

Limited Edition - October 26, 2014, 3:06 am

I signed up for MyLikes a few weeks back and I have been posting content randomly once per day or every second day when I remembered. I noticed over about 2 to 3 weeks with no effort at all I have made $20.

I thought to myself, this is earning very slowly. I knew with a little more effort I could make some nice money using MyLikes. I see users making $1000's every day on MyLikes.

MyLikes runs a daily contest where the person who earns the most money gets an extra $100. After you see how much the winners of the contest earned you will question why MyLikes even gives them an extra $100 lol.

This is previous winners of the daily contest with their daily earnings:

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Here is today's leaders so far and the day is only a couple of hours old:

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

These guys must have a huge following on social media or have their own websites/blogs that get a lot of traffic. Now, I do not have access to a huge following so I came up with the idea how the users of HF can all help each other earn money while earning themselves.

How do I earn from MyLikes? It's simple, you share content that is provided and you get paid for every person that visits the content. I picked a random post and here is how much you will earn every time somebody clicks it:

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

As you can see I earned $1.59 from 283 clicks. This pays much better than URL shortener sites.

So how can we work together to earn money? I recently noticed that you can create your own content. Others can share your content and earn per click and at the same time YOU will earn royalties. So, I came up with the idea that we can all create new content every day and post the links to our content here for each other to share.

When you share somebody else's content you get paid per click, they also get royalties so you are both earning, they will do the same with your content. I do not know exactly how much a user gets from royalties but I guess it will be less than getting clicks from others content. So if you come here and post your content and don't share others content you are most likely not going to earn as much as a user who is sharing others content.

So you get the idea right? Instead of me posting my content, earning a small amount from clicks and earning no royalties, I could post it here for others to share and earn from and earn some extra $'s from royalties. I can then share other users content and earn per click.

Here is how you create your own content:When on mylikes.com home page click 'See campaigns on likes.com"

Fill out the popup window. Add a title, description(optional) and then upload some images. Spoiler (Click to View)

(Optional) Once you upload a picture you can add item title and description.

I suggest adding at least 10 images but no more than 20, once completed hit 'SUBMIT IMAGE GALLERY' Spoiler (Click to View)

Then wait for your gallery to be accepted. You can see it pending to the right of the main page. Spoiler (Click to View)

After your gallery has been accepted it will look like this:Spoiler (Click to View) Remember, you will earn from getting clicks on their content and they will earn from getting clicks on your content. You will both earn a little extra from royalties.

Each day when you post your link you can just share all the links above your post until you get to your previous post. Together we will get our content seen and shared by a lot more people and should make some nice money together.

Here is my link for others to share and earn from: <http://bethm.viralgalleries.me/smoking-hot-girls>

Ignore the picture titles. I just quickly wrote something for each one. Also the pictures are just some I found on google very quickly. Tomorrows content will be much better. REMEMBER you can't add adult content, sexy clothed content is fine but any nude pictures will not get accepted.

Hmm sounds like a good theory but I want to figure out how those guys have such large audience... So what you are saying is we post our content and that we hope someone here will post it?

Basically, if I "share" your content, I will get paid for every click I get. You will also get paid 'royalties' because I'm using your content to earn. So there should be no 'hoping' people will post it because they would be a fool not too since they will earn from sharing it.

If we have enough of us doing this we will get our posts seen by a much larger audience and others might share them etc..

You want to share some techniques? I really think MyLikes has huge potential to make an actual living from. My target is to try and hit $100 per day, then increase from there. Right now I am only hitting $1-$2 per day so I am a long way off.

Black Hippy - October 27, 2014, 6:43 pm

Seems pretty cool mate, is there any referrals so I can help you out?

Limited Edition - October 27, 2014, 7:34 pm

I don't think there is a referral system any more. I read there use to be but I've searched and found no referral link when I'm logged in. Just sharing each others content will help each other out.

I'm doing lots of research, there must be a way to make some nice money from this. If somebody has a huge following on social media, they could earn some nice money from this.

I was browsing the site and shared a post from the "Partner" tab.

All I see is posts with bikini babes. ?

I've got 1 click so far. ?

How does this work? Only clicking on my link/visiting my domain or one has to view the pictures in the post to get the click.

When they visit the post you shared you get paid lol. I am not 100% if they have to view every pic in the link, I doubt they do.

Try sharing the latest one I made, it might get you some more views since its a bunch of gifs: <http://bethm.viralgalleries.me/r/2tT50> once you are on it hit "share" or "tweet" and you'll get paid per click. ?

Using AddMeFast ect for website hits to your MyLikes page will get you banned very fast. Only get your traffic from Facebook or Twitter or they'll start to question you. Only have a Facebook page with real likers as fake ones are pointless in every way. Simple concept, easy money maker.

Here's my earnings from when I started. I know its not much but anybody with a huge social media following will be able to earn huge amounts daily.

Right now I am trying to build up a social media following on facebook and if anybody wants to do the same I will happily give their page a shout out from mine.

<https://www.facebook.com/youreinstitches> Please like the page, share some of the content on your own page if you wish so you don't have to search for your own content. Also feel free to post in the comments and link people to your page and i'll do the same and we can help each other grow.

If anybody could give me any tips on how to get my page active I would really appreciate it and I will not forget you when I'm hitting the $20 minimum withdrawal daily.

This seems really nice. Have anyone tried sending premium Hitleap traffic that comes from Facebook.

Or shorten the link on twitter to make the traffic come from there.

Or do you have to get a specific source of traffic from a specific Facebook page.

But i will definitely try this it looks good i only need to build a good Facebook user / page. Anyone that has tips on this kind of stuff and is there somewhere i can buy a already done Facebook page with lot's of active user's under a category.

Hey, Limited Edition. Ill add you on Skype.. so we could talk about this. I have over 150,000 followers and growing everyday on Twitter (adult niche). Maybe we could start up a Twitter group..

albastru31 - November 30, 2014, 11:06 pm

How about the gig you bought @LimitedEdition? Is it doing any good?

I've made a group for MyLikes: <https://www.facebook.com/groups/579971175438331/> Feel free to join, and if we can add like 3000 of memebbers and have like 500 daily active, that'd be great!

Slenderman_ - December 2, 2014, 8:25 pm

Well.. I guess its my mistake lol. I signed up for MyLikes and I went ahead and grabbed a gallery. Now I went to ebay to buy 100,000 traffic for $4 and advise the seller to post my link to whatever source he sends his traffic to. I got banned from MyLikes. :(

Nobody is going to sell real views for that cheap. He no doubt used hitleap or some type of bot views lol.

There's no way to cheat it man, you can seo your site with views but I wouldn't directly link to the content.

I'm not 100% sure what you mean? You're trying to share content from the mylikes website?

Simply click share, pick twitter or facebook and then share. You obviously need to be logged in to do this.

If you're still having problems try to explain a little more clearly and i'll try to help.

It's better to use their free domain?

I also have an other domain that I currently don't use but it has a big potential for buzz-news in my area.

Limited Edition - December 6, 2014, 4:39 pm

No, their free sites suck check mine out, its so disorganised and I can't edit it:

<http://bethm.viralgalleries.me/>

I am thinking of creating my own site and making a new mylikes account. I'm pretty sure you'll be able to drive a LOT more traffic and get a LOT more views equalling a LOT more profit than what me and others here are earning.

Do you mind linking me in PM? I won't share it if you want it kept quiet, it would just be nice to watch the progress and see if its worth me starting over or not.

Edit: I added you.

I have an other question, you get paid when they share your content or even when they click the article (I mean when they already clicked it on FB but on-site they see an other one that they like)

Limited Edition - December 6, 2014, 5:41 pm

I didn't get a request? Add me again mjay6453

You only get paid for the clicks (views) if somebody shares your post then its still your post so if their friends click on it then you will still earn.

I am not 100% but I think if they went to your site and views 10 of the contend you shared then you would be paid 10 times. You'll only get paid once per view though so the same person/ip can't view all your content over and over again lol. (They can but you wont be paid for it)

Yes that is permitted. If you have any tips for me how to quickly build up a large following on a page I would really appreciate it. My past attempts have failed because I lack the knowledge to build a large page following and do not wish to spend $100's on ads.

I understand how affiliate marketing works, what I'm trying to point out is the visitors/traffic to your content have to click on the adverts on your website before you get any commission, if all they do is check your image and leave I don't think they will pay you a cent!

I stand to be corrected by a pro.

It's called MyLikes, think of it as sharing a link, if they click a link you get payed. To get a link you can either customize your content or use what MyLikes offers you. Bottom line is, this aint adf.ly or shit like that where you have to click "Skip". Also you cant "add" MyLikes to a website the way you'd add AdSense, most people who do MyLikes advertise them through shoutouts, facebook statuses etc. where all people have to do is click on it hence you get payed. If I go deeper into this I'll get both you and myself confused lol.

Guys, is it only links shared on Facebook/twitter that you can earn from?

Though I don't think this should be the case since you can use your personal domain.

Limited Edition - December 22, 2014, 3:51 am

You can NOT use traffic sites, hitleap or buy traffic. It doesn't work like that, 99.999999..9999% of the time those views are bot views and it will get your account banned. Don't try to cheat the system. I post 1 content every morning (usually hot girls or celebs in bikinis) and I make $1+ per day. After 2 to 3 weeks I make $20 to $30, some days I have posted a lot more and made $5+ per day but I have a lot going on so I don't bother to post more than my daily first thing in the morning post.

You can share the links on any site YOU own. They don't allow you to post on sites you do not own. Lets say you buy ad space on a very busy forum, you get 1000's of clicks and mylikes finds out you do not own the site. They will ban your account.

When you sign up you can enter your own domain and use that, I took the newb route and used the free site then provide. I imagine there is a lot more money to be made if you use your own domain tho.

If you own the profile, page or group you are posting on then its fine. I've also been taking risks and posting in a couple of small groups I do not own.

Other users have been banned for this tho.

What I meant by my post is you can't go spamming forums, sites, chats etc.. with your links because you don't own those sites. If you post on your fb account/page or group then that is fine.

No, you can't just spam the links anywhere. I'm almost certain they can check where the viewer came from and if its from omegle then I assume you will be banned.

Make a test account and test it dude, if it works then you have yourself a nice little auto-pilot method lol

If you wish to do that create a Skype group and share your links. Any LQ post hinting at clicking referral links will end up getting junked instantly from this point forward. I assume you can read, so re-read what this section is about.

I done did it. I initially though it would be possible to do this without hosting the domain name. I hosted it and change the CNAME, everything seems to be alright.

So do we need our own website to make money off this? How do we put in a random link and get people to click it and make us money

CodeAssassin - January 14, 2015, 9:23 pm

Found the info

Where can I drive traffic from?

A custom website is the same as having your own website. Just like you drive traffic to your own website from YOUR social media pages (Facebook, Twitter, Tumblr, etc.), you should drive traffic to your custom website from social media pages that you own or are an administrator on. Please note that you can only post your galleries on accounts that you own. Posting on open groups is not allowed and will lead to the suspension of your account.

If you already have a large audience on another social media site, you should share your custom website's links on those social media sites as a way of growing your presence. Remember, the larger your audience on your website, the greater the potential you have of earning more money on your page. All your earnings from the engagement you generate will also be transferred to you.

Lets say I have a blog based on a topic, but then I maybe put a part at the bottom of the page for mylikes ads that I could put there. Would it be ok even though the blog topic is 100% irrelevant to anything that would be from mylikes? Because I get 5-10k unique page hits a day and want to use mylikes. Maybe get 250 clicks a day?

Yes you could but why would you post random stuff when you could create your own mylikes content to fit your niche/topic? I'm sure if you take the extra time to create the content yourself and match the niche of your blog, you are more likely to get clicks.

Yeah, I came very late. That was a promotion they used to get users to start using it. Now its that big they can afford to drop it to $0.01 with out losing users lol.

Ignore what people are saying. If your traffic ain't coming from social networks, MyLikes don't want your traffic and won't pay up.

SimpleHat - March 4, 2015, 7:07 pm

this is a good method but beware of some of their TOS, so your account doesn't get suspended.

Your account has been suspended

You may have been suspended for any of the following reasons:

Posting MyLikes links on forums/social media pages that you do not control.

Posting misleading/false messages in order to entice people to click on MyLikes links.

Posting MyLikes links on social media profiles which contains excessive adult or offensive language.

Posting MyLikes links on social media profiles which contains porn, hate, malware or spam content.

Posting MyLikes links on social media profiles which contains excessive automated content.

Consistently posting MyLikes links that are irrelevant to your audience.

Excessive repeat posting MyLikes links.

Click spamming using automated techniques/asking people to click on MyLikes links.

Disparaging MyLikes in public forums.

Since all earnings from suspended users are returned to our advertisers, we do not payout any pending balances to suspended users.

We are very focused on advertiser value and we do not charge advertisers for clicks from low quality publishers. We have a very strict policy when it comes to terminating publishers who do not play by these rules.
