Thread: Really pissed off with the Dexter finale.

Veezon - October 31, 2014, 5:15 am

So, I've been watching the TV series Dexter for the past month or two and I ended up watching the finale last night and it sucked. A really shitty ending that left up too many loose ends. I woke up this morning and I can't stop thinking about how bad it was... Really annoying.

Spoiler (Click to View)

I never fucking liked Hannah McKay anyway, let alone be okay with the writers suddenly writing her back in the series AND THEN she and Dexter agree to move to Argentina together... WTF. Anyway, Dexter ends up not going there after his sister was suddenly written off as Saxon shoots her and then she suffers a stroke after saying her final words to Quinn and Dexter. Dexter then throws her body in the sea and we then see him ride off into the storm and then see wrecks of his boat and then we see Batista seeing an article that Dexter's boat has been found but there's no chance of survival. We then cut to the fucking scene of Dexter being a fucking lumberjack in some fucking shit place.

It should of ended with Hannah McKay dying along with Deborah, the only two people that know his secret.

Should have ended with lumen coming back, loved her so much..

That's why I recommend not to watch the last episode as it ruins it all.

I really miss the show's old atmosphere, as well as Sons of Anarchy before Jax took over (I liked Clay's personality more)

The last episode for Dexter really sucked, but not because it was bad, but because it was over.

I agree with you OP the ending was just shit, I was not expecting the death of Debra.

I know right :(

They could've let Hannah rot in prison and bring Lumen back, then Lumen and Dexter lives happily ever after with Debra still being alive.

Ahh! You are the first person to ever agree with me. Lumen and Dexter were so cute, she should have never left. Fuck Hannah

Man, I cried in the last episode. Deb shouldn't have died, that shit was too much for me. :(
The day after finishing it(today) I just feel down because the show is forever over for me and Deb is dead. sigh

What you need is closure man. I recommend you watch the Dexter ComicCon (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=KsyDwTNTvq8>), it really gets you over it.

Right now I'm watching breaking bad, I feel as if this is nothing compared to Dexter but I can't judge it yet since i haven't finished it.

I feel like they could of done a better job of the ending. Closure is all you need man!

UGHHHHHH I know right???

I wish Debra was alive still and with Joey, and I didn't really like Hannah either, she poisoned like everyone xD

I wanted to see Joey finally marry Debra D:
