Thread: Vulnerabilities on online casino websites

Stusders - October 31, 2014, 5:12 pm

Not wanting to go into too much detail but I've managed to find a pretty major vulnerability on a casino site regarding it's client to server scripting. If anyone knows any more online casinos that allow for this exploit then please PM me.

Edit: Little more detail - I can change values of the dealer's face-up card on games like blackjack. There are exploits for all games I'm sure but I'm slowly working them out. It's not a 100% way to win but it definitely tips the odds in your favor A LOT.

Edit 2: I may need help with this. PM if interested but you need to be persistent testing sites.

Edit 3: No longer taking on help for this project so please do not PM me.

Definitely no way I'm reporting this. Especially on the sites that allow crypto currency.

Abuse it for a nice capital for yourself(through VPN and all that), don't be too greedy though. Then you could still report it.
