Thread: Decision Making & Community Help

HackForums,

I'm offering a free service whereby I decide between two things for you.

Please summarise both options, and I will respond with my opinion and decision, as well as justification.

I am happy to help you with anything, from what takeaway to order later on, to what price to market your product at, and even whether you should remain with your partner or not in a given circumstance.

Whatever your dilemma, I'm happy to help.

The iPhone 6 or the iPhone 6 Plus. I'm STUCK.

I've got the iP6+ myself, it's a great device. It doesn't bend, it's not too big, it's the perfect grip size and it fits in all my clothes. The stabilisation on the camera really does make a difference, and the battery is brilliant too.

I'll PM you my question as I don't think it would be recommended for me to post it here.

That's fine, I'm happy to answer questions via PM as well, but please post here to keep the thread alive (as you have done).
