This is honestly the weirdest service offering I've seen on HackForums.

I can't really say my opinion is either negative or positive towards this...

It's not really weird, what if someone wants to boost their post count to get stuff on other forums.?

Bro? - November 1, 2014, 11:14 pm

Well my service seemed to do very well on fiverr.

And buzzforums actually did pay users to make threads when they were first starting up.

People do it all the time, its not a weird service at all

Nasyr - November 2, 2014, 10:09 am

Damn those prices are rather high just for making a few threads.

Bro? - November 2, 2014, 10:48 am

Actually they are not high.

These are actually cheaper than every other service on here for forum posts.

I already have had someone purchase 10 threads and 100 posts already skript jonson - November 2, 2014, 1:37 pm

Vouch for Bro? he is legit asf very nice service you have.

SREE - November 2, 2014, 7:27 pm

i hve contacted you for the work, please see it if u can do it or not purgatoriu - November 3, 2014, 3:17 pm

I cannot recommend this service. I thought I was buying 10 high quality threads and 100 posts but for now I have 31 posts combined with 8 low quality threads (most of which are copy-pasted from other forums). I also told him that I needed this done by today, in which I was assured by him that it would be completed. So far I am really disappointed and am tempted on writing a deal dispute about this user.

M8.

I have a life outside of the internet.

And it is hard to complete your job because your forum is a BRAND BRAND new forum (I was literally the 2nd member).

This is why I don't like selling to those types of forums

I told you this beforehand and you agreed to continue. I thought you were able to help generate content, which is why I paid you more than average for this type of service.

"More than average"

Actually I charged you lower than the prices stated in the thread.

And this is cheaper than every other service on hf actually

And actually, none of them are copied from other forums.

And as I am not very huge call of duty player, it is taking a while for me to figure out call of duty stuff so I can continue your job.

Bro? - November 6, 2014, 6:03 pm

New rule.

No brand brand new forums (like I am the second user and no threads are currently created).

All forums must have at least 10 active members already and at least 50 threads.

So what type of threads do you offer like what category can you be more specific?

Mike.Jinson - November 8, 2014, 8:02 am id buy if threads were not so expensive,

Id buy 100 posts and 20 threads for $10

Bro? - November 8, 2014, 8:03 am

(Nov 8, 2014 09:00 AM)Complex Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) So what type of threads do you offer like what category can you be more specific?

Depending on what the forum is about.

Like if your forum is a gaming forum then the posts will be related to gaming.

Or if it is about science or etc then it will be related to that.

The only forums I don't allow is vices forums or underground blackhat forums (blackhat is ok, by underground I mean super illegal forums)

IntelliJ - November 9, 2014, 8:13 am

I may be buying this soon. Will discuss with partner.
