Thread: Reputation edit.

Vip?r - November 2, 2014, 1:31 pm

A change to the way we can give reps.

We all know how leets/ubers have a limited amount of reps we can give.

The change I suggest is that we can edit the reps we gave without it affecting the amount.

Recently I repped a user and accidentally +1'd, I tried changing it to neutral but I received an error saying that I gave out my max rep.

LGx Hackz zZ - November 2, 2014, 1:32 pm

Yes I had this happen before I totally agree with this :D

Vanilja - November 2, 2014, 1:35 pm

I think this has happened once to me.

I guess this wouldn't hurt anyone, but I don't think it's too important upgrade.

Fish - November 2, 2014, 1:36 pm

this happened to me and i don't like it. good suggestion i hope this gets put in to action!

???? - November 2, 2014, 1:36 pm

I 100% agree with this suggestion OP have had this happen as well.

DaChosenOne - November 2, 2014, 1:38 pm

Totally agree with you.

It would be better if not counts with the daily limit.

c x y k - November 2, 2014, 1:38 pm

Too many times this has happens to me.

It's extremely annoying when you go to neutral somebody with a neutral message and end up giving them positive.

BLURRYF?CE - November 2, 2014, 1:38 pm

I've had this problem loads of times, especially irritating when you notice you've made a spelling mistake, then you notice it's your 3rd (L33t) or 5th (Ub3r) rep for the day and know you can't change it...

?een - November 2, 2014, 1:39 pm

To be honest, I believe this is more of a bug than an intended feature. Nonetheless, this has happened to me before.

Supreme??????? - November 2, 2014, 1:39 pm

This has happened to me numerous times. Hopefully this can be fixed.

Dragnite - November 2, 2014, 1:46 pm

This happens to me so much, I'd give someone a +3 on accident trying to get them a -3 or something.

Yoshikage Kira - November 2, 2014, 3:34 pm

I think this should be implemented, I tried editing my rep on a user but it maxed out.

Ivy Mike - November 2, 2014, 4:02 pm

You currently can give an unlimited (seemingly) amount of edit reps per day, however have a limit of Neutral, Positive or Negative rep you can give per day, so for example you give 4 reps a day, and have one remaining, you can then use that one to edit your rep on people, how ever many times you want. However if you use that one, you won't be able to anymore. I am pretty sure Omniscient is aware of the rep editing thing where if you hit 5 you can no longer edit, however I don't believe its at the top of his agenda.

b?xxy - November 2, 2014, 4:04 pm

Well, then couldn't someone just change all of their reputation to the same thing?
This would allow members to abuse the feature and spam.

I don't think it changes much, users can just start doing the same rep over and over.

an uber who hasnt maxed rep for the day could do that since it seems you get unlimited edits until you max out reps.

Yea pretty much, if someone wanted to abuse it, they could I guess. I haven't seen it much though..

zSerity - November 2, 2014, 4:26 pm

Yeah it sucks, meant to -3 someone once but was doing it quick so I accidentally +3'd I went to go change it and I couldn't.

SIM-1349466 - November 2, 2014, 4:27 pm

Again, I too, am in the same boat. Few times where I gave a -3 instead of a +3.

Natas - November 2, 2014, 4:28 pm

Its because rep should be more treasured,
I doubt this will be changed we are limited for a reason.
You shouldn't give reps carelessly and this system is suppose to stop it.

Strayta - November 2, 2014, 4:28 pm

Happens to me a lot! And definately should be changed!

Considering someone already does that, it's not against the rules. Well as long as it doesn't break these rules:

What is reputation abuse?

Reputation abuse can be very complicated subject matter. Here is a list of the following ways reputation can be viewed as abuse.

- Flaming: Using coarse language to describe or berate a member.
- Reputation as a currency: We do not allow the buying or selling of reputations.
- Gang Rep: The act of coordination with other members to raise or lower a member's reputation is not allowed.
- Rep Coercion: Using intimidation, threats, or blackmail to get reps added or removed.
- Rep Requesting: You cannot give hints, tips, or request reputations.
- Scammer Reputation: You're required to leave a link to a Deal Dispute thread you have created to infer someone is a scammer (ie: scammer, scams, chargebacks, scamming).
- Reputation Collusion: Agreeing to participate in reciprocal reputations with a member.

BITW - November 3, 2014, 12:29 am

Agreed with OP and it should not count as new rep

Archives - November 3, 2014, 12:59 am

Agreed, This is really annoying and editing rep should not be counted as a new rep.

wellager - November 3, 2014, 1:09 am

Suggested countless times. I think something was supposed to do about it, but it's probably low on Omni's priority list.

Just wait 24 hours and tell the guy you'll change it. If you don't have Alzheimer you'll be okay. You're supposed to be thinking when you leave a reputation on someone's profile, blame only yourself if you made a spelling mistake.

You just took my idea lol
We want his..

'Snorlax - November 3, 2014, 1:20 am

Suggested shitload of times. Denied each one of them. Can't be arsed to look them up, but they have.

I would like a:

Edit reputation no matter when it was given
"Changed last" label from edits
Sort by last change

SilverLight - November 3, 2014, 1:26 am i agree with your suggestion i hope admin/staff see this thread.

8. Member Restrictions. HF will not be taking suggestions for new restrictions on the site based on post count, registration date, or reputation.

As highlighted. Suggested and denied many times.

Unless Omniscient changes his mind, have the patience to wait 24hrs.

Thanks.
