Hey this is guna be the last day on the internet for a while because im getting a house :).

Until then i was wondering if i can learn while offline i dont have the cash for books hense the move, but can someone link me to some ebooks pdfs,

And is it possible to learn while offline in general?

Im looking for ebooks, pdfs, .txt files anything i can copy paste to notepad to read etc?

im guna need a lot i know :).

Thanks for reading.

I got my dad programming 'Offline' by downloading all of the videos from "The New Boston" Vb.NET tutorials... He was making simple console apps in no time at all... that was about 6 months back... he's already playing with (small) Audio editing with .NET now! :) Pretty good to start with IMO...

Here's the link: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=mM3zB3QWuv8> (There are 200 videos total) I used to have them all in 3 .7ZIP compressed files on my website but I got hammered with waaaaay too much D/L traffic and got bitched at so you'll have to rip them yourself bud... Hope this helps you :) & good luck - don't give up... we're here to help you along the way (..well most of us anyway LoL)
