I have a method to pull some emails attached to nice original Yahoo ID's and am looking for someone trustworthy to partner up with in infoing/resetting the AOL emails to retrieve the password reset emails to these OG Yahoo ID's.

I've already gotten started working on ones attached to hotmails/msn & gmails but could use someone who's on top of their AOL game to help out.

Willing to split the ID's with you 50/50 as long as you are a trustworthy partner, the minute you do anything shady or try to stash away ID's will be the end of the partnership and any further sharing of emails with OG Yahoos attached to them...so it would be most beneficial to both of us to keep this honest and legit...as long as you keep it 100 with me we can continue working together.

I will be on Skype for another hour or 2 tonight so add me there if interested.

(If you are good at resetting other emails such as comcast I have a few attached to other emails as well)
