Thread: Im Addicted To Sunflower Seeds

PAHH - November 4, 2014, 12:16 pm

Anyone else eat sunflower seeds? I've eaten two bags of BBQ seeds today. If so, what kind do you eat?

I like the regular kind to be quite honest.

I only eat them when I play baseball in the spring, but I prefer the regular ones. I like the salt.

I've never tried anyway but have always been curious. I just really don't like the texture.

nondescriptoldie - November 4, 2014, 12:25 pm

I have never tried as well, what do they taste like

Man16 - November 4, 2014, 12:26 pm

Ive never really found them without them being in their shells. I find it too much effort to peel off the shell

Dude I have ate 2-3 bags straight before til my tongue and lips were raw.

I love to suck off the salt and then bite into it.

I can eat one every 2-3 seconds.

I prefer the ranch ones. And I don't even eat them alot.

I hate spitting out the shells, it's troublesome.

I prefer the Bigs (has to be this brand) dill pickle seeds and any brand of ranch or BBQ. Anyone else into dill pickle seeds? And you know you're a master of seed spitting when you can eat the seed without cracking the two shells parts apart.
