Let's start...

PTC Sites

Do I even have to explain this one? PTC sites are pure scheme and in no way you will ever beat it, and by beat it I mean make profit. Even if you invest 900$ and purchase referrals, at the end of the month you'll "think" you made 100$ while those 100$ will be a loss. I know it sounds crazy but if you never experienced it, dont.

Most of the referrals will either be botted or dead, hence they may click for a day/two and eventually they are gone, why? Cause system says so, nowadays you can purchase a PTC script for less than 30$ and set up your own site. I highly advice not to, it's saturated as fuck and not worth the hassle. Bottom line is, dont even think about PTC sites, just dont and take this advice seriously it will help you waste less time on bullshit.

PPC/CPC Sites

(dont mistaken this with actual advertising sites where you "pay" for clicks).

Adf.ly

I cant even name them cause I tend not to get bothered with bullshit much lately. Basically they promise you up to 5$ per 1000 clicks, and I can swear many of you have no clue it's 5$ per 1k ONLY for US traffic, then you come to this section and ask why you dont make money. Quite simple, if you cant generate 100k clicks a day, dont bother either.

It's a waste of both time and traffic, not to mention SITE EXCHANGES doesnt work, so there goes yet another popular but damn stupid money making method. You're wasting your time and nowadays people dont click sketchy links anymore, even if you make a redirection loop-hole think of it as finding a quarter while walking through a park, that's unfortunately all you get.

If for instance you have some traffic source, rather use that traffic on CPA offers or even Affiliate Marketing, you'll have much greater success even if 1 out of 100 converts, cause the least paying offer is 30 cents which is more or less as much as you get by bringing it to adf.ly or sites alike. Bottom line : Complete and utter waste of traffic (if you have a real one).

Forum Posting

There used to be and there still are couple of sites where they offer you a certain rate for amount of posts you make and quality of words and whatnot. Let me straight tell you why it's a waste, you need couple hundreds of posts to make couple of bucks a day.

Guess what, you could actually write articles Best Article Writting Websites for even better pay, considering you know how to type and not plagiarize other peoples work. That's time well spent, if you prefer typing go to Yahoo and start writting articles, they can sell up to few hundreds a piece, obviously more words means greater pay.

Thans to Argyle please read his reply here to clarify on what to post/do -
<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4522765&pid=43178647#pid43178647>

Exchange Sites

Sites such as the ones where you watch/do things in order to get credits which you can eventually use for greater cause. Waste. Even if you automate the whole process it's still a waste. Dont have much more to say about this since any normal guy with common sense would figure not to waste time nor trust such things. Those iPhone/Android apps comes under this category as well, it may be fun to do but it's a complete waste of your precious time.

Gambling

Whoever invented a technique to make money from gambling either owns the casino or hes an affiliate. You dont "make money gambling", poker, roulette and whatnot. You can only get lucky and "earn" some money, you cannot use it as your "technique" nor think of it as a source of income. If you're reading this and you gamble, continue gambling but make sure it's for fun not the other way around.

Ewhoring.

Yes Ewhoring, go on throw rocks at me say how it's the best thing you've ever done bla bla. And then let me ask you, how much time you spent getting that 20$ Amazon gift card? 30 mins? An hour maybe? I'd rather gamble 10$ in order to win 20$ and even lose than spending an hour pretending to be a fucked up girl who has nowhere to live for freaking 20$, yes you can make even more but is it really worth it? Can you say you're successful?

If you brag about eWhoring then you're twisted as fuck, out of so many legal ways you pick to be a whore online. Have you read the articles about people who went so deep into it to get their real life fucked up? It's ok for quick buck or two, but that aint technique, it's being an idiot and God blessed us all so we can be idiots anytime needed. Drop with it and start doing some serious business.

Online Partnership.

How many times you read someone needing a partner and they ended up offering you to sell something for them as commision? Doesnt need to be eBay or shit like that, just plain re-selling from an unknown guy you just met online. Stay away from it, 9/10 will use you and get you in so much trouble that your only way out would be jail. Do not trust anyone, there's no partners online unless it's a real deal, anything that's based on re-selling is pure bullshit. And dont get confused here, I'm talking about individuals approaching you, not companies.

Investment Opportunity

Same as above, if you see someone promising you a certain revenue from your investment, make sure to know that's not gonna happen. Quite few people would share their financial strategies online and I'm talking about stocks and such, unless they are either affiliated with the company in question or actually own it. Dont fall for that.

Conclusion.

A legit income comes from both hard work and knowing what to do, there's no magic button though, everything requires a certain effort, certain skills and whatnot. Not a single method is "hard", they are all quite easy cause trust me it's easier to sit at home and read/do than work 9 to 5 in some shit hole. It's all about how persistent you are, if you want to make money, you'll make money. As always if you feel I left anything out or want clarification on certain things, let me know in comments below. Keep the thread alive so others can read it as well and hopefully stop wasting time.

Regards.

Thanks for the advice OP. But I have to argue with you on the eWhore'ing being useless.

Personally I have made $200 over the weekend just from eWhoring (unsaturated method used but same concept).

But I guess if your looking to make massive amounts of money eWhore'ing would be a waste of time.

As I said, it's ok to make a buck or two, but eWhoreing isnt a technique and it's highly immoral for most of the people hence I dont really recommend it though.

Good informative post sonex. I remember I asked you about the eBay method, before you responded to my PM I got two sales within an hour. It was $500 and I was like holyfuck! but once you PM'd me not to do it, I quickly refunded the money but still managed to get in a negative balance. Sonex saved me from getting fucked over by a lot.

Told you, you can get fucked up pretty easily when people promise shit such as scamming or some partnerships. Gladly it wasnt any worse than just negative balance.

I understand that some of the points are quite valid and true but some of your points only cover certain perspectives of the entire method.

I agree that sites (or people) that offer some lump of change in exchange for "quality" posts on their forum is a waste of time, but posting on forums is not at all a dead method.

Let me give you an example:

I am in the health niche, and I have a health blog. It would be wise of me to find forums/boards that allow me to have a bio (or even a signature if I am allowed one) so I may have the ability to say that "I have a site, check it out."

Obviously I would not just go on a spamming spree on this forums, but instead I would go ahead and answer questions to what people ask on these forums (health forums tend to lean on question threads than anything else.) If I covered this question before in a blog post on my site, I would cite my post with my blog post. People would eventually go onto my site and some would become active readers.

As for your point on making money when writing articles for other people, I would rather write articles for my own sites so I reap all possible profits that I could possibly generate.

When it comes to traffic and social network exchange, I beg to differ. Yes, using the points/credits on yourself may be a waste of time, but if you sell the points/credits to someone that they may think it is a good idea to purchase, then you are in a gold mine.

Selling traffic and social boosting is so hot that it is quite competitive. There is so much money to be made.

As for your other point on the GPT (Get Paid To) apps that is springing up everywhere, I agree. They are a waste of time.

Overall, this is a great post. It does underline great points that people do have to understand.

I don't agree with you, if you have a good VPS there are a few exchange sites if you have a youtube partnership you can earn a bit of cash in your free time and as long as you have bots doing all the work (You are not clicking on each one) It can net you some cash. It won't make you rich but it can be worth it

You can just limit yourself to 1 social exchange click site you have to use all of them or a few of them. You can also use the points to sell services in social media exchange sites. I feel there is $$ to be made with these methods, it's not a waste of time

Great write up otherwise! I'm glad you spoke out about those adfly adclick scams :) I +3 you for a great post!

Keep up the good work :)

You're absolutely correct, what I meant was actual posting for pocket change. Posting in a way you described is good for selling a product or advertising a CPA offers.

True yet again, however do you expect a newbie to know how to write a proper article for a website? That's why it's hell lot easier for them to learn writting it for others first since it takes knowledge to know how to spin keywords.

Maybe you should create a guide for it then? I know exactly what you mean but overall it's a waste cause most newbs dont know not to use it on themselves rather sell as a service or whatever, that's why it's best to leave it out unless there's a guide to follow here.

Indeed your solution is possible as well but looking long term it's not really worth it when there's more and more options to pick from, that could be some 2nd income or whatever but setting it up can be complicated for someone who reads about making money online for the first time. You both have me some ideas to work on for the next time, sadly I know almost little to nothing about those bots and VPSS.

It does not take years to learn how to write a proper article. It may take as few as mere weeks with a good teacher.

Practicing sending in your articles to directories is a good idea yes, but it may turn away a lot of people if "newbies" do not understand at least some article writing techniques and their articles are rejected critically.

Getting your feet on the ground is the best idea, just do not jump down without any research though.

It is not rocket science to decide to either

A. Use it for themselves, or

B. Sell it to someone else.

I might very well write a thread for this, it is as easy as it sounds.

Really well-written write up, but I don't agree with eWhoring being a time waste, few people earn very less and yes it's immoral but if you know the right workaround you can earn $200-$400+ per hour and I've gotten MOST of my money from that. It's pretty easy and you don't have to fish much for money.

By a "friend" of course, I'd probably buy in as well but what I'm trying to point out is those random threads in this section where they offer certain ROI based on assumptions.

Do bother, I can easily edit it if I reach more thoughts, you can't expect me to think like you or someone else, if you had a certain experience I'd be more than glad to let everyone know, until then all I have right now is to say my point of view.

Speaks the truth. You earn what you put into it, if you give minimal effort don't expect thousands per month.

It would be great to see PTC threads disappear from the section as they aren't much of a monetizing method.

You pretend to be a female over the internet, selling your picture, videos, or camshows. Of course, the things you're selling are actually of another girl, that you're pretending to be.

It's considered identity fraud, but is good money.

Slenderman_ - December 4, 2014, 8:22 pm

I want to tell you my past experiences with these methods.

The reason why I signed is because I wanted to see I can learn about hacking but instead, my mind went to gear into the money section. Of course I read about this CPA, PPA, PPD, PTC sites or whatever these sites are and that they say I can make money off of it. And I am here just looking at high-rep users posting ebooks about how you can make money and I was jealous. So I decided to try these methods so I can get rich like these guys.

So my first step is trying PTC sites because they said I can make alot of money and sh*t. I signed up alot of them, primarily Neobux and Probox and other PTC sites. So I registered about.. IDK.. 8 PTC sites and I wasted 10-15 minutes of just clicking ads and wait 8-10 secs and just earned in total 0.01-0.05 cents in total from all sites. I also bought these things called referrals and of course they boosted my income.. But some reason, I found out my "net" gain was on the negative side and I never gained income. I wasted my time and money on PTC. Im done

Now I went to enroll in Ad Fly. I heard you can gain clicks and earn cash. So I signed up and open a website with 20 memes. Instead I earned .10 cents a month and its a load of BS. Im done with it as well.

The only thing I used to gain more income is by selling items I buy from garage sells such as Ralph Lauren shirts and resell them on ebay for a higher price. And it was successful.

Nice post. I open my eyes that the only ways you can boost income is through affiliated marketing and CPA. Ill try those your methods above and thank you. I was getting discouraged that I thought people were making alot of money by AD Fly and PTC sites. I guess its not true then.

You say not to invest when it takes multiple people to succeed. This is bad thing to say. Investments are possible and they do turn out with the right people. Some people don't know how to make money but have money. Some know how to make money but don't have money. It's a cycle.

True but what I was implying to is the amount of people promising certain revenue from investment on HF when they just recently joined. That's fishy.

Lot of people buy methods that doesn't just work, that actually happened to me once.

Have you even read what I wrote? Thanks to me there's no more crap threads here but it used to be where people would request 50$ to get 70$. That's what I was talking about.

I used PTC site called Paidverts. I invested around 10$ AND a dozen hours i will never get back and what did i make from this? I made 12$....That is a goddamn 2$ profit with 10 hours + of work...

I decided to quit on the day i got a 1,5$ ad issue THAT WAS 150 x 1 CENT ADS. I just cashed out.

Would be better off picking up pennies from the ground.. This is my personal experience with PTC. You think you will be making a lot, but actually you are making very little or even no profit.

Long Story Short: Believe Sonex in what methods not to use

Great post, I just want to say that I can confirm this 100%.

When I was younger I started these PTC, PTP, traffic exchange sites etc. and wasted a large amount of time on them just to make a few $. It was fun to see 1-2-3$ from internet "work", but it was totally not worth it.

The system is carefully made so that unless you are the site owner, you make close to nothing.

Never done eWhoring, but first time I read about it here my first thought was "now that's going to take a lot of time and effort"

Online Partnership.

How many times you read someone needing a partner and they ended up offering you to sell something for them as commission? Doesn't need to be eBay or shit like that, just plain re-selling from an unknown guy you just met online. Stay away from it, 9/10 will use you and get you in so much trouble that your only way out would be jail. Do not trust anyone, there's no partners online unless it's a real deal, anything that's based on re-selling is pure bullshit. And don't get confused here, I'm talking about individuals approaching you, not companies.

Should definitely add how buying ebooks claiming to make you $$$$$$ is usually a saturated method, and the person selling the ebook is making all the profit. People fall into those all the time, and it was and looks to still be a big thing on this website.

This has been said in this thread, but not by me.

E-Whoring is not entirely useless, nor useless at all if you are just talking about making money.

From a morality standpoint, sure I am not arguing saying E-Whoring is great I'd recommend my kids to it.

But E-Whoring is not just scamming people for a quick $20, which I don't use those methods as it wastes time.

There are more ways you can E-Whore, By using Adult Affiliates, growing social medias, it can be just another way to get traffic, like a niche.

A great list of advices, seriously.

I unfortunately was dumb enough joining and even investing in PTC sites last year. It sounded promising if you had the patience and it went okay for a time. But then the site closed "unexpectedly" down and we all pretty much knew who were laughing.

I think you can only trust a very few sites in that business and even though, you won't have great clicking referrals.

So I am defiantly into avoiding more waste of time. This looks like a good place to begin ?

You cant call a method saturated just because you have no idea how to twist it, if I was to think like you, every possible thing online would be saturated by now.

Don't let someone tell you how to make money.. Find it out yourself in a way you'd like yourself.

I made a honest 72,99 euro (81,93 dollar ) with this technique and guess what... I am not charging you to tell you this. It's free info. Enjoy Sonex Nice Guide! but you'r Signature? How you explain your signature in that situation? Because you go against yourself with it!

Here in this guide you say

"A legit income comes from both hard work and knowing what to do, there's no magic button though, everything requires a certain effort, certain skills and whatnot. Not a single method is "hard", they are all quite easy cause trust me it's easier to sit at home and read/do than work 9 to 5 in some shit hole. It's all about how persistent you are, if you want to make money, you'll make money. As always if you feel I left anything out or want clarification on certain things, let me know in comments below. Keep the thread alive so others can read it as well and hopefully stop wasting time."

And then your signature says / Make money in 7 simple steps? and after clicking it i go to your post how to make money and how easy and nothing much is required!

I'm not against you, i dont have anything against you!!! Im just curious!

Now this is one hell of a dumb post. How about you re-read the thread? None implied, not for a second what I claim is 7 step is easy, its not, read both what customers say and what FAQ tells you. I claim easy because of the amount of details in each step, step itself can be both hard and easy depending whether you're a noob or not, so marking my words literally is being dumb.

I'll allow you to post back here once you get a sense on what you're trying to point out because right now you're nothing but a butthurt kid.

I would recommend staying away from cryptocurrency mining. Take it from a man who made tens of thousands of $'s from it, its not worth it anymore, I wish it was but it simply isnt.

drained - July 13, 2015, 9:35 pm

Something I've come to realize lately. Stop wasting time spamming affiliate links on YouTube and Facebook.

It won't be long till you get banned or your comments get removed. You will probably make a few sales here and there but it's not worth it when you consider the effort you put in. And spamming can be mind-numbing as f*ck.

Crypto is definitely growing but MINING is a pretty big waste of time unless you have a dedicated mining farm (which is still probably not generating too much profit for how much your spending on power) Or a GIGANTIC botnet.

I made 40$ with a method of e-whoring last night but I am left feeling it was a waste of my time.Even if the amount would have been much more it's time I could have spent doing something constructive in my life and the world. Something I actually care about and with a little nurturing can grow to see much larger profit margins. Its 40$ i didn't have before and i really need the money but at what cost. I was still an idiot pretending to be a girl and listening to some random guy tell me all about where he wants to put his penis acting like I'm excited to hear it :/

Good informative post sonex. I remember once I asked you about the eBay method, before you responded to my PM I got two sales within an hour. It was $500 and I was like holyfuck! but once you PM'd me not to do it, I quickly refunded the money still managed to get in a negative balance. Sonex saved me from getting fucked over by a lot.

Sorry but i have to disagree with some of the gambling part. Poker can actually be profitable and a source of income. Yes it is not easy and requires a lot of studying the game to be successful in the "long run". Roulette on the other hand i see your point. It is luck.

I don't fully agree with ewhoring being a waste of time. Yes is not a thing you should be proud, but I used to make tons of money past months.. Without investing a lot of time.

It was the first way I made real money on Internet and bought all the shit I wanted. I don't have a job (I'm 17) and 50$ a day is a lot for me.

Now I'm moving on different business because I got really really tired (I still have a couple of customers who keep asking so is quite passive income), yes, you should not ewhore forever

It's alright though, you have your right to disagree, hence I ask people to discuss it. eWhoring isnt consider a method, hence I dont suggest it, I'm not saying it wont make you quick cash, but looking long term you may end up being a fucked up person.

I just want to point out that i disagree about the social exchange site , this summer i earned 2k$ from websites like addmefast and apps (get followers fast). For me 2k$ is quite a lot since i just became legal (18). I bought an addmefast bot for 20$ and well started selling likes/followers on a local scale. (I market through facebook groups *left out goldmines*) and well yeah now i have potential customers contacting me daily for my services and if i wasnt busy with my studies i would've made much more. I have bigger projects in mind for this summer and will be contributing to this forum when i have free time.

So would you have any tips on making good side money online?

topdog77 - March 3, 2016, 1:27 am

Online Partnership.

How many times you read someone needing a partner and they ended up offering you to sell something for them as commision? Doesnt need to be eBay or shit like that, just plain re-selling from an unknown guy you just met online. Stay away from it, 9/10 will use you and get you in so much trouble that your only way out would be jail. Do not trust anyone, there's no partners online unless it's a real deal, anything that's based on re-selling is pure bullshit. And dont get confused here, I'm talking about individuals approaching you, not companies.

[Image: ibsnwVOvyqJUyR.png]

Investment Opportunity

Same as above, if you see someone promising you a certain revenue from your investment, make sure to know that's not gonna happen. Quite few people would share their financial strategies online and I'm talking about stocks and such, unless they are either affiliated with the company in question or actually own it. Dont fall for that.

I highly disagree with both of your statements here.

Some of my online investments into people and new things have been some of the most profitable and worse losses I've ever taken.

Back in 2014 I partnered with a gold site owner in RS gold to learn the industry, that partnership and knowledge I spent led to me opening 6 websites and over $400k in sales later on.

This seems very biased towards the general HF market feel where nobody really trusts nobody.

I mainly come from sythe where the vast bulk of my reputation is and I can tell you, we trust each other far more than HF's community.

If your talking about HF's community I may agree with your points, but as general life points I don't necessarily agree simply because I'm living proof some of ur points aren't true.

Well written and thoughtful though, I enjoy seeing specialists work because I enjoy talking and learning about new things.

By far,

I have tried Adf.ly and PPD together, it was a really nice adventure but after that, I deleted blog and stuff, just because I don't find all this a decent way of making money,

I might be successful as I was making 600$ per month from ppd and about 7$ from adf.ly.

Now, I have just started writing blogs on blogs with quality material, Google Ad-sense and stuff turns out to be pretty good. Although I'm not doing it for earning, in fact, I just enjoy writing :)

I really wish I saw this post a few years back. During my expedition into the world of digital marketing and SEO I've succumb to various 'get rich quick' schemes and ultimately pumped a lot of money into.....ebooks.

Damn ebooks are littered all over my computer! But I gave all the techniques a good go, some had very minor wins but most of them were all losses. It's those pesky digital marketers, their blogs and their affiliate links. Buying ebooks feels like gambling!

Great post, will save alot of people serious time and money.

But I dont think so everyone will agree with that at all, some skid that wants to make 20bucks and can do nothing, ewhoring is very good for him...Got many friends that want to be hackers etc. but are too lazy or stupid, and ewhoring is all they are able to do and make money with... Yeah I am ewhoring to and I get little success too xD anyways im trying to find out something that can make me more money.

tldr : those shits are situational, if someone is poor and wants to make 5 dollars, even those click sites are good for him...

You basically buy something then call in saying you never received it while in reality you did. Its fucking scamming and you'll end up in jail, honestly.

OK, I've got a question about a service that's been bothering me a whole lot, and I think it fits well in this thread (if not please feel free to correct me). What about Amazon Mechanical Turk and Clickworker?

Now I've heard stories...of people making a whole lot of money off of this a month...I feel like they're lying. I used to translate for them, but I'd get about 5$ a week or so. I think I earned about 200$ total from them over a LONG span of time. I know there are PTC involved in some of those tasks.

Doing the tasks themselves would be a waste for a stream of income yes?

BAM! Thanks for this post OP. You have a great perspective about 'methods' that waste one's time online trying to make some bucks. I have personally tried a couple of the methods you described above. They are a total waste of time, data, traffic and etc. How I wish I had stumbled upon this thread a long time ago! This gives me pointers in what to look out for what not to.

Hi, I'm new to this forum, and of course, as any gullible person would, I went straight to this money thread. Since I'm basically completely new to this online money-making business, I would like to ask some questions about the business.

I looked to YouTube to maybe make a little money as an allowance, to spend, but I never really got much traffic. Then I turned to blogging, as seeing my mother being somewhat successful as she got some emails asking her to test products from her blog.

So basically, is there a way for me to be able to make some money (currently, its just for personal use, not as an actual job or anything) online maybe through my talent(no whoring or obscene stuff please)? I would really like to start this, and the people here seem friendly. Thanks!

About the ewhoring part, I agree with you completely. I ewhored just so I can use that money to invest. Haven't spent 1 penny on anything. While doing so, I felt so fucking horrible and it was so immoral, but the hunger for money has forced me to run over others. I guess it is useful only if you want to invest, but if someone ewhores just so they can spend it right away, then they're a complete dumbass wasting time. Ewhoring is definitely not worth on the long run. Like you said, a buck or two can be useful for the short run

Very nice thread with really good info! Your stuff sonex is one of best I have read. Thank you for that.

But I have something to correct there, you mentioned poker is not method for making money online. Which one you mean, internet poker or just poker versus only casino? If internet poker you are wrong there and im 100% sure of it. Maybe its 2017 and games are tougher nowadays but still I know lot of people making some serious profit from it. I assume next someone might say: "its only luck and temporary". Well people who play few million of hands per year does actually very good against variance and have a touch of their winrate at tables (there are variance calculators and hem1/2 graphs over the internet from very trustful persons). Of course its like 95% loses and 5% of players wins after rake to house (might be even lower today) but everyone has equal chance there. Back in the day you could be like -2bb/100 hands player but still profit because of rakeraces and some sick promotions included with 50% rakebacks. You just had to put some serious volume in there. Sick times. Nowadays though its more competitive/skill based game than ever.

If its against pure casino its not profit in long run.

Just had to make clear these 2 poker terms are totally different things.

Nice share tho, but I would also add that eWhoring is a bit "outdated" nowadays. You need to have at least new traffic sources, cuz those shared on forums are used too many times, and it's hard to get into it if You don't own a HQ package with Ver's and decent photoshop skills...I might be wrong, but that's how I see it. For other methods...Reselling/Partnership thing. I really don't think someone is going to sell someones stuff if they have brain to find their own product. Second, why should you trust someone whom You've just met?

And third..There are many verified sites like Clickbank where You can sell digital or physical products for comission, for already trusted seller.

Once again, thanks, But Every eye sees something different!

Extremely useful guide, especially to someone new like me. I appreciate the effort you put into writing this.

Morecries - November 30, 2018, 4:32 pm

I readed almost the 90's pages. Which means 4 years of thoughts and ideas from maaany people.

But let's talk now, 1st december 2018.

To put context, I work as a slave since 4 years. Now, I am upset. Found HF forum days ago, and I used to read many many things. Even tho there is bullshits, there is also awesome topics. So, I'm doing ewhoring since 48hours now. Made 150$, which is decent!

My goal, at his best, would be to gain between $1k5 and $2k per month. That I could stop working, meaning way more time online, to multiple gains and make a snowball effect. But I wanted to know, Sonex. 4 years ago you said ewhoring was "not good". What are your thoughts about this nowadays ? Also, if you got some tips & tricks about it, it will be a true honor to talk about it with you.

But now, I'm very open minded. I'm ready to try many things to reach these 1k5~2k monthly. I will fall, thats for sure. But internet is full of ressources, and HF.net is prob the best website all over the net. So here is my question. Including ewhoring, what methods would you tell me to think about/learn/do/practice, when you know I have 0 skill.

If possible, PM me, or give me your discord if you're okay with.

That being said, I wish ya'll a very good night gentlemen. ?

You think reselling activation keys from hackforums, fitbits or products like that can be dangerous? Because it seems pretty weird to me that they don't sell their products for a higher price on eBay im just curious about your comment on gambling. i agree gambler will always loose but have you heard of matched betting where you take advantage of free bets/promotions to make a profit, you bet at the bookie and lay at the markets and the calculations are done first so you know what your getting before you place the bet. it can be complicated but easy once learned and also what about arbs they are guaranteed too ....Arbing - or, to give it its full name, arbitrage betting – is a betting system that allows a customer to place multiple bets to guarantee a profit regardless of the outcome.

It's against the terms though so yea it can be "dangerous".

just curious as i say because i wouldnt say every form of gambling is a loss but then again is it classed as gambling when you have already done mathematical equations to know the outcome?

Just wanted to say thank you for this quick guide - I'm trying to focus on making money at the moment and your last paragraph stands correct. Money comes to the people who work at it nonstop!

Great post Sonex,

Part about ewhoring is true and sad, still very popular in 2020

True however it's just fucking sad, that's all there is to it imho.

Let me know your thoughts on the subject! I will maybe make a v2 of the thread with more recent stuff.

Actually a good tutorial, I've sent you 10 bits.

sonex - August 8, 2020, 2:25 am

Thanks mate. I'm glad you enjoyed it!

It was $500 and I was like holyfuck! but once you PM'd me not to do it, I quickly refunded the money but still managed to get in a negative balance. Sonex saved me from getting fugged over by a lot.
What ebay method was that? Mind sharing?

These are some old tips, yet still relevant. Even so, ewhoring is so popular on forums these days.

Ewhoring will always be popular imho, it's just if you have sanity to do it or not :D

Way too unorthodox for me. I won't see myself doing it anytime soon ?

Hello,

If we had to remember something, it would be this "if you want to make money, you'll make money."

mindshift5 - September 26, 2020, 11:54 pm

The advice was real mate

I personally don't believe in fugging people up in the short term just to get ahead

Long term success is built on the foundations of hard and legal work
