His Skype: azklepgm

His PayPal email: nathangi@hotmail.fr

The story: I sold the guy some CS:GO keys for 6 euros on paypal. He paid it pretty slowly, but at least he paid.

Then I told him I have some skins for 6 euros. He wanted to buy those as well, so I traded them to him. The payment for this didn't arrive, the guy went off from steam and skype and didn't hear from him since. This happened yesterday around 7 PM GMT+1, it's 11 AM now, so yeah, I can safely say I was fucked over.

What the fuck... All these scams lately from 3-10$ makes me laugh so much..,

I am sorry for your loss, and I am sorry that someone has to scam 6$ lmao...

The guy logged on steam, told me he's gonna send the money after he finished his game. No, he didn't send it, logged off, probably deleted me again.

He's probably gonna scam other people right now:

Alright, the scam amount went to 12 euros right now, this guy has to go down. He just got his money refunded even tho I traded him a lot of keys last night.

Nice nice.

Host FR ™ - November 10, 2014, 10:13 am

Yes , i send dispute you say i'm scammer for nothing reason.

Before you card your items after it's my i scam you are comic guys.

Here's the proof of the trade. I even gave you free items. Your name is on it. Same name as you had before on HF, you just changed it so you can scam people.

And now this. You refunded the first trade as well so you currently owe me with 12 euros. I have opened a dispute on paypal buddy you won't get out of this clean.
