Okay, I know I'm pretty much risking my account writing this thread, but please before replying or doing any judgement read the whole thread through.

I am BaussHacker and if you have no idea who that is then here is the account link:

<https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=522041>

My account is currently closed as you can see and has been since the summer of 2013 and I found out the reason was ban evading, but I had never ban evaded once when I had that account. My last thread said I was going to be gone for the summer and after like a month or two my account was closed. I had done no ban evading in the meantime nor any times before.

I only made this account after attempting to recover my account through contacting as I never received any responds or anything when I used it. I don't know if you never intended to answer or if my message never got through.

I'm also aware that you Omni has had problems with me in the past, because I was a huge troll, but as you can see I don't troll or anything anymore and I'm doing nothing, but contributions to the forum and posting helpful posts.

I would like to apologize for my past on my account, but I'd really like if it could be recovered and if possible merged with this. I would rather not lose this account, because I feel like helping members here with programming in the coding section is my call and it's basically everything I do.

I would like not to only apologize to Omni and the other admins, but also every single person I've had issues with in the past. You all have my deepest apology and I hope everything can end up in good terms.

I love this forum and it has given me a lot of great friends here and It's hard to keep in touch with some of them as I only spoke with them through here.

If any of you guys here remembers me, it'd be nice. If you don't know who I am, then I guess this thread is not really for you.

Again you all have my deepest apology; especially you Omni.

Thank you a lot.

Regards, Bauss.

Btw. if you want proof that I am not lying, you can always PM me and I will provide proof.

You'll probably get closed or banned after this post.

Well, that's nice you admitted to it. However, you're currently ban evading, and therefore breaking the HF rules. With that being said, you may suffer consequences as such. Good luck in your endeavor to have your account merged/unclosed.

I can't see any good scenario for this, good luck when the hammer slams. Let the odds be forever in your favor.

Well I'm not really losing anything if this account is closed, already lost my almost 20k posts. I already know the rules and I am aware this is currently ban evading, but yeah, that's why I made this thread so it can all be resolved.

Whether this account gets banned or not.
