Yeah, no one is going to do this for you without either payment first or at least a down payment

3xp1r3 - November 13, 2014, 1:18 pm

I've looked at this site & I've downloaded the open source to manually checked for vulns & any I found were patched in the site. There are no injection points I personally found. Goodluck to anyone who can do this simple wpscan / nikto won't do anything for you kiddies.

You know there are many more ways hack a website rather than SQLi right?

I don't think you have done a proper check.

And atleast state the amount of money you will pay after the job is done, if you aren't willing to pay beforehand, then I might be the tiniest bit interested.

Lol, I was saying for you unintelligent users.. who think an automated scan will get you somewhere.. I downloaded the open source of the website (is that too complicated for you)? Manually checked more than 1 injection point.. (found none) seeing I have Timthumb exploits & they didn't work on this version, yes I think I did a proper check.. go take your wannabe hacker ass on somewhere. ?

whitewoolyhat - November 16, 2014, 2:39 pm

LOL apparently I am a wannabe hacker xD Sometimes scans do get you somewhere and sometimes they don't.

Obviously we all know here that you are some kid just talking shit.. when you pentest you need to think outside of the box, which you are clearly incapable of doing.

Before you call me a wannabe atleast tell me what makes you such a "pro", idiot - and by the way, sweet cheeks, being upgraded doesn't automatically give you the right to treat me like a lesser. I am new here and have plans to upgrade soon after I have transferred my money to another PP.

As will you, with your cocky and arrogant emotions. Good luck on getting jobs when you are being a total douche. :)

You'd have to pay someone for this job. A hacker of course. Good luck on your search for a hacker that could complete your job.. Hope you don't have to spend too much for it. ?
