Thread: [Chris Brown \[Cartoonized\] First attempt.](#)

Marcus Hopson - November 13, 2014, 9:09 pm

I recently had the urge to try to make cartoon versions of people, I watched a few tutorials on how to do it on Photoshop, and thought it would be a bit easier on anime studio.

My first attempt was Chris Brown

(Note- It may be abit rough around the edges but it was my first try haha.)

Here is the Picture I used -

Yes, I changed the hair. I didn't like the brownish black, and since we was blonde at one point I went with it instead.

Anyways i'd like for you guys to give my constructive criticism. Tell me things I can work on etc. I want to get good with this, so anything you say will help.

I think it looks really good!

Have a nice day! ?

That's really good, if I just looked at the second one, i'd know who it was. Try to focus on details now. Improve the shirt, the tattoos, facial features. Make it look awesome!

Thanks! I'm going to try soon, the only problem with that right now is that i'm somewhat unfamiliar with the program so some details are very hard to do. Especially tattoos, but i'm going to keep learning and adding more details!

This was all by mouse, dragging point by point.

It's just right now as it stands it takes anywhere from 45mins to 1h30m to finish it. (Not sure exact time as I usually take breaks)

Nice, i don't like cartoon style, but it looks great!

Marcus Hopson - November 14, 2014, 1:26 pm

Thanks alot, If you see anywhere I can improve to make this better please let me know!

Looks great, well done. You should still work on it, looks unfinished. :)

It looks dope! But you could add more "shades" to his face.
