Thread: Officially 2 Years on Hack Forums - A review from me

Warren Buffett - November 15, 2014, 7:30 pm

Hey everyone. Just wanted to share a little bit about my time and journey at HF.

It's been a great two years at Hack Forums, I can confidentially say. Not only have I learned a lot from HF, from money making to website optimization, I've also made great friends. There are many close friends I have on HF that I would like to thank for being there for me. I found Hack Forums on Google two years ago when needing help with something. Not only did I find the answer on HF but I also found many other interesting things that made me become a member and stay as a member. A few months later, I started making some money using a few techniques on HF and I upgraded to L33T. It was a great decision and I'm very thankful for the members and people who helped me with earning my upgrade.

I've accomplished many things on HF and I've learned a lot from all the great posts people have posted. Starting off with learning to earn a little bit of money to now earning hundreds and sometimes thousands of dollars a day, I can happily say that you can accomplish anything you want to by putting the time and effort into the things you love. I want to say that a lot of the threads on HF can be helpful and help you online with money making or even just making a website.

I wanted to say thanks to everyone on this forum, from the members that have the most - reps to the members who have best reps around and also Omni. I was not expecting to stay on HF this long as I was inactive for a bit of time. I couldn't stay off this site so I decided I had to come back on and be a little more active. I could have not been happier. This is kind of a short post of my thankfulness and gratefulness of the people here at HF. If you put your mind to what you want, you'll eventually achieve it. Don't give up people. It's a great community for everyone. With the advice and respect you get from others, please pass it on it and make this community and even better one! Good luck to everyone and have a great day! ???

Such a nice read. Personally I am a fairly new member, but I'm hoping to stay here for a loooong time.

Join me for another two years, yeah?

Nice job on two years, I'm getting near the position myself (although it's been a lot longer than two years)
