Thread: Entrepreneurship / Business - Section

I think a section like this would be perfect for the forums. A place for all the business owners of HF to get together and discuss business and the non business owners can also visit the section to get ideas or get a review on their ideas by the experienced business men of the forum.

This is different to the monetizing section as this section is for business. The monetizing section is spammed with methods that make you a few dollars, this section would be for real life businesses that are about the big bucks.

Could either be a forum of it's own or a sub forum somewhere.

I personally second this, although many aspects of business seem to already have forums (such as investment). Nonetheless, I support the idea that this should be implemented, probably under the Money tab.

I would love this as I have several million dollar ideas, but in which are secret ;) I would love this section.

This is possibly one of the most amazing ideas yet. I support this a lot. I love business and it would be an amazing section for myself to further broaden my knowledge base, and to be able to help users regarding real life business. I love it.

While I love the idea, I don't think the sub-section would be too active simply due to the fact that people like to keep their businesses secret due to the nature of this site. I'm talking from the perception that most people are scared of niche stealing, ddosing, doxing and what not.

I do not for a second doubt or dislike the idea, I just question how much content would get posted in there and the degree of quality.

I also agree with this. Being a Global Business Administration major in college.

Already have it in mind for securing government enterprise funding if this becomes a thing.

A section for a bunch of 15 year olds who think they are business owners because they sell eBooks to talk smack.

Great idea!

Great idea!

If some 15 year olds want to post, they can; it is up to us how we use their post and what we do with it.

What you're requesting technically we already have. What we don't have is the high enough quality member base to fulfill your needs of good content.

Maybe you should start posting some great quality threads and encouraging better use.
