Thread: Get Verify Token

'Snorlax - November 20, 2014, 1:36 am

INSTALL URL: <https://puu.sh/cYfDj.user.js>

Thanks to my brother from another mother (also known as xadamxk) for making this suggestion.

What does it do?

Instead of going to <https://hackforums.net/verifysecret.php> then enter the UID of the user, all you have to do is visit the user's profile and press the Get Verify Token button, then the token will be copied to your clipboard:

For Firefox get GreaseMonkey.

For Chrome get TamperMonkey.

For other browsers: Get Chrome.

How you do that, I don't know.

But the script works, so you are awesome xD

It's so simple it's stupid hahaha. This is basically copy pasting from other userscripts, but just change a bit.

I guess you could call me pro at copy-pasting! ?

Nice. I love this Snorlax. Yet again a fantastic script. This is very handy.

It sure will! Remember, the token resets every 24 hours.

Any userscript ideas? Fire away ?

I have an idea. I'm not sure if it would work.

A thread layout generator.

The generator should have a couple different layouts you can choose from in a drop down menu. Once you hit generate or something similar the MyBB code will be pasted into the box where you can continue to write your own stuff.

That's something I personally would like!

Not really doable with an userscript.. at least not something that would work well.

The ability to make HF more mobile friendly. Like making a menu like this:

I will be willing to help you out on the design if wanted/needed.

Userscripts won't work on mobile unless you have a jailbroken iOS device. No thanks.

How would you install an userscript on an Android phone? Unless you use the useless TamperMonkey browser.

You can use Greasemonkey on Android running as a plugin.

Yeah in Firefox.. which is useless as well. For us Chrome users (most of us), there is no chance.

Make awards clickable.

If I click one of your awards let's say the Ub3r Sapphire example:

[img]http://piclair.com/data/l95ms.jpg[/img]

This would re-direct me to:

<https://hackforums.net/myawards.php?awid=40>

It's just a neat little script that would probably make some ones day a lot easier

I personally use Chrome as my default browser on my phone due to it's speed and low memory usage. But i can't see anything that would render Firefox useless.

I guess i have to create an application for my phone instead. Thank you for adding stuff to my otherwise empty workload.

/Sarcasm(Kinda)

Another feature for this would be to include award comment on the tool-tip.

Edit: I don't think i will.

I always wanted to do that, but there is no way of knowing the URL.

This will be helpful, thank you Snorlax.

only way of doing it is manually mapping the award image url to the award page url. When the pic is clicked on, grab the href attribute and compare it to the list.

Yeah exactly. Omniscient should totally give them IDs. Or name them like:
id-name

23-master-donator.png

For instance.

Just installed this, very useful script.

Thanks OP

You gentlemen are literal gods.

I pray for your mercy.

Any way I can make this prettier though?

prada ? - November 22, 2014, 3:20 pm

Yes! Yet another dope userscript. Thank you.

MrOrang - November 22, 2014, 3:28 pm

I installed this, thanks!

Another suggestion I have is that you have a button next to the new reply button(left of it) at the top and bottom saying "Subscribe" and if clicked it will Subscribe you without an email. I don 't really like the current way of subscribing and this would be usefull for me atleast. Don't know if it already exists though.

Thanks!
