Another shit method to earn money?

Like - what the fuck. Do you honestly think anyone here would waste their time getting 500k views per link just to get 500$ he could easily obtain with 250 LEGIT CPA/PPD conversions which is WAY easier to obtain.

These methods suck, and I really feel bad for people losing time on them.

Srsly? Comparing to # it looks hideous. There's not even a copy button next to the shortening box.

I don't think I'd be the first one to risk not getting paid.

Why does it win over adf.ly?

Justify your thoughts, please!

I had a quick question for support and it took around 11 minutes for them to answer.

That's quite an amazing response time.

I also do believe they have better payouts - not much, but still better.

Sure, it was mentioned here in 50 threads or so.

If you want to advertise your site, buy a sticky.

Am I not allowed to advertise for amazing sites?

Sure, you advertise site that was already advertised 50 or more times.

But it's so "amazing" it needs to flood monetizing techniques section.
