TOMODACHI! AA's Social Platform

Look how fast we're growing!

Doki, Doki \(Click to View\)

I just created a social network for everyone in AA. You can join up and share and follow each other! It's really easy to use, so it's like twitter. This is just for us so bookmark the page and come back often?

Head on over and Register! We're looking forward to chatting with you!

(first 50 members get verified accounts!)

Not hating or anything but just wondering how it's different from Hummingbird except that HB also has a MAL integrated and already a big community, with additional functions aswell?

Good luck beating twitter though, I'm rooting for you as said earlier (Y)

Stop hating so bad m8, not trying to be like MAL or HB, just trying to be a place where we can talk to each other with having to worry about other non-weebo people. That's it. Not trying to be like anything lol.

I haven't bought the SSL for the mailserver yet. So until then, It'll continue to go to your spam folder.

But I'm fixing all that soon.

Chips Ahoy McCoy - November 22, 2014, 4:02 pm

Not sure if you guys intentionally misspelled it but Anime is misspelled in the "About Us" page. I've just kinda been poking around and I noticed that.

Another mistake is that "every where" should be "everywhere" as a single word.

Alrighty, no more people will be getting verified accounts. The only way to get a verified account now is to be active and HQ in this section. I've got my eyes on everyone, so good behavior is being recorded!
