whats up dudezzzzzz

So I was watching a video and I was like "wtf why is this so smooth". I look at see that its 720p60fps and I was like oh yea youtube has 60fps now. Then I switched it to 30 and back to 60fps and almost jizzed in my pants.

I've always told myself you cannot see the difference but OMG IT WAS SOOOOOO SMOOOOOOOTH. #jizzinpantsfrom60fps

I don't see the option for 60 FPS...is this on all videos?

Now I can show console peasants the difference between their 'cinematic experience' and 60fps. They can't argue now!

Also, I believe it only works if you're running Google Chrome.

I am on Chrome, but I only see the option for 1080p. This video that I was looking for 60FPS is from today, also. Not sure if this is 60fps when I click 1080 but I don't see quality that I can rave about even with 1080p.

Here. That video should be 60 fps for you. Otherwise try reinstalling chrome or something.

60 fps videos made me puke today.
But I'm on a fever.
