Thread: Account compromised and stopping my sales

Frivolity - November 25, 2014, 11:59 am

My HF account Unrealistic (UID: 2000231) got compromised yesterday, and the people behind it decided to close my sales thread and vacation ban me until summer 2015...

Normally I would wait for Factor8 to unban my account and close this one, but the day before I got compromised, I bought a 2-week sticky for the sales thread.

Here's my sales thread: </showthread.php?tid=4306913>

What I'm wondering is, is there any way to get my account unbanned any sooner? I've seen people wait for weeks without getting unbanned.

Also, I have access to my main HF account, as they didn't change it's password.

This user is the exact same person as the one administrating Unrealistic. I was with him when this happened and I can verify this is his temporarily account meanwhile being banned. I hope your account get unbanned soon. Cheers ?

As far as I can see this really is a breach of your account it needs to be unhan.

Thanks for the support ?

Hopefully it will get unbanned before my sticky runs out (There goes $60 lol)

Because apperantly you vouched for OP's products and wished him good luck with sales on a feedback thread in which he is claiming his account got compromised, before you edited the post out of course.

I simply misunderstood, but still am I a retard or trolling? No. I also stated this user was real and I vouched for his product since he brought up his sales thread. Cheers

Edit: end of discussion, one simple mistake was made, either post with feedback or just ignore, I don't know why you guys even bother posting and arguing about something such meaningless, I just tried to support him.
