So, at school, when someone isn't paying attention, I will sneakily take they're pencil, and give them a better one, or put an eraser on it if they need one. I find this fun, and I always love seeing a smile on faces. So what are some good deeds you enjoy taking part in? ?

I like to silently jerk off at lunch and when the bitch next to me isn't looking, I bust in her milk. My good deed of the day.

I carry around spare change because I notice that quite a while people need one more quarter to buy a soda or some other junk food from the vending machines. Stay nice op.
