Thread: Attach keylogger in a picture

Kambourian - November 26, 2014, 9:05 am

Guys i have 1 question, how do you apply the keylogger in a picture? i Really need help with that, thank you.

Depending on the keylogger you have, you can bind a picture to it.
However, that will not solve anything.
You will need to spoof the extension as well ad change the icon.

Anubis can i add you on skype or something? If you could please explain more? Would appreciate it very very much. I cant pm you, I need 25 posts you can bind the keylogger to an image so for example it would be "MyPic.exe" then once its binded you could spoof the file so it would look like this "MyPicexe.jpg" the "exe" will always be at the end so to try to hide that you can use random letters or make it into a word or name or some sort like this "sexe.jpg" or "dfcexe.jpg"

I don't think its truly possible without having the name look something like

exe.jpg

Kambourian - November 27, 2014, 12:01 pm

Do you have any idea how to put it in a picture? ive searched everywhere, but i cant find how to do it, would appreciate it very much if u could help.

Mr_Anonymous - November 27, 2014, 4:54 pm

you would need a binder, there a many around but i would recommend buying a cyrpter to get one (most payed crypters have binders) you can also get free ones just look around the advanced hacking and hacking tools and programs section but be careful of free ones as alot of them are infected

Kambourian - November 27, 2014, 11:22 pm

Alright bro, if i buy for example, bytecrypter, does it have a binder? and if so, do you know how it works?

Anubis my skype ID is: alex.kambourian

Anubis my skype ID is: alex.kambourianit does have a binder but as for the specifics on how that one works i cant tell you but i would assume its very easy to understand just from looking at it. i dont think binding files will be a problem for you as all binders are pretty simple and easy to use
