Thread: STOP using petty monetizing techniques. Move on to make a living NOW.

Veezon - November 26, 2014, 1:12 pm

My previous thread on state management: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4556622>

This thread is just discussing why you should stop using those petty monetizing techniques that will not support you later in life.

So, if you're reading this, I'm assuming you are either already earning, have earned once or twice or trying to find out how you can start earning. Stop right now. If you're looking for something that can make you a few dollars, ask yourself the following question: "Why?". The reason you should ask yourself this is simple: why earn a few when you could earn millions, if not billions? I know what you're thinking, you're either thinking, "this guy is crazy" or "this guy is just another kid" or "this user knows his shit"... I'll tell you, I'm not earning millions or billions right now, in fact, I have quit all my petty schemes so that I can really focus on the big bucks. I intend to someday become a millionaire, if not a billionaire and I know that I will.

Stay away from any E-Book on here promising $1,000 a month or a week, it will not work, as most of you know. I want you to think outside of the box that you're probably in (if not, congratulations) and think of the big picture. Where do you want to be in 10 years? Do you want to be that guy who works 40 hours a week for $10 an hour? Or do you want to be the guy who works when he wants and earns millions or billions? I think I know the answer to that one and as surprising as it may sound, that WILL happen if you do really want it.

Whether you're earning $100 a week, $500 a week or $1,000 a week or more, I don't give a damn, $1,000 a week is great but it's not enough for you to live the luxury dream lifestyle. So, what are you waiting for? After you finish reading this thread, I want you to go away and brainstorm, think of what hasn't been done, think of everything you do and what other people do and try to simplify it, make it easier, make it less hassle. Invent something. Right now I have developed an iOS/Android application and I believe that this could be my key to unlock the doors to this luxury, dream lifestyle that I want so bad and it will be released very soon. If you want info on it, PM me. Back on topic, once you have your idea, don't just keep it as an idea, bring it to life, make it a reality and support it all the way and DO NOT give up on it if you seriously believe that it can be successful, make sure to check by people to ask if it can be, feel free to ask me or any other people.

If your idea has big competitors, you're making it hard for yourself, look for something that hasn't been done, like I said... Unless your competitors are slackers and you are better than them...

Now, go off and start your life.

True, but i'm surprised if not everyone knows this...I think is because people want to find a way to earn money online and don't want to sweat for it.

I'm running a Music company and I'm working my ass off for 15-20 dollars each hour.

Going to take sometime to be billionaire on this idea but hopefully I can expand.

Correct me if I'm wrong but I believe the music industry is dying because of internet piracy and the fact that anyone can get music for free on the internet.

Sivebeak - November 26, 2014, 1:31 pm

True is dying on the behalf of unit sells. But getting sponsors from various sites or shops is not. Getting gigs is bigger than ever. Streaming also bigger than ever.

but some sites like monstercat are increasing because of their low cost of a album and you get some things etc, etc, etc.....

it's all about adapting.

Some door closed but same amount that is closed are now open in a new way.

This thread is getting ignored. There is a simple answer as to why...

Because people are too LAZY to do this. They will read this and think about it but they will not do anything about it.

Time to change, people.

I believe using monetizing techniques at the start. Using them for a lifetime is most likely a sure way for failure. They are usually only viable for a relatively short amount of time and one has to find new ways consistently. What I'm saying is petty monetizing ways are only good for a short while.

Can't belive there is no serious reply on this thread, you're right with every word you said.

95% of all the people who are reading this thread, will continue their search for an ebook which promises a living doing nothing. Well, if they even take the time to read your thread.

I for myself also tried some ebooks and monetizing methods out, but I realized that everything is bullshit really fast. Once I had realized that, I started to work my ass off in the hope to earn some big bucks one day.

After a year, I can proudly say, that my work has paid off and I'm making a living out of it. Especially out of something I love to do.

Anyways, good luck with your app, hopefully you can live your dream!

You actually have to start somewhere though, dont overthink things a lot, put effort and you'll see results in no time!

Hey Veezon, I wanted to thank you for this thread. I have bought several E-books through the years. And those never seemed to work for me. I am now developing my own method. Just started today, I think this could be great, a blog with Adsense and facebook.

Those E-books just seem to be too good to be true.

Thank you for the inspiration man!

Whoever the poster was, he sounds like me. And I like him :D

He is right in many ways. Who is happy working for like 10$ a hour just to survive and feed his family. Whole life?
Not me. And not you...
