Mr. Money™ - November 26, 2014, 4:27 pm

Date last update: 10-05-2015

Hello, And welcome to my basic monetizing guide for everybody who needs some quick cash.

Introduction

Let me introduce myself to you guys. Well i'am Reddington i got my name by one of my idols Raymond Reddington from the blacklist. I do Monetizing & Marketing in real life i still go to school where i learn for Manager/Owning a company myself. I did learn some stuff i know there but most of my monetizing techniques i found myself during my experience on the internet. How i first made my first money online was with probux it took me so long to make my first money but dat feeling when i could rent my first 3 referrals i will never forget that. And now i a going to learn you what monetizing is and what i know about it.

What is monetizing?

Well monetizing is just making money this can be in real life like a job or a online job. Do i have a in real life job? NO i make everything doing online monetizing. Did i ever had a job? Yes i worked at the supermarket as the guy who fills the shelf's I know it was not like a good job but it was still monetizing, Because monetizing is not about how much money you make but about if you make money yes or no. Everybody in their life tried monetizing before maybe it was you as little boy cleaning your house and your mom gave you like $2 i know its not much but you did made money and you were happy with it and you were proud of yourself that is why you spend it imminently to give yourself a present like candy or you saved it up for later to buy yourself a present because you are the one who did something good. Well you would probably ask yourself now ? what does this have something to do with monetizing well a lot. Because it doesn't matter how much money you make its about how much work you do.

You could have 12 jobs and every jobs could get you $15 which means $12 \times 15 = $180$ this is just a example but i a not going to tell you about getting tons of jobs i am going to tell you about something different And that i am going to explain you in the next part of the guide.

How do i start Earning?

Well you would probably wonder how you will start making your first money Well that's not by spending your last money in a ebook. First you are going to make money which you are going to invest later how you do that? Simple use google and forums to find public monetizing sources/methods You will probably say well these methods are saturated and i want to make big $$ Well i will tell you one thing you always start at the bottom and then you grow to something bigger.

So get some public methods they are all over the internet trust me Well done you did your first step to make some money. Now you going to read every single word in that ebook/method and when you done you gunna ask yourself one thing! What was this method about? if you know what the method was about and how to use it and how to implant it you will get things out you would never ever do for example black hat stuff and just take pieces out you would never do by just marking them now you will have the whole method filled with marks you are going to change everything you market to something better when you did that you used a public method to make it your own and that's what i want you guys to know making money is not about copy and pasting a ebook its about making your own methods and making your own methods is not that hard trust me. I started just like this now i don't use this myself anymore as i have my own methods i use. I don't use public methods myself my methods are private :) and when i feel my methods getting saturated i change some stuff in my method to make the method working again and i keep doing that till it makes me not enough anymore. You don't have to buy a ebook to get successful. You have to make your own methods and creating your own methods you don't want to rely on someone else do you?

Is is smart to buy a method ?

Well yeaah it can be smart to buy a method online but not to just copy and paste the method but tear it apart and make your own method out of it and Never ever try to resell it this does not only get you in trouble this will also make you less money keep that in mind the more people know about your method the less you make. Buying a method is also not about using the method but to give yourself a idea where the money is at currently. Like what methods people use at the moment and never break any T.o.s Included with the method that will get you in a lot of trouble you just want to make money right? So you just use public methods or paid methods and create your own method out of it by combining some methods or whatever you prefer as its not about me telling you what to do its about doing it yourself.

What do i have to know or own before i start with Monetizing?

Well there are some points i want to list below you have to keep in mind.

1. Think out of the box

This will get you really far in your life trust me.

2. Presentation

Presentation is really important presentation is the thing that draws people to your product you selling or advertising on social media whatever you are doing.

3. Quality

Quality is really important to as you want your customers or whatever you doing has to like the content of the product Quality is important if you buy shoes and you wear them 2 years and they are still fine the quality was good so you will buy from the same company again.

4. Never tell to much

Telling to much is never good. For example you tell people near you you have maggots in your home in the end your whole country knows it.

5. Focus on your goals.

As long as you focus on your goals and reach your goals you are on the right way.

6. Always think twice.

Don't do things in a rush this will mess some stuff up.

Is it hard to make your first money online?

Well if i would say its hard i would lie as its not everybody can make money as long as you believe in yourself because trust in yourself is where it all starts if you keep saying i can't make money well you won't make any money the first thing you have to tell yourself is i want this because if you want something your dreams will come true if you keep saying i am bad at this and i am bad at that well then you will never make money because you say you are bad at everything . You don't have to scream the things you can't do but say the things you are good at or things you like for example you like pancakes? well Make some and sell them to people walking nearby its just a example everybody can make money if you are black or white or skinny or fat everybody can do it as long as you believe in yourself.

Some Example Methods.

Well the first method is a really nice method to start with its called PPI

Pay per Install a lot of you people already know about this maybe but you can make some nice money on autopilot without doing anything

I started with PPI to and made $30 a month doing nothing so every month free money without doing anything well this might sound like this is much work for a little money well you can make much money with it as long you want to work for it. So lets get started.

Go to Installaxy.com

And create a account you will see on the top of the site register.

Now you just fill in your legit details and wait till they accepted your application.

Next thing to do is to choose payment way i used paypal so i used my paypal with Installaxy.

One you are in you go to the dashboard it will look something like this.

Now you going to use 2 things out of the dashboard.

Bundle and Content Locking.

When you going to use Content locking?

When you use movie niches. or any other kind of niche related to movies.

When you going to use bundle?

When you use software niches (Example: KeyGens, upcoming games, etc)

Now create your bundle or content locker and head over to

Blogger.com Now you are on there you going to make a blog this is really simple you can watch many tutorials online about making them.

Make the blog with a nice layout and related to your niche this can be everything you have to think out of the box. once done save the blog adress and if you want to insert content locker in the blog hit that HTML edit button on there.

Second Download any free screen recorders

Like Hypercam or just buy camtasia.

Now you going to make a video about your blog best is with commentary as this will gain people their trust.

Now you have to make or use a existing youtube account and make it with a nice layout maybe photoshop some channel art and gain some subscribers and video likes so you have to get a eye catching title for example if you have gta5 niche (GTA5 II Full game PC + Multiplayer III Start playing GTA5)

As you see i said GTA5 twice in the title as you got gta5 as niche.

Next you have to write the description. This is just some text including your niche and then link to your blog.

Now everything is setup you head over to addmefast.com

And download a addmefast bot i suggest the addmefast bot by OMGWTFISTHIS. i heard its a nice bot. gain some points and add 2 links 1 for subscribers and 1 for video links. You can also use hitleap to get traffic to your channel so it looks like people search for your channel often.

Now you have everything setup you just going to repeat this step uploading video's and making blogs and you will see money start rolling in.

Extra Method

For this method you going to partner up with a youtube network.

What is a youtube network? A youtube network is a network that pays you by each Signup.

What you going to need for this tutorial?

- Gaming Youtube Channel (Could be your niche channel u made b4)
- a account on games.tm.

What you going to do is?

You going to promote games out of this list by making youtube video's and each person who makes a account from your link will get you money.

I am not going to explain this all as this is very easy and everybody can do it you just create a account and promote games and then you are getting paid for each signup you get.

Completing your goals.

Completing your goals. Competing your goals is not about rushing towards your goal but about reaching your goal for example.

As you see i made 2 examples the first one is straight to your goal and the second one is with much more stops etc. Well If it takes a bit longer won't say you are dumb or whatever no because in the end you learned more then the one who went straight to his goal lemme explain this to you.

For example: You go in a train and travel from city to city first you take the train which goes straight to the other city. Second you take the train which stops every trainstop. Now you check where you stopped more (Well yeaah the second one so the second one gave you more information/Knowledge. So whats the conclusion it does not matter if you take the fast or slow train its about reaching your destiny/goal. Also the longer you work towards your goal the more money you will make as time = money so the more time you spend on setting something up the better the results.

Why you could choose to share your method.

Well i did explain you why you should keep the method yourself but you can choose to share your methods. Reasons why you could share them? To help other members, To make more money by also selling your unique way to make money (ONLY DO THIS IF YOU FOUND THE METHOD YOUR SELF) You can easy sell your private method easy to make some extra cash but only sell it when you tested it and let others try it to so you are sure it does make money not like other methods on the market. You could also choose to share your method with others if it makes you more money. Example Ref links or CPA, PPD, PPI. Ref links. this could boost your earnings as well. Or just if you don't make enough money anymore with the method and you care about other members and give them a chance to earn some with your method.

Another Extra Method

This method might a lot of people know already but i am still going to share it with you guys.

go to adf.ly/

Create a account and short 1 link to google.com

Now you get a generated url. And shorten that url you get like 15x so you get a new generated link.

Now You can spread your link through the following ways.

Instagram.

(Create a instagram account upload some pictures if your niche and place a reaction with like they can download the game or key gen by clicking link below. Say no surveys or crap)

Forums.

(A lot of forums have a refferal link section you could place your links there and do something in return for example click their links.)

Forums Way 2.

(Join a forum where they have leaked games etc and place a thread with a just released game and say its a crack people will click your link right away.)

Using Pedophiles.

(Well we all know about ewhoring well you can also use phedos as a way to spread your links. Since you are just spreading a link to google there is not anything to be scared of :P)

Example go to 4chan or any other site like that and place your link there and say its a naughty picture or something like that and they will click it for sure.

Using Craigslist.

(Well craigslist isn't just a nice website for selling stuff also a nice place to get some clicks. Make a new post in job section and ask people to click your link for 30% of what you get. Since you don't get a lot you don't have to send a lot. or you can talk you way out of it.)

Spamming Links.

(Well you can of course choose for spamming your links on like chat roulette with a auto spammer you can find some free ones at hackforums or just google a bit around always run in sand-boxy safety for all. Spamming in games like runescape would work to witjh a auto typer an a alt account just say its a private bot or something people will do everything on there now a days.)

Happy Earnings.

It's okay. But the methods mentioned in this thread is actually pretty know, yeah I understand no one is going to spread their private methods. But PPI is already known here and extra method you mentioned is something which is known all around this forum.

Those methods are example methods of what they could do in order to make money. And PPI might been known but it can still make you a nice income same as the other method instead of spoon feeding them i learn them how to make money for a longer period as the people have to do it by themselves at the end.
