Staff don't get involved in deal disputes unfortunately. Doesn't look like the guy's been online since the 25th either so not looking good :/

But he is still online on skype: world-email-master - I have made 3 different skype accounts and contacted him and told him I was interested to buy something from him and within few hours he have contacted me every time.... But he hasn't answered my messages from my normale skype account in weeks...

He just waiting on the next people he can cheat.

Since this entire deal took place outside of hackforums, there's nothing staff can do.
Also, staff do not personally get involved in deal disputes.
Sorry for your loss.
