Thread: The greatest trick that the devil ever pulled...

Veezon - November 28, 2014, 12:17 am

The greatest trick that the devil ever pulled was convincing man that they're lazy.

You are NOT lazy. You are NOT unskilled. You are NOT incapable.

Make a stand, stop waiting for your day to come when you earn the mills and bills, make the day yourself. You're the architect of your life, no matter what happens and if you choose to become wealthy, you can... But not just by saying "I choose to become wealthy.", but by doing. The day will not just come on it's own, the idea won't just drift into your head, the skills won't just be absorbed by your body; there's always a beginning, so make your beginning today.

Aww, thanks man! Haha:) Any positive feedback on my thread means a lot to me, thank you once again!

Huskar - November 28, 2014, 1:31 am

I can't even express how true and powerful this message is, although many people will read this and not take action.

sonex - November 28, 2014, 1:59 am

Awesome once again! Thank you.

FrankServices - November 28, 2014, 2:00 am

Awesome thread! But what makes you think that devil is behind that?

Chrona - November 28, 2014, 2:01 am

Great thread, very agreeable. We all have potential.

dineshdina - November 28, 2014, 2:12 am

this forum is flooding with motivational thread :P

Still I love this thread :)

God and the Devil are not real, they are made up - This is not for discussion as this was not why the thread was made.

I agree with everything else in this post though. Over the past couple of months I stopped with the "methods" and started setting things up of my own and working on things of my own and guess what happened? I started making some money lol.

I was going to counter Veezon's post by replying to "The day will not just come on it's own" when I thought it did for me when he made a post a while back asking for people to get involved in a project of his, then I thought about it more and actually, I made the jump by messaging him and asking to be involved so his statement is true.

People could argue "Winning the lottery would mean the day just came on its own, it was pure luck!" false, you went out and you purchased the ticket, you took all the steps you could possibly take to get that money. (Although luck did play a part on your numbers coming out lol)

Very inspirational post once again dude, excited beyond belief to be working with you! ?

Rageki - November 28, 2014, 4:14 am

Very motivating man. I needed that.

It's just a saying man, I don't believe in God or the Devil.

Ginsum - November 28, 2014, 8:06 am

Many people need to understand this.

Great thread.

So the fuck did you put that here?

OP: I seriously just started my project again because of this thread.
Thanks

Haha I was going to ask the same thing. They were made up? You say that with such certainty.
What a buffoon.

Great thread OP.

Watched it and that's false, the world doesn't believe he doesn't exist, a large amount of people do.

Did you take this as an opportunity to attack religious people? Very mature of you. ?

11ash1 - November 30, 2014, 8:20 am sound really cool but arent you under the wrong thread.

Nope, it was not an attack at anybody or anybody's beliefs. It was me replying to the OP and making sure he knew the part I didn't agree with. If people are going to get butt hurt I'll happily remove my post? Just let me know.

Tz Unique - November 30, 2014, 11:33 am

Great post couldn't agree more!

Thanks bro

Ah, I see. You didn't understand the OP's post. You hear the word God or Devil and immediately think religion. That's a small minded thing to do. It's called a metaphor. I would recommend trying to think critically when you read.

Rooter - November 30, 2014, 12:55 pm

That is true OP. Nobody is lazy. It is all about motivation.

Sedo - November 30, 2014, 3:46 pm

Yeah there was no need to post this thread in the Monetizing section to be honest but it is true.

Do0ks - November 30, 2014, 3:49 pm

:O so what your saying is me sitting on HF is being productive and i'm worth something?

Damn.. I was just getting good at being worthless :/

Revel_808 - December 6, 2014, 12:42 am love it, I needed that as well. Thanks, man I love HF feggu - March 27, 2015, 5:44 am
