I've been selling a lot of physical items on here (mostly chili peppers) with not 1 dispute of security because personal information is only kept long enough to send the package out then discarded. Thank you for your wishes though as I do hope ya'll enjoy this new line of products.

It really does look like sand in a jar. Are you 100% sure this is 100% safe to eat?

Who Soup - February 25, 2015, 9:40 am

Good morning everyone, we will be taking orders today for our chocolate lava cake 8 oz cake in a cup. We have dropped our prices! Hopefully we can get some good feedback on this relaunch!

Who Soup - March 2, 2015, 3:08 pm

Hi everyone, in the next few days we will be closing this thread and re launching this product. We are working on a FDA approval for all of our products and looking to get them into stores by the end of this year. You can also find us on kick starter which will be included in the new thread.

We have some awesome flavors coming up including "butter mochi" and "chocolate haupia"; Just add water and microwave (we will be excluding the need to add butter).

We will also be having a new thread design and live support chat on our website as well as a social media page with this product.

If you have tried these products I'd appreciate your feedback on what we are currently offering and if you think we should launch our products full scale.

Who Soup - March 4, 2015, 10:32 am

We may be discontinuing this item as well as a few other items due to the lack of interest recently.

Slippin' Jimmy - April 30, 2015, 5:27 pm

Im super interested because it looks so fucking good and im sort of a fatty. I am just slightly concerned with like no health procedures or standards in effect? I trust your making them safely its just that im a bit nervous lol. I just saw this on someone's sig. I know it been a while lol

Doxtor - April 30, 2015, 11:20 pm

How do I know you're not dipping that chubbie in the jar before you send it?

Crowley - May 16, 2015, 6:46 am

All the products we make is natural and made by scratch.. So no need to feel nervous or suspicious.

Any questions about this feel free to PM either me or WhoSoup ?
