Thread: Drizzy's Movie Streamer

So I saw this application called ".Net Streamer"

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3711111> and thought it was pretty cool, so I tried to make my own, but for movies.

.Net Streamer supports movies now as well. But great work none the less.

This is really cool and I'm interested in how it pulls up the movies. If I new this I could expand this program even more :D.

I'm guessing though the movies to stream are a select amount.

You could at least put a file called "INDEX.HTML" in your web folder, its default action is to list your files.
