Legitimate exchange, even though I'm not exactly the most trusted user.. OP and I came to a conclusion and we did a small exchange.

Everything went smooth, he's easy to talk to and quite friendly.. Also, if you're going to attempt to do any kind of fraud with his service.. Don't bother, he knows what he's doing.

Thanks again!

Credit and debit card payments have their own separate gateway. Users do not need to link and purchase through PayPal.

How does one buy for Credit Card? Is there a type of page that we input our information using some system like Skrill or Stripe?

Egregious - March 30, 2015, 7:51 pm

(Mar 30, 2015 07:45 PM)Vamporno Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) How does one buy for Credit Card? Is there a type of page that we input our information using some system like Skrill or Stripe?

Yes, all orders are processed through Shopify, but specifically, our payment gateway is Intuit QuickBooks Payments. Both are PCI Level One complaint, the highest Payment Card Industry Data Security Standard. Rest assured, your card data will always be safe and won't even be revealed to us personally. I know a lot of HF members have their cards linked to permanently limited PayPal accounts, so they like to use our service for exchanges. If you have any questions, feel free to send me a private message. Cheers!
