Thread: [Anime OST Thread \[Piano Version\]](#)

Duyere - December 7, 2014, 1:58 pm

Let me begin this thread by asking a question. Do you go on YouTube and search for the piano version of anime soundtracks?

I tend to do it and find it to be a weird habit of mine. I've always loved listening to the piano version of songs.

With that being said, please share your favorite piano versions of anime soundtracks. I'd love to turn this thread into something nice.

Just keep in mind that if the video has spoilers that you please use the spoiler tags.

The song I searched for today:

"aLIEz" - Aldnoah Zero Ending

And this is one of my favorites:

"14th's Song" - D.Gray-Man

I want to eventually learn to play the piano. I always seek out potential soundtracks that I'd want to eventually learn.

I'm looking forward to seeing what you guys share.

This has to be my favorite one by far.

Yeah I usually just search for openings on piano.
Here's some more that I like.

Bumping with this masterpiece.

Duyere - December 17, 2014, 6:58 pm

Started re-watching Death Note again. Decided to share "Light's theme" for nostalgia.

Unfortunately this was the best piano cover I could find without tons of delay.
Apparently not many people have attempted to play this song on video, which saddens me.

Chips Ahoy McCoy - December 18, 2014, 12:00 am

This one is pretty great.

God I love these.

The only one i ever searched for was probably for white album 2. I was in love with the song when i started watching the anime.

Chips Ahoy McCoy - February 19, 2015, 9:30 pm

Just had to this back up to the top for this.

Never thought this op could sound so good.

The ending song, "Hiru no Tsuki" aka "Melfina's song" from Outlaw Star.

I'd recommend listening with headphones, sound quality isn't the best.

Definitely favorite soundtrack from both FMA and FMA:B

Another gem that I found.

The song is the Ending theme to Ansatsu Kyoushitsu (Assassination Classroom)

Came by this video by mistake some months ago. Absolutely loved it, forgot about it after some time of countless replays. Thanks for reminding me about it.
