Thread: Add Reputation Link to New Ignored Page {MeshCollider}

Oak - December 9, 2014, 11:22 am

In regards to ?eshCollider's post and idea, add a link to an individuals reputation from the new ignored page. This would make it easier for people to do things like add links to deal disputes on scammers that have ignored them and leave a reputation on people who they've quarreled with.

Yes, it's possible to simply copy their UID on to the reputation page, but that's something inexperienced members may not know how to do. Subject A.

I would be glad to junk this thread if Mesh wants to post this suggestion himself.

I absolutely support this idea. The "Ignore" feature might be a nice idea, but it could use some small tweaks.

I like this idea, so many scammers could use this to prevent neg repping.

You can still use <https://hackforums.net/reputation.php?action=add&uid=123&pid=0>

Read the second paragraph of the OP, I already addressed this.

I support this. Please add it. It's a good thing to have.

You can also just go to one of their posts or anywhere their username is and click on their rep.
But yes this would be more convenient.

It seems like a logical addition tbh, I'm all for it.

aguila - December 9, 2014, 3:33 pm

I support this,even though I have like 1.5 k users on ignore list

Chucky. - December 9, 2014, 4:44 pm

I agree with this, too many users abuse the ignore list, and quite often it works. I've been a member for nearly 6 years... I didn't know how to bypass the ignore list to get to there reputation, until now. I guess I could just be retarded though :D

Thanks for posting this thread Sir.

Obviously, I support this idea.

Perhaps there should also be an "add to ignore list" option too.

I added a link to rep page and there was already a link to your ignore/buddy list as well.
