Tell us a little bit about yourself: I'm a webdeveloper for 3 years now and I love giving away free stuff for people to use.

I also skate alot (not at the moment because of the cold weather). I also code minecraft plugins.

What field do you specialize in?: Mostly web development but I'm also specialized in minecraft plugins.

How do you plan to utilize this skill within The Specialists?: I can do free giveaways in the name of the Specialists and maybe help other members within the Specialists group.

Why is The Specialists a group of interest to you?: I like to learn from other people that are specialized in other stuff than me.

What contributions have you made to Hack Forums? (please post links if necessary): If done some giveaways.

Name: 'Virtue

Age: 17

Country: Australia

Tell us a little bit about yourself: Well, I quite enjoy playing video games, socializing with people, learning new things, expanding my knowledge-base in several varied fields and a little bit of Photoshop work here and there.

What field do you specialize in?: I feel, my strong point would be in real life Marketing and Business. For example, I am knowledgeable in the following aspects (but not limited to):

- > Contracts and agreements, and the creation of them.
 - > The different methods of product promotion.
 - > Business management.
 - > SWOT analysis of a business.
 - > Employee incentives.
 - > A business' code of ethics.
 - > The acquisition, development, maintenance and separation of employees within the workplace.
 - > The development of entrepreneurial and leadership skills.
 - > Internet and real life marketing of products.
 - > The life cycle of a product.
 - > Creation of a marketing plan.
 - > Motivating employees, in order for success.
 - > Customer profiling.
 - > Competitor profiling.
 - > Innovation.
- etc.

How do you plan to utilize this skill within The Specialists?: By the creation of help desks, in order to expand the knowledge-base of HackForum's members. Also the creation of tutorials and guides, which are relevant to my area(s) of specialty.

Why is The Specialists a group of interest to you?: Mainly the positive reputation it has (which I would love to contribute to), the overall friendliness of the members and the way which they help HF (for example the abundance of tutorials and help-desks created by the members).

What contributions have you made to Hack Forums? (please post links if necessary):

I haven't contributed anything as of yet, however I have a few tutorials in the works, in private SF's.

Well sure, but removing someone who spent 30+ hours coding and a few hours discussing with leaders what to do? I mean come on. And then Bull asks someone else to finish the website which I coded?

This is why I hate doing work for groups. Unless it's a paid upfront project, I won't even touch another project unless it's something I want to do. Simply because Bull made me waste days of coding and talking.

Is that the thanks I get for creating giveaways and coding in the group's name? Running a help desk with a lot of replies? That shit is broken, mate.

Tell us a little bit about yourself: I'm from a small town in Northern Australia and have worked extensively on my business and marketing skills over the past few years. Working alongside professionals specialising in Affiliate Marketing on the internet. I can fly helicopters, I've been overseas 10 different times in the past 5 years allowing me to have extensive knowledge of foreign language.

- New Zealand - Cambodia
- Hawaii - Vietnam
- Las Vegas - Malaysia
- Chile - Fiji
- Argentina
- Brazil

One of my greatest achievements has been creating a personal relationship with a man by the name of Brett McFall, he has released books and earns $3M+ per annum via marketing online.

<http://brettmcfall.com/>

With the help of Brett I have been earning thousands online since the past year. Next year my course (Diploma of Business Management and Marketing) will be complete, giving me an internationally recognised certificate.

What field do you specialize in?: Business and Marketing would have to be my strong-point.

How do you plan to utilize this skill within The Specialists?: I plan to use these skills by working directly with group leaders to plan upcoming group events, and to successfully reach the participation that would be needed.

A cool idea that I have come up with if the leaders would be interested, is to sort everyone who is good at marketing into groups of 5, out of those groups a leader would be watching over them eg. Split into 5 groups, a leader supervises 3 groups each. In the groups they are to come up with a product to release onto HF. They need to agree on a project, come up with a business plan and then present it to the leader. If the leader likes it, the group can fund their project with like a max of $50, then all the groups compete to see who can make the most revenue in a certain period of time. With like 50% going back to the group and 50% being shared amongst the members in the group.

Why is The Specialists a group of interest to you?: The specialists have been one of those groups I have been eyeing off and envying. Ever since complexity shut down there has been no real marketing group.

Hy.

I am still a student, finishing faculty of mechanical engineering.

I spend most of my free time working on my projects, regarding mechanic or computer field. I never was interesting in gaming, therefore i ended up learning how computers work and how to "play" with them... i guess it is in my nature to open and disassemble every new thing i get just to see how it works and how to modify it.

I came across HF when experimenting with my wireless AP and searching for informations, and stayed here as i realised that there is quite some knowledge hidden in subforums of HF.

What field do you specialize in?:

I am dedicated to wireless field.

From set up and maintenance, hardware construction, to penetration testing.

Regarding mostly wireless APs (aka internet), but lately i am playing around GSM field too.

Other: basic of python, currently learning C++, website construction and of course mechanical engineering field.

How do you plan to utilize this skill within The Specialists?:

By creation of tutorials in your name, and if agreed by running helpdesk regarding my field.

I am building cracking rig (5x HD 5970) which will be available to HF members for free or if cracking will require more than few days they will only have to cover electricity cost.

When my "Rotating directional antenna grid build" project (tid=4463559) will be finished and tested successfully, i will release technical documentation of it, free of charge for anyone who will want to make a copy of it.

And i am sure that new ideas will pop up from time to time.

Why is The Specialists a group of interest to you?:

Your helpdesks and tutorials inspired me.

You are contributing to community quite a lot, and that is what got my attention.

That is why i decided to take a try and write this application, i want to be a part of those who are helping others- practice with helping makes perfect.

What contributions have you made to Hack Forums? (please post links if necessary):

I am active and doing my best in "Wifi WPA WEP Bluetooth 4G LTE Wireless Hacking" subforum, and from time to time in other subforums if i know an answer to someones problem.

I do not see a point in posting links to threads where i helped, but i will post links to threads that i made.

Tell us a little bit about yourself: I'm on for over 5 hours a day posting, If asked I could make some nice quality post's, tutorials and helpdesk's, I can do more than type you know, I excel in many different areas other than just typing. I have broad knowledge in subjects like, Law, Sociology, Pen-testing, History, human behavior, Business and Marketing too. I have many more subject's I would like to share with not just Specialists, but the HackForums as a whole, and I believe if you accept me I can work at my finest point's and do well. Let's bring knowledge and quality work together at the free usage of the members.

What field do you specialize in?: Business management and Entrepreneurship

How do you plan to utilize this skill within The Specialists?: I plan on applying myself to the fullest when it come's to being a "Specialist" I admire the group, and seeing this recruitment thread I wan't to apply it everywhere. I currently take a business academy at my school and would like to utilize the skill's I have learned offline and apply them to this group and people other than myself, it's a 4 year course, and it cover's extensive business, marketing, finance, accounting and law related topics in the most advanced forms. This is why I believe I can benefit you with my expertise in that field.

Why is The Specialists a group of interest to you?: I know you get this quite a lot, however it seem's very high quality, Not the "Best" because nobody can be the best, it's a subjective word, but High Quality is something that apply's to this group. First off some if not all of your members are quite respected among the members of the HackForums community. Which goes to show that you have made more than just a group, but quality posts and threads. Also from what I can tell the members take pride in their work, this includes tutorials, guides and just their overall Contributions. When I see someone in need I like to help. Why you ask? Because that person could go on to do something good, or just help others and the cycle continues. It's always nice seeing someone do well at someone they excel at. I have no problem with people being "Better" or "Worse" than me, I just like to bring the best out of people so they can strive and enjoy themselves. That is why I wan't to join Specialists so we can make a better forums together, even if you deny this application, I will continue to help but I think we can do it together.

What contributions have you made to Hack Forums? (please post links if necessary): What have I done for this community? Done, I have informed many user's of many things, I apply myself in everyone of my post's like it is my last, and make sure that everyone understands, because I hate having people in the dark when reading my threads and reply's. I'm not going to say I've made a bunch of tutorials because I have not. I like applying myself in certain areas, however "What I'm going to do" is something that is real, I'm going to provide High Quality assurances, I have excellent grammar, and I believe "Specialists" are the people I need to be around and I can focus at my prime when surrounded by excellent people like yourselves. What I've done is the past, What I'm going to do is the future.

Enronitis - December 10, 2014, 12:37 pm

Good luck to everyone applying

This is seriously a fantastic group and if you really are specialized in your respective field you'll fit in no problem.

Tell us a little bit about yourself: Well I love anything to do with electronics, and music. I am currently a full time college student while working as an IT tech on the side to help pay for school. In my free time I play guitar and play videogames

What field do you specialize in?: I specialize in everything computer related and anything videogame related. I do a LOT of work with computers everyday and I also like to fill up my time playing videogames. I also am very good with physics because of my major if that means anything. I am going to school for Civil Structural Engineering

How do you plan to utilize this skill within The Specialists?: For the computer part, I can help people with their computer needs or if they just have basic questions, I would be more than happy to help and give an answer. With videogames, if anyone ever needed someone to teach them a game or have someone to play with, I would love to be the person for that.

With the physics, I would be more than willing to help tutor those who are currently in college and would be needing help with physics related materials, going from Elements 1 to quantum mechanics and statics, etc.

Why is The Specialists a group of interest to you?: I have always wanted to be a part of a well known group on HackForums and I feel like being associated with a group like this would be very beneficial to me. It would show others on HF that I am a part of an amazing group and that I have a set of skills that got me there.

As you know, the changes to the group a while ago resulted in many members being kicked. I would like a chance to be re-added to the group, so here is my application.

About me:

I am MeshCollider, I am 17 years old. I live in New Zealand.

I consider myself intelligent, and I learn quickly. For example, I am currently sitting university calculus papers as a 17 year old, and already got A+ in both papers I sat this year. But my passion is coding. I started coding when I was 11, and since then have grown to love it. I code whenever I have spare time, I have coded games, android apps, malware, and other software. I will study computer science at university.

My specialties are spread over a few different areas of technology and computing. I have skills in Coding, Hacking and Cryptocurrencies. I will expand on these below.

Omnicoïn

Recently, I started coding for omnicoïn. I am developing the java implementation of omnicoïn - omnicoïnJ - and an android wallet for the coin. Because of this work, Crypto approached me to join the omnicoïn team. I eagerly accepted, and since then have been the main factor involved in the huge reorganisation and refreshing of the coin.

Cryptocurrencies interested me as soon as I heard about it. I read as much as I could find about how bitcoin works. I am familiar with the source code and workings of cryptocurrencies.

In terms of the omnicoïn team, after my joining, we purged the old team and reformed a new team. You can see the changes heavily in the omnicoïn section.

I really love learning about how things are coded. Cryptocurrencies are a hugely interesting topic, because I love learning about encryption, networking, and all the other great things that make cryptocurrencies what they are. That is why I consider myself a specialist in cryptocurrencies.

Coding

If you have a look at my post activity, you will see that I have posted a lot of help in the coding sections (572 total), particularly Java (371 posts). I am always willing and trying to help members with coding issues. I wrote a huge Java tutorial which I have had a lot of positive feedback from various members about.

I am constantly learning and improving my knowledge. I am currently learning ASM, Agda, and a few other languages. I plan on coding my own programming language in the future.

I do not code many large projects to sell, as I do not aim to make money from my skills. I primarily try to help people. But I do have good knowledge/understanding of many languages including .NET (vb and c#), c++, Java (and android development), Haskell, and more. I am also not hugely experienced in web development but I know HTML, PHP, SQL enough to easily use them. I am proficient in many more languages that I haven't listed here, and I can usually pick up languages quickly if I have a need for them, because my abilities in the languages I know have many similarities which are transferable.

While I was in Specialists, I was one of the most active members in the subforum, and one of the most contributing members. For example, the biggest contributions was the Coding Helpdesk. I ran the coding sector in a very organized member and had some big plans for the sector before it was closed. In terms of contribution and activity, I was the top poster in the sub forum (excluding you and Aceman - leaders).

I contribute a lot to the forum in other areas as well, including some suggestions I have made/am helping with (Premium Hacking Tutorials clean up thread, Add reputation link to new ignore page). I am also an editor for the HFNT, and have done a few small giveaways of both software and money previously.

Tell us a little bit about yourself:

I'm a young lad eager to learn, work hard and achieve much. I'm not much of a writer myself but I enjoying talking to friends. I also like solving the "unsolvable" and challenging my intelligence.

What field do you specialize in?:

Coding (C# mainly and VB.net, other languages but to a smaller extent), Programming (HTML5, Php), RATING, Cryptography.

How do you plan to utilize this skill within The Specialists?:

Tell me what you need and I'll code it for you! I can offer any of the aforementioned services - who doesn't need some coding done every now and then?

Why is The Specialists a group of interest to you?:

It just seems good. I've been part of a lot of groups my favourite has been The RATs Crew, of which I was a leader, because we actually focused on field. It should be great being part of a group where everyone is a specialist.

What contributions have you made to Hack Forums? :

Cryptex Advanced, Lite and Reborn - Quality advanced crypters, does that count as a contribution? haha.

- The RAT's Crew RATING guides.
- Hacking Tools
- A lot of coding projects
- My nice character

Tell us a little bit about yourself:

A bit about myself? hm..well basically I've grown up with my Grandparents due to personal reasons with my Father and Mother so I'm more of an independent person. I've raised myself really, just starting from small things since I was in pre-school like making sandwiches etc. I've grown up faster than most other kids and have had to help my Grandparents alot, and I am very thankful to them for taking me in.

I was born in Spain and since I've grown up with my Grandparents who are originally from South America (Peru) I've learned how to speak fluent spanish which really comes in handy. I was thinking of studying for a government job doing Spanish > English or English > Spanish translations for Birth Certificates and other legal documents. I've traveled alot during my lifetime and frequently travel to Spain as my Grandparents have a house there. I've always been fascinated with travelling and I love it, I love airports, planes, just the whole experience of travelling. I've maybe also wanted to pursue a career in being a flight lieutenant when I am older.

I currently am in an online-school after applying and getting accepted so I have most of the time I want to myself, which is a relief. I only do 10 hours a week and it is convenient for me to do other things that I have interests. I have a very flexible time since I do this. I currently do boxing Tuesday to Friday from 4:30 to 6:30pm and could say I am more advanced than the average person. Someday It'll come in handy, just preparing myself.

I love to help people and making new friends. Many people call me foolish and selfish ironically because I go out of my way to help people and do what's best for them, without thinking about myself first, which I probably should start doing, but for now I don't mind. I just thought I should add that in there.

That was basically just a bit about myself.

What field do you specialize in?:

- Literature - One of my favourite subjects in school was literature. I scored the second highest in my class before I left to do my online school and my teachers told me that I should pursue a career in writing. I love writing new stories and my favourite type of genre to write is Fiction.

- Cracking - I use a private cracking method to get all my steam accounts. I do this because I want to give more to the community in giveaways. I am trying to make a wordlist generator now so I can create more combolists to crack more accounts to give out to the community. I already have a few giveaways from the accounts I cracked.

- Computer Hardware - I have a basic knowledge in building computers, where parts go, and virus removal. I use to be the IT guy in my school.

[/color]

- Website Construction - I have knowledge in webhosts / constructing websites. I have designed websites along with my brother and helping him to get alot of backlinks and seo.

- Gaming - I've changed from pc to xbox one and I frequently play. I love to have a good time with friends and have all sorts of varieties of games I play on the Xbone.

- Helpful - I love to do my best in helping out the new members of HackForums so they get a warm welcome into the Community, and free services aswell. I love to talk to any member of the Community, listening on what they have to say and helping them out in relationship advice / sexuality / self harm as I've gone through all these things. I love to help in any way I can basically. If you start a conversation, I will not act like it's nothing, I will hear no matter what it is and help them to the best of my abilities.

- Graphics - I have basic knowledge in graphics. I like to mess around in Photoshop with all the tools and try to make designs. My old design name use to be Fantazy/Lucid as I use to play COD and I frequently made work for clans. Here is some of my work:

How do you plan to utilize this skill within The Specialists?:

I will utilise all the skills that I have towards The Specialists if I get accepted. Gradually, I will learn more and more over time and I will have more to contribute towards the group. I like reading and having a wide variety of knowledge. I am currently halfway through The Game, it's a very different type of book to what I usually read but I'm trying to learn more on the subject.

Why is The Specialists a group of interest to you?:

It has a very positive reputation throughout hackforums and I would like to bring more positive things to it's name. It looks like a community with warm and vibrant members, and I'd love to be apart of that. I'd like to discuss ideas with members inside the group and hopefully create more tutorials or help desks. I currently have a cracking tutorial coming up.

I really enjoy helping others out as well as learning from them too. The gratification of producing something that makes someone happy is all I've ever needed, which is why I haven't charged for any of my graphics here.

What field do you specialize in?:

Graphics, 2D and 3D. I use Photoshop, Illustrator, Cinema4D, Flash, and a little bit of After Effects. I've recently converted to a Mac so I'm still settling in with the 3D side but I do have Photoshop and Illustrator. I'd like to work my way to specializing in Java programming, but that'll come with time as I've just started :)

How do you plan to utilize this skill within The Specialists?:

I'd like to build thread designs, signatures, avatars, or whatever I can to help the group. Or if there's any other inspiring graphic designers, I'd be more than happy to teach them some of my styles I have!

Why is The Specialists a group of interest to you?:

I think a group that focuses on looking for members that excel in certain area's is a great idea. It allows members to provide to those that are wanting to learn, as well as learn from others that are experts in their own field. This forum has so much variety, and people from all sorts of backgrounds, that the talent never gets old. There's so many ways to do what you're doing now and you'll never know them unless you mingle with others in the same field. I learn something new everyday, whether that's a shortcut or expanding knowledge, from graphic designers and programmers alike. I feel like this group really focuses on that and I'd love to be apart of that.

Yeah I too think it is a bit backwards to support that kid at all... and with rep too... He's sure as hell not a marketer. If anything, his wrongdoings have slandered the name of the group he was in, ESPECIALLY after the fact when group members still +rep him and basically make a show of acceptance towards scammers and making it clear they are alright with their members do that.

I'll tell you what: if any of the leaders of Specialists saw that a member of Specialists was scamming, that scamming member would be kicked out of the group so fucking fast it would not be funny. Our group members are held to a high, quality standard!

Also, additional props to Omniscient for taking the time to help facilitate the hunting down of garbage-members who don't contribute anything but rather leech off the community.

My name is Mapl3, and I am an aspiring professional software developer.

I am currently in my first year of my Bachelor of Technology degree.

I enjoy binge watching shows/movies, playing soccer, and learning about anything.

What field do you specialize in?: Software Development. 2 years of of experience with Java and 4 months with C programming.

How do you plan to utilize this skill within The Specialists?:

They say the best way to learn something is to teach it. I believe in this and honestly love teaching.

If accepted within the group I plan on teaching not only fellow members but also posting tutorials teaching members programming and *nix related lessons.

Why is The Specialists a group of interest to you?:

The Specialists is a group that interests me because there are lots of knowledgeable members that I think I could learn a lot from.

The group is also very active and contributes a lot which is something that I'd like to be apart of.

I've resigned as leader because I have no internet at home and I foresaw some inactivity with the holidays coming up. Long story short, I'd be inactive all of December because of my exams + holidays and maybe even half of January. I helped to establish a good core group of members and create a good platform which I think zSerity can be very successful in building upon. There are zero hard feelings and it was not a demotion per say, I am still going to be involved in the group. ?

How do you plan to utilize this skill within The Specialists?: I plan on offering a free design service for every group that I join, although my paid design service will be first priority I will give a deadline of 72 hours for free designs.

Why is The Specialists a group of interest to you?: Ever since FBN ended there really hasn't been any group that was a home for graphic designers, and since that's my main skill I felt left out. I mean, yeah sure there are sectors but it's not really the same. Now that there is a group that has the best of the best for each skill set, I'm really intrigued on what it has to offer and what I can offer to the group as a whole.

Skills Skill Area: Graphic Design, Coding & Computer Hardware Graphic Design - The art of digital design runs in my family, I knew by the mere age of 7 years old that I wanted to be a graphic designer when I grew up. My relatives introduced to the famous design program known as Adobe Photoshop when I was 11 years old and showed me all of the basic tools and their functions, ever since then I have been using the program on a daily basis. When I'm out of school I'm either with friends or I'm sitting home designing for the members on HackForums. I now have around 4 years of experience in Adobe Photoshop and I plan on going to college for graphic design when I graduate High School.

Coding - I've always been interested in how the applications that nearly every human use on a daily basis work, around the same time I got into graphic design I experimented a little bit with VB.NET and made basic timers and applications although I never got serious about coding until last year, I know take Computer Science at my school which focuses on VB.NET coding.

Computer Hardware - In past year I became really intrigued with computer hardware since I wanted to learn how they're actually built and what makes them perform the tasks that I do almost every day. I did a lot of research on computer hardware and eventually made enough from my design service here on HackForums to build my very own computer. So what? It's disgusting and weird. I could easily turn myself into a non-operation transgender and dress up as a woman, then go onto the corner of some prostitute ridden area and charge $50 for a BJ and $200 to stick it in my butt and make multiple thousands of dollars in one night, BUT I WOULDN'T DO THAT BECAUSE IT'S DISGUSTING.

Most of the eWhores on this forum are between the ages of 15 and 17. All that eWhoring teaches them in the long run is teaching them to lie and be a woman imposter in order to leech money out of lonely guys on the internet. And then they get sent the guys' dick pictures! GROSS!

Yes it is, but view it however you want.

The way I look at it is:I would be totally comfortable with my friends and family knowing that I develop and sell malware for good money on the internet. I would be embarrassed and beyond humiliated if any of my friends and family found out that I was on the internet pretending to be a girl so that I can trade fake pictures of myself to horny middle-aged lonely dudes across the internet. They would never look at me the same again.

Abide's Specialists Application

Name: Abide

Age: 16

Country: United States

Tell us a little bit about yourself:

I am currently in high school pursuing multiple scholarships. I am working to be certified in adobe photoshop, and CompTIA Security+. My dream is to major in computer science or information technology. Ever since I was about 9 I have been fascinated with computers. It started when I had an old dell desktop. It wasn't even connected to the internet and it had that big old box shaped monitor. I would install random softwares from the box I had in my closet. I didn't even use them I just enjoyed putting a disk in and installing things. From there I began my love for technology. I remember back when I would play in ms paint, and now I am designing in photoshop.

What field do you specialize in?:

I have many useful skills. I have knowledge in the graphic design field including photoshop and cinema 4d. A huge part of my life is writing and designing, I like to write to express my feelings. That is partly the reason I love designing as well, because I can visually express my emotions. Also, I know many coding languages at the beginner level. On top of that I have lots of knowledge in technology, and I am good at problem solving. I think of myself as a "grammar nazi" but I sometimes do make mistakes. I also enjoy socializing with other people and brainstorming. I enjoy making decisions and working through hard time in life. Lately, I have enjoyed beatboxing and feel I am skilled for the time I have done it (a little over 3 months). I have had many emotional problems throughout my life. I have over come a lot and I enjoy helping others with emotional problems. I also volunteer at my local boys and girls club during the summer and weekends to help younger children play basketball. Some of them don't know how to play at all and it brightens my life to see the look on their face when they make their first shot. I believe that helping can change the world. If we all help out others, they will help us and we will all prosper.

[img]http://www.dodaj.rs/f/2R/le/4uQMw7uX/untitled-6.png[/img]

How do you plan to utilize this skill within The Specialists?:

I feel that I can utilize my current skills in many ways. I can help others with their Designs, and I can help users get through hard times in their life by offering a help desk where they can talk with me. I want to also learn more things as well, and I believe Specialists will help me with that as well. I can learn new things from more experienced users within Specialist, and return the knowledge to other members. There is always something to learn and I am up for any challenge! Also, I am very kind and just cool to talk with. I tend to open my heart up to everyone which is both a blessing and a curse. The third is sharing my knowledge with members who are willing to learn. Overall, Specialists will allow me to improve as a member.

[img]http://www.dodaj.rs/f/2R/le/4uQMw7uX/untitled-6.png[/img]

Why is The Specialists a group of interest to you?:

I have looked up to Specialists ever since I saw their massive giveaways. I feel that it has a lot of active and high quality members. I would love to be involved in such an awesome family. If I was to be granted access into this amazing group I would not take it for granted and I would cherish it forever. I want to support Specialists as much as possible. I will be active and I will ALWAYS be posting in the sub forum. I hope to make tons of friends within Specialists as well. I have gone through many emotional issues throughout my life, and having a group of kind people to talk to would benefit me greatly. Specialists is a well respected group though out HF and it would be amazing to be a part of it. I have great leadership abilities and can help take control of any situation. I also am very friendly and helpful towards everyone. I enjoy helping others when they have problems and it warms my heart to see me fix their issues. I am a very active member and I will keep the sub forum active and make sure there is high quality threads representing Specialists all across the forum. With dedication and hard work I will aim to improve Specialists even more. I also plan to be doing giveaways in the name of Specialists to bring more attention to the group. I am a film fanatic as well and enjoy reviewing movies in my free time. When I review movies I have to pay attention to detail and It bothers me when I see things wrong because I am a perfectionist! When I create things I work hard on it for hours until I feel that it is ready. So, when I am involved in an sort of project I always take my time and put every drop of effort and heart into. I only make great things and do not settle for rushed work. Many members respect my enthusiasm and tell me that I am high quality and it makes me feel special. When I get feedback from the community it makes me feel wanted and special and motivates me to keep going! That is a big reason I love hackforums is because of the amazing community. I feel this group will allow me to become friends with some other high quality members of the HF community! Just remember, If you accept me you will not regret it. When I join groups I tend to bring a breath of life to everyone. I will cherish the experience of the group and I know it will further me as a member.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

I will do as many giveaways as much as I can in the group name. I can create programs and such to benefit us, I will help every user out as much as I can. I have already helped some of your group users. :) I will be as active as possible and continue to be HQ as well. I am finishing up my stresser as well, I will gladly give free memberships out. I am open to helping literally anyone who needs something no matter what it might be, I will be there. I will also be providing free and paid HQ products as well as programming/website language tutorials. I hope to spread my knowledge of languages/programming and basic knowledge across the group and forum. I plan on having up to 10 posts a day and I plan on doing everything I can for this group.

I hope that you enjoy my application and I look forward to see how this turns out. Have a wonderful day and please just ask if you need anything. The only reason I came here was to look for "Hacking Tools & Programs" so I could "hack games" & "WiFi passwords". I didn't fulfill my goal, but however, I was introduced to a community of friendly members. That was when I was introduced to online marketing & business. A specific user on this forums named Ty helped me earn my reputation here on this forums by selling me ownership to his products so I could sell it. I have earned approximately $9,000 profit in the long run from selling it as of today. Moving on, I have sold a variety of products such as game accounts, graphics, keys, etc offsite. I also do quite a bit of game items trading and have earned a pretty good profit off of it. I know many techniques to use when I need money (non-blackhat of course) fast. As of today, I have partnered up with at least 4 users on this forums selling products onsite and offsite. One would be a VPN called ExtraVPN. I would consider myself a intermediate marketer due to my broad knowledge of business & marketing skills. One of my many hobbies includes gaming. I own over 70 games to date and I love every single one of them. Both of my products I have launched on this site has been extremely successful, especially my eBook. Name: Jared

Country: USA

Age: 17

I am a Junior in Highschool

[IMG]<http://imagizer.imageshack.us/v2/xq90/673/CfJEbU.png>[/IMG]

Hello:) My name is Jared. I am a very optimistic, and happy person. I look at the positives in life, but I don't ignore the negatives. I call myself quite lucky because I have found one of my true goals in life at such a young age. Making people happy is all I want in this world. If I were to die, I would be happy as long as I made a couple of people smile along the way. Which sounds extremely cheesy and cliché but it's who I am. I would defiantly describe myself as a people's person. People say I have a way of telling when something is wrong and for some reason everybody can be really open with me without even knowing me for very long.

I guess you could call me an emotional person. Not in the way you might seem it's just I have very strong emotions for my friends and family. I love way too easy (which causes a lot of trouble with my girlfriends). I don't have mild emotions I have extremely strong ones. When I'm happy (99% of the time) I am really happy, when I'm sad, I am really sad. There isn't much in-between. But then again it's a rare occasion when I get mad or sad.

I spend most of my time playing on the computer and hanging out with my friends. I go to a lot of parties but only sober because I don't need to be high to have fun, hahahahah :) Even though I do smoke weed quite often, I just I don't need it to have fun.

I try to be friends with everyone because I love people so much and human interaction. It defiantly did not used to be that way. For a long time I suffered from deep depression and used to hide in my room all day. It sort of switched, my primary emotion used to be sadness with little to no happy and once I hit freshman year (I'm a Junior now), through amazing experiences I got out of my depression and now I am soooooo happy its ridiculous.

As for my taste in music, I really enjoy any sub genre of rock. Specifically MetalCore. I am also really into Pop Punk recently :)

[IMG]http://imagizer.imageshack.us/v2/xq90/904/RhkRMj.png[/IMG]

Would definitely be GFX. I just recently opened up a GFX shop and I made around 20$ but It is currently closed due to school right now.

I have been messing around and getting better at Photoshop for around a year now. The plan is to move on to illustrator (with the help of bag head) pretty soon here.

I still need to learn different styles of Graphics and I am making efforts to attempt to be well rounded in all areas. Still have a ways to go though.

[IMG]http://imagizer.imageshack.us/v2/xq90/538/LPg70V.png[/IMG]

I have admired Specialists for a long time now. I have plenty of friends who are in it and they all love it so I really want to be apart of the group.

I would say all that I expect would be that the group be a overall pleasant experience.

A Free Graphics Shop

I opened up a compliment giveaway thread in the name of Phoenix. It had a really good turn out and it seemed that we made a bunch of people happy so it did its job :)

There was a lot of anti-homosexuality being spread in the SRPP and I decided to post my stance on it and why it should be accepted. Regardless of your views on the subject, it got a lot of positive feedback and even people who disagreed with it posted their respect.

Tell us a little bit about yourself:

I am an engineering designer from the UK and one of the few engineers on HF who have experience in the trade.

What field do you specialize in?:

I specialize in prototyping using cutting edge technologies such as 3D printing and selective laser sintering also including CAM.

How do you plan to utilize this skill within The Specialists?:

If accepted, i would like to mentor users in design of physical products, starting from an original concept through to manufacture. In particular 3D modelling and physical product design is something not widely undertaken on HF and i believe that it should be explored further.

Why is The Specialists a group of interest to you?:

If the description holds true, the users in this group should be seasoned in their particular fields and that the quality should be excellent, in a sense no "jack of all trades, masters of none" which is a concept that appeals to me.

And much, much more for the HFNT and in the "Rewards and Small Favors" subforum!

This is, by far, the worst application I have ever written.

I am sincerely sorry and if given the chance, I can re-write it tomorrow.

I've had a really long and bad day.

Thanks for reading and dealing with it, though. ?

Apps are closing in 10 minutes, I will then go through the review stage - I've already picked a few people, so if you still haven't been accepted and aren't accepted in the next day or so, you've been declined.
