Thread: [Help me to find a song I heard on a store? \[Found it\]](#)

Hello, I was on a clothing store yesterday and I heard the solo and the last part of a song. I'm unsure if you guys can help me, but I think someone knows this song's lyrics.

What I could listen was:

"I don't (even) know where I'm gonna (or will instead of gonna) sleep tonight"
It was a rock band, it was a guy who was singing and I think this is a bit absurd.

Anyway, I appreciate your help.

OP. You could try googling the lyrics.

I was going to say the same thing. Just google the lyrics and cross your fingers for what you're looking for.

I already did that and didn't find it. That's why I came here to post it.

Maybe just type in part of the lyrics you know for sure and add like shazam or something. I think that's the music app that can find like any song or whatever. Or maybe you can call the store and ask them for the cd if that's where they get the music from. If they get it from a radio station just look up the stations music from that day if you can then google all those songs with this lyrics. If they have the times they were played then even easier. This is just all a big suggestion, I don't really know if radio stations list the songs that they play at certain times or anything. But you never know until you try.

Even when I think you didn't do a good search, you helped me. I tried to mix some lyrics that I found with the ones I could remember, and now I know what song is.

For the curious, it was: Next year - two door cinema club.

The lyrics were:

I don't know where I

Am going to rest my head tonight
