Thread: A quick tip regarding these "PTC" websites.

Don't lose your time trying to earn that 2$ with 1000 visitors.

The method sucks and It is not worth your time.

You can get A LOT easier to obtain money by E-Whoring or PPD/CPA.

It's not worth it.

PTC websites will lure you into buying referrals or something like that - the refferals are mostly bottled and don't actually earn you your money back.

I had a friend who spent a year on a well known PTC website. He earned 130$, but he paid 85$ first time, and his referrals worked, then the second time his referrals didn't do jack shit.

Yes, I am mad when I see people wasting their time on that "OMG I have been collecting clicks for a month, hope I can pay my electrical power bill with the 2$ that I received."

????

Yes it sucks bigtime unless you have 10k+ UIPs of fake traffic/day.

PTC sites are hit & run, they fool several advertisers and deliver junk traffic.

Some with fake traffic can monetize this.

Yeah, but you're right, it's waste for most people to do it manually by themself ;)
