Thread: Hackforums.net vs hackforums.com?

Hackingforfub - December 13, 2014, 9:19 pm

Sorry if this is in the wrong section but what's the difference between both hackforums.com and .net? Is one of the websites fake or do both of them still work
The same thanks for help

Both work and are completely safe, Omni (site founder) owns both domains.

I been on HF longer than you and I didn't even know.... Maybe it wasn't his or he was only using it as a redirect then changed it? All the links on there are the .com, except in the Who's Online list so...
I have only ever used the .net

Didn't know this, I am using .net currently as it doesn't really matter. But interesting information to know

I think it's still a better idea to use the .net version as .com has some issues (look at image banners at the bottom of the page)
