Thread: [Scammed by Robust \[Omniscient HackerCraft\] 3k UID =1205532](#)

Edward Snowden. - December 14, 2014, 9:25 pm

Fellow members of HackForums and HackerCraft, my name is InaudiblePeach7 and many of you may know me simply as Peach from HackerCraft.

Many of us were very excited to hear of the possible return of HackerCraft, in fact I was personally so happy for it that I myself put forth the $1000 payment for HackerCraft to make it's return in an agreement made with Robust that has now seemed to go wrong.

Omniscient and Robust came to an agreement on letting Robust run the new HackerCraft server, and Robust and I came to an agreement on earnings from the server because I put forth the initial $1000 to bring the server back.

I did not mind one bit putting forth this money, because I knew I'd make my investment back and I also wanted to do it because I enjoyed HackerCraft and I know many of you did too.

However, I have not received my money back or anything that we had agreed upon so now I'm being forced to open a Scam Report until I receive what I'm owed.

UID : 1205532

Link to profile : <https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=1205532>

Amount Owed : $3,250.

Deal About : HackerCraft

Investment : $1,000

Deak Made : 50/50 profit and initial investment.

Received : Nothing yet.

HackerCraft Profit : $6,500 allegedly.

Transcation ID of payment to Omniscient -

Robust and I came to an agreement that once the server had made it's money, I would receive my initial investment of $1,000 back AND from then on we'd split the rest 50/50 and I haven't seen a dime.

Him stating that there is nothing to worry about, and I will be receiving my money.

I was told that we would have EQUAL rights on the server.

I was told that I was a partner and NOT just an investor.

He's still saying he needs to pay me.

Apparently he withdrew 2K from the account, but still can't give me my money?

Him claiming to have made over 5K on his one paypal, and another 1.5K...

They also ban me from my own server #Froggy:

I feel that I have been scammed, and this is why I'm making this report. I do hope this will get all solved and I will get my money back.

I called this from the beginning. This is why Omni should not to deals with children. Also this is why you don't do partners.

This is interesting that Omni allowed him to run things and this is happening.

I've talked to Peach before he paid and everything. He had great ideas and was ready to do something amazing. Robust gave no permission, no access and promised him his money and way more than what he invested.

He believed him and started playing like any other member. Tons of shit happened when he tried to get money from Robust. Like bans and threats of banning his friend and disband.

Anyway he tried his best. Now hes makingg that thread because its the only way to save the server and his money.

I don't really believe on he made that much.

HackerCraft has never been an active server, so to get 1.5k will require about 25 players to purchase Overlord on Black Friday.

This is just an example if we say everyone purchased Overlord at Black Friday to make the 1.5k that Robust claims.

Will say the reason why Peach has not received his money is because they have not earned anything special, so Robust needs to lie about it.

I do not know OP at all, nor do I know Robust. I didn't take any sides initially, but when I saw how much of a retard Robust was when reading his comment, I just had to post this.

Robust is doing nothing but talking shit in his response, I do not see how his response contributed anything at all. Robust makes fun of OP because he's 18 yet from reading his reply I assume that he doesn't even have pubic hair LOL.

You made a deal, you are responsible for giving him his money, the fact that you want him to work for your mistakes is utter bullshit. Where did the money go in the first place? I mean you did just admit to having made all that money, so you're saying you just randomly spent it all? There were no terms, but there was a deal fucking retard. My word matters more than a deal dispute here, a closed account or jack shit more. So I kept my word throughout, even after you were removed from the team, we can touch on that later. You were offered money. I offered you rank sales, and quite frankly, you've made at least $400 of your investment back already. And why is that? How did you keep to your word if you didn't pay OP his share? Please provide screenshots of you offering him money, and I don't mean your retarded offer for him to be a reseller. Oh how nice! You already paid him $400! That's like 15%.

Interesting. I kinda knew that already. BTW who's sarah? And your colours are annoying. Merely an opinion. CBA to reply to you, hell, I cba with this report. Deal disputes I never liked the idea of. Who are we explaining to? A panel of hardcore judges who already made their mind up since the start. If Omniscient wants a fairy tale, he can have one. Peach knows the shit already. Nobody else really needs information.

TLDR though;
ips released
coords released
tons of abuse, hours to fix spawned items

more verbal abuse

Players are upset when they are getting DDoSed 24/7 and have their base raided in the meantime. Also upset when a report pops up. Let's take a step back, take it much less seriously and make it a total game. We give everyone OP. I hope you'll like that too.

Personally I think Robust is secretly filled with anger and quite understandable...

I'm a player on the server and have been throughout the monthes, personallly I believe that both peach and Robust are at fault. Peach abuses whenever given a higher power (so the demotion by Robust multiple times were completely justified). Though Robust had many chances to stop this just by paying Peach back his investment and leave him out of the server administration and become a normal player.

Peach abused his rank badly multiple times on the 2 weeks or so that I was on HackerCraft. (IGN: LordofInfamy) That resulted in Peach getting demoted and other shit, but it mostly spawned from that.

When that happened, the best thing that Robust could've done is paid him back and given him the boot.

Anyways, Robust owes Peach, and should pay him back accordingly.

That's basically what I want to say. That's correct. Take that as my response to this shit. But here:

If you have a company. You take 1k from investors. You make 1.5k. Do you give the full 1k, left with $500? No. Investors don't expect that either. It's like a loan. You pay a small percentage, and usually it is paid back over the time of months. I can't just give $1k flat. Anyway, he's made at least $400 of it back. AT LEAST. I give rough estimates. Some earnings from HC weren't ranks. A lot was BTC. A lot went back into advertisement, I mean, we were booming for quite some time. 60+ players online peak. Quite nice. But yeah, I have approx. $700 lying around from HC earnings right now.

But you have ~$5000 on a limited PayPal yeah? As you say here:

Maybe I fail to see this... but how did you spend over 4000 dollars on advertisements and so on? I don't believe anything related to advertising, or even a Minecraft server, should cost $4000.

Let's assume you said 5000 but in reality it's 4000, then you still spent 4000 dollars and $1500 - 700 = 800$ dollars on.. what? Maybe I just fail to see it.

Anyway, if you think this is a legal deal, sure. I give Peach ownership. He can run it. If he makes sales, he gets 50/50. I didn't promise a 1k back in that deal anywhere. So if all we're going from is a few Skype messages, he can sell all the ranks he can, be owner, and this is technically a fair deal. That isn't exactly Robusts' fault, though.

He tried to make it good for everyone and with all those duping rumours and abusive factions, it just died.

I stopped playing because as soon as I join a week in the return, already what, three massive factions and some of those factions have staff in it, it was unbalanced.

I don't think staff should be in a faction at all but y'know.

No need to bash, it's Robusts fault. He shouldn't have partnered with someone who has no knowledge, nor have given him access to critical stuff if he know he wasn't capable of handling it. I'm wondering what Omni thinks about this tbh.

You're crying I give access. You're crying I don't. Omniscient will wonder what the fuck he was thinking, and truly regret some decisions, no doubt. Anyway, one of the terms states he can shut us off with 30 days notice. At least someone knows how business works, huh?

Robust, you're clearly a child, you have no morals or levels of respect, he paid you the 1K you needed, so clearly, you pay him back his investment of 1K and 50/50 profits, which is 2.5K. That clearly =s to 3.5K

No matter what you pay him, if he did break any TOS, then pay him the full amount back and restrict his Admin rights, + if you don't have the funds which you stated, then you're a skid, either way it's a scam.

There deal included Peach would help out with the fucking server but no instead he fucked it up on Robust. Robust demoted him so many times yet promoted him again to give him a chance but no Peach still fucks up.

It likes saying I enter a partnership with someone and they provide some money but I do all the work yet they still expect a fair share of the profits. If peach had just helped out with the server and not ducked up he would more than likely have his investment back and a fuck load of profit.

You constantly talk about how you gave Peach a bunch of chances at his money back but yet haven't provided proof. Most of your argument is based on this fact and all you have to back it up is nothing. And as said before, people buying ranks and all, was pointed out to be over 1k, so unless you're spending your profits on stuff other than improving the server, and not paying back the money you have been talking about in the "50/50 partnership deal", i have no words.

A few issues here.

1. Peach paid the $1000 and I know for fact he did.

2. If I revoke the license to Robust it's not like he can chargeback the payment since he didn't pay to begin with.

3. I know he made the money to pay Peach. That's without a doubt. Everyone knows this.

4. I always always always discourage these type of backdoor partnerships. Peach should have never paid for him.

5. If I was Peach I'd consider legal action not only to recoup the $1k investment but also his 50% earnings.

Why people gotta be fucking scumbags? Making legit money is so much better than being a scumbag to make it. Fucking pathetic.

Robust - December 16, 2014, 4:05 am

License of Agreement

1. Ownership of HackerCraft is transferred to Gabriel Hamelin (Peach) as a whole
2. Payments will be routed directly to/by Gabriel Hamelin
3. HackerCraft is fully, and solely, owned by you
4. Payment records will be processed securely and any remaining debts settled
5. Servers will be owned, again, solely by you. The HackerCraft Team or I is not available at your disposal
6. All payments will be 100% yours. Again, HC is yours. All accounts will be transferred.
7. Nobody loses their ranks. If someone paid for a rank, they keep it. 100%

Due to the lack of clarity in the initial conversation, apparently classified as a deal, there is no way to truly determine the meaning of this outcome, as it was unexpected. Hence we can only make the most of the situation, and this is well worth the outcome.

Reason for transfer of ownership: Peach was promised 50% and owner if he helped and complied with making the server better and actually helping, instead he abused seriously at every turn which lead to several long hours of cleaning up which killed player count, significantly killing future profits and possibly tempting multiple Paypal chargebacks, leak of in-game coordinates, IP addresses and other sensitive data.

Given multiple chances after clear displays of abuse and even logging coordinates and IP addresses and even threats of selling all information gathered, constant harassment towards administrators and other members.

With full ownership, Gabriel Hamelin is able to efficiently work his funds in his own way, as already stated himself.

The value of the investment, my investments and time of our administrators will be transferred in whole, with minorities removed. The HackerCraft Team or I is not responsible, nor do we hold any responsibility or authority in YOUR server.

I sent him that. He agreed. All details have been sent to him. BuyCraft will not be given, but overall he is free to make his own. PM sent to Omniscient with the final details on our end, if it's fine with him too I think this is resolved. Thanks ladies and gents.

He has about $400 of it already. He's getting ownership over a license worth $1000. As for 50%, he gets 50% as per the date he was demoted, 10th November. So I dig up records for that, as per term number 4 on that agreement, and reimburse him for that. 10th November he was removed from ownership for heavy abuse. $1000 is truly his, $400 he already has. 50%, he gets 100% of what he makes now, not 50% of what's made to date. The deal was he helped me make HC big, he was demoted from owner for heavy abuse, null and voiding the deal. This is a fair arrangement, and correctly he can make some good money from it.

Take it this way, it's a win win or a lose lose situation. Either way, it wouldn't be 5k I owe him anyway. 50% if he was owner throughout that period and helping me, would be about $600 USD. I can upload BuyCraft records in a minute.

Looks like this report is finally resolved.

The value of the server provided to Peach including the money he has already been paid equates to more than is due.

I think Robust still owes him some money. Most of the people from HF interrsted in the server already donated, it will be difficult to reach out to others to donate.

Not only would he make legit money, but he would get more experience, MORE MONEY in the long run, and a better name for himself if he ever wanted to manage more MC servers, he did cash out a few thousand for himself, but it's nothing near to what he could've gotten being a legit partner. [16/12/2014 10:04:24] Robust x: let hc go on my part

[16/12/2014 10:08:26] Robust x: License of Agreement

1. Ownership of HackerCraft is transferred to Gabriel Hamelin (Peach) as a whole
2. Payments will be routed directly to/by Gabriel Hamelin
3. HackerCraft is fully, and solely, owned by you
4. Payment records will be processed securely and any remaining debts settled
5. Servers will be owned, again, solely by you. The HackerCraft Team or I is not available at your disposal

6. All payments will be 100% yours. Again, HC is yours. All accounts will be transferred.

Due to the lack of clarity in the initial conversation, apparently classified as a deal, there is no way to truly determine the meaning of this outcome, as it was unexpected. Hence we can only make the most of the situation, and this is well worth the outcome.

Reason for transfer of ownership: Peach was promised 50% and owner if he helped and complied with making the server better and actually helping, instead he abused seriously at every turn which lead to several long hours of cleaning up which killed player count, significantly killing future profits and possibly tempting multiple Paypal chargebacks, leak of in-game coordinates, IP addresses and other sensitive data.

Given multiple chances after clear displays of abuse and even logging coordinates and IP addresses and even threats of selling all information gathered, constant harassment towards administrators and other members.

With full ownership, Gabriel Hamelin is able to efficiently work his funds in his own way, as already stated himself.

The value of the investment, my investments and time of our administrators will be transferred in whole, with minorities removed. The HackerCraft Team or I is not responsible, nor do we hold any responsibility or authority in YOUR server.

I don't have 5k in a limited PayPal, I have a bit in one but honestly, why should I be giving him 2.5k.

I'm going to repeat this for the last time. 50% while he's owner. He abused so many times, it says it on the damn agreement if you read it. He was owner until 10 November, meaning if anything I owe him 1k. I just gave him HC, all future payments, and he has at least $400 from the payments he's accepted or value of goods so far.

Omni gave the server to peach, did you miss his reply? If anything you owe him 2100.

I didn't really transfer license, I said I would if Omniscient agrees, otherwise my terms say he basically owns it.

No, he didn't, he said if I don't resolve it he'll step in, and in that case he gives the server to Peach most likely. This is why I hate talking to HF people for disputes. This dispute is between me, Peach and Omniscient only. Nobody else needs to intervene at all, only time they would is if they make purchases from the store and have queries on how that works. Another reason is that we went from 1k, to 5k, to 2.5k, to 2.1k. You guys make up random figures from anywhere.

You are being a filthy scammer and backing in to this because you have no option left.

You owning him money is not out of question. Omni can make the decision who the sever goes to. Also you stayed numerous times you made 5 thousand.

This is low Robust seriously. Your using every thing you can to try to snake peach.

You can't even reply to me saying where it's low. Payment proof is there. He was demoted and not involved with HC at all, his own faults. Omniscient makes the decision who the license goes to for HackerCraft itself, and I think it needs 30 days notice too, not totally sure on that. I gave him the server, all system and total control from my end, so I dunno what you're really looking for here. I gave him my time, my admins time, and HC, from which the brand is worth the money.

This dispute was over the second I transferred that shit, at least in my opinion. It's all his, he accepted it too, so I don't see why you guys are so fussed about it. I never made 2k from HC nevermind 5k, so I dunno really what you guys are snaking me into. I'm not paying 2.5k when I don't have 2.5k. I got about $1200 from HC in total, which of a lot went back into server funds, advertisement, leaving us with about $600-700.

I'm wondering.. Where does it say in Peach's and your's agreement, that you can kick him off the team? Why 10th of November? What gives you the rights to stop him from receiving money at that point?

"NOR DID I MAKE THAT FROM HACKERCRAFT"

You said yourself there are 25 Overlords. $25 \times 1000 = 2500$ dollars.

[16/12/2014 10:04:24] Robust x: let hc go on my part

[16/12/2014 10:08:26] Robust x: License of Agreement

1. Ownership of HackerCraft is transferred to Gabriel Hamelin (Peach) as a whole
2. Payments will be routed directly to/by Gabriel Hamelin
3. HackerCraft is fully, and solely, owned by you
4. Payment records will be processed securely and any remaining debts settled
5. Servers will be owned, again, solely by you. The HackerCraft Team or I is not available at your disposal
6. All payments will be 100% yours. Again, HC is yours. All accounts will be transferred.

Due to the lack of clarity in the initial conversation, apparently classified as a deal, there is no way to truly determine the meaning of this outcome, as it was unexpected. Hence we can only make the most of the situation, and this is well worth the outcome.

Reason for transfer of ownership: Peach was promised 50% and owner if he helped and complied with making the server better and actually helping, instead he abused seriously at every turn which lead to several long hours of cleaning up which killed player count, significantly killing future profits and possibly tempting multiple Paypal chargebacks, leak of in-game coordinates, IP addresses and other sensitive data.

Given multiple chances after clear displays of abuse and even logging coordinates and IP addresses and even threats of selling all information gathered, constant harassment towards administrators and other members.

With full ownership, Gabriel Hamelin is able to efficiently work his funds in his own way, as already stated himself.

The value of the investment, my investments and time of our administrators will be transferred in whole, with minorities removed. The HackerCraft Team or I is not responsible, nor do we hold any responsibility or authority in YOUR server.

Peach started out as Admin, but he caused so many fucking problems because he spawned items for his Fruit faction members. Then Peach decided he wanted to be a regular member without Admin commands (he made a thread). And ever since he was a regular member his faction raided everyone on the server, I wonder why? Because he had access to everyone's base to begin with.

I am not taking sides but the amount of times I have seen Peach as Admin then being a regular player is beyond me, you cannot keep switching to who you want to be. That is pathetic, because it clearly shows you grab coords when you are Admin because you are "apparently helping" but yet the shop isn't even completed.

The shop has been incomplete for weeks, so don't go saying you tried to fix it because you didn't. You all fucking suck, none of you know how to run a successful Minecraft server.

Yes in the agreement Robust owes Peach funds, but Peach doesn't deserve his cut because he fucks everything constantly. The amount of complaints Staff had due to Fruit being exploiting cunts is unreal.

Right now Peach is owner of Hackercraft altogether since Robust has had enough with all the shit you guys give him. I knew it wouldn't take Peach long to fuck with the MCMO levels;

Oh, there is no spawn. And every base on the server has been world edited.

There are like 10 OPs now lol, surprisingly enough 7 of them didn't even pay for Overlord or whatever rank.

He's owner, he gets 50% of payments and equal ownership. He can't deny that until 10 November until he fucked up so many times, he was included in every little thing that happened. Hell I asked about SF Moderator for him too. I wanted no issues in this deal.

He's not owner. I clearly owe him his investment back at least, which isn't stated in that deal anywhere BTW. It's called common sense. So he's got at least $400. I didn't do extra math, but I'd calculate $500 if I did probably. So I owe him $600. 27 November, bank details please. It's 16 December, none have been given.

1. That CSV file is only till November something right? Export it again, but make it 16th of December.
2. You say half the donators didn't pay for their ranks (I assume). I would like to call bullshit on that one already.
3. Why did you say you made 5000 dollars on Skype? To act cool in front of your partner?

That's a log from BuyCraft exported. My PayPal has other funds, but that's all payments processed. Half the donators didn't even pay. About 20% of them were BTC payments, so for that I'd throw on another 0.29 BTC, which I still hold.

What I suggest you two to do now Peach and Robust, First of all compile all payments and figure out the EXACT amount made.

Then take 50% of that + the $1k investment and pay Peach back.

Seeing you bragged about roughly $6.5k to him surely made him tempted to claim his 50% + the $1k investment that was agreed upon.

We don't really see any payments that went through his paypal and where that money went either.

It's all a mess, get some order into it and solve it.

I gave you a video. If you don't believe that, and it can't be inspect elemented, I don't know what to say to you. No userscripts are running either, you can see from the TamperMonkey thing. It's a legitimate video, and that's all that is recorded. List of Overlords is there. I gave Peach access to server, ask him for whatever logs are needed.

Just read the last 10 pages so I won't be able to quote people.

@robust

Posting the overlord list shows nothing as peach and froggy upgraded a lot of people within the last few days. Also, you accepted money on the side of Buycraft and I know that for a fact

@sam

Don't say peach did all the world editing, as we were having fun with Froggy doing it too. The whole server is getting reset (from my understanding) so everybody is just messing around until then.

I also heard Robust sold coords but I really have no clue, would love to see screenshots.

I said it myself before you did lol. I got nothing to hide here. I didn't sell much anyway, and you know I kept saying last time I don't want raids everywhere, so I'm 99% sure he gave you coords. And he took some IPs and coordinates with him when he got opped and deopped 3 days ago. He's been exploiting me since day one. He knows I don't scam, and that's why he kept pushing it even as a normal member, his excuse: You wouldn't dare. I don't think I blew up 1000 chunks, sold every base on the map, sold IPs etc. I denied you and 9H from buying each other's IPs too. So keep that in mind ;)

[16/12/2014 10:04:24] Robust x: let hc go on my part

[16/12/2014 10:08:26] Robust x: License of Agreement

1. Ownership of HackerCraft is transferred to Gabriel Hamelin (Peach) as a whole
2. Payments will be routed directly to/by Gabriel Hamelin
3. HackerCraft is fully, and solely, owned by you
4. Payment records will be processed securely and any remaining debts settled
5. Servers will be owned, again, solely by you. The HackerCraft Team or I is not available at your disposal
6. All payments will be 100% yours. Again, HC is yours. All accounts will be transferred.

Due to the lack of clarity in the initial conversation, apparently classified as a deal, there is no way to truly determine the meaning of this outcome, as it was unexpected. Hence we can only make the most of the situation, and this is well worth the outcome.

Reason for transfer of ownership: Peach was promised 50% and owner if he helped and complied with making the server better and actually helping, instead he abused seriously at every turn which lead to several long hours of cleaning up which killed player count, significantly killing future profits and possibly tempting multiple Paypal chargebacks, leak of in-game coordinates, IP addresses and other sensitive data.

Given multiple chances after clear displays of abuse and even logging coordinates and IP addresses and even threats of selling all information gathered, constant harassment towards administrators and other members.

With full ownership, Gabriel Hamelin is able to efficiently work his funds in his own way, as already stated himself.

The value of the investment, my investments and time of our administrators will be transferred in whole, with minorities removed. The HackerCraft Team or I is not responsible, nor do we hold any responsibility or authority in YOUR server.

HC got harm solid by admin yesterday before giving out op. Spawn got grieved and every build is destroyed as well players base. Dick move from froggy i suppose. Being said the ownership worth half of down payment not 2.5k. With math you end up to 2k which was my primary expectation of my investment profit. Do you think I would give out such amount of money while im still a student ? With all the respect I have for Omniscient, if I had to chose right now to get 2k or full HC right with monthly payment due of 300$ + no money. I have good intention but that doesnt feed a man.

So 1100 in Overlords. Then what about the rest? You said $1100 was the TOTAL you received in upgrades, which means you owe him $500 (you said that yourself).

Robust is obviously hiding payments. I also know he took in money from other places other than buycraft.

The fact of the matter is Robust had Peach pay 1k, loaded factions onto a server, sat back and watched the money roll in. Now that it is time to pay there's no money to be found.

Not many. That server bill yup - which again proves I don't have money lying around. Most people did it via BuyCraft, meaning its automatic. If you want we can. Because I've given you HC, you should have $1100 from all these ranks, correct, at least. If you want to take this further, it'll be a joke. No real lawyer will represent a case taken from a Skype chat, poorly organised, with no proper structure. Expect about 3k lost there, and the outcome will be a joke, because no real lawyer will even take it up. Even if they do, I can prove you have easily been reimbursed with both the company, if you like (HackerCraft) and you have COMPLETE AND UTTER CONTROL, and above that you should have at least $1100, correct?

Why would you lie about it?

Robust - December 16, 2014, 10:08 am

It's solved. On my end, Peach owns HC. I hope Omniscient will transfer it too.

DemonCorp - December 16, 2014, 10:14 am

Here's what I know. Robust lied about making $5k or whatever amount, that's irrelevant. It makes him a scumbag but that's irrelevant. Everything is irrelevant except the original agreement, and the amount of money Peach has been paid back.

Peach paid $1000 which was agreed to be paid back by the "business", and then 50% of profit would go to Peach and 50% to Robust. Although there was no legally binding agreement made, that's pretty much what was said. Leave the legal agreements for court.

So. Assuming peach did sell $400 worth of ranks to accumulate some of his $1000, that leaves $600 remaining from the $1000. If the business made $1800 which I saw about 20 pages back, then that means Robust owes Peach $900 of that.

If Robust took the full $1800 out of the server, then that's straight up theft, if this is classed as a business. He had no right and it is legitimately theft.

If I was a judge and this was the final decision here's what should happen.

Peach paid $1000 for a server, which he is now under full ownership of. I believe that is pretty much settled. Peach is entitled to 50% of whatever was made, which needs to be fully declared and investigated. If it does turn out to be $1800 made in total, the amount paid by Robust to Peach should be $900. I don't know the exact amount made and nobody will carrying on like this. If you want to get this solved you must take legal action against Robust, and get the exact amounts.

Hopefully people can learn from this, and not do backhand deals with no protection or legally binding agreements. This is Hackforums and you will get screwed over, if you give someone the chance.

Robust is dodging everyone's questions, that could lead up to him getting fucked by the proof. I am sure that means, that whenever he dodge a question, he knows it's bad for him.

I wonder how many fake screenshots were posted in this thread.

1. PayPal proof wasn't enough. All we saw was an limited account with 50-something cents on it.
2. He won't show proof of the other upgrades other than Overlord, which ended up being 1100 dollars, which is what he said HackerCraft made TOTAL. That must mean, that everyone who is upgraded (who isn't Overlord), all got their upgrades for free.

Conclusion over. Robust dug his own grave.

(Dec 16, 2014 11:14 AM)DemonCorp Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Here's what I know. Robust lied about making $5k or whatever amount, that's irrelevant. It makes him a scumbag but that's irrelevant. Everything is irrelevant except the original agreement, and the amount of money Peach has been paid back.

Peach paid $1000 which was agreed to be paid back by the "business", and then 50% of profit would go to Peach and 50% to Robust. Although there was no legally binding agreement made, that's pretty much what was said. Leave the legal agreements for court.

So. Assuming peach did sell $400 worth of ranks to accumulate some of his $1000, that leaves $600 remaining from the $1000. If the business made $1800 which I saw about 20 pages back, then that means Robust owes Peach $900 of that.

If Robust took the full $1800 out of the server, then that's straight up theft, if this is classed as a business. He had no right and it is legitimately theft.

If I was a judge and this was the final decision here's what should happen.

Peach paid $1000 for a server, which he is now under full ownership of. I believe that is pretty much settled. Peach is entitled to 50% of whatever was made, which needs to be fully declared and investigated. If it does turn out to be $1800 made in total, the amount paid by Robust to Peach should be $900. I don't know the exact amount made and nobody will carrying on like this. If you want to get this solved you must take legal action against Robust, and get the exact amounts.

Hopefully people can learn from this, and not do backhand deals with no protection or legally binding agreements. This is Hackforums and you will get screwed over, if you give someone the chance. See, that amount is not nearly correct. There was in fact 5k on that paypal.

Quote:Reason for transfer of ownership: Peach was promised 50% and owner if he helped and complied with making the server better and actually helping, instead he abused seriously at every turn which lead to several long hours of cleaning up which killed player count, significantly killing future profits and possibly tempting multiple Paypal chargebacks, leak of in-game coordinates, IP addresses and other sensitive data.

In that scenario then you tell him immediately and work to buy him out. You don't just keep his investment and cause extra drama. The issue isn't ownership. The issue is payment. Had you paid him he wouldn't have any argument against you.

And also, I don't approve of any license transfer until I'm sure that certain criteria are met. I want to hear guarantees that new owner will respect the upgrades of existing members. You can't just run a server 2 months, get all the upgrade payments then let it fall apart and tell the next guy too bad. You even keep the payments.

This is pretty outrageous honestly. Unsure if you're this daft or just a scammer. One thing for sure. You're done here. You made the money. You made the deal. You haven't paid. That's a scammer.

Then you pay him his due and end the agreement.

I see only 2 ways out of this for Robust.

1. Pay Peach off and end your agreement with him and continue running the server.
2. Pay Peach off and I'll create a new license with him and transfer it from you to him.

No scenario exists where you don't pay Peach off. How much he's due is something the two of you need to work out asap.

Robust you got greedy and you're using the excuse he was a shitty admin to not pay him. That's just not how an agreement works.

And Robust...wtf happens if Peach reversed his payment to me? You're just not being smart about this at all. You're putting people into drama over a couple thousand bucks.

As often as I was accused of running the server poorly with the setup and plugins...at least there wasn't this dramatic nonsense. It's why there should only be one boss. And you should never place yourself to be indebted to someone.

Quote:Which will end up being $3500 by the looks of it.

Agreement said 50% of all funds. Robust pays for everything (server and services).

Robust said he got $5000 from upgrades and what not.

50% of 5000 is $2500 + 1000 = 3500$ dollars.

$1k payback should be off the top. That means the $5k -$1k to Peach. The $4k is 50/50 split. That's $2000 to each and Peach gets the other $1000. That's $3000 total to Peach. But since they are partners the $1k should be paid back $500 unless of course Robust agreed to pay the full $1k back. In that scenario it's $2500 to Peach.

And sorry Robust but you told me you made back the investment many times over. $5k is probably very accurate if not more.

Robust - December 16, 2014, 11:07 am

Let's clear some image here. OK. Has anyone seen enough donators running around to even warrant 5k+ made, as lots are claiming?

Let's see what we're talking about... To make 5k+ from HC you need either:

5000 / 100 = 50 Overlords OR

5000 / 50 = 100 Titans OR

5000 / 30 = 166 MVPs

5000 / 20 = 250 VIPs

Or a mixture of all. We probably have 50 donators total. We made more than investment of 1k (investment which was made). My claims are such. Not 2k, not 3k, not 4k, and not 5k. So I'm not expected to, by this deal, give $3500 for something not even made. This deal doesn't state "give $3500 flat", does it? Just answer the question. Either I'm not being elaborative, or I'm not understanding.

'Snorlax - December 16, 2014, 11:19 am

I am sharing this to you all from Sh1eld, who's on a vacation ban.

Code Originally, Robust asked me if I wanted to acquire HC for $1,000 and we would be partners. I accepted, and we were planning to pay Omni $1,000 in BTC, but I noticed something Omni said which had me on edge about this whole deal. [b] He only offered this deal to Robust[/b] and no one else. Omni also confirmed this through PM. This means if Robust decides to scam me, I would be left with nothing.

I decided to withdraw myself from the deal. I then told Snorlax that I can see scam reports being made over HC for whatever reason we may have due to Robust's stupidity and arrogance. This was months ago.

Robust got himself in this mess for bragging about the money he didn't make. Since the beginning, I knew he didn't make $5,000 or whatever he claimed. He only bragged because...he is robust, and he also wanted to get back at me as well for not investing $1,000. Do note that I have asked him for multiple payment proofs of him making $5,000 or even $2,000, but he kept on ignoring me every time. This just shows he is full of bullshit.

What Robust actually made: 1.2k

He isn't a scammer. He is stupid, he lied, and he doesn't listen to advices, and I am glad I never invested for him.

I recommend you read it.

Address is mine, yeah. Not used mainly for HC payments. That's mainly for exchanging. So BTC-E, Coinbase and here on HF. Multiple users can confirm deals. This is like checking company funds but getting the owner's bank account funds and saying BANG. THE ARE THE ONLY COMPANY FUNDS, AND HE MUST NOT BE GETTING MONEY FROM ELSEWHERE. Again, though, I trade. So that wallet has 0.5 remaining according to Coinbase.

Either I can't count or that adds up to something like $130. 60 + 22 + 22 + 22 + 5 approximately.

VRUMM - December 17, 2014, 3:06 pm

I was on vacation ban. Going to repost this.

Originally, Robust asked me if I wanted to acquire HC for $1,000 and we would be partners. I accepted, and we were planning to pay Omni $1,000 in BTC, but I noticed something Omni said which had me on edge about this whole deal. He only offered this deal to Robust and no one else. Omni also confirmed this through PM. This means if Robust decides to scam me, I would be left with nothing.

I decided to withdraw myself from the deal. I then told Snorlax that I can see scam reports being made over HC for whatever reason we may have due to Robust's stupidity and arrogance. This was months ago.

Robust got himself in this mess for bragging about the money he didn't make. Since the beginning, I knew he didn't make $5,000 or whatever he claimed. He only bragged because...he is robust, and he also wanted to get back at me as well for not investing $1,000. Do note that I have asked him for multiple payment proofs of him making $5,000 or even $2,000, but he kept on ignoring me every time. This just shows he is full of bullshit.

What Robust actually made: 1.2k

He isn't a scammer. He is stupid, he lied, and he doesn't listen to advices, and I am glad I never invested for him.

Just to add that no matter how much you try to deny it, Robust, you are in this mess because of your immaturity, so don't try to blame it on anyone else like you did in our skype chat. You are still too arrogant, and you don't accept your own mistakes.

Robust got himself in this mess for bragging about the money he didn't make. Since the beginning, I knew he didn't make $5,000 or whatever he claimed. He only bragged because...he is robust, and he also wanted to get back at me as well for not investing $1,000. Do note that I have asked him for multiple payment proofs of him making $5,000 or even $2,000, but he kept on ignoring me every time. This just shows he is full of bullshit.

What Robust actually made: 1.2k

He isn't a scammer. He is stupid, he lied, and he doesn't listen to advices, and I am glad I never invested for him.

Just to add that no matter how much you try to deny it, Robust, you are in this mess because of yur immaturity, so don't try to blame it on anyone else like you did in our skype chat. You are still too arrogant, and you don't accept your own mistakes.

Same here, and I am willing to do it again if the offer is still available. Too bad I even contacted Omniscient myself, and he clearly stated it was for Robust alone.

It is unfair to blame everything on Robust though. He did try running it, and I doubt he actually benefited anything from this whole ordeal he started.

He said the investment would be made back in less than a month, and he was right.

Sure but this Thread is about the payment that Robust was supposed to send to Peach and that he didn't. We're not dealing about whether or not Omni should've given HC to you or Peach or anyone else with $1k. Robust scammed Peach by not sending him what he told he will send him, and that's all.

I just want to know why the deal only applied to Robust (about buying hackercraft).

There is so much higher quality members who would've bought HC, instead Omniscient chooses Robust?

Maybe because of past experience with minecraft server and contributions to the minecraft section? Just a guess, not sure.

I'm going to assume you weren't on HackerCraft much..? Back when it was around anyways.

Who was that fgt that kept tping to me when I tried to AutoFish ?

I think Robust is the guy that hosted HackerCraft v2, not 100% sure.

Read all 68 fucking pages.

My irrelevant opinion? I respected Robust before this, but after reading and going through all the proof, it seemed Robust either ignored and dodged the question, or just flat out lied completely. Either way, you fucked yourself over as SOON as you used OP's actions as an excuse to not pay him what you said you would pay him.

I replied to every question. Let me know of one reasonable question I didn't reply to, and I'll reply to it. And your opinion is much more relevant than 75% of the people on this thread simply sucking up on one side of the dispute. e.g. the kid above.

Alright, people make this drama over HC. Talk it this way. You partner with someone on the average stresser with a sticky. It's big, your partner is lazy and never here. You're not giving him 50% profit for nothing. You don't work with him. And let's be clear, nobody on HF follows this 'buy a share out' thing. You just remove them. That gets much less drama than this, hell no drama at all. Pay a few rupees and the problem is solved. MC isn't a stresser, conduct here is much worse than managing a stresser. Not saying Peach was lazy, this is just an analogy. Food for thought.

Ok, but the deal was that Peach gets his $1k back then you split 50% with him on every HC order and you didn't respect the deal that you accepted. No bs analogy applies here, just respect the deal you accepted man.

When Omni does reply to Robust and yours' agreement, will we see hc2 up again? If so, how long time would it take?

None of my business but have Robust given back all you asked for?

You're a fucking idiot for spending $1000 on a damn minecraft server in the first place. You could have easily started a server yourself with that much and keep all profits to yourself. HC is dead anyway judging from the comments on here.

Yeah because anyone would join his Minecraft server. The special thing about this server is the name. Without the name, you wouldn't get any players from HF. At least not the amount HackerCraft got.

Ask anyone if they would've bought ranks on the server, if it was named anything else than HackerCraft. 99% would say they wouldn't.

Go spend $1000 on a Minecraft server, then get as many players as HackerCraft got. Protip: You can't.

Agreed. Take my word for it. bugga spent so much on The Beast, our Minecraft Network, and even we didn't have so many players.
