Thread: GUIDE Protect Your IP For Skype!

Lifeless? - December 20, 2014, 11:13 am

Today I will help you protect your ip address on skype from ddos attacks.

Step 1) Go To <http://proxylist.hidemyass.com/search-1297492#listable>
And scroll down.

Copy those settings.
Click "UPDATE RESULTS"
and scroll down for an ip
The format will be
IP : PORT
Example
218.93.116.177 1080

Step 2) Go to the top of skype and follow click Tools > Options...

Step 3) Click "Automatic Proxy Detection" and click HTTP

Step 4) Fill in the information and click save.

Step 5) Restart Skype!

It will take 8-12 hours for the proxy to start to change on resolver websites.

Thanks for reading. Constructive criticism only please but if I missed anything shoot me a pm and I will fix it.

Hundreds of threads about this already.

Also, should had been posted in the Computer Protection and Security Alerts section (it'll be moved, don't repost it).

Hi.
Nice tutorial, however; often the original IP is already saved in some resolver's database.
So it won't give a 100% guarantee it will change. ;)

Besides that. A proxy is good to hide your real IP. But if you want a bit of anonymity on top of it (you actually shouldn't be using Skype then, but anyway) you can use Tor as well.

You just have to use Vidalia and the SOCK5 proxy.
<https://www.torproject.org/projects/vidalia.html.en>

Start Tor in Vidalia > Wait a few seconds > Go to Skype Proxy settings > Select Sock5 > Use this proxy: IP: 127.0.0.1:9050 (IP: 127.0.0.1 Port: 9050).
Kind of the same like a proxy, but a lot more secure. :)

But like Aura stated; there are already tons of these tutorials. :-)

Or you could just make a new Skype and use a VPN.
